The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by Richard Butler, a series of Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue branded, Pedestal, inscribed,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal in Heavily Silver-Plated, with FLEUR STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time has been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have secured the services of Mr. Butler exclusively for the manufacture of the Statuettes.

The New York World fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $250,000 yet needed to pay for the Iron Entombment and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

RICHARD BUTLER, Secretary,
33 Mercer Street, New York.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

WHO IS DISCOMFORTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental line in the union of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air brakes, and that overseeing discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are served a la carte. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

is the direct and shortest line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made with lines for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of Southern Minnesota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

Mrs. Harriet French Endicott, mother of Secretary of War William C. Endicott, died last week in Salem, Mass., aged eighty-five.

Handsome versus Homely.

Who is that fine looking lady that we just passed, Clara? Why, that is Mrs. Snow. Well, there, what a change; when I saw her last, her skin was so sallow and muddy looking, it's no wonder I didn't know her. What has produced that lovely complexion? I heard that she took Sulphur Bitters, the great blood purifier, and now would not be without them.

The senate has confirmed the nomination of John D. Anderson, of Gray, Me., to be pension agent at Augusta.

The burdock plant is one of the best diuretics or kidney regulators in the vegetable world, and the compound known as Burdock Blood Bitters is unsurpassed in all diseases of the kidneys, liver and blood.

Commissioner-of-Pensions Black seems to have made a mess of it. He preferred serious charges concerning the former management of the pensions bureau, and has been utterly unable to sustain them. Under ordinary administrations Mr. Commissioner Black would be invited to step down and out, but with Attorney General Garland holding on to his cabinet position, the commissioner is safe.

The new combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, &c., and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia, a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a gleam of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to get and try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Surgens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting worse and worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dread disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

No Boon that Science has Conferred Has been fraught with greater blessings than that which has accrued to the inhabitants of malarial ridden portions of the United States and the tropics from the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The experience of many years has but too clearly demonstrated the inefficiency of quinine and other drugs to effectually combat the progress of intermittent, congestive and bilious remittent fevers, while on the other hand, it has been no less clearly shown that the use of the Bitters, a medicine congenial to the frailest constitution, and derived from purely botanic sources, affords a reliable safeguard against malarial disease, and arrests it when developed. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, for general debility and renal inactivity, it is also a most efficient remedy. Appetite and sleep are improved by it, it expels rheumatic humors from the blood, and enriches a circulation impoverished by malassimilation.

There were more cattle from the northern states, also a larger supply from Maine. There appeared to be a very fair demand and prices were fully sustained. There were some very choice cattle on sale from New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts, and also from northern New York a few head of the fancy stamp. Went brought more cattle to market was the light supply last week. A number of western cattle were sold from $5 30 @ 90 ⅌ hundred lb, live weight.

New Milch Cows—The supply was very light and sales mostly confined to small lots.

Fat Hogs—Not any changes in values, and the supply heavy from the west.

The Sheep Call—There has been an improved tone to the market. Butchers here, although not desirous to have it known, more anxious to buy, having bought light last week. We heard of sales on sheep at 6c as an outside rate on choice flocks. One lot contracted for last week at 5½c, delivered to day, would have sold on the market at 6c. Several lots are engaged for next week, and probably as high as at to-day's rates, as sheep cost last week full ¼ @ ½c advance.

Cholera in Europe.

A bulletin just issued by the national Board of health, based upon reports received from consular officers through the department of state, shows that cholera is prevalent throughout Europe, and that smallpox has spread rapidly during the past few weeks. Cable despatches received since the bulletin was prepared and issued, state that cholera has reappeared in France, Spain and Italy. Deaths are reported from Candia, Padua and Polia.

The Life-Saving Service.

The mass of bills which has poured in this session upon the house committee on commerce, providing for the establishment of life-saving stations at various points along the seacoast and on the inland lakes, has been sifted by the committee and reduced to a single bill, which is reported back as a substitute for the whole lot. This bill provides for the establishment of one station at or near Point Allerton, Mass., one at such point between the Parmet river station and the south end of Nausett beach, Cape Cod, Mass., as the general superintendent of the life-saving service may recommend, one at or near Cuttihunk, Mass., one on the northwest side of Block Island, R. I., one on the coast between Point Judith and Watch Hill, R. I., one on Fisher's Island, Long island sound, and several others in Virginia, North Carolina, Michigan, Illinois, Oregon, California and elsewhere.

In its report the committee draws attention to the good work done by the life-saving service. It was organized in 1871. Between the 1st of November in that year and the 30th of June, 1885, 2,918 wrecks have occurred within reach of the stations. The total value of the vessels wrecked was $35,210,075; the total value of the cargoes, $16,553,619, or an aggregate value of property involved of $51,763,694. Of this amount $36,277,929 was saved through the efforts of the station men. The number of persons wrecked on these vessels was 25,693. The number saved was 25,236. In the year ending June 30, 1885, the number of marine disasters within reach of the stations was 371; the value of the property involved, $4,634,380; the value of the property saved, $3,379,538. The number of persons wrecked was 2,439, and the number saved 2,428, or all out eleven, for the whole year. The committee strongly recommended on this showing the proposed extension of the service.

The American Hog Avenged.

The secretary of state has received a communication from the consul general of the United States at Berlin, Germany, in which he states that within the last few weeks not less than thirty to forty cases of trichinosis have been discovered in Zuttichau, a town in Silesia, and vicinity. Similar cases, the consul general says, are reported from time to time from other places in Germany, showing that the theory which led to the prohibition of the American hog has received a set-back by facts which cannot be denied. Mention is made of the great sensation created in commercial circles at Berlin, caused by the bill lately introduced in the United States senate, the fate of which the manufacturers and exporters of Berlin look upon with no little degree of anxiety.

An Unseasonable Storm.

The vicinity of Waterbury, Conn., was visited by a heavy thunder storm on the morning of the 20th inst., soon after midnight. At Waterown the house of William McGaffes was torn to pieces by lightning, and two of his daughters, aged respectively eighteen and twenty years, killed. The railroad station at Bristol was set on fire by lightning, and badly damaged; and the depots at Farmington and Cheshire were destroyed.

The president celebrated his forty-ninth birthday on the 18th, by attending the Mikado performance. On this subject we are with him. There are several functionaries in the Mikado who make good subjects for presidential contemplation.

The president, as was anticipated by his opponents and hoped by his friends, has at last come down and acknowledged that he removed collectors of internal revenue for political reasons only. As every one knew this, the curious feature in the case is that Mr. Cleveland should not have earlier yielded to the suggestions of his political friends, and spoken out as if he was not afraid. Mr. Page and the other new collectors who are proper men to fill these places will now be confirmed.

H. S. Clark, Esq., of Manchester, son of Hon. Daniel Clark has removed to New York, and joined with H. G. Wood, Esq., in a partnership for general law practice. Mr. Wood was formerly in the practice of law in New York state and has written several text books, the last of which was a treatise on the law as applied to railroads, a book which has been extensively commended. Mr. Clark will devote himself to patent and other cases before the Federal courts. He is the third lawyer who has gone from New Hampshire lately to practice law; the others are Philip Carpenter, son of Judge Carpenter, formerly in partnership with Hon. Osgian Ray at Lancaster, and Howe Call, Esq., recently in practice in this city.

George P. McKenney has been appointed postmaster at Saco, Me.

The saw mill at Wells owned by J. Bufium of Lynn, Mass., has been leased to F. M. Clement of Portland for a term of years.

At Greenbush, on the Maine Central railroad, are two piles of hemlock bark aggregating 2700 cords, which will be shipped to Salem, Mass., by rail.

Rev. H. C. Munson, of South Berwick, who made himself so conspicuous by prosecuting liquor dealers in Portland last year, has been appointed to take charge of a church at Livermore Falls, Androscoggin county, Maine.

AYER'S SUGAR CATHARTIC COATED PILLS

CURE

Headache, Nausea, Dizziness, and Drowsiness. They stimulate the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, to healthy action, assist digestion, and increase the appetite. They combine cathartic, diuretic, and tonic properties of the greatest value, are a purely vegetable compound, and may be taken with perfect safety, either by children or adults. E. L. Thomas, Framingham, Mass., writes: "For a number of years I was subject to violent Headaches, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. About a year ago I commenced the use of Ayer's Pills, and have not had a headache since." W. P. Branch, Gormley P. O., York Co., Ont., writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for the last thirty years, and can safely say that I have never found their equal as a cathartic medicine. I am never without them in my house." C. D. Moore, Elgin, Ill., writes: "Indigestion, Headache, and Loss of Appetite, had so weakened and debilitated my system, that I was obliged to give up work. After being under the doctor's care for two weeks, without getting any relief, I began taking Ayer's Pills. My appetite and strength returned, and I was soon enabled to resume my work, in perfect health."

A deputy marshal of the United States went to Kennebunk on the 16th inst. and served a restraining order upon the Merino Shoe company, whose factory is located there, forbidding the company to dispose of any patents held by it, the order having been issued on complaint of the Pontiac Knit Boot company of Pontiac, Michigan. A hearing was held before Judge Webb in Portland on the 19th, to determine whether a permanent injunction shall be issued. The Pontiac company, it is understood, claim that the Merino Shoe company's patents infringe upon the patents of the complainant. Joseph Davis, of Lynn, Mass., is president of the Merino Shoe company, and their business consists in the manufacture of the heavy boots worn by lumbermen and teamsters.

Chief Engineers John A. Scott, Chas. H. Baker, G. M. L. Maccarty and Edwin Wells, and Passed Assistant Engineers Absalom Kirby, Jefferson Brown, Harrie Webster and F. M. Ashton, have been ordered to Chester, Pa., to attend the dock trial of the monitor Puritan.

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

SATURDAY, March 20th.

Isaiah Beasley, charged with stealing two lanterns from Contractor Shanahan, was adjudged probably guilty, and fined $5, with $6.90 costs.

SHIP "PAUL JONES" LOST.

A cable despatch received in this city on Saturday forenoon read as follows: "Ship Paul Jones burned at sea. Crew saved." No particulars were given. The ship at the time of her destruction was on the passage from Melbourne, Australia, to Calcutta, in ballast, under command of Capt. Winn of Wells, Me., who was placed in charge when Capt. Edwin A. Gerrish, her previous commander, resigned.

The Paul Jones was built at this port by William F. Fernald in 1877, and was as handsome a vessel as ever sailed from the Piscataqua, which is saying a great deal. She was 195 feet long, thirty-nine feet beam, and 23.4 feet depth of hold; and registered 1258 tons gross. She hailed from this port, and was largely owned in this city, Chas. H. Mendum being the managing owner.

LOCAL MEASUREMENTS.

A REJOINDER.

Editor of Chronicle: As the Penny Post, which admitted to its columns a communication charging me with being a falsifier and imputing to me motives which I did not and do not entertain, declines to grant me space for a reply, I request as a matter of courtesy that you will print the rejected communication, as follows:

Editor Penny Post: My attention has been attracted to an article in the Penny Post, purporting to be signed by J. D. Waldron and Robert King, and to be in answer to a complaint regarding the conduct of the pupils at the Hanover street school. As there appears to be an effort to remove all cause of complaint I would not reply, were it not that the reverend gentleman's screed contains a personally abusive tirade, with much animus totally inconsistent with the character of a Christian gentleman who should be engaged in forwarding reforms instead of retarding them.

Journalistic propriety would seem to indicate that the reverend writer would have placed his communication in the columns of the paper publishing the original one—the Chronicle—but as his kingdom is not of this world, he may be excused on account of his ignorance of worldly courtesies.

His gentlemanly charge of "a tissue of falsehoods" would in some countries call for pistols and coffee for two, unless the insulter would prefer a game of fisticuffs with a smaller man, a la Parson Downs, the redoubtable soldier of the church militant of Boston. But the charge of mendacity comes with a very bad grace from him, when Mr. Robert King, a gentleman who has occupied high positions in this city, and has always been in favor of law and good order, denies in toto that he ever signed or authorized the publication of any such document as the one to which his name is appended.

In regard to the "Seven years' service as a committee-man," Mr. Waldron might consult the files of the Portsmouth papers of a quarter of a century ago for notice of my service as a member, secretary and chairman; or he could make enquiries of our worthy City Clerk, then a pupil in John P. Payson's school in School street, Dist. No. 1, when the present important member of the Board of Instruction had not finished his A B C's.

As to the personal attack he alleges to have been made against the teacher of the Hanover street school, I will merely say that I am entirely unacquainted with him, know nothing of his qualifications, and did not even know his name previous to the Penny Post's article.

It does not seem proper that in non-sectarian schools, in a country where all religions stand on the same footing, that a clergyman should be a school officer; but if one is, the priests of all denominations should be invited. I have been f in to entertain the belief of Stephen Girard, that ecclesiastics should have nothing to do with public instruction; and this little controversy does not tend to weaken that belief.

In closing,—I am not the only person who has been insulted and assailed while passing that school; the cases have been very numerous. Let us hope that such incidents may not occur again. I will only add that I have no desire for any further controversy; yet what I assert I am ready to substantiate with evidence.

NATHANIEL K. RAYNES.

The northeasterly blow which began on Friday night, and continued throughout Saturday and Sunday, being particularly objectionable on Sunday forenoon, may be put down as the "line gale." If it wasn't the line gale our seamen are willing to make it answer the purpose of one, and to get along without any other.

The attendance at the several churches in this city on Sunday was very light, the rain and high wind, the sloppy condition of the sidewalks and the muddy state of the streets, causing nearly everybody to remain indoors.

Mrs. Bassett has given the use of one of the lodges on the Burroughs estate to St. John's church, for the purposes of the several chapters of St. John's guild, and it has been neatly refitted and refurnished for such use. In addition Rev. Mr. Hovey last week received from some unknown friend $25 to procure a new carpet for the building.

The U. S. S. Vandalia, Capt. Henry L. Howison commanding, has been ordered from this navy yard to Newport, R. I., to receive torpedoes and have her compasses adjusted.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHT PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 70 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in consection with the single, using them alternately.

Price, Single strength $1.00; Double strength $2.00; Triple strength $3.00. If your druggists have not got it we will send it prepaid on receipt of price. BENTON HAIR GROWER CO., Cleveland, O.

This evening, at Music hall, "the Mikado" will have probably the best representation it will ever have here, by the D'Oyly Carte Co. under the management of Mr. John Stetson, with full orchestral accompaniment and a large chorus, and such an array of artistes in the leading parts as is rarely seen in an opera company outside the large cities. See advertisement.

There was about 15,000 lbs. of fish brought in to Elvin Newton & Co. on Saturday. During the previous week large quantities were landed here, which in consequence of the weather and the state of the metropolitan markets were sold at very low prices; but there was a sudden jump up of rates on Sunday, and fish were sold at an average of $2. Very fine haddock spawn in considerable quantity was forwarded from this city on Sunday, toward supplying the Lenten demand. The south end docks on Sunday held a large number of fishing vessels, prevented from going out by the storm.

About an hour after midnight, Friday night, a flash of lightning, followed by a distinct but distant rumble of thunder, was noticed in this city by persons who happened to be awake at the time.

Among the recent transfers of real estate in York county were the following: Kittery—Freewill Baptist society to David K. Manson, land and buildings for $375; Robert S. Philbrick to William M. C. Philbrick, real estate for $1; Wm. M. C. Philbrick to Robert S. Philbrick, real estate for $1. Eliot—Samuel Shapleigh of Eliot to George Shapleigh et al. of Boston, land and buildings in Eliot for $1,600. Wells—Charles P. Card to Susan E. Card, real estate for $90; John Lord et ux. of North Berwick to George C. Lord of Newton, Mass., real estate in Wells for $750.

If you have decided to take a spring medicine, and some of the many preparations of Sarsaparilla have been thought of, let us remind you that "Preston's Sarsaparilla" is honestly and conscientiously compounded, and has stood a test of nearly a half century.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the statue, in order to complete the work for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, 32 inches in height—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in Solid Metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased Statue bronzed, pedestal Heavily Silver-Plated, with burnt wood base, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the statuettes, and they are much improved over the first one out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World Fund of $250,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjurjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

I have been very bad with rheumatism. I took a bottle of your rheumatism cure (Athlophoros) and it made me feel so much better that I got the second bottle, and it has nearly cured me. I gave a bottle to a friend for neuralgia. C. H. Osborne, Marlboro, N. H.

A despatch from Marshfield, Oregon, reports the foundering of the steamer Beda off Cape Perpetua, with the loss of eleven men out of thirteen.

"100 Doses One Dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

British steamship Persian Monarch, from London for New York, is reported wrecked on the coast of Devonshire, near Torquay.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry process. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUNTER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

A sensation has been produced in Sicily by a daring attempt of brigands to capture Hon. Victor Albert Nelson, great-grandson of the great Admiral Nelson. Their object was to hold him for a high ransom, but they were unsuccessful, and four of them were arrested.

I Was Disgusted

With the learned doctors after swallowing their costly medicine in vain for over a year for the relief of catarrh in my head, when I cured myself by using six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. My wife is now taking them for nervous debility.—Abiel Carter, Parker house, Boston.

Chan Hon Fan, a Chinaman of Portland, Oregon, is a regularly ordained preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, and belongs to the Puget Sound conference.

Henry A. Mott, Jr., Ph. D., F. C., S., professor chemistry, New York Medical college, and late government chemist, says: "My investigation of Allcock's Porous Plaster shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not present in any other plaster. These ingredients are so perfectly proportioned that the Allcock's Porous Plaster will not cause blisters or excessive irritation; and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster." Imitations and counterfeits of this valuable remedy are being offered for sale; so when purchasing Allcock's Porous Plasters do not fail to see that the registered trade-mark stamp is on each plaster, none are genuine without it.

Mrs. R. W. Dunn has been elected school supervisor in Waterville, Me. She is the first lady ever elected to a public office in Waterville, and she beat her opponent, who happened to be Chairman Brown, of the democratic state committee, by seventy-three votes.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take; all druggists sell them.

Miss Hildreth, the Washington bride of Addison Cammack, the New York broker, was unknown to fashionable society there, and the girls who go to the Germans, and count those who do not as quite out of the world, are chagrined to learn that a ten-million-dollar prize was won by a young lady they had never heard of.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

Counterfeit coin representing the value of £500,000 has obtained circulation in Egypt.

I can safely recommend Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh, cold in the head, etc. Before I have used the first bottle I purchased I find myself cured. At times I could scarcely smell anything and had a headache most of the time.—Henry Lilly, agent for the American Express Co., Grand Haven, Mich. Price 50c.

Ely's Cream Balm cured me of catarrh of many years standing—restored my sense of smell. For colds in the head it works like magic.—E. H. Sherwood, National State bank, Elizabeth, N. J. Easy to use. See adv.

Francois Achille Bazaine, an ex-marshal of the French army, who is living in exile in Madrid, is reported very ill.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures all blood diseases, eradicates every impurity, and renews the vital forces.

Who is that fine looking lady that we just passed, Clara? Why, that is Mrs. Snow. Well, there, what a change; when I saw her last, her skin was so sallow and muddy looking, it's no wonder I didn't know her. What has produced that lovely complexion? I heard that she took Sulphur Bitters, the great blood purifier, and now would not be without them.

McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mrs. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of these very severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing and advised me to try it. I did get a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensable. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

You Talk Too Much.

A scientific man, with an equal talent for mathematics and electricity, has recently calculated that if the entire nervous force of human body be reckoned in million ohms, at least five million are expended by the muscles of the mouth and tongue. This exact statement of the amount of energy spent chiefly in talk may seem small when it is remembered that the most of human purpose passes off through the tongue; but, accepting it as correct, nearly one-half of the exertions put forth by men and women are found to consist in what answers them for conversation.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

No Boon that Science has Conferred Has been fraught with greater blessings than that which has accrued to the inhabitants of malarial ridden portions of the United States and the tropics from the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The experience of many years has but too clearly demonstrated the inefficiency of quinine and other drugs to effectually combat the progress of intermittent, congestive and bilious remittent fevers, while on the other hand, it has been no less clearly shown that the use of the Bitters, a medicine congenial to the weakest constitution, and derived from purely botanic sources, affords a reliable safeguard against malarial disease, and arrests it when developed. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, for general debility and renal inactivity, it is also a most efficient remedy. Appetite and sleep are improved by it, it expels rheumatic humors from the blood, and enriches a circulation impoverished by malassimilation.

Three Reasons

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now it its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

Worse and Worse.

The butchering of thirteen colored men in the court house at Carrollton, Miss., on the 17th inst., was a more outrageous piece of villainy even than was first reported. The first accounts made it appear that the murdered men were at the time on trial for having attacked and wounded on the street, a few evenings before, a young white lawyer named Leddell. Subsequent advices show that it was Leddell who did the shooting, and that he wounded two negroes; one of them complained of him, and the other colored men were in court as witnesses against him when sixty of his high-toned friends, unmasked and heavily armed, rode up and proceeded to butcher them all, as a warning that colored men in Mississippi had better look out how they give evidence against a white gentleman for such a trifle as shooting down a nigger or two in the street. It is announced that everything is now quiet at Carrollton.

A "Bad Injun" Captured.

A despatch of the 21st inst. from Tombstone, Arizona, was as follows: "A soldier who has been stationed at Mud Springs under the command of Lieutenant Wheeler has arrived here, bringing news of the surrender of Geronimo to Lieutenant Maus. The circumstances leading to the surrender are reported as follows: On Friday afternoon, about ten miles south of San Bernardino, the Apache camp was attacked by Mexican forces and a hot skirmish ensued, during which two Apaches were killed and the forces of Geronimo completely routed. Geronimo and his band fled in the direction of Lieutenant Wheeler's camp for safety, and there made an unconditional surrender. The Mexican troops followed them across the line into Maus' camp, demanding them as prisoners, and claiming that the fight occurred on Mexican soil and the victory was theirs. Lieutenant Maus refused to give the prisoners up, which greatly incenses the Mexicans, who threatened to take the prisoners by force. General Crook was hourly expected to arrive in camp, but at last accounts had not yet come. Two despatches from Lieutenant Maus have been received at Mud Springs, appealing for assistance. The situation is critical in the extreme, and the massacre of Lieutenant Maus and his command may occur at any moment."

A Heroine of 1812.

There died quietly at Scituate, Mass., on Wednesday, March 17th, at the advanced age of eighty-nine years, Miss Abigail Bates, the elder of that "army of two" which in the war of 1812 frightened away a British men-of-war and saved a town from destruction. The father of Miss Abigail was Reuben Bates, keeper of the old lighthouse formerly located in Scituate harbor, and the story of the adventure, as told by the sisters, is as follows:

At one time they were left entirely without guards, even their father being away, and at this crisis a British man-of-war suddenly made its appearance. As the crew made preparations to land, the girls, then aged respectively nineteen and fifteen years, were greatly alarmed, but seizing a drum and fife they went into a grove of trees, making all the noise they could. The British, evidently fearing the presence of a large American force, did not land, but soon sailed away. This clever ruse on the part of the two girls probably saved the town and two cargoes of flour then lying within the harbor.

Miss Abigail was the drummer and the elder sister was the fifer in what the two sisters were wont to describe, in autobiographic notes which they sold to visitors, as "the American army of two in the war of 1812." Rebecca Bates, the sister, died Dec. 13, 1881, aged eighty-three years.

"Young People's History of England," by George Makepeace Towle, author of "Heroes of History," "Pizarro and His Conquests," and many other historical works. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston, and sold by M. Goodrich at $1.50, bound in cloth and illustrated.

Mr. Towle in his work has presented clearly and concisely the main facts in English history, from the Romam Conquest to the present day, in so pleasant a manner that the volume is a captivating story book as well as an authentic history. An original feature is a series of chapters on the "Progress of the People," showing the changes in the social condition and the advance in literature and art of the English between one period and another. As a text-book for schools, it is worthy of careful inspection.

"The Message of the Blue Bird, told to me to tell to others:" by Irene E. Jerome, author and designer of One Year's Sketch Book. Lee & Shepard, Boston; price $1. For sale in Portsmouth by Mercer Goodrich.

This dainty combination of song and illustration exhibits the same charming poetic taste and artistic touch which made this lady's "Sketch Book" at once famous among illustrated art works. The pictures are exquisite, the verses graceful and touching. The form of publication is unique. The eight full-page wood-cut illustrations, printed on plated paper, are bound in covers of Imperial Antique, knotted with silk floss, and neatly packed in an attractive box. While it is a suitable gift-book for all seasons and occasions, it is par excellence the Easter book of the year.

O., York Co., Ont., writes: "Have used Ayer's Pills for the last thirty years, and can safely say that I have never found their equal as a cathartic medicine. I am never without them in my house." C. D. Moore, Elgin, Ill., writes: "Indigestion, Headache, and Loss of Appetite, had so weakened and debilitated my system, that I was obliged to give up work. After being under the doctor's care for two weeks, without getting any relief, I began taking Ayer's Pills. My appetite and strength returned, and I was soon enabled to resume my work, in perfect health."

An Ethiopian entertainment given at the town hall on Wednesday evening of last week, by the young people of the Congregational society, assisted by Mrs. Micajah Hall of Boston, and Messrs. Littlefield of Stratham and Hoyt of Newington, was a very enjoyable affair. Singing and playing by Mrs. Micajah Hall was very fine. The rendering of drama "Trouble in Amen Corner" was very amusing. (The appearance of the performers on the stage that night was their first rehearsal; but although they might feel they were not sufficiently prepared, no one else felt that there was any deficiency.) Mr. Mortimer Hoyt's part as Brudder Pete was given in his usual inimitable style.

Supper was also appreciated, as was the financial report of the committee. The costumes were in good taste; those of Gen. Cornwallis and lady reminded us of colonial times, the young ladies never looking more beautiful than in their powdered hair and old-time dresses, thus showing that our great-grandmother's tastes lose nothing in comparison with the styles of the present day. The military cadet attracted much attention. Our colored friends represented their characters in a manner very pleasing to the audience, and the impromptu song of Dandy Jim was especially good.

The ushers were Pompey Hannibal Julius Cæsar and Cornelius Vanderbilt Henderson. The singers were Rosabella, Daffney, Aunt Rebecca, Nelly Bly, Angel Chloe, Venus, Old Black Joe, Bones, Cuffee, Quimbo, Jim Crow, Uncle Tom, Sambo and Dandy Jim. H.

Sometime during Friday night the stores of Capt. Joseph Weare and Albion Goodwin (post-office) at Cape Neddick were burglarized, both being entered by smashing glass. The thief obtained but a small amount of booty at either place. The light snow which fell during the night gave good opportunity to see every track which the thief made, and two boys were started on the track and followed it to Portsmouth bridge toll-house, where they learned that the burglar passed at about four o'clock Saturday morning.

Rather a small team, Captain, to send after a burglar of that kind?

Our neighbor S. P. Young, Esq., has gone to Boston and Cambridge, visiting friends for a few days.

The warrant for town meeting has sixteen articles, and some lively music is looked for. P.

Materialization.

The advertisements of spiritualistic wonders were rich in promises, and proved effectual in drawing together some four or five hundred respectable and expectant people to Music hall Sunday evening. Upon the stage was seen the old trick cabinet, with calico curtain drawn across the front. The first performance was by a lady who played a short time acceptably upon the piano. The Eddy boy then came forward and proposed the appointment by the audience of a committee of two gentlemen to come upon the stage and see that everything was honest and true in the manifestations. Many persons nominated declined to serve, but at length two highly respectable gentlemen accepted, and ascended the platform. These gentlemen proved both sagacious and expert. One of them, a skillful yachtsman, knew well how to tie a knot, and the other did not have his eyes shut to the goings on before him. The first experiment was not very successful. One of the committee stated that he distinctly saw a small trumpet in the mouth of the Eddy boy as he entered the cabinet where the spirits were to make music. On the second trial, the occupant of the cabinet was tied to a chair. A very long line of small rope was used in the process of making him fast. It took the spirits some twenty minutes to effect his release, when the committee reported that the rope had been cut in several places. The necessity for the spirits to use the knife, was a little out of their usual style of doing things. The committee was then relieved from further duty and retired.

Preparations were then made for the grand act of materialization. Mr. Eddy put himself into a long black bag, which was fastened upon him by his assistant, and thus accoutred he entered the cabinet, and the lights of the house and stage were gradually reduced lower and lower, until they were extinguished, leaving all in black darkness, amid whistles and cat calls from the gallery; when suddenly, from all parts of the house, the little blue flames of matches were seen, and these lighted matches being held aloft revealed dimly a dark form emerging from the cabinet. The howling above stairs was then redoubled, and after a time the gas was relighted, and the entertainment was announced as closed, amid the jeers of the audience. This is the third time that these seances have humbugged many of our credulous citizens. No such wonders as the bills promised were performed for their money.—Times.

Major Samuel P. Sayles of Charlestown, an inspector in the Boston custom-house, died on Friday last at the age of sixty years. Major Sayles was a son of Samuel Sayles, who formerly ran one of the packets between Dover and Portsmouth. He went to the Mexican war under Major Theodore F. Rowe, and drew a pension by reason of disability resulting from his service in that war, but notwithstanding this he entered the army during the rebellion and fought it out. He was a popular and efficient officer.

Colonel Benjamin W. Hoyt of Epping, whose marriage with Miss Annie M. Clapp of Manchester took place on the 10th inst., died at the home of his bride in West Manchester on Sunday evening, the 21st, of apoplexy, in the 42d year of his age. Col. Hoyt was a native of Epping, treasurer of the B. W. Hoyt Shoe company, secretary and treasurer of the New Hampshire club, and special commissioner of the Boston & Maine railroad. His widow is prostrated by the terrible blow. Col. Hoyt was a member of De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar, of this city.

A very large and delighted audience occupied Music hall Monday evening, when John Stetson's company gave the Mikado in splendid style—far better than it had before been presented here.

A memorial window to be placed in St. John's Episcopal church, the gift of a Mrs. Prime of Albany, N. Y., arrived at New York from London on Saturday in the steamer Canada.

The Alone in London Dramatic Co., now playing a return engagement at the Park theatre, Boston, will be at Music hall in this city on Monday evening, April 5th.

Rev. James DeNormandie was in town on Monday.

During a brisk snow-squall about three o'clock Monday morning, when the wind was blowing strong and cold from the northeast, there was quite a heavy thunder storm. The warning bell of the fire alarm, in the police station, was rung every time the lightning flashed.

The Penny Post of Monday says: "The article in the Chronicle of this morning, called a rejoinder, is not the communication we rejected on Saturday." It is the identical communication the Penny Post rejected on Saturday, with the exception of the substitution of two words which do not in the slightest degree alter the sense or spirit of the article. That is a very small hole for our contemporary to crawl out of.

Messrs. Rider & Cotton will, as soon as the necessary alterations can be made, move from their present store into the premises next door, Nos. 65 and 67 Market street, owned by Hon. Frank Jones. Their new store will be the largest in the city, having a forty-foot front with a depth of 130 feet, the rear end fronting directly on the water, so that goods can be taken directly from or placed on board of vessels. The store is four stories high at the front, and six stories at the rear, on Ceres street.

The Boston & Maine railroad is announced to have conceded to its employes weekly, instead of monthly payments, after July 1st.

The schooner Agnes E. Downs, Levi Downs master, is about ready to start south on an early mackereling trip, and will sail on Saturday or Monday next, wind and weather favoring. The schooner Albert Woodbury, Capt. Ephraim Henry Downs commanding, will start on a mackerel cruise early in May.

Schooner George W. Glover, loaded with lime, dragged ashore on Clark's island Saturday night in the storm, but came off on the succeeding flood tide without damage.

A despatch of March 20th from Melbourne, Australia, reports the crew of the ship Paul Jones, Winn master, burned on the passage from Melbourne to Calcutta, to be at Melbourne.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel instalment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an instalment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly instalments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Handsome versus Homely.

Who is that fine looking lady that we just passed, Clara? Why, that is Mrs. Snow. Well, there, what a change; when I saw her last, her skin was so sallow and muddy looking, it's no wonder I didn't know her. What has produced that lovely complexion? I heard that she took Sulphur Bitters, the great blood purifier, and now would not be without them.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 3 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in his present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1885), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Atlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by four different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long, and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the much-sought relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which eased me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, you will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Mountaineering in Persia.

Under this title, in the March Century, the Hon. S. G. W. Benjamin contributes an illustrated description of a jaunt through the mountains of Persia: "This is the way we were obliged to prepare for the trip in order to reach our destination. It was essential that we should take with us tents, bedding, crockery, and sufficient animals to carry ourselves, the servants, and the outfit. This required the employment of much talking and of an occasional thrashing when the insolence of the char vadars, or muleteers, interfered with the clinching of a bargain. After several days of preparation all seemed ready for the start. One curious circumstance about the journey, however, was the fact that we were obliged to journey by night. The great heat makes it impossible to travel in Persia in the middle of the day during the greater part of the year. Our departure was therefore so timed that we could have the benefit of the full moon. Once on the road, and winding through narrow lanes at a moderate walk, we were able to observe what an imposing procession we made. At the head rode the gholadar, or equerry, mounted on a white Shirazee Arab stallion. Two gentlemen followed, and next them came several ladies on donkeys. The tachtravan was next in order, carrying the invalid of the party. This is a curious vehicle peculiar to Persia and Turkey. It is a covered litter borne between two mules, and contains sliding doors and windows. It is rendered reasonably comfortable by mattresses on which a person can lie at full length. The tachtravan of the wealthy is sometimes handsomely decorated, and mention is made of kings of Persia using it many centuries ago. But generally this conveyance is more heavily constructed than is necessary, owing to the difficulty of finding wood which is at once light and strong in Persia. The march of a tachtravan is necessarily tediously slow, but it is announced for a long distance by the strings of jangling bells carried by the gayly decorated mules, which do not, however, seem to appreciate the wealth and weight of ornament lavished upon them. On level roads the tachtravan is a real luxury; but when there is a steep ascent or descent combined with bad roads, this form of locomotion is not only very trying to the mules, but is also a severe strain on the rider, both on account of the exertion requisite in preserving his position and the nervous strain caused by watching the frequent peril of being hurled over a precipice. At the head of the leading mule marched a stately Arab, Abdullah Ibn Hassan. His gait was that of a prince; he was six feet in height, sparely built and perfectly erect. A camel's-hair tunic reached to the ankles. His head was muffled with a striped mantle bound around the forehead with a white band. His swarthy features were haggard but yet handsome, and the dark orbs which flashed from under cavernous brows were marked by a proud and romantic melancholy, deepening into a glow of injured pride lingered with sadness when he was refused a backsheesh, as if he would reproach you for having disappointed the confidence he had reposed in your elevated generosity. What a standard is to an army was this son of the desert to our humbler train. He gave to it such a bearing that he seemed to be the chief person in it, instead of a poor mule-driver earning twenty cents a day traversing the wastes of an ancient land,—a mule-driver by descent and the father of mule-drivers of the future. In looking at Abdullah Ibn Hassan I was led by a very whimsical turn of the mind to think of La Fotheringay, in Thackeray's 'Pendennis.' Did that great reader of human nature realize when he delineated her character what a type she is of a numerous class who are so richly endowed with lofty mien and aspect that until they open their mouths and betray themselves they pass for something far higher than they are."

Douglas Jerrold and Phelps.

In his youth Samuel Phelps used to play in a humble amateur company, and was foolish enough to invite Jerrold, then a printer in the same office with him, to witness the performance. Phelps asked for his opinion.

"Have you really made up your mind to chuck up the shop and go on this wild-goose chase?" said Jerrold.

"I have," replied Phelps.

"Very well," he continued; "don't say afterward I didn't warn you."

"Warn me!" exclaimed Phelps. "Do you mean to say that I shall never make an actor?"

"No. I don't mean to say anything of the kind. You'll make an actor—but you'll make a d—d bad one! When you've learnt to move like a man and speak like a Christian, and get rid of your Devonian dialect, when you've had ten years' practice—if you are not starved to death in the interval—you'll succeed, if you've luck, in getting thirty bob a week in some second-rate country theater. And now, go to the devil your own way! Good morning!"

Jones—"Well, old man, I see you are going to lay a new road around your house." Brown—"Yes. I thought a crushed-stone road would make my grounds look as if most of my visitors came in carriages." Jones—"I wouldn't have crushed stone; why don't you have it done in the new fashion?" Brown—"Why, what's that?" Jones—"Mikado-mized."—Rambler.

"You have been married to your present wife for the last twenty-five years, and now you are suing for a divorce," said Judge Noonan to the applicant for a severance of the marital tie. "Great Scott, Judge! Ain't twenty-five years long enough? If you knew the woman you would wonder why I didn't apply for a divorce from her before I ever married her."—Texas Siftings.

No Boon that Science has Conferred Has been fraught with greater blessings than that which has accrued to the inhabitants of malarial ridden portions of the United States and the tropics from the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The experience of many years has but too clearly demonstrated the inefficiency of quinine and other drugs to effectually combat the progress of intermittent, congestive and billious remittent fevers, while on the other hand, it has been no less learly shown that the use of the Bitters, a medicine congenial to the frailest constitution, and derived from purely botanic sources, affords a reliable safeguard against malarial disease, and arrests it when developed. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, for general debility and renal inactivity, it is also a most efficient remedy. Appetite and sleep are improved by it, it expels rheumatic humors from the blood, and enriches a circulation impoverished by malassimilation.

The reverend Downs on Sunday announced to his audience in Music hall, Boston, that he should sue every paper in the country which has slandered him. He denounced several personal enemies, and referred to the Post's action in retracting much that has been said on account of the Dillenbeck row.

The new combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, &c., and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia, a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

Waving The Bloody Shirt.

The New Orleans Times, a southern democratic sheet, frankly denounces "the almost unparalleled slaughter" at Carrollton, Miss., and declares that "the murder of human beings in this barbarous fashion cannot be tolerated or condoned."

The Mobile Register, democratic, denounces the shooting as an "outrage," demands the punishment of the "murderers," and appeals to the people of Mississippi to vindicate the law, which should protect black as well as white.

The Washington Post, democratic, takes occasion to condemn what it calls the "Mississippi slaughter." It can see no reason why the wounding of a white man in a row of his own seeking should be made the pretext for the cold-blooded massacre of fifteen colored men assembled in the court room as witnesses.

We wish to notify those democratic editors of the south that this cowardly and brutal massacre has hardly been alluded to by the democratic and "independent" press of the north, and that if the southern papers keep on they will soon cause a general yell of "bloody shirt" to be raised by the democratic and mugwump editors north of Mason and Dixon's line.

Small Fruits, their propagation and cultivation, including the grape, by William H. Hills; illustrated with numerous engravings. Boston: Cupples, Upham & Co. Sold in Portsmouth by Mercer Goodrich.

Mr. Hills' long experience in horticulture, and his devotion to this alike interesting and profitable employment, have at times given him ample opportunities to present through the press very many valuable suggestions as to the best mode of cultivating various kinds of fruit and berries. His present volume, which is the result of this experience and observation, to which he has added information gained from other sources, will prove of much value to those who seek information concerning the proper soil and its preparation, the use of manures and fertilizers, crossing and hybridizing, producing new varieties from seed, transplanting, pruning, training, gathering, packing and transporting fruit, as well as giving information as to the origin of various noted kinds of grapes, strawberries, etc., their diseases and insect enemies. In fine, every one who grows anything from a gooseberry to a grape vine can here find a deal of valuable information,—not a speculative theory, but the carefully considered conclusions of a practical, common-sense cultivater, who writes of tools as if he had used them, and describes fruits from the gardener's point of observation. There are such a variety of useful directions, such a fund of valuable information, because it comes from one who knows of what he treats, that we cannot begin to particularize the subjects. The book is written with the intention of giving practical directions resulting from the author's experience, in the most concise manner, and will be thoroughly appreciated by those who read its pages and follow its suggestions.

We are glad that the author has been induced to appear before the fruit growers of this country in this shape, and we have no doubt that his work will have the extensive reading which a book of this value deserves.

Wm. S. Warner has been ordered to pay over to Julius T. Davies, receiver of Grant & Ward of New York, all moneys received by him (Warner) from Ward over and above the amount paid by him to Ward. This sum the referee finds to be $1,255,361, which with interest thereon from May 6th, 1884, $140,391.20, makes the total amount to be recovered $1,395,752. That Warner received the lion's share of Ward's stealings has never been doubted.

He was a practising physician in Cambridge, Mass., for several years, but four years ago was stricken with paralysis, and being obliged to give up in part the practise of his profession, engaged in the drug business in Roslindale. He leaves a widow and two children. Funeral services were held in Roslindale on Tuesday forenoon, and the remains were then taken to Kittery for interment.

March April May

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." E. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

TUESDAY, March 23d.

John Hunt was arraigned for forgery, he having as was alleged written an order on a saloon keeper for a pint of old rum, and signed another man's name to it. He was adjudged probably guilty, and held in $400 for the April term of the supreme court; failing to furnish sureties he was committed to jail. He would almost better have gone without rum than to have had all this trouble.

DEATH OF ALBERT HAYES.

Mr. Albert Hayes, one of the elder citizens of Portsmouth, was stricken with paralysis in the woodshed of his residence, No. 51 Middle street, early in the evening on the 22d inst., and died before morning. Mr. Hayes was a shoemaker by trade, and worked at the business for years. On the organization of the city government he was made assistant marshal of the police force, and later served four years under Buchanan's administration as an inspector of customs. On the advent of the republican party to power he was removed, and has ever since been employed in the malt-house at the Jones brewery, until about a year ago, when increasing infirmities compelled him to give up active life. He leaves no family, his wife, a sister of Mr. Gideon H. Rundlett, having died in 1879. He was an ardent democrat in politics, supporting his party through thick and thin under all circumstances. He was about seventy years of age at the time of his decease.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., 4:30 P. M., 22d.

York election to-day; republican ticket, as follows, elected by majorities ranging from ninety-four to 127:

Town Clerk, Joseph Bragdon;
Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor, George W. S. Putnam, Charles Junkins, Almon H. Merrow;
Treasurer, Samuel W. Junkins;
Town Agent, Edward S. Marshall;
Superintending School Committeeman, Charles C. Barrell;
Collector of Taxes, and Constable, Rufus A. Moody;
Auditor, George W. Currier.

Voted to raise $2000 for support of schools; $2000 for ordinary expenses; $4000 toward paying off the town debt. The debt (per auditor's report) is $4081.15.

The meeting was very quiet and orderly and passed off very pleasantly, closing at about half-past two o'clock. P.

It is rumored that the screw steamer Acushnet, which several years ago plied between Boston and this city, carrying freight and passengers, will again engage in that trade this season.

The schooner Ocean Eagle, of Ogunquit, one of the long-time traders from this port to Boston, is to be commanded this season by Charles Stover.

The tide on Sunday was the highest seen in the south mill pond for a long while. It overflowed the low meadows between the gardens of Richard avenue and Middle and Court streets, leaving a small speck of the boulevard as a landmark in the waste of waters.

The brig Kodiack, Preble master, left the navy yard Tuesday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock for Bath, Me., in tow of tug Knickerbocker.

The sloop Gleam, lying at J. P. Simpson's wharf, York, loaded with lumber consigned to John Glenn and intended for use in his new house, broke from her moorings on Sunday last about noon, during the furious gale, and being driven ashore on Johnny's island became a total loss, the crew being saved by Capt. D. Donnell. The Gleam was built at Gloucester, Mass., in 1869, registered about eight tons, and was owned by Bradford J. Varrell of York, who had no insurance on her.

The schooner Abbott W. Lewis, in hauling out from the Concord railroad wharf on Tuesday forenoon to proceed to the Gas Co.'s wharf to take in ballast, ran her jib-boom into the coal pocket, and lost about three feet off the end of it.

The schooner Gurnet, Capt. Osgood A. Clark of this city commanding, is at Charlestown, Mass., loaded with bone dust transported there via the Hoosac Tunnel line, for the guano works at Duxbury. The Gurnet has made successful trips all winter at that business, but after discharging her present cargo will come to the Piscataqua and engage in the freighting of bricks, commencing at Coleman's yard at Eliot, several freights having been already secured in advance.

The U. S. S. Vandalia took her powder on board at the navy yard wharf, Tuesday afternoon, the 23d inst. It was reported that she was to sail for Newport, R. I., on the 24th.

The monthly alarm of fire on the navy yard was sounded Tuesday forenoon, and a spectator who has witnessed hundreds of such alarms says it was the slowest affair of the kind he ever saw there, both as to the number of persons responding and the time it took them to respond. We presume that this was to some extent due to the fact that there isn't much of anybody left on the yard, except the officers, bosses and clerks, who don't "run wid der masheen." Well, if the democratic administration isn't going to send any work, either new or old, to this yard, we do not see the necessity of keeping up a yard fire department to protect the buildings; they are of no value except for ship building purposes, and might as well burn up as be allowed to rot down, as they have been doing for the past ten years.

Next Wednesday, the 31st inst., is another "railroad day" for holders of stock in the Eastern railroad in Massachusetts, the annual meeting of the corporation having been adjourned to that date. There is not on these occasions now the grand rush of ladies that there once was to become "stockholders" for the day, but a good many still go to Boston every chance they get, to buy goodly quantities of articles they do not need at slightly higher prices than they would have to pay at home for similar goods.

The Boston & Maine railroad managers seem to regard it for their interest to extend a portion of one of their leased lines around the western part of Lynn, to join the South Reading branch. This would seem to afford Salem and vicinity all the needed facilities for reaching Boston, and obviate the necessity for the Boston & Lowell railroad wasting money in the laudable effort to accommodate the patrons of the Boston & Maine in Essex county.

In the superior civil court at Boston, Marah 22d, the jury returned a verdict of $25.75 for the plaintiff in the case of Susan Wentworth vs. the Eastern Railroad company. This was an action to recover $6,000 damages for personal injuries received by the plaintiff's intestate on Sept. 18th, 1884, by reason of the alleged imperfect construction of a walk near defendant's depot in Chelsea.

The Concord school of philosophy will open on the 14th of July, and close on the 29th. On the 15th Mr. John Albee of Newcastle will read a paper on "Dante's minor poetry," and on the 26th one on "The dramatic element in Plato."

The district school meeting of Rye was held at the town hall last week, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:—Moderator, Thomas W. Rand; clerk, William J. Foss; board of education, Supply F. Trefethen for a term of three years, Charles D. Garland for two years, J. Arthur Brown for one year; auditors, Thomas W. Rand, Emery C. Jenness. The meeting was fully attended and was quite harmonious; all seemed willing to give the new law a trial. There will be no special change in the schools of the town.

Woman's Inhumanity?

How true are the words of Pope: "Woman's inhumanity to man makes countless millionaires mourn." One cannot pick up a paper without being struck with the number of suits brought by women against men for breach of promise. And in very many instances the man in the case is one of more or less wealth. It would seem that, while social theorists are speculating as to how the wealth of the country is to be more equally divided, certain women have set about it in a practical way. Poor men are either more virtuous than the rich, or the female suitor does not consider the game worth the candle. "Pride goeth before destruction and a haughty spirit before a fall," has been said by one of old. And, had he lived in this day, he might have added, "Personal property and real estate before a suit at law." The average poor man can break hearts and promises at pleasure, and nothing comes of it. He afterwards accumulates a little property, and his victim starts on his trail. He grows wealthy, and the female villain still pursues him. The papers are full of the wrongs of woman, but who is there to sing the wrongs of man? Hood's "Song of the Shirt" causes tears to spring from eyes unused to weeping, but who is there to pity the one who wears the shirt? In our present state of society there is no redress for the man who is the victim of misplaced confidence. A Boston paper the other day contained an account of a babe being placed on the porch of a wealthy residence with a note conveying the information that the little angel belonged to the darling son of the household—a child of luxury, bred up in the refined manner for which Boston is noted, and who, to all outward seeming, had been as pure as the beautiful snow. The revenge of the mother was a terrible one. After thus blasting all the young man's hopes, the young woman flies back to society—perhaps that of the drawing-room, mayhap that of the kitchen—and leaves him alone with the fruit of his crime and weakness. No more can that young man mingle in refined society, where thoughtless people will inquire, "How fares the child?" For his one fault he suffers bitterly. He dares hardly venture on the streets for fear the urchins may shout "Hey, colly, how's de kid?" And yet we are living near the close of the nineteenth century, in free America, fondly believing that in our country the rights of man are recognized and respected! What wonder that a Papal Council came within one vote of declaring that woman had no soul!—Chicago Tribune.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal on the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect facsimile Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, 22 inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-plated,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronzed and nickeled, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, WITH PICER STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The pedestal fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $40,000 is yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

I Was Disgusted

Henry A. Mott, Jr., Ph. D., F. These ingredients are so perfectly proportioned that the Allcock's Porous Plaster will not cause blisters or excessive irritation; and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster." Imitations and counterfeits of this valuable remedy are being offered for sale; so when purchasing Allcock's Porous Plasters do not fail to see that the registered trade-mark stamp is on each plaster, none are genuine without it.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All whose BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp, should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 6 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that not us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Garden, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know of! I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, namely to the establishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

The United States after the Revolutionary War.

At the time of our Revolution the difficulties of traveling formed an important social obstacle to the union of the States. In our time the persons who pass in a single day between New York and Boston by six or seven distinct lines of railroad and steamboat are numbered by thousands. In 1783 two stage-coaches were enough for all the travelers, and nearly all the freight besides, that went between these two cities. The journey began at three o'clock in the morning. Horses were changed every twenty miles, and if the roads were in good condition some forty miles would be made by ten o'clock in the evening. In bad weather, when the passengers had to get down and lift the clumsy wheels out of deep ruts, the progress was much slower. The loss of life from accidents, in proportion to the number of travelers, was much greater than it has ever been on the railway. Broad rivers like the Connecticut and Housatonic had no bridges. To drive across them in winter, when they were solidly frozen over, was easy; and in pleasant summer weather to cross in a row-boat was not a dangerous undertaking. But squalls at some seasons and floating ice at others were things to be feared. More than one instance is recorded where boats were crushed and passengers drowned, or saved only by scrambling upon ice-floes. After a week or tens days of discomfort and danger the jolted and jaded traveler reached New York. Such was a journey in the most highly civilized part of the United States. The case was still worse in the south, and it was not so very much better in England and France. In one respect the traveler in the United States fared better than the traveler in Europe: the danger from highwaymen was but slight.

Such being the difficulty of traveling, people never made long journeys save for very important reasons. Except in the case of the soldiers, most people lived and died without ever having seen any State but their own. And as the mails were irregular and uncertain, and the rates of postage very high, people heard from one another but seldom. Commercial dealings between the different States were inconsiderable. The occupation of the people was chiefly agriculture. Cities were few and small, and each little district for the most part supported itself. Under such circumstances the different parts of the country knew very little about each other, and local prejudices were intense. It was not simply true that Massachusetts and slave-holding South Carolina, or English Connecticut and Dutch New York, that misunderstood and ridiculed each the other; but even between such neighboring States as Connecticut and Massachusetts, both of them thoroughly English and Puritan, and in all their social conditions almost exactly alike, it used often to be said that there was no love lost. These unspeakably stupid and contemptible local antipathies are inherited by civilized men from that far-off time when the clan system prevailed over the face of the earth, and the hand of every clan was raised against its neighbors. They are pale and evanescent warfare, and the sooner they die out from human society the better for every one. They should be stigmatized and frowned down upon every fit occasion, just as we frown upon swearing as a symbol of anger and contention. But the only thing which can finally destroy them is the widespread and unrestrained intercourse of different groups of people in peaceful, social, and commercial relations. The rapidity with which this process is now going on is the most encouraging of all the symptoms of our modern civilization. But a century ago the progress made in this direction had been relatively small, and it was a very critical moment for the American people.—John Fiske, in March Atlantic.

Spirits of Turpentine.

This is one of the most valuable articles in a family, and when it has once obtained a foothold in a house, it is really a necessity, and could ill be dispensed with. Its medicinal qualities are very numerous; for burns it is a quick application and gives immediate relief; for blisters on the hands it is of priceless value, searing down the skin and preventing soreness; for corns on the toes it is useful, and good for rheumatism and sore throats, and it is the quickest remedy for convulsions or fits. Then it is a sure preventive against moths, by just dropping a trifle in the bottom of drawers, chests and cupboards, it will render the garments secure from injury during the Summer. It will keep ants and bugs from closets and store-rooms by putting a few drops in the corners and upon the shelves; it is sure destruction to bed-bugs, and will effectually drive them away from their haunts if thoroughly applied to the joints of the bedstead in the Spring cleaning time, and injures neither furniture nor clothing. Its pungent odor is retained for a long time, and no family ought to be entirely out of a supply at any time of the year.—Scientific American.

"Why don't you marry?" "Well, you see, I am very particular how my intended should be." "Explain yourself, "My wife must be rich, handsome, and stupid." "Why all that?" "Very simple. She must be rich and handsome, otherwise I would not have her; and she must be stupid, otherwise she would not have me."—Fliegende Blaetter.

Talk of Sir Walter Raleigh, of Chevalier Bayard, and of the soft-toned knights of the Field of the Cloth of Gold! There's a fellow up in Petoskey, who, being upset while sleigh-riding, lay upon the snow and said to his sure-enough girl: "Sit on me, dear, and draw your feet out of the snow." Age of chivalry dead!—Detroit Tribune.

No Boon that Science has Conferred Has been fraught with greater blessings than that which has accrued to the inhabitants of malarial ridden portions of the United States and the tropics from the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The experience of many years has but too clearly demonstrated the inefficiency of quinine and other drugs to effectually combat the progress of intermittent, congestive and billious remittent fevers. While on the other hand, it has been no less clearly shown that the use of the Bitters, a medicine congenial to the frailest constitution, and derived from purely botanic sources, affords a reliable safeguard against malarial disease, and arrests it when developed. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, for general debility and renal inactivity, it is also a most efficient remedy. Appetite and sleep are improved by it, it expels rheumatic humors from the blood, and enriches a circulation impoverished by malassimilation.

"I am selling your rheumatism and neuralgia cure—Athlophoros—and it is doing lots of good. The sales are increasing," Druggist George F. Smith writes to an encouraging strain from Searsport, Maine, concerning Athlophoros' good work in Maine.

SICK-HEADACHE. — Thousands who have suffered intensely with sick headache say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them. One gentleman thus relieved, writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth its weight in gold." Reader, if you are a sufferer with sick headache, give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. It will do you positive good. Made by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.. Sold by all druggists. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Judge Aldrich, holding court at Lawrence, Mass., has ruled that no police officer has a right to arrest and take a passenger from a railroad train on order of the conductor or other employes. The railroad officials must first make the arrest, and then hand the prisoner over to the local police.

Virgin Salt is the cleanest, purest and whitest salt ever seen or used. A large package costs only ten cents.

A very daring robbery is reported from Schuba lake in Holmes county, Miss. Three men boldly entered the residence of Mrs. Mary Schlander, a widow, bound and gagged her, as well as a man who was on the premises, then tortured her until she told them where all her money was concealed. They obtained $1300 from her and $100 from the man. A posse started in pursuit, killed one and mortally wounded another. A third of the money stolen was found in the pockets of the dead man.

Passing Away.

The roller-skating and polo-playing craze is dying out all over the country, about as rapidly as it arose. In Roxbury, Mass., last Saturday, the big Highland rink went out of business at the end of the evening's entertainment; and the closing of the Harvard rink at Cambridge is announced to take place as soon as the polo season closes. The many social disasters and scandals which resulted from the promiscuous intermingling of people of all classes in the rinks, and from the free-and-easy manners and rules of etiquette which almost universally prevailed in them, soon brought the skating into disrepute; and there never was any excuse for polo, as it had no elements of beauty or interest for a promiscuous throng of spectators, and was the roughest and most uncouth game ever invented, depending far more on the "bluffing" qualities of the players, and their ability to stand bruised shins and broken heads, than on any skill possessed or required.

A Novel Strike.

The hard-worked and poorly-paid lawyers who have been retained by Attorney General Garland have yielded to the general impulse and struck for a thousand dollar advance fee. This causes embarrassment to Mr. Garland—if that gentleman knows what an embarrassment means. The treasury officials know of no provision of law which authorizes the public money to be expended for the purpose of promoting a private speculation except through a special appropriation by Congress, and just now that body has recently passed a special deficiency bill to pay for the wasteful extravagances of the department of justice. The lawyers with a case, concerning the result of which there is but little doubts in the minds of the ablest jurists, do not wish to wait for an appropriation which perhaps never will be passed, and Mr. Garland finds that after all unless the Pan-Electric speculators will come to his aid and make a handsome outlay, the litigation will have to pause. In the meantime, the investigation in Congress goes on, and Mr. Garland asks the committee to hear his statement as to the matters now being investigated.

March April May

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, March 24th.

Mrs. Jeremiah Haley, charged with vagrancy, was given ninety days at Brentwood, and ordered to pay $5.36 costs.

A GREAT CHANGE.

The Dover Democrat of March 23d says: "Twenty years ago to-day one of our grocers went to Boston and purchased a large stock of goods, the wholesale prices of some of the purchases being as follows: St. Louis flour is billed at $12.50 per barrel, coffee sugar at twenty-one cents a pound, brown sugar at nineteen cents, medium Oolong tea $1.30, starch at ten cents, kerosene oil at eighty-two cents a gallon, plug tobacco at seventy-two cents a pound, pork at twenty cents, hake at seven cents, oats at $1.05 per bushel, Indian meal at $4.05 per bag, and other goods in proportion. The grocer had to pay freight besides. The average prices of those articles to-day is only one-third of the above prices."

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., March 23d.

Geo. A. Hill, youngest son of D. A. Hill, has lately been promoted from quartermaster to third officer of the steamship Indiana, of which Capt. Redford Sargent of this town is master. Mr. Hill has sailed with Capt. Sargent but three years, yet his ability and good seamanship warrant his promotion.

Miss Emma H. Gerry is visiting in the family of Rev. Alexander Hamilton at Cornish, Me.

Mr. William L. Fernald, principal of the North Conway high school, is at his home in North Kittery on a short vacation.

Rumor has it that a man residing on the Foreside road has been in the habit of listening at a window of one of his near neighbors, and one night recently a flatiron came crashing through the glass in close proximity to his head, making it necessary for him to skip to avoid detection.

The annual town meeting will be held Monday, March 29th.

Mrs. Redford Sargent shipped on Tuesday last two cages of Langshan fowls, one to Philadelphia and the other to a town in Connecticut, one being valued at one hundred dollars and the other at ten dollars.

The literary entertainment given under the auspices of Morrill Lodge of Good Templars in the first Methodist church vestry, at North Kittery, Thursday evening last, was well attended and proved quite a success. One important part of the programme was the tableau of the "Buxom Daughter," and if the original was present (and gossips say she was) she cannot dispute the aptness of the illustration. However, "Richard is himself again," and what was hitherto a mystery is now solved. SUB ROSA.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, March 23d.

The Ladies' Missionary Circle met on Wednesday evening, 10th inst., at the house of Mrs. Simeon Shaw; about thirty persons were present, and all had a pleasant time. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Wm. G. Cole's.

Mr. Thomas Chase of Seabrook, who has taught a successful term of singing school in town the past winter, closed the same on the evening of the 10th with a grand concert, and a drama entitled "Don't lend your umbrella." A supper was served, and then there was dancing until the small hours; music by the Rockingham orchestra.

On Wednesday, the 17th, Miss Josie Hobbs, daughter of Horace Hobbs, Esq., celebrated her thirteenth birthday by a grand party at her home. About forty of her young friends were present, and the tables were bountifully laden with everything nice, the birthday cake in particular being very handsome.

Miss Lucy Dow, president of the Ladies' Christian Temperance Union, has given notice for all members of the union to meet at the Orthodox vestry this (Tuesday) evening, and get the expression of the members in regard to a lodge of Good Templars being organized.

On Friday evening, the 19th, Rev. Walcott Fay, pastor of the Congregational church, delivered Miss Lucy Dow's finely written lecture on the subject, "Out on the earth." It was the last one of the course, and there was a good attendance.

A little son of Elias Perkins was riding with his father on a load of logs, Monday last, when by some means a log rolled off and the little fellow with it, fracturing his arm; he was attended by Dr. Merrill. C.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. P. J. McCaffrey, formerly agent of the Portsmouth Brewing Co., is now the New England agent of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Brewing Co.

The Portsmouth shoe factory shut down soon after starting on Wednesday, the 24th inst., on account of some trouble with the main shaft.

A delegation of about twenty-five Sir Knights of De Witt Clinton Commandry went to Manchester on a special train on Wednesday, 24th inst., at twelve o'clock, to attend the funeral of Sir Knight B. W. Hoyt. They returned at half past seven in the evening.

Warren Redding, a native of this city, printer and publisher of the Haverhill Republican from 1840 to 1862, and postmaster at Haverhill for a number of years, died recently in Centralia, Kansas, where he had resided since 1870. He was sixty-nine years old.

The Social club of Kittery will give a dancing party in Trefethen's hall this evening, with music by Lord & Medcalf's orchestra.

About four o'clock in the afternoon on the 24th inst., while one of the sailors of the U. S. S. Vandalia was performing some duty in one of the boats swinging at the davits, he accidentally pulled the detaching line, and he and the boat were instantly cast loose from the ship and landed in the water. The man was stunned, but after a few minutes was able with assistance to get on board the ship.

Hon. George E. Dame, of Newport, who recently resigned the office of clerk of the court for Sullivan county to accept the office of special examiner in the postal service for New Hampshire and Vermont, was in town on Wednesday, the 24th inst. George is convinced from a thorough examination of the ways of the bread-winners in the postal cars that the ordinary job of the clerks is something which requires a deal of gumption, and the place is far from being a sinecure.

A large number of stitchers in the employ of Martin & French, shoe manufacturers, of Dover, struck on the 24th inst. The strikers anticipate the endorsement and assistance of the Knights of Labor, which is very strong.

The south pond is clear of ice.

We regret to notice the illness of Mr. Secretary Manning. In some respects he is Mr. Cleveland's ablest cabinet officer. To him is due the sound verses of the president on the silver topic; and the conservative declare that it would not do to make a clean sweep of the officers and clerks till some of the democrats could be taught how to discharge the duties of places they sought to fill.

Concerning Celia Thaxter's poem, "A Tryst," which Lieutenant Greely says his men were so fond of reading during their Arctic exile, a writer in the Philadelphia Press relates that "in the summer of 1884, Greely, who was seeking rest and health at Portsmouth, N. H., went over to the Isles of Shoals one day to visit Mrs. Thaxter. As he reached the porch of her house the poet came forward and extended her hand. Greely took it, dropped on one knee, and kissed it. 'I have come,' he said in his husky, trembling voice, 'on a pilgrimage to thank the poet for the lines that have lightened many a weary day and night for a handful of men who never expected to see their home and friends again.' Here he had to pause, and, raised by the kind, motherly woman, sank into an armchair. Among those who witnessed the scene, it is needless to say, there was not a dry eye. After he had rested a little and had told of the many times he had read aloud the poem 'in the desolation of the north,' he asked her how she could have written it, and if she had ever seen an iceberg. 'No,' she replied, 'but I have ever lived by the sea, in summer and winter, and I suppose imagination has done the rest.' 'Wonderful!' was all that the pilgrim could reply."

DIED.

SOWERSBY. In this city, March 23d, William Sowersby, aged 82 years and 9 months.

A diver has succeeded in examining the submerged steamship Oregon. He walked the entire length of the vessel, and found that all the hatches had been forced open. As far as could be seen, the after part of the vessel was uninjured, although the doors and skylights had been wrenched off and the water was washing through the saloon. The Cunard Co. refuse to pay any claim for baggage lost on the Oregon; they say the passengers ran their own risk.

A RADICAL CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY, Organic Weakness, PHYSICAL DECAY, Young & Middle Aged Men.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER, Decay and numerous obscure diseases, baffling the skilled physicians, result from youthful indiscretion, too free indulgence, or over brain work. Avoid the imposition of pretentious remedies for these troubles. Get our Free Circular and Trial Package, and learn important facts before taking treatment elsewhere. Take a CURE Remedy that has cured thousands, does not interfere with attention to business, or cause pain or inconvenience in any way. Founded on scientific principles, [illegible] Nervous Debility, Sexual Incapacity, Impotency, Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Emissions, Premature Decay, Lost Manhood, Sleeplessness, Nervous Irritability, Pimples on the Face, Aversion to Society, Melancholy, Blotches, Blood Poison, Gleet, Stricture, Lost Power, Impotency, Sexual Exhaustion, Wasting Weakness, Lost Vitality, Nocturnal Emissions, Premature Old Age, Impaired Memory, Confusion of Ideas

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Wanted.

A STEADY YOUNG MARRIED MAN, from the state of Maine, to work on a farm near this town (Farmington depot); good house for family. Come and see, or address
C. L. LAMPREY, Portsmouth.

Drafts Made by Society.

"How much does it cost to keep the swim of society here?"

"Well," said the young man of whom I asked the question, "that depends. The men, especially the young ones, can keep in on very little, for the burden of entertaining falls on the unfortunate with a household and a couple of pretty daughters. The first requisite for a young man is membership in a club. If he wants to go further he can have a room at the Brunswick, or bachelor's apartments elsewhere. In that case it costs considerable for entertaining his 'set,' who drop in and out at all hours. But, with the exception of a bouquet now and then, that is as far as he need go. In fact, the expense can be kept down to cab hire and bouquets if necessary. The married man with a daughter or two has to have an open purse, though. Each girl needs five ball and reception dresses a year at $200 apiece. His wife will give at least one ball and, say, half a dozen teas. He can't get out of that at less than $2,000. His wife's dresses can be set down at another $1,000, while carriages, flowers and suppers will eat up what is left of $5,000. I am speaking now of people who are forced to keep their expenses down. Those in what is called the "leading set" here spend all the way from $25,000 to $75,000. I don't suppose Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Lorillard or Mrs. Goelet spend a penny less than $75,000 a year in society.—N. Y. Cor.

M. Tommy and Mlle Lili are playing together in the Champs Elysees. A quarrel occurs, and then the little girl gives her companion a box on the ear. Tommy is furious, doubles up his fist, and then calms down suddenly. "You know," he said, in a tone of scorn, "that if I don't strike you back it's because you are only a woman!"—Paris Figaro.

"Gradmamma," said a Murray Hill young lady, indignantly, "Clara Van Spuyten says that you and grandpapa kept a corner grocery store when you were young." "She is mistaken," said grandmamma. "I knew she was—the mean, spiteful thing! The idea!" "Yes, she is mistaken," went on the old lady retrospectively; "it wasn't on a corner."—Harper's Bazar.

Office boy (to country editor)—"A man was in while you were out who said he was the genuine John Wilkes Booth." Editor (hastily)—"He's a fraud. You didn't give him anything, did you?" Office boy—"No. He left a dollar for six month's subscription." Editor—"Well, well. And so John Wilkes Booth is still alive. It beats all."—Chicago Rambler.

Facts About Whiskey.

It is fact, that, by eminent professional authority, it is established that Whiskey is a medicine; that in all Medical Colleges it is taught that alcohol is a prime factor in practice; that there is not a Hospital, Curative Institution or Infirmary in the country, in which whiskey is not employed in the treatment of disease; that nine-tenths of all the Physicians of the country prescribe whiskey in their practice; that statistics will show that one-sixth of all liquors consumed in the country are dispensed by Druggists or Physicians; that nearly all the whiskey so consumed, until a recent period, has contained poisonous ingredients, such as fusel oil, vitriol, catechu, etc., as is shown by analyses in sufficient quantities to poison the system; that the fatal dose of fusel oil, is stated, by Rabuteau to be 1.4 to 1.6 grains; that thousands to-day are suffering from so-called diseases, when blood is vitiated and impoverished by the poisons of impure liquors, manifested in bloat, bleary-eyes, bursting veins, inflammations and running ulcers; that the cause of Dyspepsia or Indigestion is a weakened stomach, and that the only thing that will strengthen the functions is a stimulant, and that stimulant will cure; that in all Malarial Districts the inhabitants depend entirely for exemption from the epidemic influence upon whiskey; that the only cure for Consumption has been proven to be pure whiskey; that distinguished chemists have discovered that it contains no food value to Beef Tea; that distinguished chemists have discovered that Cod Liver Oil does not feed the tissues, but forms degenerated fat; that the only sure and abiding strength which Old Age receives is a medical treatment with pure whiskey; that women, from the gentlest character of their organism, frequently need pure whiskey stimulant, and with them it is indispensible; that the cause of Habitual Drunkenness or Inebriety is the poison in the system from impure liquors causing an unconquerable craving, the same as that of opium or nicotine; that for years whiskey, owing to its relation to and extensive use in Medical Practice, has been the subject of thorough analysis by scientists, chemists, doctors and doctors to discover a process to extract the fusel oil; that this process has positively been discovered by The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., and that their Duffy's pure malt whiskey is the only absolutely pure and unadulterated in the market to-day; that it has been analyzed by the most eminent scientists and chemists of the world, and not a trace of fusel oil, or other poison, can be found in it.

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a perfect fac-simile Miniature, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronzed; Pedestal, nickel-silvered,—at One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, Statue bronzed, Pedestal, Heavily Silver-Plated, with name engraved, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuettes, so that they are now improved over the first one out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

—A young Scotchman has discovered the true use of the debating club. Hurrying along the streets in his best clothes he was stopped by a friend and asked where he was going. "I'm gawn to the debatin' society," he answered, "to contradick a bit."

Henry A. Mott, Jr., Ph. D., F. C., S., professor chemistry, New York Medical college, and late government chemist, says: "My investigation of Allcock's Porous Plaster shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not present in any other plaster. These ingredients are so perfectly proportioned that the Allcock's Porous Plaster will not cause blisters or excessive irritation; and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster." Imitations and counterfeits of this valuable remedy are being offered for sale; so when purchasing Allcock's Porous Plasters do not fail to see that the registered trade-mark stamp is on each plaster, none are genuine without it.

—"Doctor, stop a minute. What do you do for a cold?" "Sit in a draught or get my feet wet. What do you want to get a cold for? Get up, Bolus!"

—"Look here, judge," said the burglar, "I ain't so bad as you think I am. Only give me time and I'll reform." The judge gave him fifteen years.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

I can safely recommend Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh, cold in the head, etc. Before I have used the first bottle I purchased I find myself cured. At times I could scarcely smell anything and had a headache most of the time.—Henry Lilly, agent for the American Express Co., Grand Haven, Mich. Price 50c.

Ely's Cream Balm cured me of catarrh of many years standing—restored my sense of smell. For colds in the head it works like magic.—E. H. Sherwood, National State bank, Elizabeth, N. J. Easy to use. See adv.

—A horse thief was hanged by lynchers the other day in Arizona; and the local editor in describing the event remarked: "Jim departed this life with his accustomed lively snap."

If you require a spring medicine, if you are suffering with languor, debility, pimples, boils, catarrh, chronic sores, scrofula, or loss of appetite, or any disease arising from impure blood, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the safest and most economical of all blood purifiers.

BENTON'S HAIR GROWER.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF, or ITCHING of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years, we have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow Hair in 3 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOERUM, U. S. N.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism. E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

He had been with his respected father and another gentleman friend at the museum one afternoon during the past week, and hugely enjoyed the performance. Upon his return home he delighted his mere with an account of Fannie Louise Buckingham's thrilling feats upon the "fiery untamed steed." Presently he broke forth upon another subject. Purify Your Blood.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

Secretary Manning has had an attack of apoplexy. He has been a hearty eater, and has taken but little exercise, while his free habits have tended to the result now reached. He will probably be compelled for this reason to leave the cabinet, and when he goes out it will be a difficult matter for the president to find in the party a successor who can begin to fill the place as ably as has the present incumbent.

If you have decided to take a spring medicine, and some of the many preparations of Sarsaparilla have been thought of, let us remind you that "Preston's Sarsaparilla" is honestly and conscientiously compounded, and has stood a test of nearly a half century.

Senator Blair.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes that paper as follows in regard to New Hampshire's senior United States senator:

One of the most prominent figures before the public just now is Senator Blair of New Hampshire, brought forward, perhaps, by the Educational bill, which bears his name. Senator Blair is a striking looking man; of commanding stature and robust physique, he would attract attention in any assembly. The senator was born in 1834, and is now in the very prime of life. He held his first public office as far back as 1860, but when the call for troops came he went to the front as lieutenant-colonel of the fifteenth New Hampshire volunteers. After the war he was a member of both branches of the state legislature, and subsequently he was elected to the 44th and 45th Congresses. In 1879 he became a member of the senate, and has remained in that body ever since.

Senator Blair has always taken a great and practical interest in the cause of labor and education. As long ago as his first term as a member of the house he introduced a bill embodying substantially the same principles as are now contained in the Blair educational measure. It never received any recognition, but Blair kept hammering away at it, until to-day there is undoubtedly a majority for the measure in both branches. This shows the persistency of the man. Once convinced he is right nothing can turn Blair a hair's breadth from what he considers to be his duty. He is one of the pluckiest fighters in Congress, for the very reason that he is a "stayer." He can wait years, knowing that in time his course will be vindicated. Thus it happens that Senator Blair commands the admiration and respect of members of both political parties in Congress.

While engaged in some of the most important legislation before the country Blair does an immense amount of work for his constituents. It is said that outside of General Logan no member of congress has as many pension cases sent to him as Senator Blair. His correspondence in the necessary transaction of this business alone is enormous. The senator is not a florid debater. He talks with no idea of impressing his hearers with the brilliance of his metaphor, but of bringing conviction from his arrangement of facts and the completeness of his reasoning. Above all he impresses you with his tenacity.

In the consideration of labor measures Senator Blair has been peculiarly fortunate. He has avoided all the "crankey" notions which have sounded the death knell of many a member of congress, and confined his attention more especially to matters which will bring practical benefit to the working classes. Owing to the fact that his colleague, Senator Pike, has not been very well this winter, and also the additional fact of Pike's natural diffidence as far as senatorial work is concerned, Mr. Blair has had a double amount of labor thrown upon his shoulders.

Who Shall Decide When Doctors Disagree?

Dr. Moore, of Manchester, who obtained the appointment of Mr. Dearborn as postmaster of that city, endorses the appointment as one eminently fit to be made. The vast voting crowe of Manchester wanted an adopted citizen named Fahey to have the office, but the blue blood of the party said nay. On the other hand, Foster's Democrat sees a blunder here. But then there are doubts whether Joshua is an authority just now upon the question of postmasterships.

About two o'clock on the morning of the 22d inst. a telephone pole was struck by lightning near the residence of Gov. Robie at Gorham, Me. The bolt passed along the wire and entered the house, breaking a hole through the partition between the dining and sitting rooms, and burning the wires off in several places, causing several slight blazes which might have resulted disastrously had not the inmates been awakened by the crash, and rushing to the scene extinguished the flames with but slight damage.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Jefferson Davis is soon to visit Montgomery, Ala., and dedicate a Confederate soldiers' monument. We can be ready in ten days. In another ten days we will take Washington, Philadelphia will be ours ten days later. In ten days more New York will fall into our hands. Boston we don't want, because we don't care for baked beans!" The cheering was heard for several miles, says the Constitution.

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. Adjourned to call of president.

THE LATE FRANK W. HILTON.

A TRIBUTE TO A GALLANT SOLDIER.

A committee of the Sixteenth Regiment of Massachusetts Veteran Association, recently waited upon Mrs. Frank W. Hilton, whose husband died in this city in January, 1882, while manager of the Rockingham and Wentworth hotels, and presented to her a testimonial elaborately executed with a pen by a soldier who had lost his right arm. The resolutions were placed in a neat frame and are as follows:

At a meeting of the Sixteenth Mass. Veteran Association, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

"WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Commander of the universe to call home our late comrade Capt. Frank W. Hilton,

Therefore, Resolved, That we, his late comrades in arms, officers and soldiers of the Sixteenth Mass. Regiment of Infantry, will always cherish his memory.

Resolved, That we recognize in him all that is best in a man, and a comrade in battle. He was a brave leader in camp, a considerate officer, and at home a generous friend.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his widow and relatives, and ask them to let the memory of all his glories and virtues soften their grief at his absence.

AROUND HOME.

Ship Grandee, of this port, Jacobs master, arrived at New York from Manila on the 23d inst.

The schooner Mary Willey was on Thursday last being recaulked by George Adams.

The salvation army have been holding their meetings on Market square during the pleasant evenings of this week.

Mr. Dennis Shea is putting up another building on his wharf, in place of the fish-house that was burned there a short time ago.

The Sanborn grocery store on Cabot street, recently injured in the rear portion by fire, is being repaired and put in order.

The Hilton house on Cabot street is being extensively repaired and improved by having bay windows added to the first story.

The Portsmouth Shoe Factory which shut down on Wednesday on account of some trouble with the main shaft, started up again on Thursday afternoon.

Master Harry Boynton, son of Mr. C. E. Boynton, and for some time in the employ of Sise & Co., has been appointed to a clerkship in the post office, and will go on duty next Monday morning.

Messrs. Charles Locke and Everett Trefethen, masons, left this city on the 25th inst., to work on the block of buildings to be erected by Hon. Frank Jones, at Orlando, Fla.

Messrs. Benjamin M. Bailey and Oliver Adams started on Thursday morning of this week for Lake Winnipesaukie, to caulk steamboats and scows there, as has been their customs every spring for many years.

Several mechanics in the pipe shop of the Machine Co. have been out for some days by reason of the non-arrival of material ordered from Pennsylvania, which cannot be delivered on account of the strike in that region.

William H. Kennard and Charles L. Dennett, both natives of this city, are among the number of Boston gentlemen who have been elected and qualified as trustees of the Boston Penny Savings bank.

Mr. Franklin C. Hoyt, one of the privates connected with the salvation army, says he was struck with a brick by some person unknown, between the parade and the barracks, on the evening of the 23d inst. Any one who would strike Tommy, must be a brute.

Mr. Joseph Pettigrew is converting his brick stable on Parker street, in the rear of his house on Islington street, into a dwelling. The cellar has been blasted from the hardest kind of ledge; the walls of the building are of the most solid structure. The new house ought to stand firm, for it is founded on a rock.

The U. S. S. Vandalia left the navy yard just before eleven o'clock on the 25th inst., and while under full head of steam just as she turned the narrows saluted the flag of the commandant of the yard; we should call this a running salute. It was answered from the yard battery.

The literary meeting of the Young People's Association of the North Parish, which was held in the chapel parlors on Middle street, Wednesday evening of this week, was largely attended. The readings of Mr. Pickard, and others, and the singing by Miss Mary Hanscom and Mr. Charles Gray, were finely rendered; and an enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Mr. Marcus P. Norton is in New York figuring up his damages in the Knibbs patent case, where he has won a victory against the Empire city. He will shortly return to Boston, and his counsel state will bring a suit against the city of Portsmouth, when the question of the validity of the release held for the damages claimed in the former suit, if it was properly given, and the agreements therewith made have been kept, will come before the circuit court for decision.

It is stated that the selectmen of the town of Newcastle neglected to insert in the warrant calling the recent town meeting, an article which should require the sense of the qualified voters upon the question as to the expediency of calling a convention to revise the constitution. The joint resolution adopted by the legislature in August last, making the customary provision for taking the sense of the voters of the state upon this question, expressly directed the selectmen to properly insert an article relating thereto in the warrants calling town meeting on the second Tuesday of March, 1886, and also provided that special meetings should be held in cities where elections were not commonly held on that day. Of course the selectmen of Newcastle were familiar with this law, a copy of which was printed in the edition sent biennially to each town in the state, but perhaps the authorities on the island regarded it that they were to have from the secretary of the state a more formal notice than the copy of the laws, and a package of votes to be used at the meeting. Had all the towns and cities in the state omitted thus to act, of course no convention could have been held.

The following from the Portland Advertiser will be heartily seconded by our Portsmouth fishermen: "Captain Scott has been on a fool's errand cruising along the Canadian coast from Labrador to Grand Menan. Not a Yankee fisherman did he find poaching. There's just as good fish in our sea as ever were caught in Canadian waters."

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The repaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectus and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

The "Early-bird" Error.

Specially speaking, early rising is an error. If we go early to bed, well and good. But our artificial nineteenth century life will not permit such early rising. Poets may dream of the beauties of the morning. We do not deny it. Occasionally early rising is all very well. But it is not healthy to get up early as a rule—that is, very early. Old people want rest; young people want sleep. The early morning air is not wholesome. "It is laden," says a medical authority, "with pestiferous miasma," though feeling so cool and fresh. We often feel languid at breakfast after an early walk in summer, and in winter we are simply frozen. Cui bono? (To what advantage?) Beside, your habitual early riser is a nuisance. If he does not disturb you, he will come down on you from his assumed elevated standpoint of virtue with his—"Ah! at 7 o'clock" (or 8—no matter what hour) "I was out and about! I was far afield when you were snoring!" Well, what if he were! Did he do any good? Not much; he probably interfered with the gardener, the grooms or the gamekeepers, or witnessed a harmless flirtation between John and Mary, for which act they will hate him forever! On the other hand, say the moralists, "by rising two hours earlier each day you will have gained a year of life for forty years 29,000 hours, or seven years of life!" Very likely; but I may not live forty years, and the want of rest may shorten my life, too! Thomas Moore tells us: "The best of all ways to lengthen our days is to steal a few hours from night, my dear;" and he was certainly an authority. But there is an application, socially and individually, to the proverb on the subject which is generally overlooked. "The early bird picks up the worm," it is said, and the true meaning of the maxim is: Be ready to seize your opportunity—at least, that is our own idea of it. Be first in the field when you perceive the worm; do not get up at 5 a. m. and perch on a damp wall, waiting for the worm, which is too comfortable in its little (garden) bed to look out. Be ready; rise at the hour of the day; the night cometh in which no man can work, and rest is as necessary, more necessary, than money-making.—Cassell's Saturday Journal.

W. R. Williamson, being held up, robbed and bound by California bandits near Colfax, the other day, complained bitterly as the robbers were making off with his $100, and said it was a pretty mean thing to leave a man without a cent. "That's so," said the chief of the gang. "Here's a couple of five-dollar pieces. It isn't every robber that would do as much." And putting the money in their victim's pocket they disappeared.

STATUE OF "LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD."

More Money Needed.

The Committee in charge of the construction of the pedestal and the erection of the Statue, in order to raise funds for its completion, have prepared, from model furnished by the artist, a superb pedestal Miniature Statuette, which they are delivering to subscribers throughout the United States at the following prices:

No. 1 Statuette, six inches in height,—the Statue bronze, and Pedestal nickel-silvered,—One Dollar each, delivered.

No. 2 Statuette, in same metal, twelve inches high, beautifully bronze and nickel-plated, at Five Dollars each, delivered.

No. 3 Statuette, twelve inches high, finely chased, bronze throughout and nickel, Heavily Silver-Plated, with PLATE STAND, at Ten Dollars each, delivered.

Much time and money have been spent in perfecting the Statuette, and they are much improved over the first one sent out. The Committee have received from subscribers many letters of commendation.

The New York World fund of $100,000 completes the Pedestal, but it is estimated that $50,000 yet needed to pay for the iron fastenings and the erection of the Statue.

Liberal subscriptions for the Miniature Statuettes will produce the desired amount.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. THE HOPE OF NEW ENGLAND.

The last census is not altogether pleasant reading in many portions for the sons of New England, but it conveys lessons which they cannot afford to ignore. If it tells that Maine and Vermont stood stationary as regards populations between 1870 and 1880, it also records the rapid growth and prosperity of many cities and towns which are beginning to tread upon the heels of older communities. It seems to say that to manufactures, not to agriculture, must New England apply herself, and that to the skill of her artisans must she look for her old-time supremacy. This changed condition of affairs is recognized in many enterprising cities, a good example of which may be found in Waterbury, the bustling Connecticut city upon the Naugatuck that is so rapidly coming to the front as a manufacturing center. Waterbury has wide-awake citizens who take every opportunity to push it and to welcome new ideas. The advantage of such a progressive spirit is well shown in the case of G. W. Angell, who lives at No. 204 South Main street, Waterbury, and who gives this personal experience:

"For twenty years I have suffered tortures from chronic rheumatism. The doctors said I was incurable, but thanks to Athlophoros, I have now taken a new lease on life. I had tried numerous remedies with the hope of at least allaying my suffering, but all failed until a friend advised me to try Athlophoros. I did so, and as the result am now looking and feeling as though I had never known what rheumatism was."

Mrs. E. Vickers, of No. 46 Pleasant street, says:

"It is owing to Athlophoros that I am now alive. I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros cured me. I can sincerely say that there is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism and can recommend it to all suffering from that disease."

The testimony is reinforced by that of Mrs. Jane Downey, of No. 24 Pleasant street, a near neighbor of Mrs. Vicker's, in this story of her case:

"Two bottles of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take the remedy, saying that he had done all he could for me, but could give me no relief. Athlophoros drove the rheumatism away, and I am happy to say that it has never come back. My daughter, who suffered terribly from rheumatism, was also cured by taking half a bottle of the medicine."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A Lawyer's Smart Clerk.

Lawyers' clerks are usually taken from the better class of boys, as they must be of more than the average intelligence to be of service to an attorney. This is especially true in this city. When the lawyer is out on business or at court the small boy owns the office. He must know the condition of his employer's principal cases, and must answer questions on all subjects—that is, if the boy has been well trained. Sometimes, however, they are of that undesirable kind who have been set apart for that profession because their parents consider them bright and smart. These boys are apt to become imbued with the idea that the only function of a lawyer is to be sharp and to be always on the lookout for money. A lawyer tells a story of a recent occurrence in his office by which his boy made $25, but came near getting two people into a very unpleasant predicament.

A plain-looking man and woman walked into the office one day in the absence of the attorney. His boy greeted the callers cordially and asked what they desired, adding that Mr. —— was out, but that he attended to matters in his absence. The man explained that he and his wife did not get along very well and both wanted to be released from their married relations.

"Oh, that can easily be arranged," remarked the whilom attorney, and looking wise he ostentatiously examined a lot of law-books, and after a few minutes proceeded to draw up an agreement between the man and his wife to disagree. He framed it in the language of the law, putting in the "saids," "greetings," and "aforesaids," as well as an alarming array of references to "parties of the first part" and "parties of the second part," and even to "a vinculo matrimonio" the latter being intended to properly impress his clients. Large seals were added to the documents, which the boy endorsed with a flourish and gills of red ink; then the agreement was duly signed, the boy adding his name as a witness. The man was very grateful, and asked what the fee was. The small boy said $50, and to the plea that this was a good deal to pay for so little work, answered: "But see what I have done for you, and, anyhow, we never scratch a pen for less than $50." The man had only $25, but paid that, and promised that he would return in a few days and pay the remainder. The following week he put in an appearance and the boy being out, he saw the attorney himself, and remarked cheerfully that he had come in to pay $15 on account.

"On account of what?" asked the attorney.

"Why, the agreement I had drawn up here last week," replied the client.

"What agreement?" asked the attorney.

The man produced the paper and handed it to the lawyer, and, as the latter read it, his eyes grew like an owl's at night. When he at last reached the clause: "Know all men by these presents, that John —— and Mary ——, having agreed before me as a witness, they are free to marry again in this state," the cold perspiration started to the lawyer's brow as he blurted out: "For heaven's sake, don't tell me you are married!"

"No," answered the man. "I am going to be married next week and Mary will be married to-morrow."

The lawyer quickly explained the case to the man, and two trials for bigamy were saved from our already overcrowded courts.—New York Commercial Gazette.

"Providence is on the Side of the Stronger Battalions."

From General Buell's "Shiloh Reviewed" in the March Century we quote as follows: "Nowhere in history is the profane idea that in a fair field fight, Providence is on the side of the strongest battalions, more uniformly sustained than in our civil war. It presents no example of the triumph of 15,000 or even 20,000 men against 25,000. It affords some such instances where the stronger force was surprised by rapid and unexpected movements, and still others where it was directed with a want of skill against chosen positions strengthened by the art of defense; but nowhere else. The weaker force is uniformly defeated or compelled to retire."

A letter from Philadelphia to the New York Herald says: "The son of a many times millionaire brewer of New York came here prejudiced against the town and determined apparently to find fault with everything. He went with some friends after the opera the other night to the most fashionable restaurant in town—one quite as good, it must be conceded, as anything in New York. The room was nearly full of men and women. The brewer and his friends sat at a table near the centre. The linen was immaculate, the china exquisite, the service apparently unquestionable. The brewer rises. 'What is the matter with these chairs?' he cries. 'Just like this town. They are not big enough to enable a man to sit comfortably. Hi! you waiter! Bring me a high chair.' The never-questioning waiter bows and disappears. Presently he returns and gravely plants beside the fault-finder one of those high wooden contrivances in which indulgent fathers sometimes seat their babies at table. The New-Yorker, his eye blazing with rage, stalked from the room, followed by his embarrassed friends, while an audible titter from the rest of the company pursued them on their way."

The Beginnings of Sickness.

Never trifle with what are called small ailments. A disorder easy of control at first, if neglected for a few weeks may become a mortal disease. Be especially careful not to let debility gain upon you, for it is the door through which all maladies enter the system. If you feel languid, inert, and to use a common expression, "as if there was no life left in you," resort at once to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This great vegetable tonic will supply the vitality you so urgently need. It is nerve food. By its tonic action the stomach is so invigorated that digestion becomes regular, easy, perfect; while its mild, cathartic properties relieve the bowels from obstructions, and its alterative operation beneficially affects all the secretive organs. For the miseries of dyspepsia, and they include almost every unpleasant feeling that belongs to physical disease and mental wretchedness, this potent tonic is a certain and speedy balm.

Purify Your Blood.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

Nearly all the looms in the Bates mills at Lewiston, Me., are now in operation, and all departments are full of help. Many new applications for work are being refused, because of previous applications.

If you have decided to take a spring medicine, and some of the many preparations of Sarsaparilla have been thought of, let us remind you that "Preston's Sarsaparilla" is honestly and conscientiously compounded, and has stood a test of nearly a half century.

The Carrollton Massacre.

At Washington, March 25th, Ex-Senator B. K. Bruce and Ex-Congressman John R. Lynch of Mississippi called on the president, and directed his attention to the cowardly and unprovoked massacre of thirteen negroes at Carrollton, Miss., on March 17th. They represented that they had received numbers of letters from colored people in that section requesting that the matter be laid before the president for such action as he may deem proper. Messrs. Bruce and Lynch stated that the colored people were almost dead with fear. The attention of the president was also directed to the fact that the governor of Mississippi has taken no official action in the premises, and that he is represented as having intimated that no state action could be taken, as it would trench upon the authority of the county in the case.

The president listened with attention to the recitals, and expressed himself in decided terms as against such affairs. He expressed himself as surprised that the state authorities had taken no steps to have the outrage investigated and the guilty ones brought to justice. He intimated that the matter had been called to his attention by the attorney general.

The interview lasted about an hour, and Messrs. Bruce and Lynch expressed themselves pleased with the cordiality of their reception, the earnestness of the president, and the interest he took in having the matter investigated.

A Big Boycott.

The boycott against Keene Brothers at Lynn, Mass., was signalized at eleven o'clock Friday forenoon by the engineer shutting down the engines, and locking the engine room so that the proprietors could not get in. This engine supplied power to ten or eleven other large shops, employing over 1,500 hands, all of whom had to stop. The manufacturers called a meeting for Friday evening.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Post in suggesting that the United States marshal and pension agent in this state should be speedily succeeded by democratic appointees, pays a high tribute to the political and personal qualifications of Hon. J. G. Dearborn, the recently appointed postmaster of Manchester, and invites the president to go ahead "and give us some more" at Concord. The popular Celtic feeling is of course entirely ignored. It has been decided by the bosses that the liquor element can easily control the Irish vote in Manchester whenever it is needed, and that the placing the offices with the best men of the party according to Dr. Moore's ideas is of far more consequence than can result from any recognition of the Irish element, which belongs to the democracy naturally and which can easily be cajoled or secured on election days, however much it may growl and sulk at other times.

William McClure, of Dorchester, Mass., was on March 25th sentenced to three years in the house of correction—the full extent of the law—for a long continued course of fiendish cruelty to his two-years-old baby, the details being too revolting for us to publish. The wretch, who richly deserves the gallows, pleaded guilty to three specific charges. The case was only reported to Capt. Ford, of the Massachusetts S. P. C. C., on March 21st, showing that the heartless scoundrel's punishment was swift. And yet there are people who denounce the existence of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, on the ground that it is an impertinent interference with parental rights!

Several resident politicians of the District of Columbia called on the president last Thursday to remonstrate against the nomination of Matthews as register of deeds. The burthen of the complaint was that these District men stood assessments for the party, and wanted more plums. The president declined to recede and said: "Mr. Matthews is a good man, and has also done service for the party. I have done more for the residents of the district than has been done during any previous administration. I have given you more time and more consideration, and have studied your interests more closely than any other president. You cannot agree among yourselves, and I am forced to make my own choice. I shall do the best in my power for all the residents of the district that I can." Every now and then an objecting democrat finds out that Mr. Cleveland is bound to have his own way, and objections to his nominations and opposition to his plans, never accomplish anything with the executive.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or

is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

IN THE MIDST OF LIFE WE ARE IN DEATH.

Andrew P. Preston of this city, who on Wednesday of this week as eminent commander of De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar conducted the funeral services of the late B. W. Hoyt at Manchester, officiated just two weeks before as the bridegroom's best man at the wedding ceremony of the deceased in that city.

RETIREMENT OF A PORTSMOUTH BOY.

The long-established firm of Cook, Rymes & Co. of Charlestown, Mass., has concluded to dissolve, and the partners will retire from business. The original concern was started in 1845 by Hittenger & Cook, and in 1855 Hon. Christopher E. Rymes was admitted as a partner. Mr. Hittenger retired in 1861, and a new partner, Mr. Crosby, was received and the firm name changed to Cook, Rymes & Co. This name has been retained up to this time.

It was this firm which introduced the hoisting engine for discharing vessels' cargoes; the first one was used by Enoch Train & Co., for discharging the packet ship Daniel Webster in 1851. The firm also patented machinery for the manufacture of tobacco, and supplied large orders for tobacco factories all through the south, and indeed the whole country.

Mr. Rymes is the son of the late William Rymes, who for many years kept a shop on Bow street in this city, and like his father is a good mechanic. He has spent many summers with his family at the Isles of Shoals, having at one time been interested with his wife's cousins, the Messrs. Laighton, in the ownership of the Oceanic on Star island.

To-day will be the last day of school for the winter term, the annual spring vacation commencing on Monday.

The work of repairing the sea wall on Water street at Pleasant point was commenced on Friday last by Mr. George S. Marshall, under the supervision of the special committee appointed by the board of aldermen.

The vestibule of St. John's chuch has been repainted by W. J. Sampson & Co., and carpeted. We believe it has never been carpeted before.

Mrs. Adeline P. Kent of this city, national junior vice president of the Ladies' Relief Corps, organized a branch at Exeter on Tuesday evening of this week with a membership of forty-one, and on Thursday afternoon organized another branch at Candia with a membership of thirty-four.

Mrs. Emma Molloy, who has been arrested at Springfield, Mo., as an accessory to the murder of Sarah Graham, is said to be the well-known temperance lecturer of that name who has often spoken in Boston, this city and vicinity. She was a very eloquent orator on temperance, and the many who have heard and seen her will be slow to believe her guilty of a heinous crime.

George Adams, who was appointed a member of the police force on Thursday evening was a member of the common council from ward four; he resigned his position on the board, and was immediately "run in" as a police officer, watchman and constable. He was sworn in on Friday, and goes on duty Monday. We believe his selection is a good one, as he is well spoken of.

In the case of Alexander Bruce and others against the Manchester & Keene railroad, a suit transferred on appeal from the circuit court of the United States for this district to the supreme court of the United States, and defended by the Boston & Lowell and the Concord railroads, who are lessees of the Manchester & Keene railroad, Frank W. Hackett, Esq., counsel for the defendants, has filed a motion to dismiss the suit from the docket. The motion raises the question of jurisdiction of the court, by reason of the amount at issue.

The travelling in the suburbs was much improved on Friday, the warm sun and high wind combining to settle the roads quite rapidly. The mayor has had the ice removed from the west side of Pleasant street from the North church to the custom-house, and the square now looks spring-like as far as the surface of the ground is concerned.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Active was at Sise's lower wharf on Friday with her sails all bent, and ready, after taking aboard another anchor and chain, to start on Monday for a coal port, weather proving favorable. She spreads a new mainsail containing 550 yards of canvas and made by T. S. Gay.

Robert C. Sides, Jr., first assistant engineer of the lighthouse steamer Fern, arrived home on Thursday on a brief visit to his family. All the light-stations from Eastport to Galveston receive oil and supplies (except coal) from the Fern, and Mr. Sides reports the weather on the southern coast during the past winter as being the severest experienced by him during his sea service.

The ship Gov. Goodwin, Capt. Henry A. Norton, sailed from Shanghai, China, Jan. 15th, and arrived at Astoria, Oregon, March 1st. At Astoria the captain died from some affection of the brain, and his wife, who arrived at Astoria a day or two before his death, brought the remains home to West Medford, Mass., where they were interred on Wednesday, March 24th. Capt. Norton was born in York, Me., Oct. 14th, 1832, and had long been a successful shipmaster, having commanded the Belle Morse, Cashmere, Nonantum and Crusader, and for four years past the Gov. Goodwin.

How a Dog Should Be Fed.

The puppy, when just weaned, should be fed four, five, or even six times a day, and from two months to four months of age, four times; after that three times, to the age of nine to twelve months, according to the breed—the smaller varieties reaching maturity soonest; after that twice a day is enough, a full meal being given each time, until maturity is reached. Regularity as to time is important in feeding, both because it assists health and is a considerable help in inculcating orderly and cleanly habits. Minute calculations have been made as to the amount of food required by a dog, with the result of conflicting statements of opinion, ranging from one-twentieth to one-twelfth of his own weight per day, and it is often stated in this form—one ounce of food for every pound the dog weighs. Experience convinces me that in the matter of quantity of food the scales are better dispensed with, using instead the dog's appetite as the correct measure; I therefore always advise that a dog should have as much at a meal as he will eat freely, and that when he stops to turn it over and pick out bits here and there, the dish should be removed.

The composition and quality of the food is the next point claiming consideration. In reference to the first point, I think it necessary to refer to theories propounded by Dr. Billings, V. S., of Boston, Massachusetts, in two lectures delivered in that city, and reproduced with apparent approval by that section of the American press which specially deals with canine matters. I have not the text before me, so cannot quote with verbal accuracy; but, briefly stated, Dr. Billings, founding his argument on the admitted fact that the dog is a carnivorous animal, declared he should be fed entirely on flesh, and even went so far as to say that farinaceous food was poison to the dog. The English practice for centuries—from the time of that excellent huntsman and discourser on dogs and their treatment, Edmund de Langley, of the early part of the fourteenth century, confirmed by such practical writers as Turberville and Gervase Markham, of the sixteenth, Cox, Jacobs, and others, of the seventeenth, and all the masters of hounds, huntsmen, gamekeepers, kennel men, and every other person who has kept a dog since—is dead against Dr. Billings's theory, which, indeed, should rather be named a "crotchet." For dogs there is no more wholesome food than the mixed scraps from the table, consisting of meat, bones, bread, and vegetables, and when there are more dogs kept than there are bones and scraps for, the broken victuals should be taken as the standard of the component parts of that which has to be further provided.

In regard to pet dogs kept by ladies, the great mistake often made is to overfeed and feed too richly. It is a mistaken kindness to feed dogs on rich, fat-producing diet; and to give sugar and sweet cakes and puddings is to certainly destroy the powers of the digestive and assimilative organs; and anything that produces excessive fatness will bring on asthma, to which disease pugs and other short-faced pets are especially prone. Occasionally we meet with, in all breeds, a dog that is a dainty feeder. These have to be coaxed to eat, a little at a time being given, and a tonic of iron and quinine with gentian given daily for a week or two at a time.

—Hugh Dalziel, in Harper's Magazine for March.

Town meeting at Kittery on Monday. There are many articles contained in the warrant, which by actual measurement is over four and a half feet long!

The recent high run of tides did great injury along the beach at Old Orchard, the properties of Mrs. Green, Dr. Cullis, Thomas Goodall, the hotel Fiske, and the Cleaves house being most damaged. The dike at Ocean Park was partly washed out, flooding the land back of the sea wall, surrounding the houses with water and doing a large amount of harm.

The republican caucus of Kittery was held in Armory hall on Thursday evening, March 25th, and nearly the same officers as were elected last year renominated, the only new names being Horace Mitchell, Jr., and Rev. E. E. Colburn, on the board of superintending school committee, and John Thaxter as auditor.

Sick Headache.
GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.
MRS. B. C. BODLE,
Orange, Luzerne Co., Pa.

Dyspepsia.
GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,
Chelsea, Vt.

Headache and Biliousness.
GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

The Japanese House.

The first sight of a Japanese house is disappointing; it is unsubstantial in appearance, and there is a meagerness of color. Being unpainted, it suggests poverty; and this absence of paint, with the gray and rather rain-stained color of the boards, leads one to compare it with similar unpainted buildings at home—and these are usually barns and sheds in the country, and the houses of the poorer people in the city. With one's eye accustomed to the bright contrasts of American houses, with their white, or light, painted surfaces; rectangular windows, black from the shadows within, with glints of light reflected from the glass; front door with its pretentious steps and portico; warm red chimneys surmounting all, and a general trimness of appearance outside, which is by no means always correlated with like condition within—one is too apt at the outset to form a low estimate of a Japanese house. An American finds it difficult indeed to consider such a structure as a dwelling, when so many features are absent that go to make up a dwelling at home—no doors or windows such as he had been familiar with; no attic or cellar; no chimneys, and within no fireplace, and of course no customary mantel; no permanently inclosed rooms; and, as for furniture, no beds or tables, chairs or similar articles—at least, so it appears at first sight.

One of the chief points of difference in a Japanese house, as compared with ours, lies in the treatment of partitions and outside walls. In our houses these are solid and permanent, and, when the frame is built, the partitions form part of the framework. In the Japanese house, on the contrary, there are two or more sides that have no permanent walls. Within, also, there are but few partitions which have similar stability; in their stead are slight sliding-screens, which run in appropriate grooves in the floor and overhead. These grooves mark the limit of each room. The screens may be opened by sliding them back, or they may be entirely removed, thus throwing a number of rooms into one great apartment. In the same way the whole side of a house may be flung open to sunlight and air. For communication between the rooms, therefore, swinging-doors are not necessary. As a substitute for windows, the outside screens, or shoji, are covered with white paper, allowing the light to be diffused through the house.—Prof. E. S. Morse, in Popular Science Monthly for March.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

A despatch of March 27th from Brussels, Belgium, says: "The damage done to property by the strikers at Charleroi alone already amounts to $2,500,000. The strikers have threatened to destroy the gas works which supply the city with light. Strong reinforcements of troops have been sent to help protect the city. Lieutenant General Swissen has been sent to Charleroi to take command of the troops being assembled there to quell the rioting."

Is He Your Friend?

Is the family doctor your friend? How many unnecessary visits does he make you? How many days does he keep you sick that you ought to be at your work, and so doing how many hard-earned dollars does he extort from you? Would it not be better for you to place your trust in Sulphur Bitters? Try them, they will be a true friend. Saving you a long sickness and a large bill, which you have hitherto paid to some avaricious doctor.—Editor State Journal.

The 4,000 workers on cloaks in New York who are on strike for better hours and pay, are said to be winning their case. Most of the manufacturers are willing to concede, and work will probably be resumed in a few days.

Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition, and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence; but by a sudden change of weather, the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a gleam of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to get and try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Surgens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting worse and worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dread disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

German Superstition.

As a rule Germans are not gamblers; but they play sometimes, and when they play they like to win, so there are charms that secure their success. Here is one of them in rough outline. It is by far the worst and most blasphemous we have heard of in Central Germany—a distinct piece of witchcraft, as it seems to us. To the words of the charm, distinctly noted down at the time, we regret that we can not refer. The receipt without them stands thus: Catch a toad on Easter Sunday morning before sunrise, take a piece of soft wood—pine, etc., not beech nor oak—a little larger than the toad, and then nail the wretched creature upon it in the form of a cross, hang it on an isolated pole toward the sun, thus gradually changing its position with the progress of the day; keep sprinkling it every now and then with water, for if it dies before the sun sets your labor has been in vain. If, when the sun goes down he is still partially alive it is enough; take him to the nearest ant-hill and bury him in it. On Whit Sunday dig him up. If no one has disturbed the hill you will find the bones quite clean and white; put them in a little bag, hang it round your neck, and you will always win in games of chance. This charm, of course, a violation of every law of humanity and religion; a giving one's self to the devil even more formally than if one signed a contract with him in one's own blood. If we could reproduce the words to be used at the different hours it would be seen, imperfect as our account even then would be, what mysteries are caricatured, and therefore violated. The man who employs such means simply says: "I shut myself out of the fold of Christ; all I want is to win at cards." The charm was preserved by an old man who had served in the wars of 1813 and 1815. Another man, a comrade of his, whom he had carried wounded off a battlefield, had given him, when on the point of death, his "lucky bag," and told him how to make a new one. The veteran did not know from what district the man he had saved for a day or two had come; his knowledge of the charm itself was evidently inadequate; he protested that he had never tried it; but the bag and the bones were there, a little blue silk bag, worn and frayed, with a name worked upon it that looked like Eliza—a girl's name who was young some ninety years ago, we may suppose, and who put a ring, or perhaps a few golden pieces, her scanty earnings, into the bag, and gave it to her lover before he went away. It was full of toad's bones when he saw it.—Saturday Review.

Indian Picture-Writing.

Let us see how an Indian of North America goes to work to write.

Suppose a wild Indian belonging to the great clan whose members call themselves the Turtle, makes a raid on a village of huts and wigwams owned by enemies belonging to the widespread clan called the Bear clan. Suppose it has taken the Turtles three days of hard travel through forests and over the hills to reach the Bears. By means of their crafty spies, they find that the brave men of the Bears are away hunting moose, and the most of the squaws and pappooses are either in the fields of maize or in the woods, where the berries are ripe, and only a few old men and women are left behind to keep watch over some ponies and oxen. Then the Turtles, each clutching his bow, creep on the village under cover of the woods, and with a terrific yell rush at the wigwams. The old people run into the bushes, frightened almost to death, as you can well imagine. Then the Turtles gather up all the ponies and oxen, drive them off, burn all the wigwams they can, and hurry home with the cattle. Now these savages think they have done quite a fine thing in robbing their neighbors of their cattle and plundering and burning their homes, as does one great nation in Europe, when, like our Turtle chieftain, badly counseled by wicked and ambitious men, it robs another of a great province, and forces the wretched people who dwell there to obey the laws of a nation they dislike. And they wish to let other Indians know what clever robbers they have been. So the Turtle chief chooses a piece of smooth, cream-colored birch-bark, chews up a little tobacco to serve as ink, plucks a twig of soft wood for a pen, and with the tobbacco juice draws the following pictures:—

First comes a turtle, and it is a very big turtle, because he thinks that he and his clan are very great personages indeed. Then he draws as many waving lines, to represent bows, as there are Indians in his party, and perhaps the same number of Indians with topknots; his lines bend forward to show in what direction the trail went. Following these, a rising sun stands for daybreak, and three lines under it mean that three days went by in going to the Bears. Next, he puts down as many funny little pyramids as there were Bear wigwams, and draws them upside down to show that they were destroyed. After that, he draws, as well as he can, a wee, wee bear, very small, in order to show his contempt for the bears. Finally, he draws with the greatest care as many oxen and ponies as he has captured, because he is chiefly proud of this part of his exploit and wishes all the world of the woods to know what a great and successful robber he is. He does not tell that the Bear braves were away when he surprised the camp, and probably does not care to tell that part of the story. We may understand it from the absence of any sign for scalps. Had there been resistance and men slain on either side, the exact number of dead would have been noted by drawing just as many human figures without their heads.—From "Wonders of the Alphabet," by Henry Eckford, in St. Nicholas for March.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla was the first successful blood medicine ever offered to the public. This preparation is still held in the highest public estimation both at home and abroad. Its miraculous cures and immense sales show this. Ask your druggist for it.

Score One for the Navy.

The British government has, through its representative at Washington, sent to the secretary of state a letter of thanks to our government, for the service rendered by the Tennessee and Galena in rescuing the British steamer Historian, which had grounded on a bank off the Magdalena river, while on the voyage from Liverpool to ports in Colombia, on the 19th of December last. The Galena, then in the harbor of Savanilla, promptly went to the aid of the Historian, and being unable to pull off the steamer, remained by her to take off her men and assist as might be needed.

Admiral Jouett heard of the disaster, and though a hundred miles from the scene of the grounding despatched the Tennessee on a similar errand of assistance. The Historian came off, but subsequently broke her shaft, and on the 31st of December the Tennessee fell in with the disabled steamer and towed her to Colon. The admiral, as the owners write, declined all remuneration for the service, but the owners of the Historian intend to ask leave of our government to present a piece of plate to the officers' mess, and to distribute a sum of money among the men of the Tennessee.

The correspondence shows a handsome acknowledgment on the part of the English merchants of the gallant conduct of our naval officers, and we are glad to note that the ships of the squadron have performed such a signal service, while the graceful acknowledgment of our English cousins makes our national bosom swell with pride at the fact that it was in the power of the admiral thus to put to sea without a moment's hesitation upon this errand of mercy. The whole affair is creditable to our navy, and is better than a bombardment of a hundred small towns, or the capture of a dozen fishing smacks on the coasts of the British provinces.

What Sank the Oregon?

One of the remarkable theories as to the sinking of the Oregon, suggested by persons who do not believe she was sunk by a schooner, is that she hit one of the numerous wrecks reported by the pilot chart of the hydrographic office to have been seen floating along our coast within the month previous to the disaster. They say that the steamer was going twenty miles an hour at the time of the disaster, and collision with a floating wreck could easily have stove a hole in her big enough to be fatal. This is all very true; but it is probable that the steamer was making speed endwise at the time of the disaster, and the hole was made in her side. The wreck, of course, could have no motion of any account, and there was no sea to heave the huge "ocean greyhound" off at right angles to her course with force enough to break her almost in two against a stationary object. Had the steamer been going sidewise at the rate of eighteen knots, the floating wreck theory would have been a real good one.

The Boston Evening Record, which is always doing something new and enterprising, scores another point in advance. Recognizing the popular demand for wholesome fiction, the Record meets it by the daily publication of a continued story written expressly for it by Julian Hawthorne. A peculiar feature will be the printing of the story across the bottom of the page in large type, easy to the eye. The Record is the first to introduce this new and attractive feature in American journalism.

The story, "John Parmelee's Curse," is conceded to be the best that Mr. Hawthorne has ever written, and is certain to attract attention and be widely read. The Record will publish the opening chapter April 1st, and the story will be continued in daily instalments until finished.

It is thought that the schooner Charles H. Morse, bound from Baltimore on the 6th inst. for Boston, and not yet heard from, may be the vessel which was in collision with the Oregon. Schooner Florence J. Allen parted company with the Morse on the eve of Sunday, when the collision occurred.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Prevented

The republicans of Rhode Island held their state convention on Thursday, March 25th. There was a live contest for the nomination of attorney general. S. P. Colt on the 8th heat passed under the wire with just votes enough to nominate him. Col. Colt is a brother of Judge Colt of the United States Circuit court, and an able lawyer. His nomination was received with a round of cheers which were heard all over the state!

"A friensseo of "frauds" is what Mr. Conkling calls the Broadway surface railroad development, as it was spread before the New York assembly last week. Mr. Conkling ought to know, for he seems to have cooked the aldermanic goose to a turn recently.

Mr. Cleveland is said to have listened with a good deal of interest to the narration of the Mississippi men who related how the first gun of the campaign was fired at Carrollton Court House, and killed about twenty negroes. He probably considered how much this would benefit Hill's or Whitney's chances in the next Congress. The grave of the democratic party is being deg not only wide, but deep.

March April May

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. FIELDS, Rochester, N. Y.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

SATURDAY, March 27th.

Fred Hoagland, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90; county farm in default of payment.

AFTERNOON, Bufford J.

James Hill, charged with cruelty to a horse in not properly feeding and caring for the animal, pleaded nolo contendere, and was fined $5, costs $4.99.

WAS IT A PRIZE FIGHT?

Shortly after four o'clock Sunday morning Mr. Al. Hook, who lives on Leach's island, Newcastle, saw a crowd of about thirty or thirty-five men assembled on the island, and what he judged to be a ring fight in progress. After about an hour the gang separated in various directions, and on proceeding to the spot where they had been he found on the ground a shirt, torn and bloody, and two Boston papers. His supposition was that a gang of Massachusetts ruffians had selected this secluded spot to see two brutal wretches engage in one of the innumerable prize fights which have for a year past been disgracing American civilization.

SKILLED MARKSMEN.

Some years ago it was the custom with the police force of this city, when some unhappy dog was doomed to be abolished, to take the animal to the station and there despatch it with pistol balls, an operation which not unfrequently took considerable time, passers-by on the street being sometimes treated to sounds of volley firing, mingled with energetic canine remonstrances, for half an hour or so at a time. This was complained of, and at length some other method was adopted to dispose of any surplus dog, and has ever since been employed. Judging from the following, which is told by Foster's Democrat, the Dover police are worthy rivals of our own, as marksmen:

"Last evening a ten-year-old boy came to the police station leading a small terrier dog by a string. The youth presented the marshal with a note which contained the intelligence that the said dog had bitten a neighbor's child, and it was requested that the dog should be killed. Officer Stevens identified the brute as the one who was taken there some months since on a similar charge, and as six shots fired at it did not harm him, he was let loose and sent home, much to the surprise of the owners. The police held a council of war last night, and it was voted that one of the specials fire at it six times, and if not hit let the dog go home again. Not one of the six shots hurt the beast, and he was let loose and sent home."

WON'T PAY.

The supreme court for Strafford county at the February term rendered a judgment for $6054 against William A. Worster of Great Falls, formerly of Berwick, Me., in a suit brought against him by his uncle, William A. Lord of Berwick, since deceased. The sheriff had him arrested on suspicion that he about to leave the state, but he was released on bail, his wife, who is wealthy, depositing, it is said, $6000 to secure the boudsmen. Mr. Worster delared his intention to take the poor debtor's oath, but when, in pursuance of that intention, he arrived at the Strafford county jail on the 26th inst. to surrender himself, he found that counsel for the plaintiff had lodged $1000 with the jailer as security for the defendant's board, an amount which would provide for an eight years' residence in that place. He submitted to imprisonment, and is said to have declared his purpose to remain in jail rather than satisfy the judgment.

Mr. Worster was formerly of the firm of Davis, Worster & Co., proprietors of the Island Ledge house at Wells beach, Me., burned some years ago. Worster being the sole owner at the time of the fire. Several years since the grand jury for York county found an indictment against him for obtaining money, some $900, under false pretences from Sewell I. Cowell of Berwick, but the matter never came to trial, as Worster moved across the state line into Great Falls.

The sloop C. E. Trumbull, of Rockport, Mass., left Philbrick's wharf, where she had discharged a cargo of Cape Ann granite, at nine o'clock Saturday forenoon, in tow of the steamer James Sampson, bound for Rockport.

The schooner D. K. Ham, Garland master, in going up the river on Friday carried away her jib-sheet traveller, and was compelled o anchor. A new traveller was put in place on Saturday.

The schooner Agnes E. Downs, Levi Downs master, will sail this morning for Gloucester, Mass., to get her seine boats, etc., and thence to the waters in the vicinity of Hatteras after mackerel.

The steamer Ann, Capt. Drew, will probably proceed to Dover the last of this week, as the river is rapidly opening.

W. L. Dodge, Esq., night editor of the Manchester Union, was in town on Saturday.

Messrs. Trefethen & Connor on Friday laid about twenty feet of the new sewer, and on Saturday morning made a fine blast, dislodging a large quantity of ledge.

The total force now on the navy yard, including foremen, clerks, watchmen, apprentices and all, is about one hundred and fifty.

A physician of this city informs us that there are more cases of sickness in the place now than he ever knew before, but principally minor complaints not necessarily dangerous.

The Middle street Baptist society have engaged Congress hall for a fair to be holden during Easter week.

Starr C. Hewitt, who has for some months been conducting a watch and jewelry store in National block, moved on Saturday to Peabody, Mass., his patronage here not being such as to induce him to remain longer.

Miss Miranda A. Jenkins of Newmarket entered a suit against that town last Thursday for $5,000, for injuries received through an alleged defective highway last February.

There were a large number of the local democratic politicians of the southwestern part of York county, Me., on Market square in this city on Saturday, and not a few of them were very open in their expressions of antagonism to the present position of the national administration at Washington.

Mr. W. I. Perkins left this city this morning to take a permanent position in Jackson & Co.'s express office in Boston.

Leonard S. Rand, one of the founders of the Dover Stamping company of Cambridgeport, Mass., died on Saturday after a brief illness. He was born in this city in June, 1803, and was for many years a very prominent man in Dover, where he and the late Horace Whitney started the stamping company, which removed from Dover to Cambridgeport twenty years ago.

An Eliot farmer plowed a piece of his land on Tuesday of last week, and on Saturday planted his early peas before coming to this city to do his trading.

The annual camp meetings for this season have been announced by the Old Orchard Beach Camp Meeting Association, as follows: Salvation Army, from July 6th to the 15th; holiness meeting, Rev. A. B. MILWAUKEE LAGER BEER.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 22.—The disciples of the school of total abstinence may perhaps take some comfort by perusing the following table of statistics, from which it appears that the aggregate amount of beer sold by the Milwaukee brewers during the year 1885 shows a considerable falling off as compared with the sales of the next preceding year.

It will be noticed, however, that the old renowned Phillip Best Brewing Company has to record a gain, and is still maintaining its proud prestige of being at the head of the column, while the sales of its principal competitor show a marked decrease.

The figures are vouched for as correct in every respect:

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS RECEIVES Sound, Refreshing Sleep.
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS FOR That Tired, Weary Feeling.
Sick Headache.
GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many certified remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

Dyspepsia.
GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,

Headache and Biliousness.
GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief; my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

Card Etiquette.

"Card etiquette is attracting some attention," says the Philadelphia Times. "At one time it was the fashion to send in the card by the servant on calling for the purpose of announcing the visit. Now, if the lady is receiving, the contrary is observed among some of the ultra fashionable, and the visitor comes in unannounced and leaves her card as she goes out. In order to carry this out successfully there has to be a servant ready to receive the card. The old fashion has among other advantages the one of relieving the hostess of the embarrassment of not remembering her visitor's name, which, in the case of new acquaintances, is likely to occur. Yet if there is a regular reception or entertainment it is considered bad form now to send the card in advance, though there was a time when it was obligatory. Of course, when it is merely a lady's day 'at home' for callers, the sending of the card is essential. The fashion of turning down the corner of the card has also changed its significance in late years, so that it no longer implies being left for the entire household, and a separate card has to be left for every one in the household called upon."

He Took Thirteen Tricks.

Whist-playing is a favorite pastime of commuters on the various railroads which carry passengers between this city and New Jersey suburbs, and many an hour, especially in the winter, is thus pleasantly passed which would otherwise be tedious. Several of the railroads have placed tables between the seats, at which can be seen daily the same "set," and in front and behind interested spectators watch the game. The game of whist played on the Morris and Essex road has been noted for its perfection. There is one set composed of Mr. Dumont, of Summit, E. D. McConnell, of Madison, and Mr. Tolers, of Short Hills; for over ten years they have played together and they are considered the crack set of the road. Passengers crowd the aisles of the car, standing up all the way so as to watch the game. Mr. McConnell had an experience recently on account of which he is naturally puffed up. He was playing fourth in hands; clubs were trumps, and he held the following hand: Ace, king, queen, ten, eight, and four of clubs; ace, king, and queen of diamonds; ace, king, four, and five of spades. Spades were led and he took the trick with the king and then led the ace of trumps. He took all the thirteen tricks himself—an extremely rare occurrence in whist.—N. Y. Tribune.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The world moves. After having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 8 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Is He Your Friend?

Is the family doctor your friend? How many unnecessary visits does he make you? Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nuirition, and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence; but by a sudden change of weather, the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matter which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mrs. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of these very severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing and advised me to try it. I did, got a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensible. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE OLD DOMINION.

A Richmond, Va., correspondent of the Louisville Post, writes: Virginia looks hopefully to the great west. With the overthrow of her system of civilization many thought the ruin which had engulfed so many of her best people would never pass away. Virginia was an agricultural state. Her towns were small, and before the war did little business. Now, after twenty years of change, social and political, it is well to look about and take note of the surroundings, and inquire, what of the future, and upon what premises can one speak hopefully? The whole American people (Anglo-American) have a wonderful power of adapting themselves to circumstances. War is a cruel game and should never be engaged in without a fixed purpose. We played the game manfully and well, and when we lost, accepted the inevitable and returned to our ruined homes to do what we could toward providing for our families. Twenty years is a short time in the life of a people, but is half the average man's life. One-half the armies which survived that contest have since been borne to peaceful graves, and with them the passions on both sides which caused the conflict have been buried. The old men have died off, and estates have been divided and sold. The necessity of the surrounding conditions has compelled a change. Our cities first began to build up, with many new employments to occupy labor and capital; then by degrees farmers, as they accumulated capital, began to use labor-saving machines and turn their attention to a greater diversity of crops. The geologist and mineralogist have examined our mountains and have found them full of such mineral wealth as would have seemed impossible to our fathers. The young men who know nothing of the old system of labor are turning their attention to various pursuits. We have railroads running north and south and west, connecting us with the centers of activity throughout the country. We look to the west, with the great Mississippi binding the country together from north to south, as a great country, where in a few years will be settled on it and its many thousand miles of tributary streams one of the densest populations of the most active people the world has ever seen. The river Nile, running through a narrow strip of fertile land, without tributary streams, the land dependent on the annual rise of the river for its life-giving inundation, was the seat of one of the oldest and wealthiest civilizations of ancient times. That river commenced its flow far south of the equator, and emptied into the Mediterranean sea, I think, in about the 36th degree of latitude. The Mississippi, by its main streams and tributaries commencing far north, empties into the Gulf of Mexico north of the tropics, and has life-giving rains its whole length. Who holds the mouth of the Mississippi rules the continent.

So far as the heat of summer the mouth of the Mississippi is not a good way for the shipment of many of your products. During the winter the routes to the far north are liable to be cut off by the extreme cold. Here in Virginia is a line not liable to either objection—a prominent route neither affected by the heat of the mouth of the Mississippi nor by the extreme cold of the northern routes.

What seemed an irrecoverable disaster, the manumission of the slaves, is proving a blessing in disguise to the generation just growing up. I have no fear of the success of our people, the white race. Our people are of English and Scotch ancestry, and though for many generations they have lived in a southern clime, they have retained in large measure their ancestral pluck and resolution. Twenty-five years have now passed away since the war commenced. Our children know nothing of the institution that seemed necessary to their fathers, and pursue any calling with the same native-born pluck their fathers followed farming, and they are succeeding in these efforts. "There is life in the old land yet."

Substitutes for Butter.

The manufacture of substitutes for butter is increasing rapidly, according to the best evidence obtainable. There is a corresponding increase of the tendency to light their introduction on the part of the dairy interests. This fighting is carried on in courts and in newspapers, but chiefly in the former. The fact that the substitutes are fought chiefly by interested parties lessens the weight of the arguments against substitutes for butter with the customers. In the state of New York in 1885, there were $2,288 deposited in the state treasury as fines collected for infringements upon the dairy laws, principally those relating to the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine. The dairy commissioner reports that he has been much hampered in his work by adverse decisions as to the constitutionality of the laws under which he was prosecuting. At the present time there are upwards of two hundred cases in court. So far as the state of New York is concerned, Buffalo seems to be the most imposed upon of all cities. Of 254 samples of milk analyzed in 1885 in that city, 186 were found to be adulterated. The principal reasons given why oleomargarine is dangerous to health are that it is indigestible, insoluble when made from animal fats, liable to be the vehicle for disease germs, and in the desire to make it cheaply improper ingredients are used. These ingredients are borax, salicylic acid, benzoic acid, glycerine, slum, cow's udders, sulphuric acid, sal soda, caustic potash, castor oil, chalk, stomachs of pigs, sheep and calves, nitric acid, various kinds of vegetable oils, tallow, lard and flour.—The Sanitary News.

The Beginnings of Sickness.

Never trifle with what are called small ailments. A disorder easy of control at first, if neglected for a few weeks may become a mortal disease. Be especially careful not to let debility gain upon you, for it is the door through which all maladies enter the system. If you feel languid, inert, and to use a common expression, "as if there was no life left in you," resort at once to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This great vegetable tonic will supply the vitality you so urgently need. It is nerve food. By its tonic action the stomach is so invigorated that digestion becomes regular, easy, perfect; while its mild, cathartic properties relieve the bowels from obstructions, and its alterative operation beneficially affects all the secretive organs. For the miseries of dyspepsia, and they include almost every imaginable feeling that belongs to physical disease and mental wretchedness, this potent tonic is a certain and speedy balm.

David F. Warden of West Epping was found dead in the road leading from West Epping to Freemont last Thursday evening about 7:30 o'clock, by James L. Brown. He had started to go to a store, and when within about twenty rods of the store was taken with a fit and fell in the road, and when found was lying on his face in the mud. He leaves a widow and one child. He was twenty-four years old.

It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

Arbitration Agreed Upon.

As a result of a conference with Mr. Powderly on Sunday, Jay Gould sent telegrams to the Missouri Pacific officials directing them not to discriminate against Knights of Labor in employing the men now on a strike. In a letter Mr. Gould declares that he has no objection to submitting the matter in dispute to arbitration. The officials of the Knights of Labor have therefore ordered their men to return to work.

A PRACTICAL SERMON.

In Dover on Sunday last, according to the published reports, there was at least one lively service. It is stated that "Rev. C. A. Phelps, pastor of the Advent church, resigned some time ago, to take effect the last Sunday in March, because of dissatisfaction and opposition manifested toward him. In his farewell sermon last Sunday he sharply criticized the conduct of those members who caused the trouble. He called them by name and said their opposition was simply because instead of wearing a workingman's garb he dressed well, wore collars, cuffs, white necktie, carried a cane, and shook hands and hobnobbed with prominent citizens, such as Colonel Daniel Hall and Colonel A. H. Young; also because he participated in rifle shooting with the Cocheco rifle club, and so on. He gave his opponents an effective dressing down, though in rather respectable style. It was expected, and the church was packed full. Mr. Phelps is going to reside in Massachusetts."

The Student's Kent—an abridgment of Kent's Commentaries on American laws, by Eben Francis Thompson. Boston and New York; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; 339 pp.; price $2 50.

The student at law of years long past, having meandered through the Commentaries on the laws of England by Sir William Blackstone, would be advised by the counsellor with whom he pursued his studies to take up "Kent's Commentaries," a series of lectures originally delivered before the law students of Columbia college in the city of New York, some of which were published sixty years ago. An abridgement of these commentaries was published in 1889. The works of Blackstone and Kent have been often compared by legal writers, and it is claimed by those of our land, that Chancellor Kent surpassed the English writer "in comprehensiveness of research and fullness of illustration, and to have equalled him in clearness and cogency of reasoning."

In later years, the frequently appearing text books upon the various topics of the law, treated in these commentaries, has to no small extent rendered elaboration in a work of this kind less necessary. Hence the abridger, who is a well known member of the bar of Worcester county, Massachusetts, has regarded it that the work of the chancellor in this form might better meet the wants of the lawyer and student. In his work, the author has endeavored to abridge, and at the same time preserve all that is most essential and valuable to the student. In many instances the precise language of the original text is retained; in others a more concise style has been used. There is an introduction by Judge Nelson, judge of the United States District court for the district of Massachusetts, which heartily commends Mr. Thompson's results and endorses the work. The contents of the book comprise, in condensed form, the sixty-eight lectures upon varied phases of the law, beginning with that on the foundation and history of the law of nations. The index, which comprises over twenty pages, is copious and well arranged. The book is 12mo, has figures in the running titles which refer to the original pages in Judge Kent's work, and has the citations of the original text. In this abridgement Mr. Thompson has presented, as Judge Nelson states, "concisely and clearly the elements of our laws as stated in the original, and in noting its more general modifications since Chancellor Kent's time."

The work, which in the exercise of a proper judgment in its production in this form, must have caused the editor much labor as well as study, will be of especial service to students, while to the members of the bar it will be a speedy guide to the leading principles of our elementary laws. In these days, when such a multitude of cases can be found bearing upon questions at bar, the "case lawyer" may well pause in the contemplation of his list of authorities, and return to a study of those sound principles of law upon the careful consideration of which are founded all that is enduring in the reports of decided cases, which have come down to us since the early jurisprudence of the country.

In the April number of Lippincott's Magazine a novel series of articles is commenced under the general heading of "Our Experience Meetings," in which a sort of public confessional will be provided for leading authors, actors, artists, politicans, business men, etc., who feel autobiographically disposed. The present meeting is attended by Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, and Joel Chandler Harris, each of whom gives an interesting sketch of his literary career, as seen from the inside.

Six months' experience with the "special delivery" system shows that plan for the quick distribution of important letters to be very like a failure. The method was not widely adopted, and there has been a steady falling off month by month in all the cities, in some cases one-fourth or one-third. Possibly the difficulty may be met by extending the privileges to smaller offices, as is proposed. It looks, however, very much as if the telegraph and telephone already more than meet in the large cities the need which the special delivery aims to supply.

The Providence Journal remarks: "The longevity of women who are fortunate enough to marry soldiers is shown in the fact that our pension rolls bear the names of about 20,000 widows of veterans of 1812. The brides of seventy-three years ago are nearly centenarians now, and the number of them quite surpasses belief." But it is probable that many of these widows were not brides seventy-three years ago, but were married at a much later date, and were much younger than their husbands, too.

The Ohio senate has passed a bill establishing a non-partisan police force in the city of Cincinnati.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. John McLellan, cor. Bridge and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using my appetite and digestion improved, and my health has been perfectly restored."

Prevented

A theory has been advanced that Jay Gould purposely brought about the recent railway strike for the purpose of hammering stocks, and when he was through kindly let up again. It is now thought that there will be a corresponding rise in railway shares, as the roads will be likely to do a lively business for some time to come.

Attorney General Garland is confined to his house by illness caused by overwork on the telephone. He can better be spared than could Mr. Manning. Mr. Garland lacks that nicety of perception which is needed in a legal adviser, and consequently the president could improve on his appointment if the office of attorney general should become vacant.

Mr. Powderly, by securing the promise of Jay Gould to leave the Southwestern railway difficulties to arbitration, has clearly demonstrated to the Knights of Labor the wisdom of his declaration that just grievances can be better remedied by common sense than by the violation of law and the disorganization of the business interests of the land.

March April May

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." B. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

MONDAY, March 29th.

George F. Dixon managed in some inexplicable manner to get rum in this city on Sunday, and made the fact apparent by his conduct on Market street in the afternoon. For this he was invited to hand over $9.90, fine and costs, and did so.

THAT PRIZE FIGHT.

From all that could be gathered from all sources on Monday, it appears certain that the gang of roughs who invaded Leach's island on Sunday morning to see two brutes pummell each other were not from Boston, as was at first supposed, but from this city. The principals in the disgraceful affair are reported to have been Timothy Hennessey and John Hurley; and Michael J. Ryan time-keeper and referee. Accounts differ as to whether nine or eleven rounds were fought, and it does not matter; the law was broken, and the city and state disgraced, and the authorities will be grossly regardless of their duties unless they hunt down and punish every person who had anything to do with the affair, that the law can reach. Among the spectators are alleged to have been at least three aldermen and one or more common councilmen—a very beautiful example indeed for our "reform" city government to set to the boodlum element!

The bringing to justice of the participants in this affair will not be left with the city authorities. A complete list of the "sports" is in the hands of the law officers of the county, and Soliciter Eastman on Monday directed Sheriff Kent to summon what witnesses are considered necessary to appear before the grand jury at Exeter, April 13th.

DEATH OF THOS. S. GAY.

Thomas S. Gay died shortly after noon on Monday at his residence corner of Cabot and Austin streets, after an illness of a few weeks.

Mr. Gay entered the United States navy as a mate on the 30th of March, 1864, and in October of the same year was promoted to be acting ensign; and on the 4th of November, 1868, he was honorably discharged. He again entered the service in December, 1871, as sailmaker, and resigned in March, 1873. In October, 1864, he was one of the daring handful of volunteers who with Lieut. Cushing in a steam launch, fitted with a spar torpedo, proceeded twenty miles inside the rebel lines to where the iron-clad Albemarle was moored to a wharf at Plymouth, N. C., and in spite of her protection of logs, and the fire of her heavy guns and musketry, placed the torpedo under her bottom and blew her up. Mr. Gay was one of the adventurers who were captured, and was for some time confined in Libby prison. When the prize money for the Albemarle was awarded, years after the war, his share was $23,500.

Mr. Gay was twice married; his second wife survives him, as does also a son by his first marriage.

KITTERY ELECTION.

The voters of Kittery had a lively time on Monday; but the republican ticket was successful, all the candidates on it being elected by majorities of a hundred or more. The hardest fight was on moderator, the republicans supporting Alexander Dennett, and the democrats dividing themselves between Josiah A. Stover and Andrew J. Stimson. There were two full democratic tickets in the field, representing the Stimson and Ephraim C. Spinney factions respectively, and also several split democratic tickets, representing the trickery by which each fraction hoped to circumvent and cheat the other. The republican ticket, which was elected, was as follows:

Moderator, Alexander Dennett;

Town clerk, Dennis M. Shapleigh;

Selectmen, assessors and overseers of of the poor, Franklin H. Bond, Frank Bartlett, Mark C. Fernald;

Treasurer, Jesse E. Frisbee;

Superintending school committee, Harriet H. Shapleigh, Horace Mitchell, Jr., Eugene E. Colburn;

Health officer, Mark F. Wentworth;

Auditors, William A. Fernald, John Thaxter;

Constables, Perry C. Moore, Daniel H. Nason, Nicholas E. Spinney, Cedric Laighton, Reuben Mitchell.

Thayer, recently reported by her last commander, Capt. Clark, to have been burned by two mutinous Malay seamen after the murder of several of the crew—rather a cock-and-bull story, it would seem.

Sick Headache.
GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but today I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.
MRS. B. C. BODLE,
Orange, Luzerne Co., Pa.

Dyspepsia.
GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,
Chelsea, Vt.

Headache and Biliousness.
GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and unirjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel Insallment Feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in a monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

How Does the Brain Work?

* * How, then, does the mechanism of the brain really act? I believe the true answer to this question is the one most fully given by M. Ribot and never yet completely accepted by English psychologists. It acts, for the most part, as a whole; or at least, even the simplest idea or mental act of any sort is a complex of processes involving the most enormously varied brain elements. Instead of dog being located somewhere in one particular cell of the brain, dog is an idea, audible, visible, legible, pronounceable, requiring for different modes of its perception or production the co-operation of an enormous number of separate cells, fibres, and ganglia.

Let us take an illustration from a kindred case. How clumsy and awkward a supposition it would be if we were to imagine there was a muscle of dancing; and a muscle of walking, and a muscle of rowing, and a muscle of cricketing, and a muscle for the special practice of the noble art of lawn-tennis! Dancing is not a single act; it is a complex series of co-ordinated movements, implying for its proper performance the action of almost all the muscles of the body in different proportions, and in relatively fixed amounts and manners. Even a waltz is complicated enough; but when we come to a quadrille or a set of lancers, everybody can see at once that the figure consists of so many steps forward and so many back; of a bow here, and a twirl there; of hands now extended both together, and now held out one at a time in rapid succession; and so forth, throughout all the long and complicated series. A quadrille, in short, is not a name for one act, for a single movement of a single muscle, but for many acts of the whole organism, all arranged in a fixed sequence.—Grant Allen in Popular Science Monthly for March.

A fine pike adorned the aquarium at the London Zoological Gardens. One night the glass tank in which he lived broke, and the water wolf, not appreciating being thus left high and dry, was found next morning by the keeper at a distance of twenty-four yards away, making for a piece of water. Fortunately for him he was not allowed to reach it, for the pond contained otters, who would no doubt have greatly appreciated a morning call from a fine young pike.

Street-car companies own the surface of such streets as they choose to occupy. Below the surface the gas and waterworks companies are sole proprietors. Above, the wire concerns—such as telegraph, telephone, and electric companies—are supreme. Any other old space that may happen to be about is used by the city for storing dirt.—New Orleans Picayune.

A MARVELLOUS CURE.

A Pure Malt Whiskey the Only Cure For Consumption.

It has become the until of practice of all physicians, of all dispensing druggists, to administer pure, unadulterated whiskey for CONSUMPTION, and Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has become the recognized and unquestioned specific for the CURE of this dreaded disease. The subjoined testimonials bear witness to its undoubted efficacy

304 Madison Ave., Baltimore, Md.

"GENTLEMEN:—I had a patient in the last stages of consumption, to whom food or medicine was given would vomit it. I had given her various remedies, but all were expelled, and she received nourishment only by enema and injection of Cod Liver Oil, which were effectively disagreeable to her. I had a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I administered a teaspoonful which she vomited. The second dose, with a little meat juice was retained. Within a week she was able to eat heartily. All that had been the matter disappeared in her her die. I am convinced that it is not only free from fusel oil, but not in any way adulterated." FLORA A. BRENNEMAN, M. D.

Baltimore, Md., May 5, 1885.

"GENTLEMEN:—I was suddenly stricken with a severe hemorrhage, losing about one gallon of blood at the first attack, and large quantities of blood thereafter. My case was considered hopeless; my friends arranged for my funeral. I was removed to the Hebrew Hospital, and was issue ordered by my physician to use Cod Liver Oil and Whiskey. On advice the whiskey I used was your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I discarded the oil using only the whiskey. I feel I owe my life to its purity, and earnestly recommend it for pulmonary complaints or hemorrhages." SOLOMON WEIL.

63 N. Central Ave., Baltimore, Md.

July 13, 1885.

"GENTLEMEN:—I have been till my friends all thought I would die of consumption. I was so sick and weak that they had to feed me up to give me your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. My doctor told them to give it to me and then I began to improve. I shall use it while I can get it." MRS. ANNIE GRIMES.

533 Master St., Phila., Pa., Nov. 4, 1885.

"DEAR SIRS:—My daughter had been in delicate health. Her mother died of consumption. Her sister said she would not live. I used your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and consumption cure in her case. The doctor said it was consumption himself; she is now sixty years old and is strong and hearty." N. PETERMULLER.

"GENTLEMEN:—It gives me great pleasure to recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which I have used with great satisfaction in consumption; in the last stages of that dread disease. The patient can retain it when all other remedies fail; I recommend it to all." MOTHER SUPERIOR VERONYNE.

Is He Your Friend?

Is the family doctor your friend? How many unnecessary visits does he make you? How many days does he keep you sick that you ought to be at your work, and so doing how many hard-earned dollars does he extort from you? Would it not be better for you to place your trust in Sulphur Bitters? Try them, they will be a true friend. Saving you a long sickness and a large bill, which you have hitherto paid to some avaricious doctor.—Editor State Journal.

In a disturbance in New Haven, Conn., on the night preceding the 1884 election, W. W. Hotchkiss shot Policeman Michael Doherty. At the same time Patrick H. O'Brien, a young man of excellent character, was terribly injured. After fourteen months' illness O'Brien died last Thursday. Doctor's bills, and lawyer's fees in trying to get legal redress from Hotchkiss, have nearly ruined his family.

Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition, and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence; but by a sudden change of weather, the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

Mr. Lewis Feltner, a prominent Chicago man engaged in silver mining in Mexico, was killed by Mexican outlaws, near Santa Clara canon, Mexico, March 28th.

All disorders caused by a billious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

Major Charles E. Pease, of Gen. Hooker's and Gen. Meade's staff during the war, died in New York last week, aged forty-eight years. Major Pease carried Lee's letter of capitulation from Meade to Grant, when the former general hesitated about opening it; attended Grant at the famous meeting with the confederate commander, and under protection of a pass from Lee carried the news of the surrender back through the discomfitted rebel army to Meade, thus being the first to announce the good tidings.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

The Providence Journal remarks: "It would appear that the local assemblies of the Knights of Labor that ordered the strikes on the western railroads, did so without the authority or even the knowledge of the central executive. In other words, the organization does not as yet thoroughly connect with or obey its supreme authority, and gets it into difficulties for which it is not responsible. As we have pointed out, the impediments in the successful organization and direction of such a body are quite as great from within as from without, and, without any reference to other questions, make its effective administration almost impossible. It is a very large job that Grand Master Workman Powderly has on his hands, even if the present issue does not disrupt the organization, and he appears to be aware of it."

"I have no appetite," complains many a sufferer. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives an appetite, and enables the stomach to perform its duty.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in his present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1885), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Athlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by four different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long, and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the slightest relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which eased me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it, express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Francis Joseph's Daily Life.

To a sovereign who devotes his time so conscientiously and almost exclusively to the affairs of state and to the welfare of his people as is the case with Francis Joseph of Austria there is but little left for the comforts and pleasures of private family life, but the few moments of the day which are thus employed he regularly spends with his own son Archduke Rudolph, the crown prince, in whom he has set all his pride. Generally he takes his breakfast in his company at 8 a. m. At ten he pays a visit to the empress or Archduchess Marie Valerie, conversing with either as long as the order of business will allow. But being an early riser—in the winter season before 4 o'clock—his working hours are many, and industriously employed.

After his morning bath he takes a cup of black coffee and reads the daily Vienna papers, always keeping "an fait" with public opinion, to which he pays great deference. He also reads the extracts from the principal foreign papers which are laid before him by his private secretary. At 6 o'clock Adjt. Gen. Popp, chief of the military bureau, makes his appearance in the emperor's private cabinet, and is joined by Staatsrath Baron von Braun, an old and intimate friend and trusted adviser of his majesty.

Mondays and Thursdays, from 10 to 12 o'clock, the emperor gives public audiences, to which every man, high or low, rich or poor, is admitted, and may have a private word with his majesty. These audiences are very fatiguing, as the number of callers is sometimes more than a hundred.

On the days when no audiences are given the emperor generally works without interruption, examining the reports of the different ministers and of the legislative assembly until 3 p. m. Many a document is returned from here to the respective departments, with marginal notes from the emperor. Later in the day he signs decrees and laws which are submitted to him by the ministers. A cabinet meeting usually closes the working day. At 6 o'clock dinner is served, which the emperor takes usually with his wife and daughter. If the empress is absent from Vienna he often takes dinner with his son. The emperor rather prefers simple dishes, and he eats somewhat hastily, so that even gala dinners do not last over an hour. If he does not visit the theater, or is not obliged to be present at some festivity of the court, he usually retires at 9 o'clock, not having read the letters which have reached the place during the afternoon.

Francis Joseph is a great promoter of public instruction, and frequently visits the schools in person.

"Please continue your lecture, and let my presence not interfere with your exercises," he said to the professor recently, as he entered unannounced one of the schools in company with one of his adjutants. Taking off his plumed chapeau and placing it behind him upon the desks of one of the students, he attentively listened to the professor's lecture, unmindful of the fact that the little fellow behind him, for keepsake you know, had pulled one of the green feathers from the imperial chapeau.

It was only at a second attempt to provide another memento for one of his comrades, when in pulling the feather the hat made a rebound against the emperor's elbow, that his majesty became aware of what had been going on. "What do you want to do with this, my boy?" he asked of the trembling lad. "To keep it as a token from your majesty," replied the youth. "Well, are you satisfied?" "No, sir; my comrades will would be made happy with one." "Well, then," good-humorously replied the emperor, "I suppose I shall have to distribute among you my whole plume. In the meantime, Mr. Professor, I suppose you will have to lend me your cap." Three cheers and a tiger were given his majesty by the boys as he left the room.

The President's Joke.

I happened to be in the president's office the other day when Senator Camden and Kenna came in. A dozen gentlemen were already present, but senatorial dignity received due and instant recognition. When the two Senators of a state approach the president together they generally mean business. And so did the West Virginia statesmen. After a few casual remarks they invited the president to so shape his affairs that in the spring he might spend a week with them, fishing in the matchless bass shoals of their mountain streams. The invitation was followed with glowing descriptions of the scenery through which those clear waters flow, and with inspiring tales of the sport they afforded. Both senators told good fish stories, which evidently interested the president. He thanked them heartily and said he would be delighted to remove a few West Virginia bass from their present offices. Said he: "Your fish stories remind me of one I once heard. A fellow pleaded to a chance acquaintance a wonderful fish story, and as he concluded asked; "Now, doesn't that surprise you?' 'No,' was the cool response, 'I am a pretty big liar myself.'" Both senators laughed heartily at this sally of executive humor.—Washington Letter in Atlanta Constitution.

About half a million dollars is on deposit in a San Francisco bank by the Attorney General of California, subject to his personal draft, and yet his bond is only $40,000. This sum was paid to him in settlement of Pacific Railroad taxes, and a complication of authority delays its transfer to the State Treasury.

Three Reasons

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now it its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

3d: Because, from the above facts, Hood's Sarsaparilla will do a greater amount of good now than at any other time. Take it now.

Sailmaker Alexander W. Cassell was detached from the Norfolk navy yard March 28th, and placed on the retired list on the same date.

Boatswain A. McKone is detached from the Quinnebaug, European station, and ordered to the naval hospital at New York for treatment.

Gunner E. J. Beacham of the Quinnebaug has been condemned by a medical survey, and sent to the naval hospital at New York.

Singular Accident.

Information has been received of the death of Miss Gill, a Boston tourist, on a steamer running on the Ocklawaha river, Florida, March 24th. The steamer struck a tree in a sharp turn of the river, and the jar broke off a rotten limb overhead, which fell on Miss Gill's head, crushing her skull. She was sitting on the deck between her father and mother. The former was struck by the limb and rendered insensible, but was not seriously injured.

ELIOT ELECTION.

The town election at Eliot, Me., March 29th, resulted in the success of the democratic ticket by a majority some sixty less than usual, on account of dissensions in the ranks of the democratic party there. Democrats say that only the apathy of the republicans prevented that party from carrying the election. The officers elected were as follows:

Moderator, Alexander Junkins;

Town clerk, George W. Shapleigh;

Selectmen, assessors, and overseers of poor, John L. Jenks, Albert S. Hurst, Andrew P. Fernald;

Town agent, Andrew P. Brooks;

Town treasurer, Flavius J. Paul;

Supervisor of schools, John L. M. Willis;

Constable, James M. Raitt;

Auditors, Leonard P. Foster, Elisha G. Ferguson.

CAPE CLIPPINGS.

Schooner Sharon is loading with her first cargo of wood for this spring, which she will take to Boston.

W. F. Norton has improved the looks of his house by a new coat of paint. Capt. George A. Donnell is also painting his house.

In "P's" communication of the 22d inst. he says: "Two boys" were started on the track of the thief who burglarized the stores of Capt. Joseph Weare and Albion Goodwin at Cape Neddick, and then adds: "Rather a small team, Captain, to send after a burglar of that kind." We would like to inquire of "P" what dictionary he uses to find the word "boy" to mean a legal voter who weighs 185 lbs. and rejoices in the possession of a respectable looking mustache? Such answers the description of one of the "boys," who has cast his first vote, and does not consider himself such a small team as "P" indicates, as the strength of his muscle compensates for the lack of a swell front, and the captain thought him as capable of tracking the thief as our portly friend "P."

ONE OF THE "BOYS."

The large three-masted schooner Cyrus Hall is at Eldredge's wharf, discharging guano to Samuel J. Gerrish.

County Commissioner Johnston received notice by telephone on Tuesday morning that Edward Martin, an old umbrella mender, who has spent several winters past at the county farm, had been found dead on the highway between the farm and Exeter. He at once sent word to the farm authorities, authorizing a medical examination of the body, to determine whether or no a coroner's inquest was necessary. The examination was made by Dr. Burnham, and it was reported by that gentleman that the man died from natural causes, and it would be only necessary for the county officials to bury the body.

Complaint is made that the New York navy yard is run almost entirely as a political bureau. The officers have no voice in directing as to those employed. The chief business of the political bosses is to get their friends on the list, no matter if an appropriation is exhausted. The effect is to draw away the money allotted to be expended at other navy yards. It is not so at our yard; every thing is all serene. The politicians do not run the yard, because they cannot, as Mr. Whitney with an eye to the presidency, masses all his patronage on the New York yard; our friends among the faithful are simply left.

Very high-priced water-buckets, brooms and other furniture are said to have been liberally supplied to the school houses in Eliot by the school agent of last year.

In Biddeford, March 29th, Noel Velandre was arrested and held in $1,000 on a charge of conspiracy, it being alleged that he was concerned in the wholesale democratic frauds practiced at the late municipal election. William Burbank has been held in the same amount on a similar charge.

While Portsmouth harbor is down in the river and harbor bill for $8,000 for harbor improvements, York harbor is down for $10,000, and the Saco river breakwater for $12,500. If York river was stood on its edge it wouldn't be so deep as the Piscataqua, but it gets the larger appropriation. The entire bill appropriates over $15,000,000, the largest amount ever reported in a river and harbor bill.

Levi Vincent, about thirty years old, hailing from Lawrence, Mass., called at the house of John Mitchell at Kennebunk, March 27th, and asked for food. In removing some dead limbs from shade trees to pay for his food, he fell a distance of thirty feet, striking upon a pile of rocks, breaking one of his legs in two places and injuring his back. He was removed to the almshouse.

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or

is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only

Bickles and Third sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "For several years I suffered from Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaint, the latter being so severe at times that I could scarcely attend to my work. My appetite was poor, and I was much emaciated; but by using

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

A LOOK AT THE LABOR PROBLEM.

A contributor to the columns of the Manchester Budget, writing from Portsmouth, states the rate of pay of the men employed at the Jones brewery in a daily product of 800 barrels of ale, which according to the statistician nets the proprietor $2000 per day! The writer complains that the men are underpaid, work more hours than they ought, labor on Sundays, and have hard work to provide themselves with the necessaries of life on $30 per month (including Sunday work,) and having to pay from six to eight dollars a month house rent; that wives and mothers are compelled to go out washing, and poverty is the rule. The proprietor's income is hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, and the Knights of Labor think he can be made to pay higher wages, through their efforts. The remedy suggested is through legislation!

This is certainly ingenuous, — nay, fresh. We have legislation to-day restraining, yes, prohibiting the sale of certain articles; our sheriffs and mayors are bound by law to enforce the enactment against the infringers of the law; but who pays any attention to it? Granting that in this city,—whose politics is governed entirely by Mr. Jones, who appoints all the officers of the national administration, runs the navy yard, and directly or indirectly controls the entire democracy,—that a man could be nominated even, for the office of representative to the legislature, what sort of a chance of an election could he possibly have were he to be voted for as a candidate in hostility to Mr. Jones?

The trouble with the labor organization is, that conceding that every one who joins the body does it from proper motives, yet the order itself is founded on a selfish idea. The writer of the Budget communication admits that "striking would effect nothing, as there are plenty who would take the places of strikers." This then is the very milk of the cocoanut. The labor market will supply Mr. Jones with all the men he cares to employ, at the prices he now pays. How the Knights of Labor can cause any legislative enactment which shall compel a man to pay a greater price for a day's work than its value in the market, is not yet apparent.

There is no pretence that the capitalists of this country in their railways, factories and mines are as a whole to-day receiving any considerable income from their investments; while there may be one bonanza like the brewery at the west end, there are factories, machine-shops, railroads, and many kinds of similar investments from which no profit whatever is derived. Many of the manufacturing companies are kept in operation without a dollar's profit, perhaps as much for the purpose of keeping help together as for any other object, and yet there is hardly an industrial concern where there is not seen a strike or a movement in that direction, or at least the effects of such movement, perhaps otherwhere executed. The Knights of Labor may be managed by able men, though the likenesses of the grand master and others in the Budget do not impress us with that idea; but one thing they seem to fail to comprehend, and that is, no organization with its rules and arbitrary orders for a man to quit work and go with his family unfed for an indefinite period, or for a general suspension of labor when the workmen of the country may be idle and without remuneration for a month, can achieve the result of making the market price of a day's work to be sold by the mechanic or laborer at a higher rate than the purchaser can afford to pay.

In other words, the price of labor, like the price of everything, is to be governed by the law of demand and supply, and all the organizations in the country, even if they should control legislatures and congress itself, cannot alter this immutable law. The information which goes abroad to the poorer paid classes of laborers in Europe every day, that labor is not paid as much as it earns in this country, and is likely through organized efforts to be paid higher rates than those which are now the wonder of men in Europe, who are paid so much less in their own countries, has already stimulated immigration to our shores, and vast hordes of the unemployed of the old world will pour in upon us the coming summer. The effect of this increase of numbers who must at once work or starve, upon our now oversupplied labor market, it might be well for those who seek to grasp the labor problem with a view to aid in an increase of the remuneration of the working men to carefully consider. C. O. C.

NORTON--SOME MORE.

John C. Caverly, Esq., of Dover, was in this city on Monday engaged in filling out a long writ against the city in favor of Marcus P. Norton for an alleged infringment of the eternal Knibbs patent, as previously described in these columns. The patent is controlled by a powerful syndicate, who claim to have such evidence as will give them a verdict in this case if it comes to trial. City Solicitor Emery informs us that on Monday night Caverly withdrew the writ against the city, by telegraph.

SUPREME COURT.

The docket for the April term of this court, which begins on the 13th of April at Exeter, contains 150 civil actions, thirty-two equity suits, eleven actions on the state docket, and one on the sessions docket. Judge Blodgett of Franklin is to preside.

SHE GUESSED NOT.

Tuesday forenoon a small boy who was distributing sarsaparilla handbills passed a modest residence on —— street, and throwing inside the stormhouse door a handful of the bills, proceeded to execute the devil's tattoo on the outside. Soon appeared a solid-looking citizen with much hair on his chin and not much on top of his head, who after looking wrathfully after the small boy and gathering up the handful of bills, re-entered the house and stated as follows:

"Maria, if that kinchin shows up along here again I'll knock 'im out. If I plant my right square on his bugle, and get in my left under his listening-dish, he'll think—"

"Thomas Jinks!" interrupted Maria, with horror and astonishment depicted in her looks, "what kind of talk do you call that? Have you been out in town anywhere this morning? That you, a member of the Unitarian church in good standing, and several times spoken of for deacon, besides being an ex-teacher in the Sunday school—that you—Thomas Jinks—should make use of such hideous expressions, in the bosom of your family and right before the children, is not—"

"Now look here, Maria," interrupted the culprit, "I guess I know what I'm about. When the city government—a 'reform' government of the reformingest kind, at that—takes to organizing prize fights and officiating as referee and bottle-holder at the same, it's high time the language and expressions of the ruling class in Portsmouth were introduced into this family, and I guess I'm the man to do it."

Maria guessed not; and after fifteen minutes of steady argument, in which Thomas could not get a word in edgewise, he concluded that he might as well guess the same way, and the old dictionary will continue to be used in the Jinks family.

A STRANGE CASE.

Robert R. Whittier, sixty-one years old, was found dead near his home in Wollaston, Mass., March 28th, with his throat cut, and a travelling satchel and a bloody razor near by. He was born in Vienna, Me., and leaves a widow and three grown-up children.

This Whittier was in Dover last week, canvassing for a book, and was much harassed by one Phillip H. Kirby, who charged Whittier with improper intimacy with Mrs. Kirby. This Whittier denied, alleging that Kirby was trying to blackmail him. Kirby kept watch of Whittier until Saturday afternoon, the 27th, when he walked by a roundabout way to Sawyer's station and took the cars for Boston.

This Kirby is a decidedly unsavory character. He formerly lived in this city, and he and the woman he calls Mrs. Kirby, but who is alleged by Sheriff Kent to be another man's wife, kept a notorious den at No. 5 Brewster street, and last fall were arrested for keeping a disorderly house. In October, when the grand jury met, that charge was thrown aside, and Kirby and the woman were indicted for adultery; but in consideration of their promising to rid New Hampshire of their presence for a year, the indictments were placed on file. Kirby was seen in this city by the sheriff and Asst. Marshal Peverly about two weeks ago, and on being questioned said he was only here temporarily, on his way from Portland to Boston.

A SQUARE DENIAL.

We take much pleasure in placing before our readers Alderman Cook's brief and emphatic denial of having participated in the disgraceful proceedings on Leach's island, Newcastle, last Sunday morning:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 30th.

Mr. Editor. Will you please publish the following? An erroneous report has gained circulation that I attended a prize fight las: Sunday morning. The statement is false. I not only would not attend anything of the kind, but consider that all who are in any way implicated should be made to suffer the full penalty attached to thus breaking the law. I defy anyone to say to the contrary.

O. H. COOK.

Mr. Editor: I am informed by reliable authority that a report is in circulation that I was a participant and witness of the alleged fight on Leach's island on Sunday morning. I state emphatically that I was not present, but home with my family. I regard the affair as disgraceful and a blot upon the reputation of the city, and am in favor of a full and searching investigation of the whole matter, and exposure and punishment of all persons proved to have any connection therewith.

H. S. HATCH.

Alderman Russell's name having been connected with the "mill" at Leach's island, he wishes, through the columns of the Chronicle, to positively deny that he was present on that occasion.

Miss Edith Wendell started on Monday morning for Brooklyn, N. Y., where she is to sing in a grand concert Friday evening. She will be absent two weeks, Miss Blaisdell taking her place in the Unitarian choir next Sunday.

Hon. Ezra A. Stevens of Malden, Mass., and Mrs. Stevens, have gone to the Bermudas for a short vacation.

Mr. Thomas J. Donovan, secretary of the local assembly of the Knights of Labor, went to Farmington on Tuesday as a delegate from this assembly for the purpose of forming a district assembly of the order.

How the French Actors Were Saved.

Charles de Labussière, a young son of an ancient but impoverished family, abandoned at an early age to his own resources, had commenced his career by serving as volunteer in the regiment of Savoie-Carignan, and had subsequently tried his fortune on the stages, playing for some months the Jocrisses at a Parisian minor theater. Soon wearying of his fancy, he gradually drifted into an idle and purposeless existence, and as long as his slender means lasted amused himself by becoming notorious as a mystifier and practical joker. His funds at length being entirely exhausted, he was induced, much against his will, to accept a post offered him by a member of the committee of public safety, as the surest method of escaping the charge—an unpardonable crime in those days—of lukewarm patriotism. His principal duty was the examination of the accusatory papers daily received from the various sections, each of which had to be duly analyzed and reported to the committee as a preparatory step to the judgment of the victims. No one was more unfitted for the performance of this repugnant task than Labussière. Aided by an equally compassionate colleague, he conceived the hazardous idea of suppressing, at the imminent risk of detection, whatever charge appeared to him most dangerous to the safety of the accused; and it is undoubted fact that, from the period of his installation in office to the ninth Thermidor no less than 1,100 persons were indebted to him for their lives. Among the denunciations which passed through his hands, not the least important were the documents relating to six doomed members of the Comedie Francaise, any one of which was sufficient to insure their condemnation. These he carefully laid aside and destroyed when an opportunity occurred by soaking them in water and tearing them into fragments, which he afterward threw into the Seine. In vain Fouquier Tinville continually demanded the requisite authority for placing the "aristocratic histrions" at the bar; in vain their inveterate enemy, Collot d'Herbois, chafed at the delay and insisted on the production of the damnatory proofs against them; not a scrap of paper was found to compromise them, and, thanks to the courage of their unsuspected ally they remained unmolested until, after eleven months' captivity, the fall of Robespierre finally opened their prison doors, and the reign of terror was a thing of the past.—Longman's Magazine.

It is said that there are 1,000,000 children in England who do not attend school by reason of the poverty of their parents. It may be added that in half of these cases drink is the cause of the poverty.

A Novel Feature in Investments.

The whole country after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation, that can make a better showing now than before the crisis attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost among the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000 First Mortgage 6 per cent 10-Year Bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the Farmer as well as the Banker, the Clerk and Mechanic as well as the Millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in One and Five Dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 Gold Bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the Company's Office, 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the Bond being payable to the Company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The Bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the Company gives as a Bonus, Free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their Bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1000 Bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock Free. The Bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the Company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of Bonds will be invested in Cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the Bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospect-uses and full information to The United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

Sudden Changes.
If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition, and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence; but by a sudden change of weather, the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisities that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know of! I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed.

Tried to do His Wife's Work.

"It's all right for a woman to talk," Markus Meyer said at Essex market a week ago, when he was arrested for abandoning his wife. "All she has to do is to dress the children, do the cooking, and her work for the day is over. Then she can sit down and read a novel. A man has to work like a slave all day. I wish I was a woman."

"Why, he's talking like a lunatic," said his wife. "I'll tell you what I'll do," she continued. "If it's so easy to manage a household, why, you remain home and do a woman's work, and I'll work to supply the family."

"But you may not get any work," anxiously said the husband.

"Oh, yes," the wife replied, "I can get a position as saleslady anytime."

The man was all smiles when he left the court-room. There was a complete metamorphosis in his appearance when he returned to the court-room yesterday. He looked sad and gloomy, while his wife was all smiles.

"Well, I was all wrong, judge," he said. "A man has it much easier than a woman."

"How do you like being a housemaid?" Justice Duffy inquired.

"It's tough work, judge. I don't wan't any of it again. It's cooking, scrubbing, washing, ironing I had to do, and the children didn't let me have a moment's peace. Do you see that bald spot on the top of my head? That was caused by the week's worry. I gave up the contest on the first night, but my wife couldn't change with me until this week was out, and then she said I must come before your honor and confess that I was wrong."

"You haven't told the judge yet how many novels you read during the week," the wife said, smilingly.

"Not one. How could I? The children would tear the book from my hand. If I touched one of them they would drive me frantic with their screams. A woman's lot is a hard one after all, judge; a man has it much easier."

"I secured a position in a Grand street store," the wife said, "and at 6 at night my work was done. Then I would take my mother or sister to a theater, leaving my husband home to mind the children. Last night when I brought him my week's wages he said that if I did not keep the money and let him do the supporting again he would leave the house and I would never see him again; but I would not consent until he came here and confessed his error."—New York World.

Breakfast for Late Hours.

I happened into the Hoffman House the other morning to visit a friend, and while waiting for my card to be sent up saw three or four different waiters carrying up breakfasts on their trays. I surmised this must be quite a source of revenue, but was not prepared for the astonishing figures I afterwards was shown by one of the gentlemen connected with the office. "We charge," said he, "$1 for every meal served in the guest's own room. This, of course, does not refer to elaborate dinners, etc., but simply to single meals, and the income derived from breakfasts alone so served amounts to $10,000 per annum." Surprising as these figures were, I afterward learned that at the Fifth Avenue and Windsor Hotels they received for breakfasts served in rooms all the way from $8,000 to $12,000 each year. What a blessing lazy people and invalids are to the favorite hotel proprietors.—N. Y. Cor. Hartford Courant.

Girls Spoiled by Chivalry of Men.

We have in America the remarkable chivalry of our men, a character unknown and unrecognized in Europe, which, as always extended from the stronger to the weaker, of course includes a profound respect for women. This is the beginning of the best etiquette. Women all over America are protected, respected, supported and petted. There is no such paradise for women. In Paris, the headquarters of elegance, the rottenness of an old civilization has undermined this loyalty to the ideal woman. In London there is a brutality and coarseness descending heavily on women of a lower grade, and which by atmospheric pressure has reached the higher classes, and now affects women of every status in society, so that it is unpleasant for a woman to walk in London streets alone, and impossible for her to do so at night, even with a gentleman escort, after the theaters are closed.

There is absolutely no propriety or safety in Rome for a young girl who walks alone even at mid-day. Every Italian feels privileged to speak to her. It is so universally the custom of the country that a well-behaved young lady should have a chaperon, that an American unmarried woman of even 40 years takes a friend with her when she walks out in Rome.

It is to be feared that American women have, as a class, disregarded this etiquette in Europe too much, and that at home (as we are now a nation of foreigners) they still disregard appearances. There is also no doubt that the American girl is a spoiled child. She forgets to be polite, to be deferential; she disregards such well-meant attentions in railway cars and in society, while on the other hand she is apt to be, for appearance's sake, too much absorbed in the man of her choice. Certain women think that they establish independence by abolishing good manners, and by ignoring refinement, gentleness and elegance. But this is a great mistake. It is woman who preserves the order and decency of society; without her, men would soon relapse into the savage estate, and the comfort and grace of home are exchanged for the rude discomfort of the mining camp.—Harper's Bazar.

The Beginnings of Sickness.
Never trifle with what are called small ailments. A disorder easy of control at first, if neglected for a few weeks may become a mortal disease. Be especially careful not to let debility gain upon you, for it is the door through which all maladies enter the system. If you feel languid, inert, and to use a common expression, "as if there was no life left in you," resort at once to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This great vegetable tonic will supply the vitality you so urgently need. It is nerve food. By its tonic action the stomach is so invigorated that digestion becomes regular, easy, perfect; while its mild, cathartic properties relieve the bowels from obstructions, and its alterative operation beneficially affects all the secretive organs. For the miseries of dyspepsia, and they include almost every unpleasant feeling that belongs to physical disease and mental wretchedness, this potent tonic is a certain and speedy balm.

—"An order for three tons of capital I's," said the proprietor of the type foundry to the foreman. "What's up now?" asked the foreman; "new fishing story?" "Oh, no; another magazine article on the battle of Shiloh."

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headaches, etc., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills, particularly if combined with Carter's Little Liver Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

—As we go to press, says the Alta California, there is no further news from the battle of Shiloh. Both armies seem to be licked, if they only knew it, the generals are all somewhere in the rear, drunk, and the public is in full retreat.

The Hop Porous Plaster gives comfort to rheumatic pains, tired muscles, lame back. 25c.

—"Yes," said a Boston man, bitterly, "it was a terrible marine disaster—terrible! I lost all I had." "I didn't know that you were on board the Oregon," said another Boston man. "Oregon? I'm talking about La Blanche."

Beer.

In Massachusetts the statute law provides that beer, lager, cider, etc., containing more than three per cent of alcohol by volume at sixty degrees Fahrenheit, should be deemed to be intoxicating liquor within the meaning of the chapter regulating sales of intoxicating beverages. Recently a man was convicted of selling beer when the assayer testified that it contained 3 58-100ths per cent of alcohol. The seller gave the officer who arrested him a sample that it might be tested, and the court held that this was the correct mode of proof.

Hancock's Love for the Little Ones.

All things small and weak loved General Hancock. The children on Governor's island adored him. They swarmed over his house, and when Mrs. Hancock protested mildly against their being permitted to romp in the drawing rooms General Hancock took it so much to heart that she yielded.

It was in vain that the officers' wives on the island forbade their children to go so often to the Hancock house, thinking they might be troublesome. They would go and stand before the gate, pressing their little wistful faces against the iron railing until they caught sight of General Hancock. He would have the whole gang inside the gate in a minute.

"If your mothers say anything to you," he would say, "just tell them that I am Major General Hancock and I won't allow my authority to be disputed here."

Be Warned

in time. Kidney diseases may be prevented by purifying, renewing, and invigorating the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When, through debility, the action of the kidneys is perverted, these organs rob the blood of its needed constituent, albumen, which is passed off in the urine, while worn out matter, which they should carry off from the blood, is allowed to remain. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the kidneys are restored to proper action, and Albuminuria, or is prevented. Ayer's Sarsaparilla also prevents inflammation of the kidneys, and other disorders of these organs. Mrs. Jas. W. Weld, Forest Hill st., Jamaica Plain, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person; as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 46 Summer st., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with Kidney Complaint. LECTURE--K. OF L.

Rev. L. F. McKinney of Manchester will lecture in Music hall this evening, under the auspices of the local assembly of the Knights of Labor. The purpose of this lecture is to define the objects of the organization in this city, state and country, that the public may have a clear idea of its intent. Ladies are especially invited to be present.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS.

We present a couple of extracts from the General Statutes of the state of New Hampshire, which will unquestionably be perused with much interest by the principals in the Leach's island fight, and the spectators of (accessories to) that brilliant affair:

GEN. STAT., Ch. 282, Sec. 22.

Any person who shall, by previous appointment or arrangement, meet another person and engage in a fight, shall be imprisoned not more than one year, or fined not exceeding one thousand dollars.

It will be observed that not a word is said in this brief but comprehensive clause about any stakes to be fought for, or about four-ounce gloves, or Marquis of Queensbury rules, or kid gloves with the fingers cut off, or London prize ring rules, or anything of the kind; nothing is mentioned but a fight "by previous appointment or arrangement." The spectators—the "innocent spectators"—will perhaps be more interested in the following:

If any person shall aid in, counsel, hire, or procure the commission of any offence, or shall be accessory thereto before or after the fact, he shall be punished in the same manner as the principal offender, and may be tried and convicted thereof, either before or after the conviction of the principal.

From this it is apparent that the departure of the pugilists to more congenial climes before the coming in of the court in April, as it has been suggested will most likely occur, would have no bearing upon the status of the spectators, who "shall be punished in the same manner as the principal offender, and may be tried and convicted thereof either before or after the conviction of the principal."

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The directors of the hospital very gratefully acknowledge the receipt of the following donations:

A rug from the Methodist fair; one bushel potatoes and one bushel apples from Mr. J. W. Coleman of Newington; periodicals from Mrs. Mark H. Wentworth; two draw-sheets from Mrs. George B. French.

A GENERAL DISCLAIMER.

Mr. Editor: I wasn't there at all; in fact, I don't know where Leach's island is, and wouldn't know for a dollar. I wouldn't take part in any such disgraceful proceedings, even as a spectator, and I hope all who were there will be hauled over the coals in good shape.

Yours truly, ALL HANDS.

MRS. MARY FITZGERALD.

Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, wife of Richard Fitzgerald, who died in this city on Monday, March 29th, arrived at this port with her family many years ago from Cardiff, Wales, on board the barque Juno, which was loaded with railroad iron for the prospective Portsmouth & Concord railroad, then about being built. The barque lay at what was then called Rindge's wharf, and brought a considerable number of passengers, who as usual in those days were soon scattered throughout the country. Shipbuilding on the Piscataqua was then in its most prosperous period, and Mr. Fitzgerald went to work at George Raynes' yard, where he was employed for a considerable term of years. On the same vessel, or on one which came here at about the same time, arrived Mr. Urch, who attempted to introduce in New-Hampshire the cultivation of the basket willow; he was the father of Major David Urch, proprietor of the Newcastle bridges, who was then a mere infant. Mrs. Fitzgerald was a virtuous, industrious and most estimable woman, who brought up her family well; four of her children are now in prosperous circumstances in Florida. From the favorable representations made by Mr. Fitzgerald in writing back to his old home, there soon came over numerous other emigrants, one of whom is now proprietor of the White Hart hotel. The Juno was a finely modelled vessel, and from the recollection of the writer hailed from St. John, N. B.; and she attracted considerable attention from the naval architects then here.

The funeral of Mrs. Fitzgerald took place at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Wednesday morning, the 31st, solemn requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan. V.

MUSIC HALL.

Miss Cora S. Tanner is one of the beauties of the American stage. She is staturesque of figure, and is a winsome and attractive actress. Her success in "Alone in London" has been complete, and she has taken the position of a star with perfect ease. This lady will appear with the "Alone in London" Co. next Monday evening in Music hall. Reserved seats now on sale at Goodrich's.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon" is an absurdity. But the most solemn-minded man in New England can't resist the temptation to laugh at it. It would be an excellent scheme for every holder of Toledo and Celphos or Union Pacific stock to go to the Bijou this week. They would find all their gloomy thoughts swept away in the gale of mirth which nightly prevails in this pretty and popular play-house. "Skipped" was created for the amusement of the public. It serves its purpose admirably. Success has attended upon its representation in nearly every large city of America from San Francisco to the Hub; and it would be difficult to ask for a more cordial reception than that accorded by Boston.—Boston Globe.

At Music hall on Tuesday evening, April 6th.

EASTERN RAILROAD MEETING.

An adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad was held in Boston on Wednesday, March 31st, in the passenger station on Causeway street, President Sewall presiding. Owing to the fact that no decision has yet been rendered by the supreme court of Massachusetts, as to the validity of the election of officers at the annual meeting, a further adjournment of the meeting was made until Saturday, May 1st, at eleven A. M., to await the decision.

The number of "stockholders" who went from this city that day was very large, the 7:15 A. M. train for Boston being drawn by two engines.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. George Lowe; the G. W. Raitt, Capt. Thomas Coleman; and the Chilian, Call, were all up the river on Wednesday of this week, loading bricks for Boston. Capt. Horace Burns of York, who was with Capt. Lowe last year as mate of the Hattie Lewis, has taken charge of the Estella, and was on Wednesday reported as ready to proceed up river for a cargo. The Triton, Capt. Freeman, which went on the ways at Kittery on Monday, March 29th, was also expected to commence operations at once.

The gondola Hardchance, Capt, Cheney, came down the river from South Berwick on Wednesday of this week with bricks to be used on the improvements being made by Joseph Pettigrew on his premises on Islington street.

The schooner Jonathan Sawyer, 399 tons, built by the New England Shipbuilding Co. of Bath, Me., for the Dover Navigation C., was launched on March 30th, and will at once enter the coasting trade under command of Capt. B. O. Reynolds. The fishing schooner John G. Whittier, 104 tons, owned by Rowe & Jordan of Gloucester, Mass., was launched by Deeriug & Donnell of Bath, the same day.

The fishing schooner Alice Strople, at Gloucester March 30th from the Grand banks, reports that on March 17th James McKenzie was lost by the capsizing of his dory. He belonged in Jordan River, N. S., was twenty-eight years old, and unmarried.

Mr. Michael J. Ryan denies that he had lot or part in the alleged prize fight on Leach's island; he has been a law-abiding citizen always, and knows nothing of any such infringement of the law as has been reported.

The department of justice has signified to District Attorney Frink that the report of his examination of the titles of the several pieces of land in the city of Manchester purchased for the United States public building is satisfactory, and the deeds conveying the same will be passed at once.

The Casino, originally the Portsmouth skating rink, is on its last legs as a rink, it having been hired by Horace M. Wiggin and John D. Randall for one week, ending April 8th, immediately after which work will be commenced at turning it into a stable for H. R. Stoddard & Son, who have leased it for a term of years. It will be open the last time for skating, on the evening of the 8th. This (Thursday) evening there will be skating there, with music by Lord & Metcalf's orchestra.

The ball at the south wardroom under the management of Mrs. Haskins, announced for the evening of April 1st, has been postponed to the 8th.

Philip H. Kirby, late of this city, and his alleged wife, alias Mrs. Mary A. Merrill of Lowell, were arrested in Portland, Me., March 31st, on account of the tragic death of Mr. Whittier at Wollaston, Mass. Mrs. Merrill deserted her husband twenty-five years ago for Kirby, then a hotel porter; and there seems little doubt that Kirby and the woman together drove Whittier to suicide by their hounding him in a blackmailing attempt.

The voters of Eliot, at the recent town meeting, voted to build the road laid out by the county commissioners, leading from Furbish's hill in Eliot to the Eliot & Dover bridge in South Berwick, to be completed, so far as Eliot is concerned, by July 1st. This road when completed it is expected will eclipse the Rocky-hill road as a route for reaching York beach from Dover and vicinity.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (-crofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a boy matter forming in each one of these five sores (we just have healing, which would finally grow loose and wave take out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly boils formed underneath the ear. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The sores on his hands most always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. City St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and wakeburbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

An Interesting Porpoise.

One of the best known characters about Brunswick, is a porpoise. For twenty years he has been seen there, and now everybody knows him as "Cutfin." This name has been given to him because his big dorsal fin has been cut half away in some combat with his rivals in the sea or by the attack of some human foe. But "Cutfin" is now safe, at least from the hand of man. He is a universal favorite and enjoys the attentions which are lavished upon him. He is so tame that any fishing party that sails near Doboy can tap a few times on their boat with an oar and he will come up to join them. No matter where the boat goes "Cutfin" follows. He comes up within a few feet and a thousand opportunities has he given to fishermen to kill him, but no man's hand is ever raised against this remarkable fish. He is a powerful fellow, fully twelve feet long. He has been known when accompanying fishing parties to swim around and drive fish into their nets. No pilot on that coast is better known than "Cutfin," and few are more highly esteemed.—Atlanta Constitution.

One night Bob fell in with a fellow who was "English, you know." The latter was berating the Yankees for doing all manner of business in their shops and not following the better English plan of sticking to one branch. The next day he swaggered into Bob's shop to be shaved. Bob gave his face an extra good soaping and left him, at the same time seating himself to read. The Englishman kept quiet for a few minutes, when, seeing Bob reading, he blurted out, "Why don't you shave me, sir?" "You will have to go up stairs for your shave," quietly replied the barber, "we only lather here." The answer took the vim out of the cockney. —Boston Transcript.

The representative of one of the great so-called religious papers of the country called at the office of one of our large Connecticut factories and offered as a personal favor to write up the whole concern in big shape for $1,000. The offer was declined in the same noble spirit of self-sacrifice with which it was made. Then it was renewed at $600 (under request of secrecy if accepted). This was declined, too; and the religious representative knocked himself down step by step until, while his first demand was for $1,000, his last offer was to do it for nothing if they would take fifty copies of the paper containing the proposed article! And they wouldn't accept that; they didn't so much object to being written up, but they didn't know what to do, they said, with the fifty papers.—Hartford Courant.

If the New Hampshire laws are not strong enough to stop such disgraceful exhibitions of brutality, they should be made strong enough.

Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition, and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence; but by a sudden change of weather, the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

Martin Snee, of Haverhill, Mass., and Ira Maddocks of Dover, had a fight in an old barn in Plaistow on the afternoon of March 21st, in presence of about one hundred low-lived ruffians. Snee won, knocking Maddocks out in the 21st round. The fight was for $150 and gate money.

Is He Your Friend?

Is the family doctor your friend? How many unnecessary visits does he make you? How many days does he keep you sick that you ought to be at your work, and so doing how many hard-earned dollars does he extort from you? Would it not be better for you to place your trust in Sulphur Bitters? Try them, they will be a true friend. Saving you a long sickness and a large bill, which you have hitherto paid to some avaricious doctor.—Editor State Journal.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOERUM, U. S. N.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Having that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism. E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses which gave the desired effect from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

A False Economy.

Miss Perkins, in her breach-of-promise case with Lucky Baldwin, testified that he paid her $20 for a single kiss. This recalls a circumstance in Mr. Baldwin's career that shows how a false economy brought so much trouble on his experienced head.

About the time Baldwin got into his Perkins trouble the advertising agent of the Appeal called upon him at the Tallac House, Lake Tahoe, and solicited the advertisement of the summer-resort. Mr. Baldwin was anxious to insert the advertisement, for which the agent asked $20. Mr. Baldwin refused to give more than $5, and thus negotiations were discontinued and the advertisement not accepted.

In a few days the old fellow went down to Los Angeles and offered this woman $20 for a kiss. Meanwhile his business was neglected at the hotel, and it was known by reason of an insufficiency of advertising, and, sick of the business, he leased it to another party.

There is no doubt that Mr. Baldwin has paid out a great many $20 for kisses, and, had he spent the same amount in advertising the merits of his business and hedged on the rosy lips of the girls, his hotel would have been a household word wherever the English language is spoken.

We do not claim that a man must eschew the fair sex entirely and stop kissing pretty girls. Far from it; but, if Baldwin had divided the thing up and paid $5 for the kisses and $15 for the advertising, he would doubtless have secured about as much kissing, and also laid up a vast amount of advertising for a rainy day.

A man who is well advertised does not have to pay out much money for kisses, for everybody knows that women flock about a well-known man like flies around a molasses barrel, while an obscure individual is compelled to break himself to get any recognition.

We hate to see a man practicing this ridiculous, false economy with women and newspapers. If Baldwin had spent more on the press and less on that Perkins woman she would not have the money to attack him in the courts, and the press would have been defending his character from calumny.

It is indeed a sad, sad world when a man gets to be as old as Lucky Baldwin and pays out money to designing women that ought to go into the channels of newspaper enterprise and assist in building up the growing and mighty west.—Carson (Nev.) Appeal.

The Equine Appetite.

A New York paper speaks of the omniverous appetite of horses, quoting David Bonner as saying that Startle would eat a beef sandwich out of his groom's hand. Every one knows how fond most horses are of sugar, apples, cake, etc., and the fact is mentioned in the article to which reference has been made that when a horse's digestion fails him he will eat clay if he can get it, for the alkali in the clay corrects overacidity of his stomach. As an illustration of the amount of food a horse will consume when in training it is mentioned that when Judge Fullerton was in Mace's hands he got from ten to twelve quarts of oats a day and from four to six quarts of corn meal. But horses have hardly as wide a range of taste as dogs. A Buffalo representative of the canine race we have in mind who has never been known to refuse anything that human beings eat except chow-chow. He drew the line there, but would devour with the utmost satisfaction boiled chestnuts, pop-corn, and apples if pared and offered him. Of candy he was very fond, but his most marked liking was for griddle cakes with syrup. The dog authorities say that all these things are very bad for dogs, especially everything sweet, because it makes them fat, but this animal reduced the teachings of the experts to foolishness by persistently remaining very thin, whatever his diet. The March "Harper's" has an article about dogs by Hugh Dalziel, in the course of which Dr. Billings, the veterinarian, is quoted as laying down the rule that dogs should be fed exclusively on flesh, which Mr. Dalziel very justly describes as a "crotchet." He might have used much harsher language regarding it.—Buffalo Courier.

To Spur a Jaded Appetite is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the Bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices, if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and the bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

A "Ram" Organization.

About fifty of the principal liquor dealers of Massachusetts met in Boston on the 30th ult., and formed the Massachusetts Protective Liquor Dealers' association. Delegates from other states were also present. Its capital is to be $350,000; of this, $35,000 has been subscribed, and the balance is to be raised by a tax on each barrel of liquor. A weekly trade journal will be published, and all liquor dealers in the state not members of the organization after July 1st will be boycotted. Liquor dealers are requested to become candidates for no political office whatever. One of the most significant of the by-laws provides that no party candidate antagonistic to the liquor interest will be supported, and if national protection is needed a man who will favor the liquor dealers will have a seat in Congress. The candidate who receives its support must first sign an "ironclad oath" swearing to protect the liquor interest above all others.

The city government last year, through a judicious and energetic committee, did a creditable work at moderate expense in the line of caring for and giving a decent look to the ancient and long-neglected burying ground at Point of Graves. We invite the attention of the authorities to this turning of the burial ground into a hen coop.

The cutters in the Newburyport manufactory of Dodge & Co., numbering about fifty, left their benches in a body on the morning of the 31st, over a question of wages. Several conferences had been held between Mr. Dodge and the workmen, but no agreement being arrived at the strike was ordered.

The Sunday Gazette of Washington, D. C., of March 28th, says: "On Friday evening Mr. William H. Gardiner, chief clerk of the United States Bureau of Education, delivered an address on the subject of 'The History of National Aid to Education' to the members of the Johns-Hopkins University Historical society at Baltimore, Md." This address was an abstract of the complete history of that subject upon which Mr. Gardiner has been at work for eight months. After a running debate upon the merits of the society, Mr. Gardiner gave a brief history and explained the work and plans of the bureau. At the close of the evening a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Gardiner was passed."

USE
RENEWER.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. IT WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." F. T. Sandbein, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

Spring Medicine
When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.
"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.
"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.
Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar
At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.
"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.
"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.
"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, April 1st, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Alderman Cook.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

Petition of Dr. Richter for removal or trimming of trees opposite his residence, was referred to the mayor with power. A similar petition from Mr. Junkins of Cabot street was similarly disposed of.

Permission was granted to encumber Sheafe street for building purposes.

John H. Downing was given leave to open a drain on Dennett street.

Wm. F. Fernald was granted the use of the loft of the old Spring market, to lay down a vessel.

M. H. Gregg and George Jones, engineers of steam fire engines two and three asked for an increase of pay. Referred.

On the proposed widening of Sagamore road, a hearing was ordered to be had April 29th.

Repair of the drain between Cass street and the north millpond, was referred to the street commissioner.

The mayor reported that the sewer bonds had been delivered to the purchasers, and the money for the same received by the city treasurer.

Bills to the amount of $4,216 were ordered to be paid.

Bill of Jas. P. Bartlett, $4.50, for damages done to his fence by tree trimmers, was referred.

James Quinn's bill of $160 for alleged services as watchman, was referred to the mayor with power.

Adjourned for two weeks.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of the late Thomas S. Gay took place on Thursday afternoon from his late residence, corner of Cabot and Austin streets, Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., officiating. Delegations from De Witt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar and St. John's Lodge of Masons attended, and many brother sailmakers; and the floral tributes were very beautiful. The remains were laid to rest in the south cemetery.

THE FIRE ALARM.

The monthly test of the fire alarm telegraph was made by Superintendent Trrafton on Thursday afternoon, boxes 38, 46, 7, 32, 24 and 26 being pulled in, one round each, and the others made to sound a single stroke. The apparatus was found to be in efficient working condition.

WRECK.

The fishing schooner Nettie Adams, of 23.29 tons register, built in Newburyport in 1870 and hailing from marblehead, Mass., struck on Sunk rock, off Ragged neck, Rye, about noon on the 31st ult., and became a total wreck, sinking in water deep enough to cover her all but the mastheads, soon after striking. There was a dense fog at the time, but the sea was smooth, and the crew had no difficulty in saving themselves with their dories, with considerable of theirfishing gear and personal effects. The schooner, which was wholly owned by the master, James Gannon of Swampscott, Mass., was uninsured; and this was her first trip after being repaired and put in first-class trim. She has fished out of this port for a number of winters past.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

PORTSMOUTH, March 31st.

Mr. Editor: Will you kindly permit me space to reply to your correspondent "C. O. C.?" What he says about labor and the K. of L. is not only extremely fresh, but, it seems to me, a trifle fatuitous. The law of supply and demand, or the doctrine of laisse faire as the French call it, is drawing every enlightened people to inevitable revolution. Look at England! the richest nation on earth, with her streets crowded with hungry men and women—call them whatever hard name occurs to you, and some of them are very hard cases,—though the natural product of laisse faire. America has been gradually approaching the state of Europe for many years in respect to wages, and the supply of labor here, tinted with the vices engendered by extreme poverty, and the weak and needy feeling more and more under the domineering hand of the powerful and greedy; but notwithstanding the slur of C. O. C. there are intelligent men in the Knights of Labor, who have learned one lesson at least from the wealthy monopolists of America. They begin to see the power and advantage of combination, and in future it will be a very difficult matter for the plutocrat to manage the vote of the workingman. If C. O. C. would arouse from his Rip Van Winkle slumber he may get a very graphic hint by consulting this week's Puck, where the intelligent face of the giant towers over the nonplussed politicians at his feet. I am not a K. of L., but when the deepest thinkers of our time tell us that laisse faire is heartless, arrogant, and threatening to the tranquility of society, it is simply stupid to continue the practice that pays the worker his pittance because his necessity forces him to take it or starve. I know of several advocates of this selfish custom who make it a point to employ our friend Billy to saw a cord of wood because they can get him for a "small dollar" (ten cents.) Is it less contemptible to take advantage of a man whose day's idleness means a Barmecidal dinner? R. E. R.

MUSIC HALL.

Col. Sinn's "Alone in London" company, which has been playing the past week at the Park Theatre, Boston, to audiences as large and enthusiastic as those which attended during the first engagement there early in the present season, will appear on Music hall stage Monday evening. The company is a good one, and the piece they play one of the best.

The screaming farce comedy, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," can lay claim to the longest and most successful run of all the funny plays produced in this city for the past two seasons, says the New York Times. At Music hall on the evening of Tuesday, April 6th.

MORE WHO WERE NOT THERE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 1st, 1886.

Mr. Editor: I wish to state through your paper that I was not present on Sunday morning last or any other morning at any prize fight or any other fight at Leach's island or any other island. If there was any fight I denounce it.

ISRAEL MARDEN.

Mr. Editor: I learn that I am accused of having been one of the abettors of the illegal acts committed on Leach's island between four and five o'clock Sunday morning, March 28th. It is bad enough to be wrongfully charged with being present at such an affair; but to be accused of wilfully and with malice aforethought getting up at four o'clock in the morning, is unbearable. I consider that any man who will leave his couch at four o'clock in the morning for anything less than a fire on the roof or a dynamite explosion under the bed, is but a sketch and outline of a man mentally, whom it were base flattery to call a villain; and that he deserves a year in prison and $1,000 fine anyway, whether he breaks any law or not. Mr. Editor, I was not there; I never am anywhere at that hour; and if there was anybody at all there, (of which, after reading the daily papers of the past few days, I have serious doubts,) or any island, I hope they will all get what they deserve. SOMNUS.

Mrs. Alfred H. Hook, residing on Leach's island, writes the Times as follows on date April 1st: "My husband having been mentioned as one of those who witnessed a fight on Leach's island last Sunday morning, I will state that he was not there, he being employed in Somerville, Mass., and not having been home since the 22d of March. We knew nothing of any fight on the island, but saw some men."

PORTSMOUTH, Aplil 1st.

Mr. Editor: Some evil disposed person having spread the injurious report that there was a prize fight on Leach's island in Piscataqua river last Sunday morning, please allow me, as a pilot of eighty years' service, to say that there is no island of that name (or any other) in the river. Yours truly, NAUTICUS.

HE IS PUZZLED.

ANDOVER, MASS., March 30th.

Mr. Editor: What's this I see in the Gazette about the school meeting in Rye? If my eyes do not deceive me, there are actually the names of three good and true republicans given as among those chosen to manage school affairs for the ensuing year. Shade of General Jackson! and has it come to this? That at a town meeting in Rye, held in the town hall, called according to the laws and constitution, there should be elected to any offices in the gift of the voters of Rye three black republicans? Why, the very thought of such a thing it would seem ought to bring Old Hickory back from his long rest. At this distance I cannot understand it, but perhaps you can tell me whether it was "cleveland and reform" or "innocuous desuetude" that did it. Yours in a maze, ZION'S HILL.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took four times for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him. His mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally come loose and be taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles of the Resolvent he was well and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are not quite straight, as once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child ask what CUTICURA and RESOLVENT and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 3, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition, and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence; but by a sudden change of weather, the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

THE HOPE OF NEW ENGLAND.

The last census is not altogether pleasant reading in many portions for the sons of New England, but it conveys lessons which they cannot afford to ignore. If it tells that Maine and Vermont stood stationary as regards populations between 1870 and 1880, it also records the rapid growth and prosperity of many cities and towns which are beginning to tread upon the heels of older communities. It seems to say that to manufactures, not to agriculture, must New England apply herself, and that to the skill of her artisans must she look for her old-time supremacy. This changed condition of affairs is recognized in many enterprising cities, a good example of which may be found in Waterbury, the bustling Connecticut city upon the Naugatuck that is so rapidly coming to the front as a manufacturing center. Waterbury has wide-awake citizens who take every opportunity to push it and to welcome new ideas. The advantage of such a progressive spirit is well shown in the case of G. W. Angell, who lives at No. 204 South Main street, Waterbury, and who gives this personal experience:

"For twenty years I have suffered tortures from chronic rheumatism. The doctors said I was incurable, but thanks to Athlophoros, I have now taken a new lease on life. I had tried numerous remedies with the hope of at least allaying my suffering, but all failed until a friend advised me to try Athlophoros. I did so, and as the result am now looking and feeling as though I had never known what rheumatism was."

Mrs. E. Vickers, of No. 46 Pleasant street, says:

"It is owing to Athlophoros that I am now alive. I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros cured me. I can sincerely say that there is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism and can recommend it to all suffering from that disease."

The testimony is reinforced by that of Mrs. Jane Downey, of No. 24 Pleasant street, a near neighbor of Mrs. Vicker's, in this story of her case:

"Two bottles of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take the remedy, saying that he had done all he could for me, but could give me no relief. Athlophoros drove the rheumatism away, and I am happy to say that it has never come back. My daughter, who suffered terribly from rheumatism, was also cured by taking half a bottle of the medicine."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CONGO-LAND.

Results Achieved by Stanley in the Valley of the Congo.

To give a full summary of the Congo's commercial future would be to write Mr. Stanley's latest work over again; but the results already achieved and those which are now in process of achievement may be briefly stated in his own words:

"From the mouth of the Congo a steamer drawing fifteen feet of water can steam up the river 110 miles, and opposite to this point (the head of the estuary) we have built stations on both sides of the river, that on the north or right bank (i. e. Vivi) being the principal. Hence, in order to avoid the Yellala Falls, we take a land journey of 52 miles to a point where we have built another station. We then take boats, and steam or row 88 miles to a point opposite which there are stations constructed on each side of the river. Then comes another land journey of 95 miles to reach our lately built town of Leopoldsville, at the entrance of Stanley Pool. Hence we steam up uninterruptedly a distance of 1,060 English miles. With a short road past Stanley Falls we could proceed 350 miles farther up the river, and then a portage of two miles would give us 650 more. In addition to these distances upon the Congo itself, its larger affluents make up a total navigable length of more than 2,000 miles. Along the main stream we have constructed thirteen stations in the most likely places, among peaceful tribes, with whom we are on terms of familiar intercourse, and who have welcomed us as brothers."

The importance of these measures, which practically bridge over the gap dividing the inland trade of the upper Congo from the coast trade of its lower course, can hardly be overrated. Even in 1883 the annual value of the local traffic was estimated at $14,000,000; and now that the Berlin Conference of 1884 has disposed of the absurd claims of Portugal, and established freedom of trade throughout the entire basin of the Congo, it may reasonably be expected to develop apace. Bounded on the north by the water-shed of the Nile, on the south by that of the Zambezi and the Loge, on the east by Lake Tanganyika, and on the west by the Atlantic Ocean, this vast tract comprises almost the whole southern portion of Central Africa, having a length of 1,400 miles by a breadth of 1,200, and an area of 1,300,000 square miles. Its population, though a mere nothing to that which it may support with ease at no very distant date, is already very considerable. In one section of the upper Congo Mr. Stanley counted fourteen tolerably large villages within a very limited space; and the most reliable among the many estimates of the total population rates it as high as 40,000,000.

The lower Congo enjoys the priceless advantage of traversing an intermediate zone admirably fitted for cultivation, separating two opposing tracts, in one of which cultivation is rendered impossible by absolute want of water, and in the other by a permanent excess of it. The great mass of forest and swamp covering the basin of the Niger and almost the whole of the west coast stretches southward as far as the mouth of the Ogoway River, about fifty miles south of the equator. Here it gradually begins to melt away, the rivers being still thickly wooded, while the open country assumes the form of wide green savannahs, dappled with clumps of trees, and representing the "park-like region" so often and so enthusiastically referred to by Mr. Johnston. This in its turn gives place by degrees to the scantier vegetation of the Portuguese provinces of Benguela and Mossamedes, growing thinner and ever thinner as it recedes from the limit of the oil palms at the tenth parallel of south latitude, till the last trace of vegetable life vanishes on the borders of the great Kalahari Desert, which lies immediately north of the Orange River and Cape Colony.

It is through the great natural park above mentioned that the Congo flows downward to the sea, with all the commercial advantages that can be given to it by a magnificent climate and a soil of unexampled fertility. Among the products of the Congo basin enumerated by Mr. Stanley are palm oil, cassava, plaintains and other fruits, palm wine, copper, iron, ivory, vermilion, camwood, tobacco, sugar-cane, beans, maize, millet, sweet potatoes and other vegetables, mats of palm fibre, nuts, fish, eggs, pigs, goats, India rubber, and ivory. The last article is so abundant on the upper Congo that in one of the villages of the savage region near the mouth of the Aruwimi an "ivory temple" is said to exist, formed of a light roof supported by thirty-three entire tusks, many of which are of enormous size. The chief local imports are cotton, hardware, cloth, salt, crockery, guns, and powder, the three first-named articles being in especial demand, and forming in some districts the actual currency of the country, so far as it can be said to have any. "At the present time," says Mr. Stanley, "the quantity of cheap cottons sold every year in the Congo markets amounts to 6,250,000 yards; and supposing every inhabitant of the Congo basin to have just one Sunday dress every new year, 320,000,000 yards would be required."—David Ker, in Harper's Magazine for March.

To Spur a Jaded Appetite Is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the Bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices, if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and the bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, etc., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills, particularly if combined with Carter's Little Liver Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

The Root of all Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

Home, Sweet Home.

What is home without a mother? It is not really happy; but as a mother cannot always conveniently be had, a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil will be found very useful in making life pleasant, and in banishing the pains of neuralgia or rheumatism.

No "Valued Policy" Law Wanted.

In the Connecticut legislature on the 1st inst., All Fools' day, the so-called valued and standard policy insurance bills were overwhelmingly defeated. This ends the attempt to introduce the New Hampshire law into Connecticut, when the old-style insurance companies are omnipotent.

Brewery Seized.

At Worcester, Mass., April 1st, the United States internal revenue officers seized about $10,000 worth of apparatus at Bowler Bros. beer brewery. The proceedings are supplemental to some of last December, when fifteen packages of beer were seized in several saloons, having fraudulent stamps. An investigation of the railroad returns, the officers claim, shows that the firm has received in two years malt enough to make 83,000 barrels more of beer than their stamp purchases show. The members of the firm claim that this is due to shrinkage, loss by poor brewing, and extra stock put into their beer. They claim to be able to make a clear showing.

An April 1st Report.

A despatch of April 1st, from Deadwood, Dakota, says: "The richest silver ore in largest bodies ever discovered in the United States has been struck in the Iron Hill mine. Much of it assays 15,000 ounces to the ton. A five-feet breast has been opened."

An appeal has been taken in the celebrated contest over the will of the late Edward S. Sanborn. The appeal is taken on the ground of undue influence on the part of the trustees of Sanborn seminary, to whom he gave the bulk of his property, and of alleged insanity at the time of the making of the will in question. Some twenty years ago he made a will giving $40,000 to Dartmouth college, and the balance of his property to his nephews and nieces. Up to this time the college has appeared as a contestant of the will recently probated.

USE

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. IT WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." F. T. Sandbein, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Fair, slightly colder weather, westerly winds, rising barometer.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 30 degrees above zero

Cloudy.

A KNOW-NOTHING ORGANIZATION.

It is currently reported that there will be no means of punishing the offending parties who participated in the recent prize fight on one of the islands in this harbor. It is contended that the attendants, some of whom have been summoned to appear at Exeter, will decline to testify before the grand jury, on the ground that their answers might tend to criminate themselves, and that as the affair was seen only by the participants, all of whom will hang together, no proof can be elicited which can be sufficient to warrant the finding of an indictment!

Perhaps the state's attorney may be able to get around this difficulty, but on the street it is rumored that the men who were so near, and yet so far, on that occasion, have been advised by a New York lawyer who has had experience in such matters that it will be better for the spectators of that Sunday morning "mill" to be discreetly silent both before and at the assembling of the grand jury.

ON A SPREE.

Fred Smith, and another man whose name we did not learn, drove into this city from Stratham on Thursday, got drunk way through, and in the afternoon started for home in their wagon.* Shortly after four o'clock Mr. McCallin, who lives on the Ambrose farm near Great swamp, was surprised to see two ladies, evidently considerably frightened, drive into his yard, and at once assisted them into the house and placed their team in his barn. In a few moments the two drunken fellows drove in, turned, and drove out again, narrowly escaping a capsizing when turning; they had seen that the ladies were terrified, and had chased them in a drunken frolic. They continued on toward their homes till they reached the Greenland station of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, where they started to drive up the track, but the wheels on one side of the wagon were run upon the platform and both the occupants thrown out, striking heavily on the ground. The team kept on up the track, and was stopped by Mr. Berry, the station agent, within a few feet of a culvert twenty feet deep. The two men were carried to their homes in the evening in the wagons of two farmers, and were reported to be very severely injured.

MUSIC HALL.

The remarkable increase of circulation of the Boston Globe during the past year is set forth in a table in another column, giving the actual number of copies disposed of for each day in March, 1885, and March, 1886. That the circulation of the Sunday Globe has reached the enormous number of 100,000 will not be surprising to those who are personally aware of the steady increase of the sales in this city. The figures show that the management of the Globe has correctly estimated what the people want in a newspaper, and then regularly supplied that want.

Mr. Editor: Having been unjustly suspected of being a spectator of the recent "mill" at Leach's island, and denials being the order of the day, I would say to the public,—which, by the way, is just as much interested in me as it is in "Jinks" Hennessy, "Hump" Hurley, Jack Dempsey or "Sheeny" Mike,—that I was never on Leach's island or any other island (save Deer island for thirty days,) and on that early Sunday morning was quietly fishing for flounders on our beautiful river before going to church. Meanwhile, Mr. Editor, let the good work of hunting up the conspirators in this most atrocious scheme of breaking the death-like silence of Old Portsmouth go bravely on, until all the "Humps" and "High Jinks" that mar the beauties of our little peninsular are forever scattered; let all who can deny their participation in this worse than fiasco, in order that future generations will realize the fact that no idiocy existed in Portsmouth during the nineteenth century, and all will be well. Much good has already been accomplished. The P. P. has doubled its circulation, and our county officials and aldermanic celebrities have reached the ultima thule of their ambition—have seen their names in print, and are happy. By kindly publishing the above you will, in a measure, relieve the public of a great strain and oblige

CAPT. DOOHOO.

Large numbers of laths, singly and in bundles, drifted ashore on the Isles of Shoals, or were seen floating in the vicinity, Thursday and Friday of this week. Probably the deck-load of some lumber-laden vessel, washed off during a recent gale.

David P. Winter of Peabody, Mass., has had his discontent made glorious summer by a verdict in his favor of $6500 for damages for being put off a train on the Erie railroad when he had a ticket by another route. Even an editor would not mind an indignity at such compensating rates of remuneration.

The running time of the "Flying Yankee" train between Boston and St. John, N. B., will be quickened about three-quarters of an hour the coming season, so it is reported.

The steamer Mary Lewis was sunk March 31st by colliding with a bridge across the Atchafalaya river, La., and the pilot, engineer and two deck hands were lost. The steamer Barmore went to the scene of the wreck to save the cargo and machinery, and while engaged in this work her boilers exploded. Four men were very seriously wounded, and four drowned.

The ice in the Kennebec river opposite the city of Augusta, Me., is rapidly weakening, and no one crosses it now. Above the dam, however, the ice was measured March 31st, and was found to be sixteen inches in thickness, ten inches being black ice.

Patrick Moran, nineteen years old, assistant baggage master for the Providence & Worcester railway at Manville, R. Punishing a Regiment.

The ignorance among the lower orders and the soldiery in Persia is dreadful, and the insolence of the latter—formerly terrible, now on the wane—sheds a new light on a story circulated about the Shah at the time of his last visit to Europe. I allude to the strangling of some dozen men of the regiment of Ispahan within the precincts of the palace.

At that time the insolence of the soldiery was at its hight. The fanaticism of the common people was also much greater than now, so that instead of a guard at the legations, every European had two or three soldiers quartered on him as a protection. One Frenchman had two, and when one of the two disappeared the ignorant populace accused the Frenchman of having murdered the soldier to procure enchantments from the grease in his body. The mob rose against the European in their fury, and the firmness of the general officer in command prevented a general massacre. As it was, Europeans were afraid to venture about the streets after nightfall for a long time. The soldier supposed to have been murdered afterwards turned up. He had merely fled to Tabris to escape his creditors.

The Shah was driving along the highroad one day when some soldiers approached him with a petition setting forth their grievances. They had not been paid for nine months. The son of the Minister of War, who accompanied the Shah on horseback, galloped up among them and lashed them across their faces with his whip. Some stones were thrown, and one of them broke a window of the Shah's carriage. The aide-de-camp shouted to the coachman to start the horses at full speed, crying out that an attempt was being made to assassinate his majesty.

The following morning the regiment of Ispahan, to which the mutineers belonged, paraded in the courtyard of the palace. The Shah appeared at a window, and, at his order, every tenth man was seized and strangled. Though his conduct was severely criticised, Europeans here think him as excusable as Peter for his severity to the Strelitz regiment, and his firmness prevented a massacre of Europeans by the turbulent troops.—Letter from Persia in New York Herald.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forcing to each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. I have these ugly bony formations I preserve. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would not be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. M. DRUGS,
May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

A Philosopher's Cook Stove.

Edward Atkinson of Boston is a man of ideas who is willing to share the fruits thereof with his fellow men. He is an expert statistician and economist well known to all boards of trade and commercial bodies. His latest work was a lecture before the New England Woman's club on "The Price of Life," proving that it was not only possible but pleasant to live on $200 a year. This included ample food, light, heat, clothes, room rent, and left a small margin for extravagance. Mr. Atkinson wore such a suit of clothes as he included in his list at $8.50, and said that the members of the Thursday club, to whom he read the same lecture, had greatly admired the cut. He quoted Bonamy Price's definition of man, "the only animal endowed with progressive wants," and said that he considered the advice, "wheresover your lot may be cast, learn therewith to be discontented," far more wholesome than the reverse. The lecture was illustrated by a cooking apparatus lately invented by Mr. Atkinson, consisting of a square wooden box mounted on wooden legs, containing a tin box surrounded by water, and heated from below by an ordinary kerosene lamp, so that one may sit and read his paper by the light of his cooking engine while it slowly stews his supper. An eighteen pound ham was cooked at the cost of a cent's worth of oil, and a turkey warranted to be tough was made tender by the expenditure of one and a half cents' worth of oil.

Mrs. Senator Stanford recently received a letter from a Chicago woman saying that as Mrs. Stanford was now in mourning she could not make a better use of her ball-dresses and gowns of a similar description than by sending them to the writer, "if belong," she continued, "to the genteelly poor class who are compelled to present an appearance out of all proportion to their limited incomes. By complying even partially with my request you will oblige."

"There is a good deal of religion in nature," solemnly remarked a young Aberdeen clergyman calling upon a lady of his congregation recently. "There is," was the quiet reply. "We should never forget that there is a sermon in every blade of grass." "Quite true. We should also remember that grass is cut very short sometimes."

A citizen stepped into an up-town drug-store and called for a couple of pills which he swallowed. "How much?" he asked. "Fifty cents, sir." "Fifty cents! Why, the druggist on the block below never charged me more than five." "Then I'll make 'em four. I'll drive that man out of business if I have to sell goods at cost."—Harper's Bazar.

COMETHING FOR DYSPEPTICS.

A Deluded People.
(From The Pitch, Medical Journal.)

We do not mean to intimate that all the so-called remedies for dyspepsia are valueless, but human credulity is so strong, that some unscrupulous persons trade upon the fears of the weak and debilitated. Among the things which appeal so strongly to this weakness are Bitters. The very name is in their favor. The mode of life of the average American is of such a character, that he is constantly in need of a tonic. He is rushed at his business, swallows his meals hastily and without any thought as to the capacity of the stomach for digestion, takes little rest, and necessarily feels hipped, is subject to headache, and takes often a gloomy view of things generally. In such cases he resorts to bitters, under the delusion that they will act on the secretions of the stomach and give the system new strength and energy. The writer recently purchased samples of four of the most widely-advertised bitters in the market, and the simple chemical analysis to which they were subjected showed that they contained about 90 per cent. (the amount the Government allows) of the most poisonous and adulterated alcohol, and that the remaining 10 per cent. consisted of various foreign substances, which were simply added as flavoring extracts, to disguise the taste of the original compound. The power the potency of the alcohol the more vicious is the compound. The value which so-called bitters are supposed to have is of a purely fictitious character. In fact, in the majority of cases it is sure the delicate membrane of the stomach and so vitiate the taste that the palate soon cannot distinguish between good and bad. These bitters are consumed principally by the debilitated, the convalescent, the depressed and particularly by aged people and weak women and others to whom a stimulant is indispensable. Now, while alcohol, especially in the form of whiskey, is acknowledged to be the best known stimulant, and is prescribed and used by physicians for this purpose every where, we can't conceive why people will insist upon taking the alcohol in the form of a decoction, the compounding of which they know nothing and which, as shown by analysis, contains fusel oil, vitriol, catechu and poisons of the most deadly kind. It would be far better for them to come out boldly and use the pure article, something made from malt in which there is no fusel oil. There may be a little difficulty in obtaining an article of this kind, as there is only one firm in this country (i.e., the discovers of Duffy's pure malt whiskey, which distills it and which combines food and stimulating qualities.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put op by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a gleam of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to get and try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Surgens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting worse and worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dread disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A Swimming-Lesson in Venice.

If the day is warm we shall see plenty of Venetian boys swimming in the canals, wearing nothing but a pair of light trousers, and they care so little for our approach that we are afraid our gondola will run over some of them. The urchins are very quick and active, however, and we might as well try to touch a fish as one of them. I once saw a Venetian girl about sixteen years old, who was sitting upon the steps of a house teaching her young brother to swim. The little fellow was very small, and she had tied a cord around his waist, one end of which she held in her hand. She would let the child get into the water and paddle away as well as he could. When he seemed tired or when he had gone far enough, she pulled him in. She looked very much as if she were fishing, with a small boy for bait.—Frank R. Stockton, in St. Nicholas for March.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Louise Michel is writing a book, and, whatever may be its style, the subject, it is clear, will be the woman. The book is to be a novel, and is called 'Les Microbes.' There are to be types of the leaders of all the movements in the modern world in which Louise Michel is interested—the savant, capable of everything for the sake of science; the revolutionist, capable of everything for his religion; and the capitalist, capable of all for his wealth. Even more characteristic, however, than the selection of characters at the outset is the way in which they are to be disposed of in the end. They are all to be killed off—each one dies for the idea for which he lived'—all except the capitalist; he is to fatten. That was as far into the plot as Louise Michel initiated her interviewer; but it can be revealing no secret to hint that the fattening of the capitalist is like that of the Strasburg geese, and will come to an equally ignominious end."

is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the Bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices, if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and the bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

An Erratic Minister.

Rev. William Hammond was installed as pastor of the Freewill Baptist church at Franklin in September last, having previously preached several years at Madison. Three or four weeks ago he was married to the widow of Dr. Harrison W. Rockway, a lady of his congregation.

Within a few days after the marriage Mr. Hammond went to his bride and by some pretext, as she says, got her to sign her name to a blank page in a bank book of the Franklin bank where she had on deposit $2,000. On Wednesday of last week he presented the book at the bank with the woman's order signed in proper form, and was given the $2,000 in checks on a Boston bank. Having secured this, his next step was to take possession of a $1,000 bond belonging to his wife, without her knowledge, together with a sum of money she had in her purse in her bureau. He then went to a merchant in the village, and told him that he and his wife were going to start for Europe at once, and that they were anxious to sell their household furniture. A price was agreed upon, and the money was paid to the parson for the furniture. That evening he went home, and claimed to be highly offended with his bride, telling her that he should not pass the night in her company, but should go to the hotel to sleep, and then took his departure.

Thursday morning Mrs. Hammond found her purse empty, and going to the bank to draw a portion of her deposit, learned the facts as given above. The Boston police were put on the track of the derelict parson, and by watching the bank on which the checks were drawn, and following a woman who presented them for cashing, he was found and arrested. He confesses his misdoing. It is claimed by his friends that he has for some time shown signs of insanity.

The newly-established street lamp on Mulberry street in now lighted on dark nights, the same as the others. It was badly needed, and lights what has been one of the darkest pockets in the city.

Hon. John Hatch lost a valuable cow by death, at his farm in Greenland last week. Mr. Hatch is noted for the excellent breed of cows upon his farm.

The distillery of Wm. Ward & Sons, on Christian shore, is temporarily shut down while repairs are being made to the stills and connections. Mr. Robert Ducker, coppersmith, is doing the work.

The roads in the adjacent country were reported to be in a most abominable condition on Saturday. Although the wind blew from the westward there was a flurry of snow, and the weather was somewhat uncomfortable; and there were but few people in town from the surrounding districts.

Holders of tickets for the city government prize fight, which should have taken place last Sunday morning but was postponed on account of the threatening state of the weather, can have them renewed on application at the usual place.

Mr. Eddie Berry, son of Mr. James Berry of Kittery, residing near Portsmouth bridge, is at home on a ten days' vacation from the Perkins Institute for the Blind, at South Boston. He is said to be already a good scholar and musician, but proposes to remain three years more at the institution.

Eleven persons in all,—four sneak thieves of Portland, one resident of Scarboro and six citizens of Biddeford,—are now under bonds or in jail, awaiting trial for conspiracy to defraud the ballot in Biddeford's late election. The accused parties are all democrats; and the bondsmen of those who have obtained bail are without exception leading democrats of the city, or their representatives. Several of the accused, when arrested, indignantly demanded an immediate examination; but when they were brought into court last Friday they "waived examination," to a man. The last party to be hauled in was Mr. Elias Clark, an ex-assessor of Biddeford, and foreman of the grand jury for York county the present year! It is thought he will not preside at the inquest into the election frauds—at least not in his own case.

The following are among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds: Kittery—Mark F. Wentworth of Kittery to Alexander H. Ladd of Portsmouth, N. H., seven and one-half acres of land in Kittery for $550. York—Lewis R Hanson of South Berwick to Ephraim Hodgdon of the same place, real estate in York for $1; Nancy V. Philbrook of York to Charles C. Philbrook, land in York for $5; John H. Varrell of York to Christiana Varrell of Boston, Mass., land and buildings in York for $1. South Berwick—Mercy A. Boston to John Emery, land for $50; Mehitable Bragdon to Joanna V. Chadwick, real estate for $1; Mehitable Bragdon to Mary F. Wilkinson, real estate for $1; Mary F. Wilkinson to Mehitable Bragdon, real estate for $1. Wells—Alonzo K. Tripp to Lewis L. Littlefield, real estate for $15.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. IT WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." F. T. Sandbein, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

commends itself to all who have occasion to use a dye for the beard or mustache. It will change gray, faded, or sandy whiskers, to a beautiful brown or black, as desired. The colors produced are natural and lasting. It cannot be washed off, contains no destructive ingredients, is cheap, safe, convenient to use, and effectual.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." E. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

MUSIC HALL.

The Evening Star of Philadelphia, in which city the drama "Alone in London" was first presented, says of it:—"'Alone in London, or, A Woman against the World,' Robert Buchanan's latest effort, was given for the first time in this country at the Chestnut Street Theatre last evening, and was evidently a great success. It is well constructed so far as the plot and situations are concerned, is much above the common-place in dialogue, and the acting is almost without a fault; for such a drama it would be hard to get a more capable company." The piece will be put upon Music hall stage by Col. Sinn's company of the Park theatre, Brooklyn, this (Monday) evening. Tickets at Goodrich's.

The Boston Advertiser in speaking of the comedy "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," says:—"The dialogue fairly bubbles with puns, be it said, a number of them are really capital; the action of the piece is very rapid, and in the second act where the two principals are chased by a policeman about and through an oyster shanty on the beach of Saratoga, the business and the execution are worthy the best invention and execution of the Hanlon Brothers in "Le Voyage en Suisse." It is in this constant change of action, in this rapidity of movement, in the constant change of methods, that the amusement of the audience is never allowed to cease and seldom to flag."

ORGANIC MATTERS.

The Times chides Ephraim C. Spinney, the famous war-horse of the democracy of Kittery, and intimates that he is a "sore-head." That Mr. Spinney is disappointed in the democracy of the present administration is perhaps no secret, but in that respect he is in sympathy with very many others who may be less outspoken as to their views. One of the causes for the rebuking of the Kittery democrat by the Times is that Spinney has a paper in this city, not of his own political school, as an "organ." This is not quite fair in our neighbor, which ought not to condemn the old-liner for employing an organ of his own, when the leader of the other faction in Kittery has such a grip on the administration organ here. Let us have fair play in this contest. What sort of a showing, we ask our friend of the Times, would Spinney have had of leading Stimson by half a dozen votes in the late caucus, were he deprived of an organ? No; we cannot have music without the organ.

RETIREMENT OF AN EFFICIENT OFFICER.

We regret that circumstances compel the retirement of Mr. John J. Laskey from the responsible position of chief clerk in the postoffice. Mr. Laskey seemed to at once grasp the duties of the position which he was asked to fill by Postmaster Gerrish when that gentleman became postmaster. The office compels one to be constantly on duty, and it has many responsibilities. Mr. Laskey fortunately possessed ample ability to master the various duties, and his affable manners, supplemented with a desire to serve the public to the entire satisfaction of the patrons of the office, made him at once a favorite in the position. His vacating the place is a public loss.

The postmaster has designated Mr. Albert H. Sides as chief clerk. Mr. Sides has had long experience in the office, and is familiar with the routine of duty in each department. These places require no little knowledge, and special fitness in the incumbent for the proper discharge of their duties. Under the present postmaster the affairs of the office have been will conducted, the public have been satisfactorily served, and mail matter promptly handled. The amount of mail matter daily handled in this office, and the number of mails received and despatched, are far in excess of those of but a few years ago. But the public are willing ever to enjoy increased facilities in mail matters, even if it is not always remembered that to the thoughtful consideration of some one there is an obligation for enlarged accommodations in this respect.

REFORM CLUB MEETING.

An adjourned meeting of the Temperance Reform club will be held Saturday evening, April 10th, at Good Templars' hall, Pleasant street. Urgent business will come before the meeting.

A CORNER CORNERED.

Deputy Sheriff Alvin S. Eaton, of Nashua, who some time since was appointed a deputy by Col. J. Horace Kent, sheriff of this county, appeared at Epping Corner Friday morning with about twenty writs against the various sureties on the late B. W. Hoyt's bond. The principal parties sued are H. F. Hoyt, David Edgerly, Walter H. Stickney, James W. Godfrey, John J. Lane, David F. Bartlett, John O. Edgerly, Eliphalet C. Brown, Robert Pike, William L. Plumer, George S. Rendlett, John Leddy, Asa S. Robie, Charles H. Norris and William R. Bunker. Nearly all the stores at the Corner, including the store in which the postoffice is kept, are in the hands of keepers appointed by Deputy Sheriff Eaton. The attachments are placed not only on the real estate but the personal property of the various bondsmen of Mr. Hoyt. Hon. Charles H. Burns, counsel for the B. W. Hoyt company, appeared with Deputy Eaton, and directed the attachments. It was a cold Friday for the business men of the Corner when Ex-United States Attorney Burns with his selected sheriff alighted at the railroad station.

FIRE.

A brilliant light, as of a large fire, was seen to the westward of this city on Saturday night between eight and nine o'clock. Sunday morning it was announced that the light came from the destruction of the dwelling on the old Daniel Scott farm, Sherburne road, near the Haven spring pumping station of the Portsmouth aqueduct company.

A county convention in the interest of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be holden in the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church on Wednesday, April 7th, commencing at 10:30 A. M. and continuing through the day. Basket collation at noon. It is earnestly desired that every union in the county shall be represented; and all friends of the cause are cordially invited to attend. There will be devotional exercises, volunteer addresses, accounts of department work, question box, etc. Miss Wendell, corresponding secretary of the state union is expected to be present. Please extend this notice. MRS. R. D. SMART.

Capt. William L. Dwight has had several men during a week past employed in taking down one of the large elm trees which has long stood as a companion tree to another of nearly the same size between his residence and the Carter mansion on Middle street. As the space between the houses is by no means large, and the trunk and branches of the tree are of great size, the necessity of sending down the limbs piece by piece, lowered by tackle and fall with the aid of a knowledge of the proper mode of handling the ropes, is apparent. The descent of the limbs has been watched by quite a number of side-walk inspectors.

Mr. Joseph B. Stearns, while in town last week, requested a prominent master builder to prepare plans for a block of houses to stand just west of the dwelling recently occupied by Aaron H. Hill, Esq., on State street. The houses if built are to face Summer street, at a distance of seventy feet from the street. With handsome lawns in front, and built in a tasteful manner with all modern improvements, such residences would not fail to be in requisition by desirable tenants.

There were some arrivals of fish on Sunday, mostly to Elvin Newton & Co. The prices at present range very low. The schooner Alabama brought in 14,000 lbs. of cod, and the Northern Eagle 10,400 lbs., which sold at eighty-five cents per hundred pounds. The Charlie Boy, of Portland, brought in 8,000 lbs. of haddock, which sold at $1. The schooner Millie Florence last week brought in 6,000 lbs. of superior haddock, which sold at $1.40; and the Northern Eagle brought in 30,000 lbs. of cod during the week, which sold at an average price of $1. There were some other small arrivals of small fish which were sold to other dealers.

A horse belonging to a Rye man indulged in a fit on Market square on Saturday about noon. Some of the bystanders came to the animal's relief, and he was all right in a few minutes, having caused no more damage than the breaking of one of the shafts of the wagon to which he was attached.

Mr. John P. Sweetser arrived home from his western trip on Friday night, after an absence of three months.

SERIOUS FIRE.

Shortly after one o'clock this morning the fire alarm sounded box seventeen, which was shortly followed by a second alarm, fire having broken out in the tenement No. 6 Church street, occupied by Richard May. This tenement was an ell of the large building situated between the North church and Warren street, and though the department responded quickly and worked well, the ell was destroyed and the roof and upper stories of the main building burned off before the fire was put out. One or two of the engines had much trouble in getting steam, owing it was said to inferior coal. May's loss was total; partially insured.

The main building was occupied on the lower floor by the Custom House Exchange, Wm. Chandler proprietor, and the Globe Grocery store. Nothing was removed from the saloon, and the large stock of groceries was badly damaged by water. Above the stores were two large tenements, one occupied by Mr. John E. Lear, and the other by Mr. John F. Collarel, an Italian who moved in last week. Nearly all their furniture was removed in a damaged state. Mr. Lear has $1000 insurance, and the Globe Grocery $2400.

The building, which is much damaged by the fire and saturated with water, is owned one-half (the half next to the church) by John Folsom of Boston, and the other half by William S. Hadley. Owing to the late hour at which the fire occurred we are unable to give further particulars.

Rev. George D. Garland, formerly pastor of the Christian church at Newcastle, has been expelled in disgrace from the Strafford Christian conference by the executive committee. It appears that this was the reverend gentleman's third expulsion within less than ten years, the Freewill Baptist and Christian denominations in the eastern part of Maine having purified themselves by kicking the fellow out before he came to this section of the country.

this side of Boston, I would respectfully call your attention to the same, believing that in most cases it is better for persons about purchasing to see what they are buying than to buy of irresponsible agents with nice looking Photographs of Monumental work. Having a thorough knowledge of the business gained in the principal cities of the Union and still giving my personal attention, all will be satisfied who will give me a call, as to quality of work and prices.

Mr. J. H. Bates, Newspaper Advertising Agent, 4 Park Row (Times Building,) New York is authorized to contract for Advertisements in the Chronicle at our lowest and best rates.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him; his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and he did not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. The sores finally another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and have to come out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands just always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before taking the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one INFLATOR, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

Red Snow.

Even to-day the wild theories about the red snow are not yet ended. Seeing that the young spores of the algæ move incessantly backward and forward in the water, the idea arose that they were animacule, and red snow only the lowest form of animal life. By degrees, however, it came to be an accepted fact that this voluntary motion does not belong exclusively to animal life, and the young spores of the lower plants, although they move freely about in the water, and are plentifully provided with fine hair-like threads like the real infusoria, still remain plants, and never turn into animals, and thus the plant nature of the "snow blossom" was finally settled. The red snow algæ found on the Alps, Pyrenees, and Carpathians, and also on the summits of the North American mountains as far down as California, is not, however, such a determined enemy to heat as its having its home in the ice region would imply. It the Arctic circle, as well as on our mountains of perpetual snow, especially on Monte Rosa, the red snow is seen in summer like a light rose-colored film, which gradually deepens in color, particularly in the track of human footsteps, till at length it turns almost black. In this state, however, it is not a rotten mass, but consists principally of carefully capsuled "quiescent spores," in which state these microscopic atoms pass the winter, bearing in this form the greatest extremes of temperature. Some have been exposed to a dry heat of a hundred degrees, and were found still to retain life-bearing properties, while others, again, were exposed with impunity to the greatest cold known in science. This proves that the productive organs in a capsuled state can bear vast extremes of temperature without injury; a significant fact, in which lies the secret of the indestructibility of those germs which are recognized as promoters of so many diseases.—Chambers' Journal.

Nearly every day somebody unearths an "old rhyme of a meteorological character—such as, "If Februry gives much snow, a fine summer it doth foreshow"; or, "If March is full of wind and rain, the farmer will have a good crop of grain." These "old rhymes" are now manufactured in every enterprising newspaper office, and they are verified quite as often as the "old rhymes" made a century ago. Here's one, for instance, that may be depended upon: "If in June, July, and August no rain there be, a very dry summer you'll surely see.—Norristown Herald.

What astonishes the pension bureau is that there are now on the rolls the names of 17,212 women, widows of soldiers of the war of 1812.

Is He Your Friend?

Is the family doctor your friend? How many unnecessary visits does he make you? How many days does he keep you sick that you ought to be at your work, and so doing how many hard-earned dollars does he extort from you? Would it not be better for you to place your trust in Sulphur Bitters? Try them, they will be a true friend. Saving you a long sickness and a large bill, which you have hitherto paid to some avaricious doctor.—Editor State Journal.

McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mrs. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of these very severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing and advised me to try it. I did get a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensable. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he HAS'N'T it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

AMERICAN OPERA.

Is there Musical Taste, Talent and Enterprise for Distinctive American Music?

The most interesting musical event of the winter in New York was the beginning of the American opera. The title, suggests the old question, what is American music beyond the fact that it is music in America? There was a patriotic disposition to call Patti an American because she was born here, or because her childhood was passed here. It was a kindly instinct of appropriation. But Patti is no more an American than many an American who was born or whose youth was passed in Italy is an Italian. Many an American artist goes early to Italy and stays there many years. There was Crawford, the sculptor, in Rome, and Powers, the sculptor, in Florence. To Americans, Florence will be always known as the home of Powers. All his work was done there. Shall we call him an Italian artist? For thirty years and more, William W. Story, a man of rounded gifts and graces, has lived in Rome, and has stood at the head of—American or of Italian sculpture?

What is Italian art? What is American music? It is something more than the work of an artist who lives in Italy or in America. Thorwaldsen was not a Roman, long as he lived in Rome. Hawthorne insisted that there was no material for romance in America, and he wrote the Marble Faun. It was an Italian story written in Italy, but it is one of the great works in American literature. Hawthorne's tales are a signal refutation of his own theory. They are essentially and especially American. In the Twice-told Tales, in the Old Manse, in the Scarlet Letter, the House of the Seven Gables, and the Blithedale Romance, everything is American.

What, then, is American opera? What is American music? Is there an American school? Are there American composers? And do we recognize the distinctive character of our music as we do that of Italy and Germany? There is also a certain distinctive English music—a music of glees and madrigals and concerted pieces. Is there American music of the same kind?

But before we answer shall we not fling a spray of rosemary upon the Italian opera departed? In the noble new Opera-house there has been an admirable German opera, Wagner in the lead. At the Italian Academy a few intermittent warbles in the beginning of the season, dying echoes of other days, were apparently the swan song of Italian opera, and then American opera, in all the prosperous pomp and promise of youth, took possession, and, in the good old phrase of the social chronicler, charmed the town. Yet if some diva assoluta, some Patti in her prime, or honeyed Gerster, or Nilsson, or, to crown the supposition, if some Jenny Lind had "come forth" (as our brethren the theatrical critics of the daily press now prefer to write the word appeared) in the old, old part, Amina, or Norma, or Elvira, or Lucia, or what familiar part soever, would she have not drawn the flood that swept far up-town to the newer inlet?

Is the Italian opera, the taste for the operatic music which has been so long supreme, declining? Or does the apparent decline mean only that there was no great singer, no fresh opera, and no becoming support and stage management? When the diva of the hour arrives, will she not, like a pied piper, draw us all, dancing and murmuring, into her train? Or is the music of Rossini and Bellini and Donizetti and Verdi outgrown by our advancing taste?

Or again—for who walks with the questioning sage walks more securely—because the American opera was, in fact, a European opera, and because the singers were largely not Americans, and because the incomparable orchestra and its incomparable leader and director of the music were of another than American birth, was the enterprise misnamed? When Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Mr. Brough sang the Sinonambula in English fifty years ago, or when, later, in Madame Augusta's Bayadere, the Oriental leader of the chorus burst into highly accented and grammatically defiant English—

"Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Why could not be happy as me?"—

did the opera and the music become American? No; but on the other hand, when Nilsson sang Marguerite in Gounod's Faust, was the opera less French because the singer was a Swede?

The American opera is the name of a generous and timely enterprise, which holds that there is now musical taste, talent, audience, opportunity, and resources enough in America to be trained and fostered as they are trained and fostered in Europe. It proposes to teach singers of whatever nationality, and to educate a company capable of singing any opera, and to sing all operas in English. It holds that there will be always enough good voices in this country to furnish a good representation, and that, with due regard to careful mounting, there can be everything amply provided here which is provided in any European capital. The American school can not, indeed, furnish the genius of a composer, nor the voice, the noble organ to interpret his work. No, it can not do that. That is the misfortune of the American school in the world. At Milan, at Naples, at Paris, the schools could not confer musical genius nor create a voice. But they could give the one an arena, and they could exquisitely train the other.

The older schools have the advantage of tradition also, but that is to say only that they are older. Their other advantage will be shared by the American school, and that is one of its chief promises. Every such school is a centre of musical interest and taste and emulation. It generates the atmosphere which tempts the buds of musical genius to

Is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operations of the Bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices, if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and the bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

A thousand operatives were thrown out of work in Westboro, Mass., April 4th, by the burning of two shoe factories and several other buildings.

THE EPPING DEFALCATION.

The developments of the financial irregularities of the late B. W. Hoyt make a bad showing for the Epping sufferers. Mr. Hoyt possessed a degree of smartness, but lacked the essential element of success in not possessing integrity. He was master of the art of persuasive eloquence, and though unsuccessful as a business man, when engaged in manufacturing on his own account, seemed to have convinced several shrewd financiers in different parts of the state that there could be a profitable result in carrying on shoe manufacturing by a corporation of which, after a liberal capital had been gathered in, he was appointed the business manager and treasurer.

The concern lost money, but all the same, paid dividends! The directors, perhaps, voted the payment of dividends upon the report of the treasurer. But it is apparent now that they not only did not direct, but probably did not thoroughly investigate the condition of the shareholders' property before ordering these dividends. It is said that notes, purporting to be signed by business men and representing goods sold, were in fact spurious. They were endorsed and discounted, and probably taken up at maturity by funds in turn obtained by similarly produced papers. The directors are advised that the corporation must pay all its debts in full, but the irregularity added to the losses will doubtless wipe out all the capital originally paid in. The town of Epping suffers because very many of its citizens were sureties on Mr. Hoyt's bond as treasurer, and these obligors have been sued for the amount of the late treasurer's deficit. Then too, it is alleged that Hoyt sold land and gave warrantee deeds of the same, when it was incumbered by mortgages for its entire value. Whether the signatures on the treasurer's bond are all genuine, or what is true or what is false in this complicated medley of affairs, of course will only become known after thorough investigation.

The mental strain upon Mr. Hoyt, induced by this species of deception, doubtless caused his death. Two weeks before his sad ending he married a young lady of half his age, the daughter of a wealthy gentleman at Manchester, and all during the brief period of his honeymoon he must have been haunted with the prospect of the impending crisis in his affairs, — that development which sooner or later always overtakes and overturns the man who is unfaithful in such matters.

It is the old story. A concern entrusted apparently to the management of one man, who was undeserving of the confidence reposed in his honesty, not to say ability. In this instance to the loss of money by the stockholders in the company and to the neighbors at Epping and vicinity, is to be added that loss of confidence in the integrity of a fellow man, one whose extended social relations and business acquaintanceship reached far and wide, and who by his plausible, not to say winning powers of speech, seems to have had the ability to deceive the very elect.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., April 5th.

Ha! ha! Haven't eaten any dictionaries lately, so we'll acknowledge the dictionary error about the "boys." After digesting a small amount of dictionary I find a boy is "a male child; one in the state of adolescence." I was not aware however that the man with the "respectable-looking mustache" was so old the law requires a legal voter to be. Should not have guessed him so old, and must beg Ed's pardon, if I have hurt his feelings in quoting my informant's remark that "two boys had gone on the track of the burglar."

One of the "Boys," however, takes some pains to describe himself. Did the "boy" write it, or did an old boy, with white whiskers and no swell front? It has all the ear marks of the old boy. I infer that a legal voter weighs 185 pounds. Probably that is required under the new administration; hence the change in postmasters to conform to the standard weight, a la Cleveland!

Naval officers are much interested in the apparent excitement in British naval circles at the discovery of the fact that our navy department is in possession of valuable information as to the designs of the latest improvements in British warship building. It is a fact that our navy department not only has accurate workdrawings of all the latest improved British models and engines, but that the department has the designs of some improvements which the British admiralty has not yet put into use. How these plans came into the possession of our navy department is a state secret.

The house naval committee has canvassed the house to some extent, and is satisfied that the ten new naval cruisers asked for will not be voted. Either four or five is the probable number, which, with the four authorized last year but not yet begun, will make a respectable amount of work in hand. Secretary Whitney's intention is understood to be to have part constructed in private yards and two or three in the navy yards, probably at New York or Norfolk. It seems evident that Mr. Whitney's aim is to aggrandize the New York yard at the expense of all the others.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. IT WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." P. F. Sandhein, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N.Y.

THE KEARSARGE AND THE ALABAMA.

The April number of the Century magazine has three papers concerning these celebrated ships. These are "Life on the Alabama," by P. D. Haywood, one of the crew of 290, who gives a fair statement of cruises of the pirate; "Course and combats of the Alabama," by her executive officer, Capt. Kell, formerly of the United States navy, now a citizen of Georgia; and the "Duel between the Alabama and the Kearsarge," by Dr. John M. Browne, surgeon of the latter ship. These accounts give us a view of both sides of the contest, and are most interesting in their details and graphic in description. The papers are well illustrated with scenes during the fight. There are likenesses of Commodore Winslow, Capt. Thornton and Capt. Semmes.

Our readers have always had a lively interest in everything pertaining to the career of the Kearsarge. The ship was launched at our navy yard in December, 1861, and on the fifth of February, 1862, sailed from the yard under the command of Commander, now Commodore Charles W. Pickering, of the navy, under whose careful supervision she was fitted for sea. Under Commander Pickering the Kearsarge cruised for a year in the Mediterranean and around the Western islands in search of the Alabama, and late in 1863, the command was transferred to Capt. J. A. Winslow, who had the good fortune to come up with the long sought contestant on the 19th of June, 1864.

The story, which has been so often told and is here given, from the means of knowledge of the writers, may be regarded as correct. The fact that so many men from Portsmouth served in this battle has always added additional zest to the narrative of this naval battle. The name of the ship was suggested by a New Hampshire man, and adopted by the then assistant secretary of the navy, the late G. V. Fox, in honor of the state in which was the birthplace of his wife, a daughter of the late Levi Woodbury, so that laying aside all questions as to which mountain gave the ship its name, she has always been regarded, to a great extent, as a New Hampshire vessel.

Capt. Thornton's picture, from a photograph taken in 1864, seems to wear an expression of regret that his superior officer would not permit him to send a shot to bring the Deerhound, too while she was carrying the captain of the surrendered Alabama to the English shores, in violation of the usages of war. But our readers must enjoy these papers by their own reading of them. They are full of interest, and written in a style which brings back the scenes enacted within that one hour and two minutes time, on that bright Sunday morning, which shew to our neighbors on both sides of the English channel what a Portsmouth built ship with Portsmouth boys at the guns, and a righteous cause, could do to maintain the credit of the navy of the United States on the high seas, and rebuke the selfish conduct of Englishmen, for which Great Britain afterward had to pass us a check for fifteen and a half millions of dollars, a share of which will come to some of our merchants, we hope, before the summer is over.

THE LATE FIRE.

Mr. William S. Hadley was insured for $2,200, on his part of the building; while Messrs. N. S. and A. S. Folsom had $3,000 on teeirs. It was stated that Mr. Chandler and Mr. May were insured, but to what extent, could not be learned.

Mr. John F. Collarel, the tenant over the Globe Grocery Co., was not insured, and what he saved was badly damaged by water.

The prompt removal early Monday morning, of the debris from the sidewalk in front of the partially destroyed building, in which many years ago, the New Hampshire Gazette was printed, is an exhibition of energy on the part of the authorities of which we are glad to make note.

Miss Rand, a boarder at Mr. Lear's, and telegraph operator at the B. & O. telegraph office in this city, lost a pair of eye-glasses with a long gold chain attached, during the progress of the fire. If the person who was seen to pick them up, will return them to the telegraph office, they will be rewarded.

MUSIC HALL.

Of "Skipped by the Light of the moon," which is to be performed at Music hall this evening, the New York Herald says: "The play depends for its success upon the amusing antics of the principal performers. Two salesmen, Felix Crackle and Obadiah Dingle, leave their wives at home and go to Saratoga for 'a good time.' Their spouses believe that their lords are at a camp meeting in Connecticut, and also come to Saratoga for a vacation. The efforts of the two husbands to evade discovery are the pegs upon which hang many funny complications. 'Skipped by the Light of the moon' is a sparkling, farcial comedy, and will undoubtedly prove popular here for a long time to come."

AROUND HOME.

Elder Crossett immersed three converts at Nobles' island on Sunday last.

The several engine companies elected officers last evening.

J. Albert Walker, has reached Washington on his way home from Florida.

W. W. Carman, superintendent of the Portsmouth Machine company, has gone west, on a business trip.

Wm. Augustus Hodgdon is building a carriage house for Nathan Jones, adjoining his stables on Hanover street.

The train due here at 5:30 o'clock, P. M., was half an hour late on Monday, caused by an accident to the engine shortly after leaving Boston.

E. P. Kimball, president of the First National bank, recently started on a business tour to the south-west, and will visit Kansas City and other important points before his return home.

Mr. Frank W. Moses, of this city, will soon open the store in Congress block, formerly occupied by Willis G. Myers, for the sale of fine stationery, musical and art goods.

Mr. James R. Morrison, of Frye & Co.'s express, who has been spending the winter in Florida, arrived home on Monday the 4th inst., and will at once resume his regular trips to Boston.

Fast-day services will be held at the North church, Rev. O. H. Jasper of the Methodist church being the preacher. Members of other congregations are invited to attend.

The decorative stained glass window presented to St. John's church by Mrs. Pryun, is now being put in position by Mr. Donald McDonald of Boston, who pronounces it one of the finest specimens of art he has ever seen.

The aldermanic committee appointed to purchase a hose wagon for fire engine company No. 4 have contracted with Talbot & Moulton of Portland, Me., for a wagon of the latest pattern, and it will be delivered in about two months.

Mr. Martin H. Kingsbury has about completed a new barn, blacksmith shop and well at Beech ridge, York, and is ready to commence operations at his establishment.

At the annual meeting of Col. Sise Engine company No. 2, the following officers were elected:

Willard M. Gray, foreman;
Walter M. Bickford, 1st assistant foreman;
Fred A. Haraden, clerk;
Charles Goodwin, steward.

News was received in this city this morning, announcing the death Sunday evening at Annapolis, of Mr. A. Robeck, a former resident here, who established the confectionery business on Congress street. Mr. Robeck was well and favorably known in this city as an upright, earnest, and in every way honorable gentleman. He left this city some four years ago for Annapolis, since which time his son, Mr. Frank Robeck, has conducted the business. His age was about 70 years. He leaves a wife, one son and two daughters. Mr. Frank Robeck left this city last Tuesday for Annapolis, and the entire family were with the old gentleman at the time of his death.—Times.

Mr. Charles W. Kennard, formerly of this city, who for several years past has had an establishment for the sale of watches, jewelry, etc., opposite the Park street church in Boston, has retired from business. The store he has long occupied is to be taken down, and a new building will occupy the site. Mr. Kennard's successors are Messrs. Rand & Crane. The new firm will establish their business at No. 3 Park street. Mr. Wallace Rand, the senior member of the firm, is a son of the late Edward Rand, formerly of this city. Mr. Rand has long been favorably known to the patrons of Kennard & Co. He is well informed in the business, and one of the most popular gentlemen in the trade in Boston.

The mayors and city solicitors of Dover, Keene, Nashua and Manchester have been invited to meet the mayor and solicitor of Portsmouth next Friday at Boston, to talk over the new phase of the Knibbs valve suit.

The difficulties of obtaining a good Bath Sponge has been often commented on. It is a positive fact that some of the finest ever shown in New England can be seen at A. P. Preston's drug store.

The Mikado at the Globe theatre at Boston advertises to begin at 7:45 nightly, and patrons are invited to be in their seats promptly at that hour! In Portsmouth, the managers understand that 7:45 would interfere with the dinner hour, and eight o'clock is the very earliest time that can be fixed for the rise of the curtain, which means after half-past eight. Mr. Stetson, however, runs on time.

Capt Clark, of the schooner Gurnet, was at home on Sunday, making arrangements for the voyages of his vessel during the present season. The Gurnet is a new vessel, built only two years ago at Bath, of good material, and draws but six feet of water, so that she can sail into any creek on this river, and it is said that she sails very fast. She carries about 100,000 bricks, and will take five men during the season until November. Mr. George F. Seaver, of No. 30 Kilby street, Boston, agent of the Standard Fertilizing company is her agent, and she will make two more trips for the company before proceeding to load from the brick yards at Dover point.

In the patent suit, in the Circuit Court of the United States for this district, of George W. Ellis against the American Truss Company, a corporation located at Peterborough, for an alleged infringement of Ellis' letters-patent, Messrs. Frink & Batchelder, counsel for the company, at the rules of the court on Monday, the 5th inst., filed the answer of the defendant, denying that Ellis was the original inventor for the improvement in trusses described in his letters-patent; asserting that the alleged improvement was of no practical utility or value; and alleging its use by others before Ellis was granted his letters-patent.

The funeral services of the late Elder George Moore Payne at York were attended by a very large number of persons on Friday, despite the bad state of the roads. Elder Payne had officiated at over thirteen hundred funeral services; the peculiarly acceptable manner in which he conducted these rites caused him to be in requisition from places far and near. Until quite recently the elder seemed to be in excellent health, and vigorous in body and mind. His loss will be much deplored by a wide circle of friends.

A county convention in the interest of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be holden in the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church on Wednesday, April 7th, commencing at 10:30 A. M. and continuing through the day. Basket collation at noon. It is earnestly desired that every union in the county shall be represented; and all friends of the cause are cordially invited to attend. There will be devotional exercises, volunteer addresses, accounts of department work, question box, etc. Miss Wendell, corresponding secretary of the state union is expected to be present. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS FOR That Tired, Weary Feeling.

Sick Headache.
GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

Dyspepsia.
GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,

Headache and Biliousness.
GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but it did no so purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (certainly of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and it did not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. Once he had a ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of four years, as strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see his child now can testify to a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS K S. DRIGGS,
May 9, 1883. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of CATARRH, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

flower. By providing for the complete and adequate interpretation of operas it fosters the production of operas, and meanwhile it prepares the scene and the singers for the proper representation of any good opera wherever produced.

This is the American opera. It is a thoroughly appointed school of opera in America, and its continuance and prosperity will prove whether there is to be an American music drama; there is an Italian and a German music. Our only native music thus far is the plantation melody. It has been modified and transformed into the song of the negro minstrels. But the theme, the real motif is as characteristic and undeniable as the northern songs that Jenny Lind sang.

Hawthorne, saying that there was no romance in America, wrote an American romance which is one of the treasures of literature. The skeptic who, recalling the great operas and great singers and great performances, smiles to hear of American opera, will one day smile a thousand times more happily, when, thanks to those who have smoothed the way for its coming, he hears American opera.—George William Curtis, in Harper's Magazine for March.

The Sphinx.

It is reported from Cairo, Egypt, that it has been resolved to remove the mass of sand in which the greater part of the sphinx is buried. Mr. Maspero has intrusted the undertaking to the custodian of the museum of Bulach, Dr. Brugsch Bey, a brother of the Egyptologer, Brugsch Pasha. The work was commenced on Jan. 7, and it is expected it will require about three months before the excavation is completed. One hundred and fifty laborers are employed in removing the sand, of which it is estimated there are 750,000 cubic feet. A tramway has been built for the purpose of carrying this immense pile of sand out of the way. When the colossus has been unearthed a broad circular road will be constructed around it, which will be protected from the drifting sand by a substantial wall. It is expected the sphinx will reach the height of 70 feet, and will afford to the archæologist another interesting object of study in Egypt.

A family dialogue: Paterfamilias—"My boy, I shall have to punish you for breaking this vase." Sister Nell—"He didn't break it, papa!" Paterfamilias—"How do you know?" Sister Nell (triumphantly)—"I saw him didn't!"—Boston Record.

Twelve lawyers stood at the windows in the Circuit Court room recently watching a sparrow-hawk plucking the feathers from a sparrow which he had captured for his breakfast. The scene was very interesting to the attorneys.—Warsaw (Va.) Herald.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in this present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1885), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Athlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by four different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long, and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the much-sought relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which eased me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

A Confession.

I love you, love, with all my soul and being,
My heart acknowledges your reign alone.
All other dreams into the distance fleeing,
My heart, my life and I am all your own.
You deem my love is cold, devoid of passion,
But there are things sometimes we can not speak!
The deepest thoughts are hardest of expression,
And words, for love like ours, seem poor and weak.

But if your heart hath learned indeed to doubt me,
Ah! measure love of mine by strength of yours—
And think of what your life will be without me,
And know by that, all that my heart endures—
Ah! was it calm and cold when last we parted?
You knew not of the pain that stirred my breast.
You saw not in my eyes the quick tears started,
To know our love a vision of the past.

You bade me to forget, but recollection
Is e'en too strong to fade, tho' you may bid—
And mine is not a passionless affection
But will not die, altho' it must be hid:
Yet, end it! as you will, but love, remember,
Tho' short the days since first our pathways met,
Until burns low life's last faint dying ember,
I love you, love you, and can not forget!

JOHN B. GOUGH.

Sketch of the Remarkable Career of the Eloquent Temperance Orator.

John B. Gough, whose death occurred recently, was a native of Sandgate, in England, and was born in a poor little cottage on the 22d of August, 1817. His father was a common soldier in the British army, too poor to furnish the premium necessary to secure his apprenticeship to a trade. So, when he was 12 years of age, he was intrusted to the care of a family about emigrating to America. In consideration of the sum of ten guineas they agreed to take the boy with them, to teach him a trade and to provide for him until he became of age. On August 3, 1829, he arrived at New York, and was soon after taken to a farm in Oneida county. His early life in this country was one of poverty and hardship, and when his mother, who had joined him here with his sister in 1833, died, he ran behind the pauper's hearse which bore her body to the Potter's Field. Learning finally the trade of a book-binder, he worked at it for very low wages in New York and elsewhere, but gradually fell into habits of drunkenness. His experience at this time was varied by a brief career upon the stage, commencing with the singing of a comic song at a Chatham street theater, and terminating with a small part in a lurid melodrama in Boston. Settling in Newburyport, he went from bad to worse, and finally found himself at Worcester, where, in October, 1842, he was rescued from the degrading habit of drunkenness into which he had fallen, through the influence of Joel Stratton, a worthy shoe-maker. He has thus in his autobiography described the scene on the occasion when he signed the total abstinence pledge:

"When I stood up to relate my story, I was invited to the stand, to which I repaired; and, on turning to face the audience, I recognized my acquaintance who had asked me to sign. It was Mr. Joel Stratton. He greeted me with a smile of approbation, which relieved me of my task, as I trembingly observed every eye fixed upon me. I lifted my quivering hand, and then and there, told what rum had done for me. I related how I was once respectable and happy, and had a home; but that now I was a houseless, miserable, scathed, diseased and blighted outcast from society. I said scarce a hope remained to me of ever becoming that which I once was; but, having promised to sign the pledge, I had determined not to break my word, and would now affix my name to it. In my palsied hand I, with difficulty, grasped the pen, and in characters almost as crooked as those of old Stephen Hopkins on the Declaration of Independence, I signed the total abstinence pledge, and resolved to free myself from the inexorable tyrant—rum."

He soon relapsed, but the second time signed the pledge, and then he kept it. Soon after Mr. Gough's reformation, he began to lecture in behalf of total abstinence. At first he spoke to a few country-folk in school-houses and churches. Then he went to Boston, where, after 300 public addresses, he could draw larger audiences than any living man. For many years Mr. Gough was a member of Rev. Dr. Kirk's church, but of late years has been connected with the Congregational Church of Boylston, Mass.

He married Mary Whiteomb, of Worcester county, Mass., on the 24th of November, 1843. At the time of their marriage he was worth the cost on his back and ten silver dollars. That same evening he fulfilled an engagement to talk temperance in a school-house. She took him on trust, and stood by him until he rose into a world-wide fame as an orator and philanthropist.

During his first year as a public speaker, Mr. Gough made 383 speeches, and since he began he has appeared before an audience altogether 8,567 times up to the beginning of the present year. At a fair estimate he has spoken before 9,000,000 people, and has traveled over 450,000 miles in meeting his appointments.

Mr. Gough first went to England in 1853, and remained two years; he again went in 1857 and returned in 1860, and again in 1878 and returned the next year. During his three visits he made 1,260 speeches in England. He has lived to see a great change in public sentiment in England regarding temperance. When he first went to the old university in the city of Oxford, in 1854, he could find no man who would preside at his meeting. The capped and gowned students yelled at him for an hour and a half, but finally he got them to permit him to speak by appealing to their English love of fair play. The next time he visited the historic place

Is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the Bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices, if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and the bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

—"An order for three tons of capital I's," said the proprietor of the type foundry to the foreman. "What's up now?" asked the foreman; "new fishing story?" "Oh, no; another magazine article on the battle of Shiloh."

—"Yes," said a Boston man, bitterly, "it was a terrible marine disaster—terrible! I lost all I had." "I didn't know that you were on board the Oregon," said another Boston man. "Oregon? I'm talking about La Blanche."

—A Swiss mechanic has patented a steam velocipede that has attained a speed of over twelve miles an hour. Unless the coming man gets here soon he will have no use for legs.

—"Can February March?" asked the punster, with a sickly smile. "Perhaps not," replied the quiet man; "but April May." The punster had not another word to offer.

—A liquor dealer of San Antonio, Texas, appeals to the trade: "Fellow saloon men! Now that Moody and Sankey are expected to visit us, would in not be advisable to get the inside track of them by closing our establishments on Sunday?"

"I have thee on the hip," cried rheumatism seizing his victim and tossing him on a suffering bed. "Not so," he cried, "not so! Wait, my ancient foe, just five minutes, until the boy brings a bottle of Salvation Oil, then we'll see who wins the day."

A Chicago church, it is said, recently put up in the vestibule this sign: "Salvation is free, but pews are not." This is about the size of it.

Three Reasons

Why every one needs, and should take Hood's Sarsaparilla in the spring:—

1st: Because the system is now it its greatest need. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength.

2d: Because the blood is sluggish and impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies.

Stealing Government Land.

The United States grand jury at San Francisco have found indictments against eight prominent citizens of California, who represent a capital of $5,000,000, for subornation of perjury in a case of fraudulent entries of redwood timber land in Humboldt county, Cal. The indicted persons induced about 600 American citizens to take up 160 acres of land each, for which each received $50. The entries were in all cases immediately conveyed to David Evans, one of the indicted persons, and the California Redwood company afterward sent an agent to Scotland to form a syndicate and sell the lands. The syndicate paid the California Redwood company $20 an acre for the land, which, as shown, the latter had fraudulently purchased from the Government for $2.20 an acre. The land embraces 96,000 acres of the best redwood timber land on the coast.

A Boycott for Boycotters.

There were a million men idle last year by the general depression in our productive industries, and the loss of labor to the consuming power of the country was not less than five hundred millions. This year when the season opened with increased confidence that promised the diffusion of capital into industrial channels and enlarged employment for labor, labor has foolishly boycotted itself by driving all capital out of industrial enterprise that can get out, and by postponing all improvements that are not absolutely indispensable. Thus has labor boycotted labor fully a thousand millions for 1886, and when will the confidence so wantonly destroyed be restored, and the channels of industry again send out enlarged demands for labor? We appeal to intelligent workingmen to boycott the suicidal boycotters who are simply making labor boycott labor.—Philadelphia Times.

Comments on Senator Blair's Bill.

"I didn't think there would be such unanimity in the senate on that Educational bill," remarked a democrat to his republican friend.

"It couldn't be otherwise," was the reply.

"How was that?"

"Well, the democrats favored the appropriation, because democratic states were going to get the bulk of the money, and republicans favored it, because when the democrats get the education that money would secure, they would become republicans. See?"

"No, I don't," said the democrat in a huff.

A Portland man who owns a large number of fishing vessels telegraphed the department of state to ascertain whether he would have the right to send his vessels into a Dominion of Canada port to ship sailors.

The officials telegraphed a reply as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27, 1886.

American vessels of any character have a right to enter any port which is not actually blockaded for the purpose of shipping a whole or a part of a crew. But the right does not carry with it any other privilege. JAMES D. PORTER.

The owner at once gave orders to his fleet to recruit their crews in Dominion ports, if necessary, as he considered this dispatch a distinct warrant for such action. Later in the day he received the following dispatch, completely upsetting the previous one:

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27, 1886.

Department informed since sending telegram of this morning that American fishing vessels can only enter Canadian bays and harbors for shelter, damages, purchasing wood and obtaining water. This is under the concession of 1818.

JAMES D. PORTER,
Assistant Secretary.

The department had perhaps been posted in the meantime by the British minister at Washington as to what Great Britain claims in respect.

As Mr. Safford of Newburyport, an eminent democratic authority and a pupil of Gen. Caleb Cushing in the school diplomacy sententiously remarks in the Boston Traveller: "Government by 'information' is a new development in the political history of our country, and is not likely to command any considerable measure of popular approval. It may have its merits on the score of economy and celerity of decision, but it is not in the line of statesmanship, civic capacity, or official discipline."

Foster's Democrat seems out of patience with the administration because the places of responsibility are not at once open to such democrats as the Democrat regards entitled to appointments to office. The Democrat does not appear to perceive that the president is farming out the offices so that the patronage may continue all through the administration, or, at least, up to the time of the assembling of the next national convention. Mr. Cleveland apparently thinks that "here a little there a little" is better policy than dividing the party into two sections, the ins and the outs, with the offices disposed of in advance of the convention. The president and his advisers know a thing or two about politics as well as other folks.

The difficulties of obtaining a good Bath Sponge has been often commented on. It is a positive fact that some of the finest ever shown in New England can be seen at A. P. Preston's drug store.

Members of the Boston Tailor's Union paraded Monday morning to advertise the fact that they were on a strike. Between 400 and 500 men were in the line—an intelligent, well dressed, fine looking body of men.

Try Now to Catch Fortune's Fleeing Steps.

It makes no difference what happens elsewhere, the Monthly Grand Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery occur as announced, on the second Tuesday of each month at noon, in New Orleans, La., personally superintended by Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va. The next, the 191st Grand Monthly Drawing will come off on April 13th, 1886, and any information can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.

The Metropolitan street railway car stable, near Roxbury Crossing in Boston was burned on Sunday evening and two hundred and ninety-six horses were driven into the streets and ran in every direction, scattering the large crowd which had already collected. Several of the animals were blind and had to be led from the building. One of them ran over Mr. Barrows of Brookline, knocking him down and injuring him severely about the head and back. The entire stock of hay and straw was destroyed, the second floor badly damaged, and the roof is a total wreck. Loss about $7,000.

USE
RENEWER.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. IT WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." F. W. Sandkein, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

In 1881, E. S. Coe, of Maine, filed a petition in the supreme court of this state against the town of Errol for abatement of tax upon spruce logs, some of which had been cut in Maine, others in this state, and floated down Clear stream to Errol, to be thence floated down the Androscoggin river to Maine, to be there manufactured and sold. The logs were valued for taxation at $6000, and the selectmen of Errol based a tax upon them of $180. The court holds that the tax assessed on logs cut in Maine be abated, and on those cut in this state be sustained. The petitioners filed a writ of error in September, 1882, and carried their case to the Supreme court of the United States, and this court has affirmed the judgment of the state court, and holds that the title of property manufactured in a state being in a non-resident will not exempt it from taxation, and that manufactured goods or products of a state are not exempt from taxation as exports, though intended for exportation, until they have been shipped or entered with a common carrier for transportation.

DEATH OF ENOCH L. JONES.

Mr. Enoch L. Jones, well known to nearly all our citizens, as for some time one of the city teamsters, died at his residence Monday after a week's illness, at the age of 63 years. He was taken sick with pneumonia a week ago last Thursday, and was too feeble to recover from the shock, suffering as he was from the effects of hard work and trouble. He leaves a wife and several grown up children. The funeral will take place Thursday. Mr. Jones was for some years the driver of the Kearsarge engine company and the members of that company have during his sickness, aided him materially. A delegation of members will attend the funeral and act as pall bearers. Mr. Jones has also received assistance from workmen at the machine shop, and others.—Times.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., April 6th.

"March winds and April showers bring forth Mayflowers." So says the old saw, but we opine that it requires a few days of sunshine to ensure a healthy crop.

Mr. Oliver C. Haley was elected agent of school district, No. 2, in North Kittery at the meeting held on Saturday evening last.

Agreeable to the request of the committee chosen by Morrill Lodge of Good Templars, to arrange for the Gough memorial services, Rev Perry Chandler will deliver a sermon appropriate to the occasion on Sunday morning the 11th inst., in the 1st Methodist church at North Kittery.

The Good Templars of Kittery, comprising the three lodges, Morrill of North Kittery, Whipple of the Foreside and Pepperell of Kittery Point, have been invited by Rockingham Lodge of Portsmouth to attend the Gough memorial services in the North church, to be held under the auspices of that lodge on Sunday evening the 11th inst. Rev. Wm. A. McGinley, pastor of that church will address them. One of the large galleries has been reserved for the members of the different lodges, who will attend in a body, wearing the regalia of the order.

The condition of the roads about town never was worse than at the present time; the northeastern side of Pullet hill near Mr. James D. Plaisted's house was so bad last week that it required the persistent efforts of the residents there to get it in a condition safe for travel.

We understand that a family who have been living in Mr. Benjamin Keen's house of late, left suddenly one night last week, and that several articles of household goods which they had left to pay the rent went with them, the same being taken from the house by a Portsmouth job team. It will be a dear job for the one who got into the house and took the things if Mr. Keen finds out who it was.

Hen fruit is so cheap in some parts of Kittery that the hens are contemplating the idea of forming a co-operative union like the Knights of Labor, and go on a strike.

Morrill Lodge, I. O. G. T., is preparing for an entertainment during the next moon.

The annual session of the grand lodge of Good Templars of Maine, will be held at Augusta on Wednesday and Thursday, the 14th and 15th insts. Representatives from this district can go via the Boston & Maine railroad, at the rate of two cents per mile, by buying round trip tickets to Portland; other railroads from Portland to Augusta will charge one-half fare.

Mr. John P. Brooks, of North Kittery, has obtained a position as a civil engineer in St. Paul, Minn., and left town Monday morning for that city.

Morrill Lodge of Good Templars, of North Kittery, at its meeting on Friday evening last, voted to hold appropriate memorial services and drape its charter to the memory of the late John B. Gough, as per request of Right Worthy Templar Finch of the right worthy grand lodge.

Mr. Edward K. Smith, of Ashland, N. H., who taught the winter term of school in district No. 2, was in town last week, among his friends in that district.

Mr. Waldo Hanscome has remodelled his sailboat, and it is now in thorough condition for this summer's use. The boat is twenty-seven feet long, nine feet beam, and is cutter rig. She is considered by competent judges a first-class boat in every respect, and is a very fast sailer. Mr. Hanscome will sell provided he finds the right customer.

Miss Carrie Brown, of the Lower Village, is at present stopping in the family of Mr. S. L. Chesley, of Rye, N. H. Rumor has it that she contemplates making Rye her permanent home. SUB ROSA.

DECISION AGAINST THE BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD.

A rescript has been sent down from the supreme court in the case of Annie McKimble vs. the Boston & Maine railroad, an action of tort to recover damages for the death of Jeremiah McKimble. At the trial before the superior court it was shown that McKimble took passage at Boston on a train of the road, having a ticket for Malden. He found that the train did not stop at Malden, and he left it at Prison Point, which is not a regular station, but at a point where the road is obliged by law to stop its trains before crossing the Fitchburg Railroad. He left the train on the westerly side of the tracks, where no provision had been made for passengers, and was almost immediately killed by a freight train. At the trial in the superior court the defendant requested the court to rule that the plaintiff could not recover. It was contended that he forfeited his rights as a passenger by intentionally leaving the train at Prison Point, and also that he had forfeited his right by leaving the train on the westerly side, upon which no provision had been made for passengers. The court declined to rule as requested. There was a verdict for the plaintiff, and the defendant alleged exceptions. These have now been overruled for the reason that "there was sufficient evidence to go to the jury on behalf of the plaintiff."

AROUND HOME.

J. Albert Walker who has been staying at the Arlington in Washington, has left for Philadelphia on his way home.

A meeting of the committee on the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of St. Johns Lodge, will be held at Masonic hall this evening, for the purpose of appointing the various sub-committees.

On Thursday, (Fast Day according to Gov. Currier's proclamation) services appropriate to the occasion will be observed in the North church at half-past ten o'clock. Rev. Dr. Jasper of the Methodist church will officiate. All are invited.

Rather a small audience witnessed the performance of "Alone in London" Monday night. The play is an exceptional strong one and has many thrilling situations. The parts were well taken, especially that of Miss Tanner, who was much applauded, and called before the curtain. The scenery was very realistic and added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

William H. Dodge, formerly an attorney-at-law at Dover, and well known in this city, but now of Des Moines, Iowa, has just sued the proprietors of the Iowa State Leader for $20,000 damages for publishing him as a "drunken dead beat." The trial occurs in two weeks. Dodge was a prominent lawyer in Dover until three years ago, when he was debarred from further practice in the state for some crooked business.

There was a report about town yesterday afternoon that a brig had been driven ashore on Rye beach during the heavy gale, but we could not trace the rumor to any authentic source.

J. Edward Pickering who is engaged in teaching at Braintree, Mass., is home spending the week at the homestead of his father, John Andrew Pickering, Esq., whose family is noted for the excellent teachers with which we have been supplied many of the best schools in Massachusetts.

The iron sloop "Priscilla" has been purchased by Commodore A. Canfield, who will now give his whole attention to the alterations that he thinks are necessary to improve her speed. The yacht is hauled out at Wilmington, Del., at the yard where she was built, and from the nature of the material there is no doubt some very radical changes in her model are feasible.

The heavy rain of last night no doubt prevented many, who would have visited Music hall, from witnessing one of the funniest pieces that has been produced here this season. Those who did attend were well paid for their trouble.

The Globe Grocery Co. has secured temporary quarters at No. 31 Market street, opposite Ayers & Locke.

Every one in Portsmouth twenty-five years ago knew that the best place to buy a good ham was at Leonard Akerman's, at corner of State and Penhallow streets. One day, a lady purchaser, said to the experienced grocer, "I purchased three or four hams here some time since, and they were very nice indeed. Have you any more like them?" "Oh, yes, madam," replied the accommodating dealer, pointing to a lot of hams hanging to the rafters above their heads. "Are you sure they are from off the same hog?" persisted the purchaser. "Yes, ma'am," returned the merchant who anticipated the sale of another lot of his choice hams. "Then," said she, "I will take three more of them." They were at once sent up by Robert Tripp's slow express.

A county convention in the interest of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be holden in the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church on Wednesday, April 7th, commencing at 10:30 A. M. and continuing through the day. Basket collation at noon. It is earnestly desired that every union in the county shall be represented; and all friends of the cause are cordially invited to attend. There will be devotional exercises, volunteer addresses, accounts of department work, question box, etc. Miss Wendell, corresponding secretary of the state union is expected to be present. Please extend this notice. MRS. R. D. SMART.

WASHINGTON, April 6. The following special announcement is made by the Weather Bureau—A storm of considerable energy is now central over Chesapeake Bay. It will be unusually severe on the New England coast.

The case of Mrs. Anna A. Coolidge, convicted of conspiracy with Adrian L. Mellen of Baltimore to murder a daughter-in-law of the latter, was brought before Judge Blodgett of the superior criminal court at Boston, for sentence on Monday. Judge Blodgett gave her a term of three years at the women's prison at Sherborn.

In reporting back to the house the bill "To consolidate certain bureaus of the department of the navy," the committee on naval affairs says that the present organization of the navy department is largely the creature of executive orders and customs so long acquiesced in that they have almost the force of a positive law. The bureaus at present seem to stand in relation to each other and to the secretary in a manner precisely analogous to the relations the departments of the government bear to each other and to the president. In other words these eight little bureaus have become eight little navy departments. This division of powers and duties brings about many conflicts of authority, and results in much needless expenditure of money. It is doubtful how far the secretary would have power to consolidate authority which the law had indicated an intention to distribute among separate bureaus. A former secretary tried and failed and the present secretary does not believe he is equal to the task. The bill reported leaves the secretary his discretionary power in the distribution of business, but proposes a different organization. Leaving the bureaus of navigation, ordnance, and medicine and surgery to remain as at present, it abolishes the other five bureaus, and creates a bureau of material construction and repair, and a bureau of supplies and accounts. Under the first will be brought everything relating to the building and equipment of a vessel except ordnance.

Why were out continual coughing at night, when Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve, soothe, and cure.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

MRS. D. C. BODLE, Orange, Luzerne Co., Pa.

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON, Chelsea, Vt.

Headache and Biliousness.

GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so acrious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

MRS. DANIEL H. HERR, Lancaster, Pa.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died a few months before. He was a great deal more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forcing in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and when taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child's form and the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one INFFHOVA INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

was in 1878. What a change! He was entertained by the well-known author, Professor Green, and by the great philologist Max Muller, and Canon Ellison presided at his meetings. When he landed at Liverpool he was presented with an address of welcome signed by 100,000 "teetotalers" of England.

Up to 1860, he spoke exclusively upon temperance, but in that year he was persuaded, after much hesitation, to deliver in New Haven a lecture on "Street Life in London." This proved as great a success as his temperance discourses, and was followed by "Lights and Shadows of London Life," "Eloquence and Oratory," "Peculiar People," "Fact and Fiction," "Habit," "Curiosity," and others with which thousands of his admirers are familiar. He has continued to lecture on temperance whenever and wherever he is asked to do so, but of late years has been most frequently heard on other subjects. When he began these outside discourses, he was accused of deserting the temperance cause, but responded that he had done nothing of the sort, but had simply exercised his right to talk on any subject he pleased.

To John B. Gough, said the Philadelphia Telegraph, of a recent date, belongs the unique distinction of having addressed more human beings than any man now living on our globe. And no man living has been the innocent occasion of so much hearty laughter and as many honest tears. Spurgeon began ten years later than Gough, and has probably not spoken more than half as often. Henry Ward Beecher did not rise into celebrity until Gough had been for a half dozen years the prince of platform speakers. For over forty years no speaker has commanded such crowds who were eager to pay for the privilege of listening to the most exciting of discourses delivered in the most dramatic voice and gesticulation. As an orator, Mr. Gough reached his climax of power thirty years ago. His voice was then as musical as a flute, with marvelous power in the tender, pathetic passages. Long and hard service has made it somewhat harsh and husky, but it is still an instrument of rare compass and flexibility. Sometimes he overacts, especially when weary. But in the days of his highest glory man could surpass him in delineation of character and in impersonations of "all sorts and conditions" of humanity. He has often been a mother, a child, a pleading wife, a brutal husband, a plantation negro, a Scotch deacon, a Frenchman, a raw Irishman, a pompous coxcomb, a poor, besotted toper, all in one hour's address. And he excelled in every character. If he had chosen to be an actor he would probably have been one of the greatest comedians of the age.

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know oft I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

WOMEN AS GARDENERS.

Circumstances that Place Gardens on Western Homesteads in the Hands of Women.

If there are to be beautiful flowers and fine vegetables raised in gardens attached to farms in the newly-settled states and territories of the west it is likely that they will be produced by women. As a rule western farmers do not take kindly to the raising of flowers or fine vegetables. They have become so accustomed to the use of machines and implements operated by horses that they do not like to handle small tools, like the garden hoe, rake, and dibble. Having become used to killing weeds in the fields by the employment of the plow and cultivator, they dislike to destroy them in the garden by pulling them out of the ground by hand. In a majority of cases western farmers who keep no help have very little time to devote to garden work. The season for preparing lands for crops, for sowing, planting, cultivating, and harvesting is very short, and the time of the farmer must be devoted to the fields. If hired men are employed on the farm the chances are that they know next to nothing about gardening operations. They are very awkward in the use of garden tools, and if they are foreigners it is quite likely that they are unacquainted with our methods of raising flowers and vegetables. In European countries field laborers do not raise flowers, garden vegetables, and small fruits.

The men on western farms can be relied on to apply the manure to a plat of land set apart for a garden, to plow it, to make the surface soil smooth and light, to open walks, if they are desired, and to harvest the vegetables that remain in the ground in the fall. They will also provide brush for supporting pea vines, set poles for running beans, and on rainy days they will transplant vegetables from the hot-bed or nursery row to the places where they are to land and make their growth. A few men will manage cabbage plants, beets, carrots, and turnips through the season, as they can do most of the work with a cultivator. If the table is to be supplied with lettuce, celery, cress, tomatoes, egg plant, fine peas, beans, and sweet corn, they must in the majority of cases be raised by women. If there are to be flowers in and about the house the women must raise them. Men do not like to bother with squash, melon, and cucumber vines, though they have no aversion to eating the fruit they produce. Of every hundred beds of cultivated strawberries found on western farms an investigation would show that ninety-nine were planted and cultivated by women. Most of the other small fruits produced on western farms are raised by women.

It may be admitted that the wives and daughters of western farmers have work enough to do without taking part in tilling of the soil. Besides their general household duties they have the milk to take charge of, and generally they have the care of the fowls. The men have more machines to lighten their labors than the women have. Still it is likely that the women on most farms would derive benefit by tending a flower, vegetable, and fruit garden. It furnishes a change of occupation and creates a necessity for exercise in the open air and sunshine. A supply of fine vegetables and small fruits serves to diminish the amount of cooking required. Less discomfort is produced by handling the hoe and rake in the sun than by standing over a hot cooking stove. There is actual pleasure in raising fine vegetables, small fruits, and flowers, as is evident from the fact that many persons of wealth, refinement, and leisure adopt gardening as a pastime. The laying-out, planting, and cultivation of a garden exert a refining influence on the persons engaged in them. A woman who is a good gardener is generally a good housekeeper. The habits of care and order employed in the garden are likely to be transferred to the house.

There is nothing degrading about garden work. It is an employment in which ladies of rank and quality have been engaged in all ages and countries. In the days of slavery the wives of southern planters did very little work in the house, but they took great pride in their proficiency as gardeners. They delighted in having the earliest peas and asparagus, the tenderest lettuce, the largest tomatoes, and the finest strawberries. Ordinary garden work is not very hard. Any woman who can use a broom or mopstick can handle a hoe or rake without being fatigued. A great many kinds of light garden tools are now made expressly for the use of women. It is as easy to make a bed of flowers to grow in as a bed for people to sleep in. Nothing pertaining to the management of a garden is as hard as washing and ironing. With gloves to protect the hands and a broad-brimmed hat or sun-bonnet, garden work may be performed without endangering personal beauty, which it is the duty of every woman to preserve. Garden work calls in exercise in turn every muscle in the human body, and in that way aids in securing beauty in form and graceful ness in movement.—Chicago Times.

Governmental Meddling, and What Came of it.

 Tariffs of rates have, however, been established without discrimination, but their workings have shown that they were established with as little discretion as discernment. An illustration of such a case is afforded by the experience of Germany, the history of which is given in the testimony before the committee on fares and rates of the Parliament of Great Britain. The Government, in conformity with its military spirit, which admits of only unquestion-

The hours of work at the Cochece woollen manufacturing company's mill at East Rochester, N. H., on and after the 5th inst., will be reduced from sixty-six to sixty hours per week. This act is voluntary. Fortnightly instead of monthly payments are also adopted from March 1st, also unsolicited. The employes desire to publicly express their gratitude to their employers. This concern is controlled and operated by Parker, Wilder & Co. of Boston, Charles E. Manson resident agent, Everett M. Sinclair, superintendent.

To Spur a Jaded Appetite

Is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use, and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the Bitters is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach, and purifies its juices, if vitiated, as well as promotes their secretion in healthful abundance. The stomach having, in conjunction with the liver and the bowels, been regulated, and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns, as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments, and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

—"An order for three tons of capital I's," said the proprietor of the type foundry to the foreman. "What's up now?" asked the foreman; "new fishing story?" "Oh, no; another magazine article on the battle of Shiloh."

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills. Price 25 cents.

Fast.

Governor Currier, before starting on a visit to Washington, issued a fast proclamation appointing Thursday as a day of "fasting, penitence and prayer."

Like the Thanksgiving proclamation of his excellency, there was nothing puritanic or dictatorial in the recommendation. The governor knew that his people would spend the day pretty much as they pleased, and he drew it mild as to suggestions.

We noticed recently that several prominent clergymen in Massachusetts had expressed opinions as to the propriety of maintaining this ancient custom of observing Fast day. The general sentiment of these worthy men appeared to be that Fast day, as such, did not amount to much. True, in Boston, the best families, instead of assembling in their several places of worship clad in sack-cloth and ashes, don their seal-skin sacks and go down to the sea-shore to examine the condition of their summer cottages, and estimate the needed sums for renewals and repairs for the coming season; while in other parts of that time-honored but wicked commonwealth, nearly everything but divine worship is observed on such days. But it has not reached this pass in good New Hampshire.

As becomes the senior newspaper of the United States, which should set a good example, no paper will be issued from this office on Friday. We shall conform to the governor's suggestion and observe Fast day at least by such abstinance as that, while our readers may seek such consolations in churches or benefits at base ball grounds, as shall best conduce to their own ideas of a proper observance of the day.

The governor suggests that it is in order for the people to "honestly look back over the period of their past lives so to take account of their lost opportunities, etc." If there are any old subs. who have an unsettled account on our books to which they would like to "honestly look back" we will have some one at the desk bright and early Friday morning, to wait upon them, and give them an opportunity to find what may be due us. In short, we intend to keep fast in a proper manner, and to respect the proclamation of the governor and heed the advice of the council, even if we have to abstain from our usual avocations and do not carp a rap for the day.

Decision in Favor of the Manchester & Keene Railroad.

In the Supreme court of the United States, on the 5th inst., the motion to dismiss filed by the defendants in the suit of Alex. Bruce and others against the Manchester & Keene railroad was granted. The suit was originally brought in October, 1881, in the Circuit court of the United States for this district, and after a hearing the bill was dismissed by Judge Clark in 1884. The case was then removed by the plaintiffs to the supreme court at Washington. The ground of the defendants motion was that matter in dispute was of a less sum than is required to give the supreme court jurisdiction. The plaintiffs coupons on unpaid bonds amounted to less than $2000. The bonds are not due till 1896, and they cannot be declared payable in default of payment of interest, unless on a request of holders of a majority of these bonds. These, plaintiffs only had a small holding.

J. W. Fellows of Manchester, and Frank W. Hackett of this city, were counsel for the defendant. The M. & K. R. is now owned jointly by the Boston & Lowell and the Concord railroads, who defended this suit as parties in interest.

A Fair Fight and No Gouging.

Solicitor-General Goode, in his testimony in the Pan-electric investigation, apparently came to his work properly coached and carefully groomed. He was cautious, and like a well trained witness, answered only as called upon to reply. Concerning the counsel employed, the people who pay these bills learn from Mr. Goode that under a reform administration the patronage is placed where it will do the most good.

It seems that of the counsel in the present suit, Hunton and Chandler have received $2000 already and are to get $3000 more; Whitman has received $1000 and is to have $2000 more; Lowry is to receive a retainer of $1000 and $15 an hour whenever employed in taking testimony in New York and $20 an hour when engaged in the case away from New York, five hours to constitute a day's work. With Judge Thurman a blind contract has been made. He has a retainer of $1000 and as much in addition for his services as he may see fit to demand, but he has promised, verbally, not to "gouge" the government.

One would infer that if Thurman agreed "verbally" not to gouge the government there is at least a likelihood that the others may scoop out as the poet remarked, a goodly slice from the treasury for their "retainers."

I suffered from rheumatism the most excruciating pain for three months, lost flesh and appetite, and was almost helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros relieved me, and though I am weak I am gaining every day. Mrs. B. F. Brown, Vineyard Haven, Mass.

David P. Ilsley, the well-known dealer in hats and furs in Boston, died at his home in Chelsea on Friday, the 2d inst. He was a native of Portland, Me., and had a brother in Exeter. He was a member of the firm of A. Merrill & Sons.

An examination of the affairs of the late B. W. Hoyt by an expert accountant shows that the B. W. Hoyt Co. has assets enough to pay the debts of the corporation, and if Hoyt's sureties on his bond as treasurer are held, there will be a small dividend for the stockholders of this unfortunate concern.

The successful candidate for the naval cadetship before the Lynn examining board was William A. Snow, Jr., of Winchester, Mass. The alternate is Samuel Franklin Cones, Jr., from the naval hospital, Chelsea, Mass.

The New York brewers threaten a strike, but a compromise is likely to result, it is said. They complain that it is too much work and too little pay that ails them. They make no allowance for the gratuitous beer they are permitted to imbibe.

The schooner Sylvanus G. Haskell, owned principally by S. G. Haskell of Deer Isle, Me., was lost at Abaco, on her way from New York to Galveston. She was 330 tons, built in Millbridge in 1883 and valued at about $20,000. She was partially insured.

USE

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, Nashua, N. H., writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. It WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful." F. T. Sandhein, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and, realizing that I was fast becoming bald, I tried, as a last resort, Hall's Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

commends itself to all who have occasion to use a dye for the beard or mustache. It will change gray, faded, or sandy whiskers, to a beautiful brown or black, as desired. The colors produced are natural and lasting. It cannot be washed off, contains no destructive ingredients, is cheap, safe, convenient to use, and effectual.

Samuel Davidson of Corydon, Ind., failed to supply his family with enough wood to keep them warm. A lot of his neighbors seized him, the other evening, hitched him to a sled, and forced him to haul wood all night. When he lagged he was well whipped with limber switches.

"His dark-colored, cutaway, frock coat," writes a novelist, describing an American dandy, "fitted his handsome form without a wrinkle, almost as smoothly as a mole skin on the back of its plump little owner. His large, glossy cuffs showed prominently below the sleeves of his coat. His cuff buttons consisted of a single alligator's tooth of exquisite polish set in plain gold. They had been presented by a friend who spent his winters in Florida. Roker's collar was immaculate. His flowered silk tie was a dainty product of high art in the furnishing goods line. His boots exhibited the perfection of the polishing art. He carried a twisted cane, and was just lighting a choice Havana cigar."

An old Western hunter, hearing of a white deer being killed near Chico, said: "It's bad luck. In the fall of '53 I was living on Feather River, putting in time hunting, mining and trapping. My claim was paying first-rate; I was getting lots of beaver, and you bet I was on the high road to fortune. But one unlucky day I shot and killed one of the most beautiful white deer I ever saw, but it looked sad to see the blood running from its heart upon the snowy hair. Well, sir, from that day on I had the wrtcnedest sort of luck. My traps failed to get beavers, I never got any more game, my mine played out, and, the worst of all, I fell and broke my right leg. I am not a believer in signs and omens, but I'll be writing to bed my life that the killing of that white deer caused my bad luck."

THE WEATHER.

Rain and snow, generally followed by clearing weather.

Cloudy.

THE STORM.

The northeast steam, though it has done but little damage in our own immediate vicinity, has been severely felt in different parts of the country. The small spire above the bell tower of the Middle street church felt the force of the wind and took a decided list towards the southwest, and presenting on Wednesday morning a very rakish appearance. A chimney was blown down on Newcastle street, also one on High street. A schooner was driven ashore in the lower harbor, on the Newcastle side. At Plum island, the British schooner Beta of and from Halifax bound to Boston, went ashore about eight o'clock on Wednesday evening, while the gale was at its height. There were sixteen persons on board, including nine passengers. All were rescued though suffering much from exposure. The telegraphs report a heavy fall of snow in Ohio, and floods in New York state, on the Potomac and Ohio rivers.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

The service in memory of the late John B. Gough, under the auspices of Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars, will be held next Sunday evening, at the North church, the address to be given by the Rev. W. A. McGinley. Invitations have been extended to Strawberry Bank Lodge of this city, to the several lodges in Kittery, and to Hope Division, Sons of Temperance of Newcastle, to join in the service.

A grand excursion for the ladies, is announced for Wednesday, the 14th, by Almy, Bigelow & Washburn, of Salem. The last one was very popular, and the ladies in this section find the great Salem store a very desirable place to trade. See advertisement.

Messrs. George H. Abbott, Mark H. Wentworth and John Sise have been drawn as jurors from ward two, to serve the term of court to open at Exeter on the 2d Tuesday of this month.

The Wentworth is to open this year on Saturday, July 3d. Guests arriving before that date will be entertained in the new Rockingham. W. K. Hill is to be manager, aided by Chas. H. Marden, assistant manager.

There is said to be a lady in Kittery who is so extremely sensitive that when she takes the Mystic, at the foot of Daniel street, she will never pass the pile of undressed lumber on Broughton's wharf without looking the other way and blushing. But perhaps Rashe overstates this.

Mr. John Lear, who was burned out on Monday morning last, has had his insurance promptly adjusted by the well known firm of Morse & Tisley.

Rev. Charles R. Crossett of the Second Advent church, of this city, has tendered his resignation as pastor. The same has been accepted by the society and he will preach his farewell sermon on the first of May, proximo.

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York, has paid $20,128, the amount of policy on the life of Noble H. Hill, late of Boston, a gentleman well known in this city.

Mr. Rider, manager of the Globe Grocery, has reopened on Market street, to which place he has moved his stock. Through the efforts of Mr. Pender, who had charge of Mr. Rider's insurance, the adjusters arrived on Tuesday and in less than thirty hours after the fire was discovered, Mr. Rider had in his possession a draft covering the loss.

A. T. Pierce of the American house, Dover, would like to be United States marshal for New Hampshire. So would two gentlemen in Concord, and one at Manchester. There is one of the members of the legislature from this city who it is said, might be urched to take the position.

Messrs. John S. Wendell and Leonard Manson have been appointed by the city authorities to take the enumeration of children between five and fifteen years of age, residing in this city; they will also ascertain the number of dogs, and the enrolment of the militia. The enumeration of the children is quite important, as upon that depends Portsmouth's share of the literary fund to be received from the state.

The royal commission of Benning Wentworth, governor of the province of New Hampshire from 1741 to 1767, has recently been found in the Athenæum. It appears that it was deposited in that institution in 1827, enclosed in a box made especially for it. It was placed in a drawer or alcove, and was known only to a few of the officials. It is in a perfect state of preservation, about thirty inches square, with a pendant seal of solid wax five inches in diameter. It will be framed and hung upon the walls of the reading room.

The statement in certain Boston newspapers on Monday that Hon. Frank Jones was quite sick, was entirely without foundation. Mr. Jones, we are glad to announce, has steadily gained in health since his return from Boston, and we trust, will by a careful observance of the advice of his medical attendant, continue to improve in this respect.

The Third Army corps, of which the gallant Second New Hampshire was one of the company regiments, will have a re-union at Boston to-day.

At Eau Claire, Wisconsin, on the 30th ult., Mrs. Larscrindal, aged thirty-seven years, gave birth to four male babies. They are doing well.

The buildings of Henry Woodard, at West Littleton, with contents, were burned yesterday. Loss, $1,000; insured for $550. The fire caught from a chimney.

The printing and publishing department of the salvation army in London appears to be somewhat remunerative. During the year ending September 30, 1885, the sum of $63,772.54 was obtained from the sale of books and from printing, and $120,677.43 from the sale of the official periodicals.

At the South Boston Iron Foundry Tuesday, the fifth and last of the large rifled cannon ordered by the government was successfully cast under the supervision of Capt. Ligle and Lieut. Borup of the army and Commander Lyon of the navy. One of the guns has a ten-inch bore and the others are twelve inch rifles. The gun made Tuesday was a twelve-inch one, and this was the fourth time that it was cast. Three times the casting proved a failure on account of unforeseen accidents.

The democratic state committee had a business session at Augusta, Me., on the 6th inst. Chairman Brown is still at the helm. Wm. A. Cromwell of South Berwick, who is as yet one of the outs, criticised in no measured terms some of the appointments by the federal administration. He did not blame the president as much as his bad advisers for this result. John Hanscom, a life-long democrat, and editor of the Biddeford Sentinel, also made remarks. The tone of the meeting was support for the president until he fills the offices, but blank those fellows who have thus far got in. There was a general feeling of disgust expressed at the way in which the Kittery navy yard had been managed; one ardent speaker insisting that the yard might as well be in New Hampshire for any political help it was to the democracy of Maine. Wm. H. Clifford, it is said, will succeed Judge Cleaves of Portland, to be vanquished by Congressman Reed. The meeting abounded in a hopeful despondency at the existing state of affairs, some of the members evincing a solemn cheerfulness at the outlook for the coming campaign.

We can without hesitation, say that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has given the best satisfaction. We have sold an immense amount of it during the past winter. Wallace, Hilton & Co., druggists, Lock Haven, Pa.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A scab came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him. His mother having died a few days before, being more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course), he could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and I continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a long time matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal up. Many of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child I have given the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. F. S. DRIGGS,
May 3, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, having been with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and refreshed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

ing obedience to arbitrary order, enforced on the railways a uniform and unvarying system of charges. Having fixed the tariffs in its own country at rates which to it were satisfactory, it adopted the principle that no through rates should be given except on the basis of these local charges. Thus traffic, for instance, between Belgium, or Holland and Austria, might be brought up to the German frontier at whatever rate those states chose to fix, but, immediately upon entering on German territory, the local tariffs should apply. As a result, the through traffic was driven from the railroads to the rivers, and exports from Austria found their way to the sea on the Elbe and the Rhine. After the enforcement of the policy had "utterly destroyed" this through traffic on the German Railways, the administration decided to profit by the experience to abandon their unnatural policy, and attempt to get back the traffic. Accordingly, they issued a tariff which is instructive as showing how completely they gave up their artificial system and recognized in railway rates the natural forces controlling commerce. The heading of the tariff reads, "Exceptional tariff to and from the German seaports, for goods traffic between Hamburg, Harburg, Bremerhaven, Geestemude, Bremen, and Regensburg, and Passau stations. To come in force on and from March 1, 1882. This tariff will apply only to goods traversing Germany and passing beyond Regensburg and Passau, and out of the district of the German customs, and in consignments of ten tons per truck and above (wood excepted). Smaller consignments will be charged at usual rates. Articles included in the exceptional tariff." It then continues to enumerate articles under seven "special tariffs." The testimony before the commission on this subject concludes as follows: "Now that shows that the strongest government in the world, I suppose, can not interfere with the course of traffic except at its peril, and, if they attempt to impose upon the commerce of the country an impossible system, they come to grief.—Gerrit L. Lansing, in Popular Science Monthly for March.

A Kansas man is sawing wood in the navy-yard at Washington. Thus the unexpected happens. He went there for a post-office commission and, up to date, can only say: I came, I saw."—Boston Record.

"Some one in England has put the Salvation Army into a novel." This must be an agreeable change for the army. Heretofore the rule seems to have been to put it into a station-house.—Norristown Herald.

Wife (looking over the paper)—"I see that Cotopaxi is experiencing some internal disorders." Husband (indifferently)—"I'm glad of it. Now that we have Amerenth opera we are perfectly independent of those foreign artists."—Puck.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

GEO. C. BOERUM, U. S. N.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism. E. P. HEATH.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

GUSTAF NELSSON, 216 Harrison Av.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism. E. S. RICHARDS.
50 Washington street.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

Our Grandmother's Cooking.

Most of our modern dishes are very delicious. Catherine Owen and Miss Parloa are blessings to mankind, and yet I often wonder why so many of my grandmother's dishes are obsolete. Who knows what "cummoddle" is? All I know is that it's a dainty bit of lean pork rolled in some kind of a mixture and fried very brown. My knowledge ends here. I may not have the name spelled right, but that is the way it is pronounced. And "scrappel,"—our butcher says he has "scrappel," and such stuff as it is; not the least earthly resemblance does it bear to the scrappel my grandmother made. And how many housewives make "souse" in this day and age of the world? It is twenty years since I ate "souse" that was "souse" and not a pasty, lumpy, tasteless mixture of pig's feet and vinegar. It always reminds me of glue. Noodle soup is so simply and easily made that anybody ought to be able to make it well, and yet I defy Miss Parloa, herself, to make it so that it will look and taste and smell just like my dear old grandmother's noodle soup. I remember that her favorite seasoning was "pasely," and it don't seem to me that it is used so very much now. The last noodle soup I ate was at one of the best hotels in America. The noodles were in great, hard, white looking chunks. Again I have had a string or two of vermicelli or maccaroni put into a weak broth and set before me as "genuine noodle soup."

The cookies of the present day are good, so good, indeed, that I often feel like rebelling when Mrs. Dane doles her's out to me in vegarly lots of four and five at a time. They are good, but they are not like Grandmother Dane's cookies of twenty years ago. Her's were yellow and half or three-quarters of an inch thick and all specked through and through with caraway or anise seeds, and they tasted—well, I can't begin to tell how good they did taste. Maybe it was because I stole them that they tasted so good. I used to slip into the "buttery" and surreptitiously extract cookies, a dozen at a time, from the stone jar in which they were put on a high shelf. Sometimes grandmother caught me in the act and then—but there are scenes in the lives of most women and men that they would gladly blot out from the pages of memory. This is one of the scenes I wish to forget.

I sometimes buy "cottage cheese" of our milkman. My grandmother called it "smear-case." I spell it just as she pronounced it. She used to mix it with egg and sugar and spices and make some kind of a pie with a sweet crust that was ever so good. Who knows anything about it? Her ginger-bread, ginger cookies and raised doughnuts were things I like to think about when I am very hungry. But I never worry my wife with those reflections. The Lord's best gift to me was boundless good nature and an optimistic tendency toward the belief that everything that befalls me is for the best. The "Ten Dollars a Week" bill of fare is good enough for our family of five, if none of my grandmother's dishes are in it.—Zenas Dane, in Good Housekeeping.

Hancock and Cleveland.

A New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer writes: I am reminded by Gen. Hancock's funeral of an incident at the Windsor hotel the last time I met him. It was Decoration day, 1885, in which he was the prime factor and President Cleveland a participant. Gen. Hancock came early from Governor's Island. He ordered champagne in the parlor set aside for himself and aids, and they were sipping it when President Cleveland, Secretaries Endicott and Whitney, and Postmaster General Vilas were ushered in. The president had come from Secretary Whitney's house in Fifth avenue, and they were to await at the Windsor the starting of the parade. The members of the cabinet were soon engaged in the same pleasant task as the officers. The president stood back by the big fireplace. Different members of the party engaged him in conversation. No one, however, had the courage to offer him a glass of wine, especially as the door was partly open and persons were passing and repassing who looked in to see the notables. Gen. Hancock glanced over at the president once or twice, and finally said, quite loudly, to the waiter in attendance: "Is there any water here, waiter? The president would like a glass of water."

Meanwhile he had passed a large goblet nearly full of champagne without anyone in the room paying much attention to him. The waiter pointed out a water-set at the side of the room. Gen. Hancock went over to it, and went through the motion of pouring water into the goblet. Then he stepped up to the president and said, with a bow: "Mr. President, will you not have a glass of water? You look thirsty."

Mr. Cleveland took the glass with a smile and drank a part of its contents, thanking the general for his courtesy. It was a cleverly executed piece of strategy, hospitality, and courtesy.

A Taxidermist Tells Some Secrets.

"We will undertake to preserve and fix up any kind of bird or animal, from a humming-bird to an elephant," said a taxidermist to a reporter recently, "and, I might just as well add, from a bee to mammoths."

"Are there many in this city who pursue your art?"

"About twenty. Too many altogether for any of us to do any decent business. It is not an easy trade to learn. Sometimes a man may accomplish it in a few months; sometimes it will take a much longer time. It depends upon the natural good judgment and dexterity of the pupil. A little carelessness or want of skill will often

When Not in Postive Agony.

The rheumatic are seldom free from a certain soreness or stiffness in the joints and muscles, which serves as a constant reminder that the virus only waits an unfavorable change of weather, or the aid of a cold, to emphasize its presence with excruciating twinges. To prevent the recurrence and mitigate the pain, there is no finer or safer source of relief than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine every way preferable to the poisons, repeated infinitesimal doses of which are taken, to the prejudice of health and the jeopardy of life, and without a permanently remedial effect. Sleep banished by rheumatic and neuralgic pain at night, is restored by this beneficent soother of the nervous system, and the slumber which it superinduces is far more refreshing and beneficial than the stupor into which the brain is thrown by a narcotic. Appetite and digestion, as well as sleep, are improved by it, and it is an admirable regulator and tonic for the bowels and kidneys. Use it for rheumatism before retiring.

E. R. Hard has brought suit on behalf of R. E. Weller, against the city of Burlington, Vt., for $5,000 damages for injuries received by being run into by a coasting party.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills. Price 25 cents.

The Secretary of the Treasury.

We are glad to note an improvement in Secretary Manning's health. He is an able man and knows too much about politics to permit the party to commit blunders into which it naturally falls, if he can prevent it. It has been frequently asserted that just before his recent attack, there was a difference between the president and his able secretary upon certain questions, on which occasion, Grover, with his customary firmness, was not as considerate of his duties and obligations to Mr. Manning as he should have been, and that it was this in point, added to Mr. Manning's laborious life and disregard to the laws of regimen that caused the attack which warns him that he is mortal. Be this as it may, Mr. Cleveland cannot do better than heed the advice of Mr. Manning. If the latter's perception induces him to signify to the president, that whatever may be the true story of the Pan-electric business, the retention of Mr. Garland in the cabinet is all that is needed to convince the people of this country, who are to vote for candidates for the next presidency, that there is something wrong in this concern, and that the democrats cannot be trusted to manage the affairs of the nation, Mr. Cleveland cannot do better than to trust to the judgment of his Albany friend, who as a democrat has made no mistakes. It is to Mr. Manning's clear-headed practical notions of finance, achieved in the accumulation of his own property from the first dollar he earned, that the country is indebted for all that is sound and sensible in the views of the president upon the silver question. Mr. Manning is a business man first, and a democrat after that. There are so many men in the party who are democrats first, last and every time, and not much of anything else to speak of, that while the republican party is for a stated term, being subjected by its elder brethren and well-wishers, the mogwumps, to a cold bath that it may after a season of cleansing and purification resume its place in charge of the government, divested of all obnoxious incumbrances, when we see an honest and capable man, who really renders a service to the country and his party at one and the same time, we are happy to make a note of the rare occurrence.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT,

MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Greenfield, Mass., Apr. 7.—A terrible disaster occurred on the Fitchburg railroad to-night, midway between Bardwell's Ferry and West Deerfield stations, the east-bound passenger train from North Adams due in Greenfield at 6;05 p. m. having gone over an embankment 200 feet in height. Six bodies have already been taken out of the ruins, and it is not known at this time how many are killed. The train was the eastern express, and consisted of a baggage car, smoker, sleeping car, mail car and two passenger cars. The train was numbered 35 and was in charge of Conductor Foster, with Herbert Littlejohn engineer. The point where the accident occurred is the most dangerous on the road. The track runs on the edge of an embankment, 200 feet above the Deerfield river. The bank is very steep, and is covered with huge boulders and masses of shale rock, with which the roadbed has been filled. When the train arrived at this point, the track commenced to settle under it for a distance covering its entire length. The coaches broke from their trucks, and went rolling over and over down the precipice. The engine broke from the tender, tearing up the track for 20 feet. Below the height rolled the Deerfield river, on the very edge of which the cars were thrown. As soon as they struck, they caught fire from the stoves, and a conflagration was added to the horrors of the scene. The shrieks of the wounded and dying filled the air, and for a time the scene was indeed terrible. The sleeping car was an entire wreck. It was occupied by several passengers, not one of whom at this hour is known to have escaped injury.

One man, whose name it is impossible to learn, is imprisoned in the wreck of the sleeper, and is being burned alive. One little girl was picked up dead. As soon as the news reached Greenfield, a special train was made up and sent to the scene of the disaster, accompanied by physicians, section men and a few citizens. On arriving at the wreck a horrible sight was witnessed.

The darkness of night had settled over the spot. Far down on the river bank there glowed the smouldering embers of the holocaust. It was impossible to tell who was hurt and who was killed. Stout-hearted trackmen were lowered cautiously down the treacherous neight and the work of rescue began.

Merritt Seeley, superintendent of the National Express Company, 300 Washington street, Boston, was found in the wreck, and taken into the relief car. He had a wound four inchef long and half an inch wide over his left temple, his left thigh was broken, and also his left leg at the knee, beside which he suffered internal injuries, from which he will die. At 9:20 to night he was just alive, but unconscious.

D. L. Crandall of Athol, postal clerk, had been making out his daily report and had sealed it when he felt the car up, and realized that the engine had been reversed. He thought that the train had collided. As the car rolled over on its first revolution, he struck on his feet on the top of the car, and lost consciousness as the car continued revolving. He found himself plunged into the icy waters of the river and got ashore with difficulty, wounded about the head and with his arm fractured.

Deputy Sheriff Chauncy Bryant of Greenfield was in the Fitchburg car, forward of the sleeper, and escaped unhurt. The car he was in slid down the bank end first, and was the only car that escaped the conflagration. He rescued the bodies of two children from the flames, but one was dead and the other dying. Their parents were on board, and the mother is believed to have been injured. Their names cannot be learned to-night.

Part of the injured and dead were taken to Shelburne Falls, and part of the wounded to Greenfield.

C. P. Bell of Nashua, N. H., was cut slightly about the leg and arm, but is not seriously hurt. He was thrown head foremost in the river, went twice to the bottom, and narrowly escaped drowning. Conductor Foster was reported missing, but at 10 o'clock a report came from Shelburne Falls that he was there safe and but slightly injured. D. C. Wells of Andover had his shoulder hurt and head cut. The car he was in broke in two and stood on end within five feet of the river bank. Nicholas Dorgan of Greenfield has his left arm and ankle broken, and was injured internally, but not fatally. A little girl passenger on the train died in his arms from injuries received. J. E. Priest of Littleton, N. H., had his face and head cut, but no bones broken. Engineer Herbert Littlejohn of North Adams was badly scalded, it is believed fatally. A. K. Warner, chairman of the Greenfield board of selectmen, was badly hurt, but his injuries are not fatal. He was taken to Shelburne Falls.

Great excitement prevails all along the road between here and North Adams. Just how heavy the list of killed and wounded will foot up cannot to-night be estimated. Interviewed by wire to-night at Shelburne Falls, Conductor Foster says: "Unable to state how many were on the train. Only three men thus far found who escaped injury, and these set the number of passengers all the way from 25 to 100."

No doubt half a dozen people were killed outright while falling, and as many more are fatally injured, beside many who escaped with broken limbs and gashed heads. The west-bound express was delayed at Greenfield and West Deerfield two hours, while a relief train, with surgeons and assistants, was sent out on its time. Locomotive No. 12 is a complete wreck, but remains on the track, while its tender is down the bank.

The Killed.

Greenfield, Mass., April 8. The following is a correct list of the killed, ten in number, as far as found:—

Merritt Seeley of Boston, Superintendent National Express Company.

E. E. Hayden of Blandford, Agent of the Fiske Manufacturing Company of Springfield.

Charles Temple of Waltham, commercial traveler.

Charles Durgin of South Boston, commercial traveler.

J. R. Gould of Milbury, Mass., or Abington, Conn.

Herbert Littlejohn of North Adams, engineer of the train.

Viola Littlejohn, niece of the engineer.

Cece Littlejohn, nephew of the engineer.

C. F. Whitehouse of Boston, traveling agent.

Mark F. Spencer of Waltham, brakeman of the train.

The Injured.

At last account twenty-eight persons had been found who have suffered injuries more or less severe by the disaster. They are:

D. C. Wells of Andover, painfully.

Michael Dorgan, Greenfield, seriously.

A. D. Cornell, Shelburne Falls, slightly.

C. F. Bell, Nashua, N. H., painfully, but it is hoped not dangerously.

Conductor John Foster, slightly.

E. B. Stone, slightly.

J. P. Fowler, Cambridge, slightly.

A. C. Harvey, Boston, badly cut but not dangerously.

A. K. Warner, Greenfield, seriously.

F. S. Hagar, Greenfield, slightly.

Miss A. Deroy, slightly.

Mail Agent Putney, Eagle Bridge, slightly.

Henry C. Coulliard, Claremont, badly.

J. E. Priest, Littleton, N. H.

Charles Richardson, North Adams, lost finger.

D. L. Crandall, Athol, severely shaken up, but not seriously hurt.

Express Messenger P. L. Streeter, Troy, N. Y., slightly.

Edward H. Arnnold, North Adams, slightly.

Miss Cornell, Shelburne Falls, slightly.

A Mr. Wilcox, living near Syracuse, N. Y., slightly.

Elisha Cornell, Shelburne Falls, slightly.

Aaron Lewis, colored, porter palace car, slightly.

J. B. Sturtevant, baggage master, slightly.

Walter Parker, Cambridge, N. Y., brakeman, badly.

G. W. Dunnells, Boston, badly bruised.

Miss Mary Gowing, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., severely bruised.

Henry A. Scribner, mail agent, Waltham, slightly.

J. M. Watkins, Owego, N. Y., internally.

Mr. C. P. Bell of Nashua, N. H., had an experience as fearful as any that a man could pass through and live. He sat in the rear of the Fitchburg car, which was next to the last on the train. The car plunged over without the slightest warning. "I had no chance to catch hold of anything," said Mr. Bell to-day. "The car whirled over and over I don't know how many times—certainly five or six. We brought up in the water, which came pouring into the car. Then suddenly it seemed as if the car burst open, and without knowing how I got there I found myself struggling in the swift waters of Deerfield river. I began to swim with all my might toward the shore. I seized some rocks that stood out of the water, but the current was too strong and I was torn loose. I succeeded, however, in clinging to a larger rock a little farther down. I held on for a few minutes to collect my strength and take my bearings, and then struck out again for the shore, and finally reached it. I saw four or five struggling in the water below me, and I don't believe they reached the shore. I think they must have been swept down stream to their death." Mr. Bell says the only thing that came to my mind as we were whirled down the precipice was about my wife and little one.

Mr. Wilcox was thrown into the river and had an experience similar to that of Mr. Bell. He was so little hurt that he assisted in rescuing some others that were in the same car.

Mr. Priest was rendered senseless by blows upon the head as the car rolled down, and when consciousness returned he was at the bottom of the river, 10 feet under water, he thinks. He struggled to the surface, caught hold of some floating wreckage, and saved himself.

Mr. Sturtevant was thrown into the river, after being badly bruised by heavy baggage, some of which was on top of him in the water, but he struggled out; and sore and bruised he crawled up to the track and walked and crawled nearly two miles to West Deerfield to summon help for the sufferers. He has since been unable to move hand or foot.

Conductor Foster had a narrow escape. He was able to help extricate some from the wreck and peril of fire, and then sunk down so helpless that he had to be carried away. He says he had always dreaded the spot where this accident occurred.

Several others relate similar narrow escapes from bruises and wounds as the cars rolled down the bank, from fire after they stopped, and from drowning on the part of those who were thrown into the river.

Mr. Frank Lane, a traveling man of 87 Chambers street, New York, had a fortunate escape. He happened to be standing on the rear platform of the drawing room car. He felt the track sinking beneath the train and quickly jumped off. He and the firemen were the only persons on the train who did not take the awful plunge. He was only slightly hurt.

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Clough, 34 Arlington st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that, as a powerful purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with Scrofulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and unable to obtain relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Cpel City, Kansas Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

It has effected an entire cure, and I am now as well as ever."

March April May

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. FIELDS, Rochester, N. Y.

Capt. Moses P. Warren, police officer at the Boston & Maine depot, in Dover, saved a young woman's life Thursday forenoon. The lady attempted to board the 10 A. M. train for the east after it had started and missing her footing on the platform would have gone under, but for timely aid of Capt. Warren, who pulled her clear of the wheels. The young lady realizing, after her rescue, the narrow escape she had, fainted, but was soon restored to consciousness.

The Wreck On Plum Island.

Further particulars of the wreck of the Beta at Plum island show that when the passengers were climbing over the deck-load to go from the cabin, which had filled with water, to the forecastle, two children were torn from their father's arms by the waves and drowned. The steward, Isaac Mills, was struck by a sea and swept into the forecastle and drowned in sight of the men, who were unable to rescue him. The Beta was 189 tons, built in 1883, valued at $8,000, and was loaded with wood. The suffering men were cared for by the president of the Humane society in Newburyport, and after being properly clad and fed were reported to be in a comfortable condition. The vessel will prove a total loss. The survivors of the wreck are to be sent to Boston.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, a leading democratic journal, maintains that as a president Mr. Cleveland has been a failure. The correspondent says: "The truth of the fact appears to have reached the President himself; he has got a mean cabinet, and is not much of a man. Whatever consolation he can derive from this remark he is welcome to, to take in any amount of sugar and toddy he favors. He is essentially a primary school quantity, sent up to take charge of a high school. He was afraid to go up there and have a faculty suitable to the institution. Dire necessity will now compel him to take a back seat and put men to the front who understand something. I forbear to go any further with this juvenile cabinet for fear I might draw tears from the eyes of wisest censure. There are friends of mine in that cabinet whom I cannot sit down upon, notwithstanding great temptation."

An eminent Boston clergyman announced the discovery on Fast day that we had a mediocre president. These Boston clergymen are a slow set and there is no wonder that religion is on the decline at the Hub. Nearly every layman, especially in the democratic party, made this discovery long ago, and about all, except here and there an office-holder, are ready to admit it.

Arbitration in France.

BOSTON, April 9.—The amazing boom in the circulation of the Boston Sunday Globe continues with unabated vigor. Last Sunday the figures ran over 101,000, and orders to increase are coming daily from all directions. It will be of great interest to both employers and all workingmen. Order the Globe to-day.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We positiced it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him. His mother having died a few hours before, at the age of three years old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a few days and a half. One sore after another healed, a honey manner forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which soon healed, grew tissue and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly honey formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, owing, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immediate relief such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one INFLATOR, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

spoil a job. In the preparation of our subjects we use a large amount of arsenic in a powdered form. During the manipulation this powder is shaken into the air and is inhaled by the operator. As arsenic is an accumulative poison it will remain in the system until there is enough to cause serious results. Very often a man is compelled to quit the business in order to save his life. Life insurance companies hesitate to take risks on men engaged in our business. Arsenic is used to preserve the skin, fur, and feathers of the birds and animals. Several substitutes for this poison have been tried, but none of them have been found to be any good."

"What do you most work on?"

"We drive a thriving business in the canary bird line. People bring their little birds here to have them stuffed. The owners are mostly ladies, and you can imagine what a comfort it is to have their little feathered pets preserved in such a manner that their beauty and form of feather can be seen and admired long after their sweet voices are hushed.

"Love-birds are preserved in great numbers. Cardinals are somewhat rare, and their plumage is so bright-colored and beautiful that when they die they are seldom thrown away. There is always a ready market for them, and we will pay good prices for them. Love-birds are brought to us in pairs. It is customary when one of these affectionate little things die to bring its dead body and the living mate to us. We kill the live bird and preserve the two together."

"Could the skin of a man be stuffed?"

"Certainly; in the same manner that a monkey's skin is. I would undertake the job, but it would cost a great deal of money. They say that the human skin is very much like the skin of a hog, and that if subjected to a tanning process it would be very thick and strong—the same as the hog leather which is used for saddles and trunks."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Mobs in Asia appear not to be dreaded, and apparently are not dreadful. Kings never dream of prohibiting them, and the people are not in the least afraid of them. All over Asia, from Constantinople to Shanghai, vast mobs continually assemble for worship, for jollification, for curiosity, and nobody interferes. The kings do not apprehend revolt from them, the police do not look for riot, the people do not fear accident. In India, Burmah, Ceylon, Arabia, China, immense crowds continually assemble without disturbance of any kind, without endangering public peace, and without disaster, even when, owing to the consequent breach of sanitary laws, some devastating epidemic is occasionally generated. A true "mob" of a hundred thousand persons is a constant phenomenon in India, and is as little regarded by the magistrates as a crowd of a thousand would be in London.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. THE HOPE OF NEW ENGLAND.

The last census is not altogether pleasant reading in many portions for the sons of New England, but it conveys lessons which they cannot afford to ignore. It tells that Maine and Vermont stood stationary as regards populations between 1870 and 1880, it also records the rapid growth and prosperity of many cities and towns which are beginning to tread upon the heels of older communities. It seems to say that to manufactures, not to agriculture, must New England apply herself, and that to the skill of her artisans must she look for her old-time supremacy. This changed condition of affairs is recognized in many enterprising cities, a good example of which may be found in Waterbury, the bustling Connecticut city upon the Naugatuck that is so rapidly coming to the front as a manufacturing center. Waterbury has wide-awake citizens who take every opportunity to push it and to welcome new ideas. The advantage of such a progressive spirit is well shown in the case of G. W. Angell, who lives at No. 204 South Main street, Waterbury, and who gives this personal experience:

"For twenty years I have suffered tortures from chronic rheumatism. The doctors said I was incurable, but thanks to Athlophoros, I have now taken a new lease on life. I had tried numerous remedies with the hope of at least allaying my suffering, but all failed until a friend advised me to try Athlophoros. I did so, and as the result am now looking and feeling as though I had never known what rheumatism was."

Mrs. E. Vickers, of No. 46 Pleasant street, says:

"It is owing to Athlophoros that I am now alive. I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for years, most of the time being perfectly helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros cured me. I can sincerely say that there is nothing like it for the speedy relief and permanent cure of rheumatism and can recommend it to all suffering from that disease."

The testimony is reinforced by that of Mrs. Jane Downey, of No. 24 Pleasant street, a near neighbor of Mrs. Vicker's, in this story of her case:

"Two bottles of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. My family physician advised me to take the remedy, saying that he had done all he could for me, but could give me no relief. Athlophoros drove the rheumatism away, and I am happy to say that it has never come back. My daughter, who suffered terribly from rheumatism, was also cured by taking half a bottle of the medicine."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

MISSING A MILLION.

How Near a Legal Luminary Came to Making a Fortune.

"Judge," said a reporter to a well-known representative of the legal profession in San Francisco, "I have been told that you and some of your friends came near buying Alaska from the Russian government before the United States made the purchase. Is it true, and will you tell me the story?"

"Well," said the judge, "we were not going to buy the whole of Russian America. We had our arrangements made to buy the best part of it, though. If you would like to know how I missed being a millionaire I will tell you."

"I think it was in 1860 that a Jew named Goldstone, who had been up to Alaska, came here. He gave a glowing account of the great fortunes made in the fur trade in the north. He wanted me to furnish money to start a trading post up there. In the course of the conversation he mentioned incidentally that all the trading posts, arms, and ammunition, stores, forts, and vessels in the trade had belonged to a Russian fur company, which had leased them to the Hudson Bay company. The lease as well as the privileges of the Russian company had run out, and everything now belonged to the Russian government. He thought that the Russian government would be glad to sell the whole thing out to a good American company. Russia and the United States were on particularly good terms at that time. I talked the matter over with some of my friends, and we arranged to get up a good company.

"I then went to Senator Cole and asked him to inquire through Russian Minister Stokel if there would be any chance to make the purchase. The proposition was favorably received, and we organized a company, with Gen. A. Miller as president and Eugene Sullivan as vice-president. The other members of the board of directors were William Ralston, Alvinza Hayward, Senator Cole, Sam Brannon, and Alexander Badlam. Senator Cole then formally opened negotiations with the Russian government through Cassius M. Clay, who was our minister at that time in St. Petersburg, and Stokel, at Washington.

"The Russian government then sent out an agent, with full power and authority to fix the price and terms of payment and to sign the papers and agreements on the part of Russia.

"We met the agent at the Occidental hotel, and spent a day and night in making a trade with him. Our arrangement, as finally made, was that everything was to be turned over to us, forts, ships, arms, ammunition, utensils and furs on hand, for a price a little over $150,000, with the exclusive privilege of taking and trading for furs. The company made a better trade than the government did afterward, I think. The agreement was not signed, but the company appointed Henry E. Baker agent, with full power to execute all papers if the schedule of property was found to be correct. The furs alone reported on hand would have paid the purchase price twice over.

"Col. Baker went on board the steamer Alexander, which was included in the property to be purchased, expecting to sail the next morning. Late in the afternoon of the day he went on board Eugene Sullivan went down to the dock. He was the vice-president of our company, and told Baker and the Russian agent that the company had finally decided to back out of the trade. Baker came ashore, and an agent of the present Alaska Commercial company went on board. The Alaska company had been trying to negotiate for some time before, but the instructions of the Russian agent were peremptory to trade with us if we would trade. Our declining gave them a chance, which they availed themselves of. Gen. Miller and one or two others were smart enough to get into the new company, and have made fortunes out of it.

"It was the one chance in a lifetime that a man has to make a fortune, and I missed it. The company made a trade. I don't know the particulars of it, but just about that time it seemed to occur to the Russian government that the American company might not take proper care of Russian subjects and afford them the protection that had been given by their own government. The discussion of this subject led to a proposal to sell the whole country to the American government, which finally resulted in a purchase, the details of which everyone is familiar with."—San Francisco Call.

Dehorning Cattle.

The courts and public opinion have lately had brought prominently forward the brutal practice of dehorning aged cattle. Why not settle the whole question, when it may be necessary, by dehorning the young calf? The budding horn may be quickly seared down with a hot iron, or the entire bud may be clipped. In the very young calf this appendage is merely the matrix of the future horn. At the age of 10 or 15 days the matrix is a small, hairless, movable prominence. The matrix, together with a small band of true hairy skin, one-eighth of an inch wide, can be removed by one sweep of a strong, sharp pocket-knife, and forever after the animal will be hornless. The calf being firmly held, let the operator grasp the matrix between the thumb and two fingers of the left hand, place the edge of a sharp knife one-eighth of an inch outside of the naked matrix, and with firm, steady pressure, cut through to the opposite side, the knife passing between the base of the matrix and the skull, so that a rim of hairy skin one-eighth of an inch wide remains attached to the base of the matrix now amputated and held in the left hand. In like manner remove

The rheumatic are seldom free from a certain soreness or stiffness in the joints and muscles, which serves as a constant reminder that the virus only waits an unfavorable change of weather, or the aid of a cold, to emphasize its presence with excruciating twinges. To prevent the recurrence and mitigate the pain, there is no finer or safer source of relief than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine every way preferable to the poisons, repeated infinitesimal doses of which are taken, to the prejudice of health and the jeopardy of life, and without a permanently remedial effect. Sleep banished by rheumatic and neuralgic pain at night, is restored by this beneficial soother of the nervous system, and the slumber which it superinduces is far more refreshing and beneficial than the stupor into which the brain is thrown by a narcotic. Appetite and digestion, as well as sleep, are improved by it, and it is an admirable regulator and tonic for the bowels and kidneys. Use it for rheumatism before retiring.

Only one pill a dose. 40 in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

The United States Marshalship.

One of the federal offices in New Hampshire, to attain which thus far there has been no especial effort, is that of United States marshal. It is held by Gen. J. N. Patterson, who went with Gen. Gilman Marston to the war in the second New Hampshire regiment. Marston, while in Congress, secured this office for his protege, who has a son named for the bachelor general. When the first term of the marshal expired the general headed off the entire delegation in Congress, who desired Gov. Prescott for the place, and Patterson was re-appointed in 1871; his last appointment was in February, 1883. Now, John M. Hill, formerly of the Concord Patriot, has a friend in the fire department at Concord who would like the place; Deputy Sheriff Tucker, of Concord, thinks he ought to have it, and is backed by local influence; a young college graduate has turned up at Dunbarton, and wants to be put upon the list; while A. T. Peirce, keeper of a hotel in Dover, thinks he is the man for Galway.

The indications are that it will be a difficult job to remove Gen. Marston's pet appointee. The office at present has but little revenue from fees, and a salary of $200. It is only the possibility of the passage of the bankrupt law which makes it worth angling for, and even under the provisions of the proposed law the fees will not amount to anything compared with those charged during the pending of the repealed bankrupt act. A bill now before Congress provides that the marshal for the New Hampshire district be paid a salary of $3500 per year, and the United States attorney a salary of $2000.

Large Fire in Lawrence, Mass.

A fire broke out in one of the Pemberton mills in Lawrence, Mass., on Saturday forenoon, the 10th inst., about ten o'clock. The flames spread with great rapidity, but the 600 operatives, who were at work in the mill, escaped without the loss of a single life. During the progress of the fire, while the firemen were upon the roof of the building, it suddenly gave way beneath them, and about a dozen were precipitated into the flames, but by the efforts of their brethren of the fire department they were rescued, although all of them were more or less injured, and one died after being conveyed to the hospital.

Riot and Bloodshed at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., April 9th. Eight deputy guards stationed at the Louisville & Nashville yards, near Broadway, fired into a crowd of 300 strikers at about 2:20 o'clock in the afternoon. Five men and one woman were shot. Three of the men were killed, and the woman is supposed to be mortally wounded. The crowd immediately separated, running in all directions. The deputies who did the shooting went to the 3d district police station and surrendered themselves, and were taken in the patrol wagon to the four courts, where they were taken into custody and were relieved of their arms. They say the crowd began firing into them first, and they simply returned the fire. After the first firing was over and the strikers had become bent on revenge, a number of them armed themselves with revolvers and advanced on the Ohio & Mississippi railroad yards, where they surprised the deputies on guard and fired into them, killing one. The greatest excitement now prevails in East St. Louis. Gov. Oglesby of Illinois, has ordered out eight companies of militia, and placed them under orders to move at once.

April 10th. About half-past nine last night fire was discovered issuing from a box-car near the Louisville & Nashville depot. Just as the fire was got under way, a big blaze was discovered in the direction of the round house of the Cairo Short line, about a mile and a half to the southeast. The flames made rapid headway, and in a short time the round house and machine shops combined were destroyed. Another blaze shot up in the vicinity of the southern end of the Cairo yards, where were about twelve cars belonging to different railroads, and these too, were burned to the ground. The St. Louis fire department was near at hand and could have readily extinguished the fires if the crowd would have permitted them to do so. The total loss to the different railroad companies is estimated at $50,000.

Later advices state that the troops have command of the premises and everything is quiet.

The Potency of Wealth in Politics.

The investigation by the Ohio legislature of the ways and means of Senator Payne's election will exhibit evidence of a circumstantial and direct nature, showing that Payne's nomination was secured by influences which only the almost unlimited wealth of this "standard" democrat can control. Against this the honest democratic legislator who had paid a trifle to secure his own political preferment was not proof. The bribery was used to nominate Payne against a democrat of acknowledged position in the party, whom it was expected would have been the choice of the democracy of Ohio as of the party throughout the country. But the standard oil appears to have so lubricated the wheels for Payne that he just rolled into the office, and as Mr. Tweed would remark, now says to the senate and the democratic party, "What are you going to do about it?" As Mr. Payne is the father-in-law of Mr. Secretary Whitney, whose wife's immense income dazzles by a brilliancy which puts all the other establishments of the cabinet in the social shade, the society at the capitol, the administration will by means of the incandescence of this investigation, be subject to a more or less scorching in the moral atmosphere in Washington, if such exists there.

The administration has received a set back in the election at Madison, Wisconsin, the home of the postmaster general. This officer has attempted to be a great political manager on a small capital, and the democracy of his own city concluded that the best way to bring the subject of his deficiences home to the president was to have the republicans carry the municipal election. The city has long been a democratic stronghold. The president begins to understand that some of the suggestions concerning young Vilas are entitled to consideration.

The New Hampshire Fish and Game League held its annual meeting at Manchester on the 6th inst., and elected the following officers: President, John B. Clarke; secretary, Charles L. Richardson; treasurer, Frederick Smyth, all of Manchester; vice-presidents, A. H. Powers, Grantham; Calvin Page, Portsmouth; Luther Hayes, Milton; Herbert F. Norris, Manchester; Fred Gould, Concord; V. C. Gilman, Nashua; W. H. Shurtleff, Colebrook; Charles F. Stone, Laconia; Charles G. Farrar, Keene; E. B. Hodge, Plymouth.

The Capital City, at Rye Beach, N. Y., broke in two on Wednesday, and was abandoned by the wrecking company.

THE BEST

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Clough, 34 Arlington st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that, as a powerful purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use." J. W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with scrofulous complaints. I tried several different preparations, which did me little, if any, good. Two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a complete cure. It is my opinion that this medicine is the best blood of the day." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and unable to obtain relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Creel City, Ramsey Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

It has effected an entire cure, and I am now as well as ever."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter of a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." B. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

AN ANCIENT CHESTNUT, which with three others had waved its tall branches high in the air in front of the stately mansion of the late Capt. Lewis Barnes, on Islington street, in front of Langdon, was taken down on Saturday. The heart of the tree was badly effected by decay.

PURITY OF MALT LIQUORS.

An eminent chemist has been analyzing samples of beer obtained from breweries and saloons throughout the state of New York, with results that will fortify the pleasure of people who like the German beverage, now fully naturalized in this country. The eminent chemist finds that competition has put an end to adulteration, and that beer is now as pure as it can be. Nothing of the sort has been proved regarding other alcoholic drinks. In our own city there has never been any question as to the purity of the ales and lager produced in our breweries. It is the excellence of the water used which to some extent gives the Portsmouth ale such an advantage over that made in Boston, Philadelphia or Milwaukee.

NEW SCHOONER.

A new schooner, named the C. B. Kennard, to be used in the brick trade between the up river yards and Boston, is being built at North Weymouth, Mass., for parties in this city. Her keel, which is of rock maple, will be seventy-two feet long; breadth of beam, twenty-six feet; centre-board, 15 1-2 feet long; of seventy-three tons burthen, and will carry 73,000 bricks. She will be commanded by Capt. Freeman, formerly of the Triton. The schooner has been chartered to carry her first cargo of bricks from the yard of James H. Coleman at Eliot, to Boston.

AROUND HOME.

Miss Ullie Akerstrom commences her engagement at Music hall this evening.

Captain B. F. Jacobs, of the ship Grandee, arrived home on Sunday.

Charles M. Laighton, Esq., has leased the late residence of his father on Richards avenue, to parties from New York.

A squad of marines arrived on the ten o'clock train from Boston on Saturday, and proceeded to the navy yard.

Dr. J. J. Berry has purchased the house on Vaughan street formerly owned and occupied by Mr. Heman F. Eldredge.

Chas. H. Mendum, Esq., has purchased the southerly part of the burnt property on Pleasant street, belonging to Col. Wm. S. Hadley.

Four cargoes of railroad ties are discharging at the kyanizing works of the Boston & Maine railroad at Noble's island.

Danlap's garden seed wagon from Nashua was in town on Saturday. This, with the fact that some farmers planted peas last week, is a sure indication that spring is at hand.

Glover E. Stiles, of this city, has been granted a pension of $2 per month and arrearages of $400. He was formerly of company K, thirteenth New Hampshire regiment.

An investigation has been ordered into the cause of the collision between the schooner Sarah C. Whorf and the United States Fish Commission Steamer Fish Hawk in our harbor on the 25th of February last.

An overflow of water into the new Deer street sewer near the head of Railroad avenue, kept the steamer Sagamore pumping at the man-hole opposite the Concord depot most all of Saturdry last. It was supposed that the overflow was caused by a leak in the aqueduct pipes.

The settees and other property belonging to the Methodist society in the chapel on Daniel street, were removed on Saturday last, preparatory to the building being altered into tenements by George B. French, Esq., who has purchased the same.

Hon. Elbridge Gerry, of Portland, Me., died very suddenly on Saturday. He had been in feeble health for some time. He was a native of Waterford, Me., and was born in 1815. He was clerk of the Maine house of representatives in 1840, and a democratic member of Congress in 1849. He married a daughter of the late Hon. Richard Jenness of this city.

The Army and Navy Journal of the 10th inst. says: "We notice the name of Frank M. Varrell of Portsmouth, N. H., now pay clerk at the U. S. Naval Asylum, among the graduates at the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, last week. Dr. Varrell will be pleasantly remembered by his former shipmates as pay clerk of the U. S. steamers Wyoming, Minnesota and Monongahela."

Albert Bachelder of North Hampton, executor of the will of William L. Walker, deceased, has paid to the selectmen of South Newmarket one thousand dollars to be held in trust under a clause in the will of Mr. Walker, giving that sum, the income of which is to be used in the care of his lot in the Locust Grove cemetery in that town. There are in Portsmouth many burial lots, where rest the bones of persons of abundant means, where a little of this kind of foresight when their wills were made would have been productive of much benefit.

Mr. L. M. Wing, of Livermore, Me., who canvassed this vicinity and obtained a large number of subscribers to Mr. Blaine's "Twenty Years in Congress," and who delivered the first volume some time since, is in town making the delivery of the second volume of this interesting work. The book abundantly sustains the high expectations which were realized in the perusal of the first volume. The interest in the second volume is none the less than that evinced by the readers of the history of the country during and immediately after the civil war. The book will be eagerly sought and generally read all over the country. The second volume contains 724 pages, including the index of names referred to in the history.

Mr. Jennison, accompanied by Manager Mitchell of the new hotel at Pocahontas point was in town on Saturday, and conferred with several of our business men relative to the purchase of a suitable steamboat for permanent service between Gerrish's island, Kittery point, Newcastle and Portsmouth. Mr. Jennison proposes to build a pier near the point, convenient for landing and embarking at all stages of the tide. The intention is to secure a substantial steamer to run at all seasons of the year, and the cooperation of our merchants and business men is invited to this enterprise.

The bill providing for the construction of a building for the congressional library, passed the house of representatives on the 5th inst., by a vote of 159 to sixty-two. It was a bad day for Randall and Holman, as the democratic members could neither be persuaded or threatened into voting down this measure, the postponement of which so long has been a national disgrace.

A fire at the Pennsylvania academy of fine arts in Philadelphia on Thursday, the 8th, burned and damaged about fifty pictures, valued at $30,000. Harrison's "Bord de Mer," valued at $7000, was among those destroyed.

It is claimed that a new kind of telephone has been invented which just knocks the Bell machine higher than a burnt boot. It comes up just in time to save the Pan-electric crowd a deal of money.

The shoe shop at Salem Depot having filled their orders have shut down for a season.

The master carpenters of Salem, Mass., have decided to advance the pay of their workmen twenty-five cents per day, paying $2 75, $2.50 and $2.25 per day.

Trumbell, Cheeney & White, the Lynn sewer contractors, are about to institute legal proceedings for ordering them to quit work.

The Para Rubber Shoe company of Boston, having a factory at South Framingham, Mass., giving employment to about 1,000 operatives, intends to adopt the weekly payment system.

the other matrix. This simple operation causes very little pain, the loss of about one ounce of blood, and soreness for only a day or two. The calf is not injured or stunted, does not lose its appetite, and the wounds heal more quickly than those caused by castrating.

It is nonsense to talk that a part so highly sensitive as the tissue of the horn is even measurably insensible to pain, and where sawed off by a dull saw, although not rusty as testified to by a witness, the grating through the sensitive tissue occupying a considerable time is simply brutal, and none but a brutal man will practice it, simply that he may crowd his animals closest together in feeding. Dehorning aged cattle should not be allowed except in the case of vicious animals.—Farm, Field and Stockman.

The Town Cow Discussed.

One of the most annoying things that the country people have to contend with is the ordinary town cow. When the farmer leaves home he puts in the bottom of his sleigh or sled a bountiful armful of hay. This answers the two-fold purpose of a seat and to keep the feet of himself and the good wife warm. He drives to town, unloads his wife in front of some store, and proceeds to hitch his team at some point about the pub ic square. No sooner is his back turned than a dozen starved cows immediately surround his sled, and before he can say "Jack Robinson with his mouth open," every straw in his sled has gone through the gastric orifices of the aforesaid cows. We noticed one particularly careful fellow the other day. He was going to have the deadwood on that bunch of hay, and departed for a saloon with a grin on his face. We watched the proceedings with considerable interest. He was not out of sight until three long-horns opened the gate and proceeded to the pile and chewed it up. Clubbing these lean kine does no good. In fact, they rather enjoy the fun. You can take an ordinary stick of cordwood and bounce it from off their carcasses fifty feet high and they will turn around and smile at you. They don't even grunt when you have hit them hard enough to stave in their ribs. Such punishment seems only to act as a tonic; it whets their appetites and makes them enjoy the repast which the farmer has hauled to them from his home many miles distant. And after is is all over, just notice the peculiar look they give the man who came to town sitting on a pile of hay as he departs sitting on the bare boards! The town cow is a nuisance, but at the same time a necessity in all rural villages. A "home without a mother" would not be a more lonesome spectacle than a rural village without its herd of lean, long-horned, stump-tailed cows.—West Union (O.) People's Defender.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. THE WRONG WAY TO GO UP STAIRS.

Going up stairs on one's hands and knees is a method of ascent not uncommonly seen among infants who are just learning the mysteries and perplexities of ambulation, but fortunately it is seldom that those of mature years have to resort to such means of progress. Mrs. J. C. Chapman, a well known resident of Mansfield, Mass., says that she once tried it and failed, and that others may be deterred from a similar experience it is perhaps worth while to give her experience. Mrs. Chapman now walks as upright as any one, and gives this account of her attempt:

"I was perfectly helpless with an attack of acute rheumatism, and was all doubled up. I could not sit upright even long enough to eat a meal. I tried once to get up stairs on my hands and knees, but failed. After taking everything recommended by my friends, and not getting the least benefit from anything, I despaired of ever getting around again. I had lost all hope of being cured when, like a gleam of light, Athlophoros was recommended to me by a friend who had used it with entire success. I took it and have never been troubled with rheumatism since, now three years. I can cheerfully recommend Athlophoros to any body suffering with rheumatism, for I know from experience that it will make a complete and permanent cure."

From J. A. Crane & Co., prominent druggists of Orange, Mass., comes this statement of a case that came under their observation:

"Mr. Shubel Briggs, of this place, has bought Athlophoros of us. He stated to us to-day that his wife before taking it could not move herself in bed, as she was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. After taking a few doses of Athlophoros she could move easily, and before two bottles were finished she had recovered completely and has not been troubled since. Mr. Briggs himself, who was troubled with stiffness in the joints, used some of the Athlophoros and experienced decided relief."

Charles H. Minchew, of Taunton, tells this story of his wife's cure, which was not unlike that of Mrs. Briggs:

"My wife had been afflicted with rheumatism for some time, and I employed a doctor who failed to do her any good. I happened to see Athlophoros advertised and concluded to try it. It worked like a charm, curing my wife completely, and I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. George H. Sargens is foreman of the cloth room of the Flint mill, Flint Village, Fall River, Mass. He lives at No. 140 County Street, Fall River. Of his wife's case he says:

"My wife was treated by four different doctors for a severe case of neuralgia of six years' standing. Her sufferings were terrible and the physicians could not allay them, though using the most powerful medicines all the time. As she was getting worse and worse I bought a bottle of Athlophoros, and that brought the first and only relief my wife had. Now she can attend to her household affairs and other duties as though she had never experienced the tortures of that dread disease, neuralgia. When Athlophoros can be had at the nearest drug store nobody should suffer from neuralgia or rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of the regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

CARTER'S LAW IN CLEVELAND.

In 1880, Governor St. Clair appointed Kingsbury Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and Quarter Session of the county; and in the following year there came to reside in the place Samuel Huntington, a nephew of Governor Huntington, of Connecticut, and himself afterward Governor of Ohio. He was a man of cultivation, well descended, and eminent at the bar, and Kingsbury was a man highly esteemed; but in local influence they were both overshadowed by Lorenzo Carter, who had built his rough log cabin at the mouth of the river. This man was a genuine type of the pioneer. Though rude and uncultured, he was generous, kind-hearted, and neighborly. He had a shrewd, active intellect, great physical strength, and keen though crude sense of justice, and these qualities, combined with a somewhat aggressive and domineering temper, gave him great ascendency over the simple-minded settlers and rude aborigines. As early as 1798 a whisky distillery had been put up by a man named Bryant near the mouth of the river, and the Indians flocked to it in crowds for supplies of fire-water. Carter's house was near by, the Indians met him, and he soon acquired an influence over them greater than that of their own chieftains. His word became law among them, and so it soon was with the white settlers. Where there is no regular administration of justice it is natural that the strongest should rule; but what was known as "Carter's law" had control in Cleveland long after a regularly organized court existed in the county. But the court sat at Warren, fifty miles away, and was not at first attended with such a degree of state as was calculated to impress very much awe upon the community. The first session is said to have been held in the open air, between two corn-cribs, Judge Kingsbury occupying a rude bench beneath a tree, the jurors sitting around on the grass, and the prisoners looking on from between the slats of the corn-cribs. On other occasions court was held in a barn, as being the most commodious building in the town.

Carter's law was administered with quite as little state, but it had the advantage of being more accessible and of much speedier execution. One or two instances will serve as illustrations. In 1807 a farm hand who had been working for a neighbor suddenly decamped, and his disappearance was reported to Carter as a strange thing, for he had stolen nothing, and had left behind some unpaid wages. "No man can leave this town in that manner," said Carter, at once mounting his horse and going after the runaway. Overtaking him, he bade the man return to the settlement; but he declined, protesting that he owed no one anything, and had a right to go and come as he pleased. Upon this, Carter poised his rifle, and gave the runaway his choice between returning peacably, or being shot and left in the road, a prey to the turkey-buzzards. The man knew that Carter had a way of suiting his actions to his words, and he sensibly returned, received his wages and continued a good citizen.

But Carter's law produced its most salutary effects among the Indians. On one occasion a large band of Ottawas and Chippewas had gathered on the west shore of the river, while a small gang of Senecas were encamped on the east bank, and in their mingling together a Seneca had killed an Ottawa. The deed was done at night-fall, and early on the following morning the combined Ottawas and Chippewas were seen arrayed in war-paint, and about to descend in vengeance upon the little band of Senecas. This being reported to Carter, he went among them, and by the promise of a gallon of whisky, succeeded in compromising for the offense of the Seneca. Unfortunately the distillery was not in operation at the time and the whisky could not be delivered before the day following. But the Indians were impatient, and not disposed to wait the slow movements of the distiller. Again they put on their war-paint, and now they threatened extermination to both the whites and the Senecas. For a time it seemed as if nothing could appease their wrath, and that Cleveland was about to be sacrificed for the lack of a single gallon of corn whisky. But, at the risk of his life, Carter went again among the infuriated savages, and again they took his word—this time, however, insisting upon two gallons of fire-water. Carter took good care that the distiller was not again tardy, and so the town, which had been kept awake by fear for a couple of nights, went again to peaceful slumbers.—Edmund Kirke, in Harper's Magazine for March.

Female Education and Health.

It may not generally be known that the alumnæ of the more important centers of female higher education in this country have an organized intercollegiate association for the promotion of woman's education and the study of questions regarding her training. This association has justified its existence, if justification were necessary, by the inquiries which it has made regarding the health of those women who have pursued college courses. The importance of the results thus obtained has led to their incorporation in the "Current Report of the Massachusetts Labor Bureau." For the first time the discussion is taken from the a priori realm of theory on the one hand, and the hap-hazard estimate of physician and college instructor on the other. The returns have the value of all good statistics, they not only enable us to come to some conclusion upon the main point discussed, but they are so full and varied that they suggest and mark the way toward the discussion of a large number of other hardly less im-

When Not in Positive Agony.

The rheumatic are seldom free from a certain soreness or stiffness in the joints and muscles, which serves as a constant reminder that the virus only waits an unfavorable change of weather, or the aid of a cold, to emphasize its presence with excruciating twinges. To prevent the recurrence and mitigate the pain, there is no finer or safer source of relief than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine every way preferable to the poisons, repeated infinitesimal doses of which are taken, to the prejudice of health and the jeopardy of life, and without a permanently remedial effect. Sleep banished by rheumatic and neuralgic pain at night, is restored by this beneficent soother of the nervous system, and the slumber which it superinduces is far more refreshing and beneficial than the stupor into which the brain is thrown by a narcotic. Appetite and digestion, as well as sleep, are improved by it, and it is an admirable regulator and tonic for the bowels and kidneys. Use it for rheumatism before retiring.

Hon. O. W. Cutter, who has been appointed Collector of Customs at Suspension Bridge, N. Y., is a native of New Hampshire and has many friends in Manchester and vicinity.

Every woman who suffers from sick headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicines to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in dyspepsia and indigestion; prevent and cure constipation and piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. 40 in a vial. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

Who Runs the Democratic Machine.

The democracy are likely to be compelled to listen to no little truth from Foster's Democrat, upon mistakes in appointments to office. The Democrat does not confine its criticism to any possible error in the selection of a postmaster at Dover, but in looking over the state, it finds that in the appointment of postmaster at Manchester, the Irish element which constitute the rank and file of voters was ignored, and what is somewhat sarcastically denominated the "kid glove and silk hat" element of the party indicated their preference and of course the appointment followed their choice.

This is no new thing in the history of the democratic party in New Hampshire, or in the country. Over the slave-power ruled the party and the offices were distributed at the will of the magnates, to whom bowed in docile subserviency the northern allies. Later on the liquor element ruled in the same autocratic manner. In time the railway kings and monopolists of every sort have borrowed the voting element of the party for their selfish purposes. At one time the British free-traders instructed the democratic orators, and patriotic speeches concerning the price of the poor man's shirt were delivered. The cloth in these shirts, if one will take the trouble to figure, has commonly been stated as taxed about five cents a yard more than the cost of the shirting in our stores, but never mind, it was a good enough Morgan for the bureau of the free traders to employ.

During the early part of this administration, the Standard Oil Co. on its enormous wealth elected a member of the United States senate in Ohio, in spite of the wishes of the feeble and powerless democracy and appointed a member of the president's cabinet. The lavish display of unlimited wealth, the gorgeous entertainments and the luxurious banquets of this officer have excited the wonder and admiration of the very "hungry and thirsty" at the capital. Just now the attempt to galvanize into active utility, a company which can in its power as a monopoly rival the Bell Telephone Co., has the democratic party on the hip and runs the administration. We might further illustrate frequent instances of the power of the money kings who own, manage, lease and operate the democratic party at their pleasure.

How can it be otherwise? The democracy have to-day no principle at stake. It does not advocate a single idea of progress or reform. It is founded by the projects of the silver kings, defined by the schemes of the whiskey ring, and more or less manipulated by the "counsel" for the English steam engine builders, or is a gudgeon in the net of the British fishery manipulators. Just what the rank and file, the people, the privates have to do with the plans the policy and the legislation sought to be achieved by the democratic party, is nothing at all.

Talk about the "kids and high hats," who pays for the torch-lights and music? Who comes down with checks in aid of printing presses to denominate democratic doctrines? Who pays all the campaign expenses? Who gives the flags and head all the subscriptions but the men who own the party and expect always to control what patronage it has to bestow? It is of no use for Foster's Democrat to attempt to stir up the Irish voters to a revolt. The leaders of the democracy feel just as sure of their votes to-day, as when they paid the expenses of making them citizens. However sorely these men may feel during the year, there is one day when they all march to the polls, and carry the flag and keep step to the music of the "swell fronts" in the party, and that is the only day on which they are deserved to be in line—namely, election day.

OUR NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

Summer Mixtures—Color—Out-Door Garments—Notes.

There was a time when dressmakers seemed to vie with one another as to who should cut material into the smallest bits, and most ingeniously put them together again. Now material hangs with comparative plainness; drapery takes long sweeps, is in long, wide plaitings, etc. Much more dignity (and if we except the ill-looking and still monstrous bustle) with a great deal more taste, as a result. But to atone for all this, the spring opens with such a mixing of raw stuff, that in many cases there is no classifying of goods under orthodox headings of wool, silk or cotton. The three are constantly in a jumble, and so equal that "mixture" is about the most seasonable appellation. They run often in parallel stripes, combine in figures patterns, and even in conservative mohairs there are stripes, both in self color and contrasts. Stripes of soft faille silk alternate with broad twills of wool; faise silk is similarly placed, but indeed the variety is so great that any attempt at special mention must fail. Stylish often of American manufacture, imitate the crinkle of Canton crape. These will be in combinations of plain and figured, but the latter display Chinese and Japanese peculiarities. Soft India silks are still in vogue; stylish silks are wrought in open mesh, imitating canvas, and others display the conspicuously broad twill that has been popular for wools. Lace can be counted in among summer dress goods, so extensively is it to be worn; frequently composing the entire dress, with lining of colored silk that gives support and brings out the various and handsome patterns. Quite elderly ladies can wear these dresses, and the youthful as well. Indeed they suit every one, though rather expensive; but good quality lace is really an investment. Conservative styles, and also less expensive, are in all stylish colors, and will combine largely as parts of costumes or as graceful trimmings; soft white laces giving just the requisite finish to many costumes, the more so as they suit almost anything. Fine cashmere is extremely fashionable, as also camel's hair, the latter being sometimes very stylishly finished by threads of very thick wool run in long stitches and with a little interval between, but the whole forming quite distinguished patterns.

COLORS.

Everything follows the color of dress goods, and here as leading shades come brown, green, bronze, blue, tan, drab, garnet, wine and slate, all in considerable variety. Plaid is fashionable, but in less change from dark to light, and the same can be said of magenta and lilac. In different degrees of tone, yet less used than the first named colors, because adapted chiefly to millinery and accessories, are yellow, gold, orange, red and pink, the three first in very great ascendency. Color is of no little importance in the eyes of those who understand the mysterious word "style," a thing so hard to define but so evident. Among dressmakers, Clark's "Mile End" cotton is in special demand, because dyed carefully to match all new colors; the more so as its excellent sewing qualities are familiar to every one.

OUT-DOOR GARMENTS.

While elderly ladies are fond of long garments, the youthful think nothing quite so captivating as a short, tight-fitting jacket of red or tan brown cloth or figured velvet; the middle-aged are partial to short wraps, but this last style is really suited to everybody, and so everybody to some extent adopts it. Long redingotes befit the traveller or shopper, and these likewise are adapted to almost everybody, and therefore worn somewhat by all. Quite elegant long garments of lace will appear by-and-by, and while specially devised for the middle-aged or elderly, will be too attractive not to be seized upon by the young, who may wear brighter colored silk linings than their elders will venture upon. The run upon jackets among the youthful is really remarkable.

APRIL NOTES.

Round hats are provided with a scarf at the back, which is passed around the throat with the end hanging on one side.

Black or dark colored silk dresses for young ladies have yokes of red silk jersey cloth.

Jet beads imitate acorns, fir cones, barley and other heads of grain, and even crab apples, which they rival in size. Of course, the greater number are less conspicuous, but there is a run on jet. The rosary beads are declining in favor, but, as a new variety come smoked pearl.

The small, colored veil is a very important accessory, and has driven out the invisible net as a keeper down of frizzes. Even at night these colored veils do duty; coming not lower than the forehead usually, but perhaps a little lower in the day. White dotted with black is very popular because so becoming and suited to everybody. White illusion is also much worn.

LUCY CARTER.

The conservative policy of the town of Kittery in allowing the most beautiful and attractive part of its shore to be reached from the main village only by means of a toll bridge is apparent to every one who visits Kittery Point. True the toll charged is small but in these times the idea of a citizen paying toll to cross a small stream, within the limits of a town seems ridiculous. At the recent town meeting in Kittery there was an article in the warrant to see if the town would by some means make the Kittery Point bridge a free highway. But, with a spirit of cautious inactivity which has no foresight, the voters promptly voted down the proposition looking to this improvment. If there is to be any growth added to the taxable property of the town it must come from the development of the beauties of Kittery Point, Gerrish's Island and the region around about Brave-boat harbor. How long the anti-progressive element will continue to discourage efforts to improve the point no one can tell, but it is a fearful mistake.

An exchange says: "Man's average life is thirth-three years." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will always live.

LETTER FROM SENATOR PIKE.

SENATE CHAMBER, WASHINGTON, APRIL, 8th, 1886.

My Dear Sir:

I am in the receipt of your letter of the 6th inst., accompanied by the petition of certain of your citizens asking arrears of pay for having worked for the government more hours a day than are legally required.

I will present the petition to the Senate and have it referred to the proper committee, and do what I properly can to aid them.

They ought not to have submitted so long to the illegal requirement.

Respectfully,

AUSTIN F. PIKE.

COL. WM. H. SISE,
Portsmouth, N. H.

AROUND HOME.

A complimentary concert is soon to be given to Miss Isa E. Frisbee, of this city, at Union park, Boston.

Mr. Mason, of the Portsmouth High school class of '86, was in town Friday, for the purpose of arranging for a series of three games of base ball between the Portsmouth and Dover High school nines.—Dover Democrat.

Twenty members of the Athletic club have purchased a whale-boat of Mr. Charles Drowne, for use on the river the coming summer. The boat formerly belonged to the U. S. S. Omaha, carries ten oars, and will accommodate thirty persons easily.

A young man named Charlesworth, hired a stable-team on Sunday, and, after getting full of liquor, drove recklessly about our streets. The team was wrecked on Deer street, but the young man escaped with but few bruises.

Conductor H. J. Eaton, of the Concord railroad, has purchased the house formerly owned by Stephen W. Clarke, Esq., corner of Vaughan and Deer streets.

The April term of the supreme court commences at Exeter to-day.

Quite a large party of the Athletic club took advantage of the pleasant weather of Sunday, and visited the ancient land-marks around about Newcastle, by way of the Wentworth, returning over the bridges.

The Salvation Army gave three open air meeting on Sunday last, and drew quite a crowd of spectators around them to listen to their testimonies and singing. On Wednesday evening of this week, Mr. Thomas Hoyt will give his experience of sixteen years as a drunkard, but now reformed through the efforts of the Salvation Army. All are invited.

"Lear, the Forsaken," will be produced at Music hall this evening, with Miss Ullie Akerstrom in the title role.

The report that the residence of the late Charles E. Laighton, on Richards avenue, had been leased by New York parties, was incorrect. The house is still in the market, as may be seen by reading advertisement in another column.

MATTERS IN YORK.

YORK CORNER, ME., April 12th.

The superintending school committee have given notice that they will be in session at the town hall on Saturday, May 1st, at two o'clock P. M., for the examination of candidates for teachers. They also say "a law having been enacted that no one shall keep school without having passed a satisfactory examination in physiology, particularly the effect of alcoholic stimulants upon the human system, it will be necessary that every one who expects to teach, shall be present and be examined without regard to any former certificate they may have."

Since the decease of Rev. George Moore Payne, who was a prominent (and up to his decease the only) applicant or aspirant for the position of collector of customs for this port, there are several parties flying hither and thither with petitions and letters.

Town, county and state committees are importuned for letters and "influence." Prominent among the aspirants are Samuel E. Payne brother of the Elder. Also Charles W. Junkins, Alexander Thompson, and last but not least Hon. E. C. Moody, who is "high line" so far and will doubtless "take the cake."

Capt. Geo. Bowden who died March 23d was for many years identified in the affairs of town and had the confidence of the people as seen by the following: His first appearance politically was in 1850 when he was chosen collector of taxes, he was also collector the following year, 1851. Was representative to the Maine legislature two terms 1852 and 1853, was town agent 1856, '57 and '58, was treasurer and collector of taxes seven years, 1857 to 1863 inclusive. During his long service as treasurer he handled large amounts of money, (as the assessments for the war were necessary large) and paid the town every dollar.

Mr. Alvah Trafton late superintendent at the Almshouse, has removed to his farm, and Mr. Timothy Ferbish succeeds him at the town farm. We have no fears that Mr. Ferbish will make a good record.

The assessors have taken the town valuation.

The roads are drying nicely and becoming passable.

Work is being vigorously pushed in cutting down and grading Talpey's hill, on the way from Cape Neddick village to York Beach, a job much needed. Mr. A. H. Talpey is special agent to do the work. A better selection could not have been made.

On Saturday April 10th, Mr. Samuel McIntire of Beech Ridge, was thrown from his wagon at Kittery Village, and very severely injured. At this writing, Monday 7:30 A. M., it is thought he cannot recover from the injuries received. He was conveyed to his home by Messrs. Cottle. The horse, a large, fiery, partially untrained animal was never fitted for Mr. McIntire to handle, and he has repeatedly, time and time again, been warned of the fact. P.

A Desperado Killed on the Granite State.

Washington, D. C., April 11, 1886.—U. S. Consul Withers, stationed at Hong Kong, sends to the state department a thrilling extract from the log of the ship Granite State of Portsmouth, N. H. It relates to the death of a Spanish sailor, Leon Salares, who was taken on at Manila and who was rebellious and troublesome from the first. The extract reads as follows:

"After dinner called all hands to break out cargo in the lower hold to find a seaman named Leon Salares, who had for the second time gone into the lower hold, where nothing but kerosene oil was stowed. This time he was well armed with sheath knives, fastened on long poles, and positively refused to come up. During the last night he has had a light among the oil several times. He also threatens to burn the ship if he is not supplied with food and water. Have tried by all known means to get him to come up; have tried by promising to excuse him from all work; have tried also to capture him without harm to himself or anyone else, but he has assaulted several of the men, wounding them severely. The chief officer he struck by throwing firewood at him. It was impossible to reach him where he was stowed without lanterns, and a naked light was dangerous. He threw firewood at the lanterns and broke the glass. All the crew and officers being anxious to secure him before another night of suspense, and the weather being rainy and squally so that the hatches had to be put down and the cases of oil were all adrift, determined to capture him for his own safety and that of the ship and cargo and all on board. Gave orders to the men to secure him and defend themselves from violence, as he was a desperate and dangerous man. After four hours work captured him alive, wounded in the mouth and left arm. He died 10 minutes after being taken up. Appearances indicate suicide, as there is a clean cut under his left ear, which must have been made by a sharp instrument. Washed the body, sewed it up carefully, hove the ship to, read the funeral service for the dead, set the flag at half mast, and buried Leon Salares. All feel greatly relieved to know that he is up from the cargo. Signed by Thomas Fitz, master, and all the officers and crew."

It is suggested to the owners of the hotel built at what is called Pocahontas point, that the house be called "The Champernowne." Francis Champernowne was born in 1614, and came to Gerrish's and Cutts' islands on the Eastern side of the mouth of the Piscataqua in 1636. It was intended that the islands should take the name of Darlington after the paternal estate in England, but they were known as Champernowne's islands, and it is singular that the name was not ever after retained. Champernowne was a celebrity, a counsellor in the Gorges government of the province of New Hampshire, while he lived at Greenland as early as 1641. In 1665 he was appointed one of the Royal Commissioners, to govern Maine. He was nearly as prominent on his side of the river as Gov. Wentworth was on the Western bank, and like Sir Wm. Pepperrell, his name could be well borne in remembrance by naming the first hotel on the line from Kittery Point to Quoddy head after the distinguished early owner of this island.

At the meeting of the board of instruction on Monday evening, Mr. Charles H. Moors, of Middleboro, Mass., was elected superintendent of public schools in this city.

In Woburn, Mass., April 11th, John F. Kelley caused the arrest of his wife for bigamy, she having been married to one Charles Nimblett by Rev. Mr. Hilliard of the Episcopal church. Mrs. Kelley's maiden name was Lucy Wetherell, and she and Kelley were married May 13th, 1875, by Rev. W. W. Winckley of Boston; but Kelley being a Catholic and his wife a Protestant she desired to be married again by the forms of his church, and the ceremony was a second time performed by Rev. Father O'Callaghan of this city.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS FOR That Tired, Weary Feeling.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,

GENTS:—I have been troubled for many years with serious Bilious disorders, so serious, indeed, that I seldom was free from the Headache. At night I was restless and nervous and seldom obtained refreshing sleep. A short time since I commenced the use of B. B. Bitters, and found immediate relief, my Headache disappearing and no more sleepless nights.

portant questions. The figures, in short, call up as many problems as they settle, thus fulfilling the first requisite of fruitful research.

Pursuing this line, we shall first state the general character of the investigation followed and conclusions reached; and, secondly, isolate a few special problems for more detailed though brief treatment. The result may be summed up in the words of the report, as follows: "The female graduates of our colleges and universities do not seem to show, as the result of their college studies and duties, any marked difference in general health from the average health likely to be reported by an equal number of women engaged in other kinds of work. It is true that there has been, and it was to be expected that there would be, a certain deterioration in health on the part of some of the graduates. On the other hand, an almost identical improvement in health for a like number was reported, showing very plainly that we must look elsewhere for the causes of the greater part of this decline in health during college-life. If we attempt to trace the cause, we find that this deterioration is largely due, not to the requirements of college-life particularly, but to predisposing causes natural to the graduates themselves, born in them, as it were, and for which college-life or study should not be made responsible."—John Dewey, in Popular Science Monthly for March.

Charley Mix was one of the government's Winnebago scouts during the war. For years past he has been blind and begging in Nebraska; but the other day he received $1.603 back pension.

First Tramp—"I've got a brilliant scheme to raise the wind." Second Tramp—"Let's have it." "You and I go along the street and when we get in a nice benevolent neighborhood you fall down with a spasm or heart-disease, or something of that kind, and I'll strike the neighborhood for money to buy medicine. See? "Yes, I see, but—what do I get?" "O, you get sick."—Philadelphia Call.

An Elk Neck girl drew a Delaware young man fifteen miles to see her last week, snow-banked roads and all. He had a pretty hard time of it between riding in the carriage, riding on the horse's back, and, discarding both horse and carriage, going it on foot. But he got there. When a man starts to see an Elk Neck girl he always does "get there"—he is bound to—and that settles it.—Elkton (Md.) News.

Aaron Burr, Vice President of the United States, while making a journey to Boston in 1803 was stopped on the highway by a Connecticut tithing man of the town of Milford for travelling on Sunday. It required all the eloquence and authority of the haughty Vice President to obtain permission to proceed in violation of the Connecticut blue laws.

A Public Benefaction.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD,

McCLELLAN AND BURNSIDE.

The recent death of General McClellan leaves but few living of those unfortunate commanders who found themselves unequal to the great responsibilities placed upon them during the civil war. Burnside, Halleck, "Fighting Joe" Hooker, and others, had passed away before him, honored by the nation they had served, after having lived down the hostile criticism their official acts had excited. Equal justice will be done to General McClellan, and a true estimate of his abilities as an organizer and a soldier will be recorded. In his political ambition the genial Burnside was far more successful than his old commander, and death found him a senator from Rhode Island. McClellan might have been a cabinet officer but for factional quarrels in New Jersey which made his appointment inexpedient.

Rhode Island's devotion to her handsome senator illustrates a happy characteristic of the smallest State which still distinguishes her. General Burnside was not a native of "Little Rhody"—having come east from Indiana—but he had the right timber in him, and was made governor and afterward senator of his adopted State. The same spirit may be seen in her citizens to-day in their hearty reception of that which will be of benefit to them. A case in point is that of Mr. John A. Bishop, of Central Falls, R. I., who tells this story:

"For eighteen years I suffered with neuralgia and never got any relief until I took Athlophoros. After that had cured me of the disease I became afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, for which I was treated by two doctors. Neither of them did me any good; in fact I grew worse under their treatment. Again I began taking Athlophoros, and, strange as it may seem, relief came almost instantly. The pain abated so that I was able to get around in less than three days, and as I daily grew stronger the rheumatism left me altogether."

Mrs. S. T. Goss, of No. 42 Dudley Street, Providence, can confirm this seemingly wonderful cure out of her own experience. She says:

"For thirty years I suffered with muscular rheumatism, during which time I used every known remedy and all sorts of prescriptions from physicians. At times I would gain a little relief, but only for a short period, after which the disease would attack me with renewed violence. It was while I was suffering one of the most severe attacks that a friend spoke to me of the wonders Athlophoros was doing, and advised me to try it. I did get a bottle and in two days after beginning to use it was on my feet. Athlophoros is now kept in my house and is looked upon as indispensable. It is the greatest preparation I ever knew of and will cure rheumatism just as it is claimed it will do."

Mr. J. D. Payne, one of the most prominent citizens of Westville, Ct., where he has pleasant home on Fountain street, is outspoken in his praise of Atlophoros.

"I did not think there was any cure for rheumatism," he says, "but I am pleased to say that there is and that it is Athlophoros. Three doses of it cured my wife of rheumatism."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

BIRD MIGRATION.

Winter Quarters Held by Birds Traveling 2,000 Miles.

While the Southern California Winter is like the Eastern Spring, the birds fall to nest until the real Eastern Spring of May and June comes around—though certain birds, the identity of which I have not been able to ascertain, live in their nests during the present season. These nests are models of ingenuity, and are placed upon the top of the prickly pear that is so carefully avoided by all animals. The nests, and I have found four or five within an area of five feet, are bag-shaped, but built lengthwise, lying parallel to the ground, and having a perfect piazza in front of them, with a projecting cover. The nests are carefully constructed of various vegetable matter, and made perfectly water-tight, the interior being lined with the softest material to be found. These nests are undoubtedly built in May or June, but they are occupied by some bird as a home and refuge at this season—a fact that is sustained by many evidences.

The Southern California winter birds are particularly welcome to Eastern people, as here are innumerable forms with which they are familiar in the extreme North and East. Robins, whose representatives nestled last Summer in the apple orchards of the East, are now spending the Winter among the orange groves of this country; and among the familiar forms are warblers and an infinite variety of songsters. The instinct that causes these myriads of forms to migrate twice-a year, flying over vast distances, has created much speculation. The robin has been seen within the arctic circle in the Summer and during the Winter as far south as Mexico, and one of the smallest birds, a warbler, takes a flight every year equaling, perhaps, 5,000 miles.

What causes bird migration is somewhat difficult to determine, the lack of food and the approach of cold being the principal agents. Whatever may be the direct cause, it is a fact that there is every Fall a general movement of birds toward the South, and in the Spring a return. The majority of birds make the entire trip from the extreme North to the Gulf States, Southern California and Mexico. Others, as the crows, etc., remain in the North during the Winter, while others, again, as jays, woodpeckers, etc., are partial migrators.

It is somewhat of a puzzle how young birds find their way over the country to the South and back to the same dooryard in the Spring; but that they do it is well known. Robins build in the same tree year after year, returning to it in the Spring, perhaps after traveling 2,000 miles, within a few hours of their arrival on the year previous. While it is somewhat speculative how birds find their way, it is evident that they follow the great rivers, as the Mississippi, the mountain ranges, as the Coast Range and the Rocky Mountains, and the coast itself. The birds on the Eastern coast are often blown out to sea, many reaching Bermuda, and on the Pacific coast, even the most delicate of all, the humming birds, are found on the Island of Juan Fernandez, and all the islands of the California coast are resting places for birds during their migrations. Some birds, perhaps the majority, fly at night. Astronomers have seen flocks three miles up in the air, moving onward so high above the earth that its familiar markings were spread before them like a great map. From this habit of traveling at night they often fall victims to various objects. The light-houses on this coast, especially those where fogs prevail, could tell a strange story of the myriads of delicate feathered victims that dash against the light on misty nights.

In Eastern waters often a hundred birds will be found in the morning at the foot of the light-house, and on a light near Denmark (Heligoland), that stands in the track of one of the great European lines of bird migration, great heaps of birds are often found by the keeper in the morning. The sustaining power of birds is well shown in the fact that I have seen birds of many kinds alight on the extreme outer keys of the Florida reef. They were blown out by northers, showing that they had flown across the Gulf of Mexico, and at such times they are very tame, alighting upon vessels. A friend tells me that he has often had birds alight on his boat when fishing ten miles off shore, a sparrow, even, alighting on his hook.

In Los Angeles, in the Fall, when the migration has set in, the electric lights are often fatal to the birds, their bodies being found under the pole in the morning, while in a fog myriads have been seen darting about as if fascinated by the dazzling light. The headlight of the locomotive is also fatal to birds, and the engineers on the Southern Pacific and other lines frequently find evidences of contact on the glass, and dead birds have been found on the engine and track.

The San Gabriel Valley at present is affording shelter to birds that Summer in Alaska, and even farther north, and the entire country hereabouts is a veritable bird sanitarium, for which the agriculturists should be truly thankful.—San Francisco Call.

Making a Home.

At a reception in Washington lately, a woman, famous in the last generation, fell under the discussion of a coterie of her old friends, one of whom spoke of her wit and power of repartee, another of her broad, generous charity, a third of her keen instinct in reading character.

"To me," said General P——, "she was most remarkable for her ability to make a home. Put her (as I have seen done in the west) in a log cabin with nothing but some wooden chairs, a piece

Four Lives Saved.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup relieved four of my children of a most alarming attack of whooping cough, from which their throats and necks became so swollen as to prevent them from swallowing. Nothing would give them even temporary relief until this syrup was tried. One bottle, in one night, saved their lives, I verily believe. Geo. W. Earhart, Captain of Police, Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Gould himself earned his first money as a map peddler.

The Boston Medical and Surgical Journal has printed the paper read before the Naval Medical Society by Passed Assistant Surgeon Arthur C. Heffenger of the navy, on the pavilion system of hospital construction, which originated with M. Tenon, a member of the French Royal Academy of Sciences. Doctor Heffenger holds that the form of ward which most nearly meets all essential requirments is the circular, especially when it is surmounted by a dome. There are natural air currents directed upwards from all parts of a room thus shaped, afact which was discovered by Dr. McKenna while inspecting the grand domed circular tomb at Delhi in 1884. He noticed that a piece of paper was invariably steadily wafted upward to the centre of the dome when dropped, instead of falling to the floor.

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." E. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

A special meeting of the school board was held at the city rooms Monday evening. It was voted to ask the city government for the same appropriation for the coming year as was had last year, in addition to the unexpended balance of last year, which the board will request transferred to the account of the coming year.

Mr. Charles H. Morss, now superintendent of the schools in Middleboro, Mass., was elected to be superintendent of our schools for the balance of the school year, at a salary of $1300 per annum. He was a graduate from Harvard University in 1880.

There was another candidate who received several votes, Dr. Hunt, L. L. D., of Boston, a man well and favorably known in educational circles, having taught the boys High school, girls High school, and Normal school in that city. He has also served as superintendent of schools four years in Portland, and three years in Newton, Mass.

The election of a superintendent of schools is a matter of great importance to the entire community, being so intimately connected with the success of the schools. Ever since the passage of the law authorizing the choice of a superintendent, this step has been looked forward to as one involving very important interests. It has been hoped that the election of a superintendent well qualified for the position would be the means of raising the standard of education in the schools generally. Mr. Morss received six votes, and Mr. Hunt three.—Times.

SUPREME COURT--BLODGETT J.

The April term of the supreme court commenced on Tuesday, Judge Blodgett presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. G. E. Street of the 2d Congregational church, Exeter. The list of grand jurors is as follows:

Robert C. Mack, Londonderry; Jesse O. White, Newcastle; William C. Pickering, Newington; John F. Ham, Newmarket; Samuel B. Hayford, Newton; Horace O. Brown, North Hampton; Moses G. James, Northwood; Samuel Shaw, Nottingham; William Proctor, Plaistow; Isaac Wetherell, Portsmouth, ward two; George H. Hardy, Raymond; Henry D. Foss, Rye; Charles F. Kimball, Salem; William French, Sandown; James M. S. Tucke, Seabrook; Joseph J. J. Sawyer, South Hampton; Lorenzo Dow, South Newmarket; Loi Barker, Stratham; Hiram S. Reynolds, Windham; Alonzo J. Hall, Atkinson; Charles Spofford, Auburn; George O. Sanborn, Brentwood.

In the Leach's island prize fight case, a number of the witnesses summoned refused to testify before the grand jury on the ground that they would thereby criminate themselves. They were taken before the court in the afternoon, and the question of their right to decline sent up to the full bench.

THE WAR IN KITTERY.

There is a debate going on in some of the local newspapers, as to which of the two representative democrats in Kittery should pertain the control of the patronage of the Kittery navy yard. True, the patronage under the present administration, whose policy seems to be unfavorable to the employment of men in navy yards to any considerable extent, is not of much consequence; still, the question, from the frequent newspaper discussions, and the exhibition of feeling displayed in communications of a personal rather than a public nature, seems to be of especial interest to our neighbors on the other side of the Piscataqua.

As we view the situation, it seems that the original dyed-in-the-wool and never-changing democrats, who had learned to labor and to wait, had supposed that after a democratic administration had begun the places and the patronage would as a matter of course come to them as in the days of the fathers. But "things have changed since the war," political positions do not seek incumbents, and ancient orthodoxy is not, under the present administration, the sole test of preferment. A portion of the Kittery democracy discover with commingled feelings of indignation and alarm, that coveted places on the navy yard have been captured by recently recruited members of their party, whose sole qualification seems to be the knowledge how to obtain and enjoy office, from long experience as republicans! It is said that the leader of the band of ins, armed with credentials from high democratic authority in this region, soon after the commencement of the term of the present secretary of the navy visited Washington, and kindly offered to release that official of all care and annoyance as to places on the yard, the distribution of which, he represented, had caused no little annoyance to his predecessor. Mr. Whitney at once was charmed with this ingenuous proposition, and delighted with his visitor. He invited him to his mansion, and dined him in royal shape. As the Kittery representative sat around the mahogany of the cabinet minister, his character shone as brightly as the gloss on his faultless dress coat, while his narrative of the wicked mode in which the navy yard patronage had in times past been dispensed convinced the host that the intentions of his guest were as pure as the spotless white tie which encircled his neck. In short, the representative from the village, who had years before made himself solid with Andy Johnson, was soon all right with Whitney, and returned to dispense the favors with a lavish hand among his own set.

However satisfactory this result may have been to residents of the village, it did not suit the patriots whose mail matter comes to the Depot post-office. They had been overreached, and the places they had parcelled out for their friends knew them not. Then followed all sorts of bickerings. The successful raiders upon the public crib were declared to be parvenues — traitors who had left the democracy when under a cloud, and returned only when sunshine smiled upon its fortunes; and that instead of life-long democrats entering into the joys of the feast, the best seats at the banquet of victors were occupied by renegades from their enemies.

But singular as it may seem, "the administration" would not admit that it had been euchered in this deal. The organ in this city, after listening to the wail of the uncared-for had no note of sympathy. On the other hand it practically proceeded to read the leader of the opposition out of the party, denouncing his note of alarm as the abuse of a sorehead of the noisest kind. Such strange bed-fellows does this mugwump administration bring together. The ancient and time-honored organ of the democracy in Portsmouth is found defending the usurpers who hold the places in the navy yard against the bourbons who have voted the ticket through evil report and good, have attended the conventions, rallied votes, paid the caucus expenses, and generally acted in the ranks in the hope of an ultimate recognition of their faithful services, while those alleged to be new to the party and to have been its former foes, are gathered to the heart of the administration leaders, and in full communion with the recognized powers that be "snap their fingers at the foemen's taunts" and smile at the ineffectual protests of the disappointed.

All this is nuts for the Kittery republicans, who were stimulated in the recent municipal election to come out and see the fun, while the close result of the contest between the two democratic elements makes it a matter of doubt to the patronage-seeking democrat how to determine under which king to cast his political fortune.

MUSIC HALL.

There was a large audience at Music hall on Monday evening to witness the performance of "Annette, the Dancing Girl," by the Ullie Akerstrom combination, with the author of the play (Miss Akerstrom) in the title role. That the versatile and pains-taking young actress has lost none of her power of pleasing since her previous appearance here was shown by the generous manner in which she was received by the audience; and as heretofore, her support proved good throughout—no "sticks" in it anywhere.

Tuesday evening, as "Leah, the Forsaken," Miss Akerstrom demonstrated her marked powers as an emotional actress in one of the gloomiest of all emotional dramas, and carried the audience with her throughout.

This (Wednesday) afternoon, "Camille;" and this evening a double bill, "The Little Rebel," and "Naramattah."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

We understand that Hon. J. W. Patterson, our able superintendent of public instruction, desires to hold a Teachers' Institute in Portsmouth at an early date. Where institutes have been held the past year, the people have thrown open their houses and assisted in making the meetings a success by entertaining visiting teachers free of charge. Mr. Patterson is desirous of making this institute a thoroughly good one; he promises the best of talent, and wishes to know if the people of the city will entertain. At a meeting of teachers Tuesday evening the grammar school teachers, Mr. Rockwood, Mr. Swett and Miss Smart, were appointed a committee to take the matter in charge; all who are willing to help in this excellent cause will please report to one of these, giving name, number of street, and the number of visitors that will be entertained. The committee are to report next Monday evening.

AROUND HOME.

Capt. Cheney's gondola, the Hardchance, was on the flats at Noble's island Tuesday receiving a coat of paint.

The steam collier Lancaster, at Concord railroad wharf on Tuesday, half-masted her ensign at noon as a mark of respect to the memory of the engineer of the steamer Reading, whose death had just been learned. Like the Lancaster, the Reading is a frequent visitor at this port.

Mr. James B. Pearson of Epping, formerly of this city and chief clerk in the post-office during the incumbency as postmaster of the late Hon. Joseph B. Adams, has lately become a grand-father.

Mr. Wm. Conn has now at the Concord railroad station a car of extra fine lard and a few barrels of No. 1 pork, which he offers to sell at the car at lower rates than have been known here for years. See advertisement.

At an auction sale of stocks at Concord Tuesday, 10 shares of the Granite State Fire Insurance company sold for $104. per share.

Kearsarge Encampment, I. O. O. F., of Lawrence, Mass., will observe the anniversary of American Odd Fellowship on the 26th inst. by a trip to this city.

The schooner Satellite, Littlefield master, having completed her repairs went up river Monday afternoon to load with bricks for Boston.

Messrs. Trefethen & Conner put in sixteen linear feet of the big sewer on Monday.

The steamer James Sampson is being cleaned and painted, and generally refitted for the summer work, at the wharf near the foot of Daniel street.

The navy yard ferry steamer Emerald still has in her port quarter the hole punched or torn there during one of the big gales some weeks ago. We are glad to note that the government has felt sufficiently rich to be able to nail a piece of canvas over the hole.

The three breweries in this city on the 12th inst. shipped to other places by rail about 1,600 bbls. of beer.

The usual spring nuisance—the playing of base ball on Daniel street by the high school boys—has commenced; the attention of the new superintendent of schools is respectfully invited. P.W.

The navy yard anchor-boy was out in the river on Tuesday, in use by the Gangway rock divers to move the moorings on the rock nearer the navy yard.

Mr. Wm. Ward on Tuesday commenced the removal of the old house No. 41 Deer street, on whose site he proposes to erect a handsome wooden dwelling. The old structure is said to have been built considerably over a hundred years ago, and was certainly old-fashioned enough, having a huge chimney right in the middle.

The big elm in front of the Ladd house on High street, which was damaged by the ice-storm, has been taken down.

The ladies of the South Parish will hold a coffee party at Franklin hall on Thursday evening, supper being served at six o'clock; there will be a sale of desirable fancy articles, and other attractions will be presented.

The schooner Yankee, belonging to Mr. George W. Townsend, contractor for the removal of Gangway rock, was towed to this city from Kittery on Monday afternoon, and berthed at Jones' wharf to refit for the summer's operations. Divers are engaged in picking up the moorings on the ledge, dropped last fall, and hope between now and the 17th inst. to have the drill-stand in position and the schooner moored alongside ready for work. It is not considered likely that excavating will be continued more than two months, as the appropriation will be exhausted by that time.

The state board of equalization has received notice that the protest filed by the Dover city government against the board's action largely increasing the valuation of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad for the purposes of taxation, last year, will be withdrawn, and the taxes assessed will be paid.

Sick Headache.

GENTS:—I have been subject to Sick Headache for years, and have tried, in vain, many advertised remedies and several physicians, but all to no purpose. At last I tried your B. B. Bitters—without much faith, I admit—but to-day I can truly say, that after taking the third bottle I have not suffered from it. I recommend it to all my friends; several have been cured by it. My little grandson was permanently cured of Biliousness and Sick Headache, which were so severe as to cause convulsions. They have all ceased since he commenced the use of B. B. B.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is my wife and I began to improve at once and I am now able to do more hard work than before in ten years. It relieved my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the makers of it Godspeed. JOSEPH LANDON,

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little granddhild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him. His mother having died, she he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his health was completely changed, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All these symptoms did he inherit from his father. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. R. S. BRIGGS,
May 9, 1883. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

of muslin, an open fire, and the odds and ends which she had stored in her trunk, and she would turn it in a few hours into a charming dwelling-place. Of all her gifts, that was to me the most attractive and womanly."

An American who saw in his youth an Englishwoman pre-eminent at that time for her learning and genius, was questioned as to his impression of her. "She overwhelmed me with her knowledge; her broad, liberal views and her philanthropy opened a new world to me. Yet the most distinct recollection I have of the visit is the torn and dirty table-cloth, the greasy carpet, and the ashes strewn half-way across the floor."

Carlyle, who had been used to coarse surroundings in his early home, was deeply impressed by the refinement, the pretty "bits of plenishing," the gentlehood, in the home of the woman he afterwards married; and the most pathetic part of his wife's history is her heroic effort to give this dainty charm to the rough dwelling in which he placed her.

There is no trait in the Englishman stronger than his love of home, and hence he is apt to value in woman the quality of "making a home" above all others. The sailor's wife "makes the hearth clean," to show her joy at his return. It is the "household motions" of Wordsworth's ideal women that are "light and free," and all Shakspeare's lovable heroines are domestic women.

"Let me see your home, and I will tell you what you are," the Russian Paulovitch says to his countrywomen. Our American girls, in their zeal for music, art, or it may be authorship, are sometimes apt to forget this. They leave the oversight and the details of housekeeping to servants, forgetting that the soiled tablecloth and greasy carpet tell tales of character as loudly and emphatically as do neatness and taste.

They forget, too, that while their picture or song or story may prove a failure, a dainty, cheerful home is a poem which any woman may give to the world, and one which all men can understand and will certainly take to heart.—Youth's Companion.

It is sometimes a difficult matter to ventilate bedrooms properly. Opening a window often causes a draught that may be more injurious than air less pure. A very simple ventilator, which allows a free current of air without producing a draught, may be made by any one. Have a piece of inch board, four inches or more in width, cut to fit the window casing. It should be long enough to preclude any draught entering on either side. Raise the window and rest it on the top of the board so that no air may pass between the sash and the board. A free current of air will then pass between the upper and lower sash to comfortably ventilate the room.

AS INVALUABLE AS FLOUR.

Ansonia and West Ansonia are two thrifty towns in Connecticut that have become famous for their brass works. These are not their only claims to distinction, however. Apart from many pleasant features common to progressive New England communities, they possess a number of citizens of advanced views who are at present engaged in a work of peculiar interest. One of these is Mr. Reuben Locke, whose home is on Hill Street, West Ansonia, and who is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. Why he is active in his present work he thus explains:

"Five spoonfuls of Athlophoros cured me of a very stubborn attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I cannot express my feelings of joy at having at last found a medicine that did what the doctors failed to do for me. I esteem Athlophoros as I would my dearest friend, and recommend it because I know that it will do all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. V. Wightman, of Ansonia, is no less enthusiastic and positive in his belief in the efficacy of this great remedy. He says:

"I believe, in fact I know, that there is nothing like Athlophoros. It cured me permanently of a very severe case of muscular rheumatism. I have recommended it on the strength of my own case to a number of people suffering with rheumatism and neuralgia, and they have one and all been cured by it, and the good work still goes on. On every side I hear the highest praise of Athlophoros."

From Providence, R. I., the same good news is reported. The happy messenger of glad tidings in the present instance is Mr. Isaac Crocker, who is well known to many people in Providence as the paper carrier who brings them their daily papers. Mr. Crocker rejoices over the cure of his son which he describes as follows:

"In the winter of 1882 and 1883 our son, who was then fourteen years old, was very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. He was confined to his bed and suffered greatly. He was very sick until the spring, and his trouble continued up to February of the present year (1886), when he saw Athlophoros advertised. At that time he was unable to move his feet. After taking two doses he could move them without pain, and by the time he had taken half a bottle he was cured. We have recommended Athlophoros to a neighbor who is 75 years old and it has helped him more than anything he ever tried. We would as soon think of being without flour as without Atlophoros."

Mrs. Millie M. Davis, of No. 193 Whalley Avenue, New Haven, says:

"For three months I suffered dreadfully with muscular rheumatism. In that time I was treated by three different physicians, none of whom relieved me of the pain and distress. They said I had waited too long, and their medicine had no effect. I did not experience the much-sought relief till I took Athlophoros, the very first dose of which eased me so much that I could, for the first time in a great while, sit down to eat my meals. I steadily improved and in a short time was completely cured of rheumatism. I gladly add my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by Athlophoros."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

How a short sighted hunter, passing through an East Indian jungle, came to mistake a hornets' nest for a sunflower may be understood from this bit of description that follows: "The sunflower was no other than a fine nest of hornets. The species, a large bright yellow insect with a ferocious sting, constructs its nest, which is large and of the size and shape of a good, big sunflower, on some strong projecting twig of an evergreen bush, and, when the nest is completed, the whole community dispose themselves in regular circlet on it, with all their heads to the center; thus they look like the spokes of a yellow wheel, or, as my unlucky friend said, like a sunflower."

The movement for purifying the German language from foreign words which are used unnecessarily has secured a good advocate in the Grand Duke of Weimar, who has issued to all his officials an index expurgatorius, to which any careful scribe is enjoined. The proscribed words comprise well-nigh all foreign intruders for which proper German equivalents exist, and as the Grand Duke's order extends to the official language, the court, and the theatre, it may be expected that it will go far towards effecting its purpose so far as the sphere of Weimar's influence goes. Weimar, too, has lately established a "German Language Association," whose roll of members includes all sorts and conditions of educated men—professors, clergymen, teachers, officers, and so forth—the Grand Duke giving his especial protection. It is gratifying that this movement for Germanizing German is making such good progress.

Judge Torrence told me the other day that the longer he lived the more he looked back with pleasure and pride upon his service during the war. He was the son of a clergyman who went out as the chaplain of a regiment, followed by his seven sons, while the wife and mother, with patriotism and heroism worthy to rank with that of any of the women of the revolutionary period, remained at home and carried on the farm. Judge Torrence recites, with pardonable pride, how the seven sons were gathered a few years ago about the deathbed of that mother; how she took into her own worn and withered hand, while life still lingered, his own left hand, felt of it, and then said: "Give me the other hand, my son." And as she felt of it with the two shortened fingers shot away in battle she murmured, "That is the one I want," raised it to her lips, kissed it fondly, and soon after sank away to rest.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

A Paris letter to London Truth says: "If Jane Hading goes to London, hair worn in wavy, classical bandeaux and loosely fastened up behind will, I predict, be the fashion next winter. The coiffeurs are furious with her for the very becoming simplicity of her coiffure. However, I think that any one with thin hair at the parting could not successfully imitate the Greek style which she is reviving."

A London correspondent of the San Francisco Argonaut writes that all other correspondents who speak of the Prince of Wales as "Tum-Tum," or "Tum," only show their deplorable ignorance. "Now, as a matter of fact," he says, "the Prince is called 'Tummy' —that is the pet name he goes by. The name is not a chance appellation, applied without either rhyme, reason, or meaning. It is a childish and playful reference to his Royal Highness' stomach, the rotundity of which is one of his most striking features."

It is worthy of note, by the by, says a writer in the New York Times, that Mr. Lorillard has a son who is likely to follow in the steps of Mr. Astor and present himself to the public as an author. Just now he is doing India, and the letters he sends home are bright and give promise of interest when developed into a book that is expected on his return.

The rheumatic are seldom free from a certain soreness or stiffness in the joints and muscles, which serves as a constant reminder that the virus only waits an unfavorable change of weather, or the aid of a cold, to emphasize its presence with excruciating twinges. To prevent the recurrence and mitigate the pain, there is no finer or safer source of relief than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine every way preferable to the poisons, repeated infinitesimal doses of which are taken, to the prejudice of health and the jeopardy of life, and without a permanently remedial effect. Sleep banished by rheumatic and neuralgic pain at night, is restored by this beneficent soother of the nervous system, and the slumber which it superinduces is far more refreshing and beneficial than the stupor into which the brain is thrown by a narcotic. Appetite and digestion, as well as sleep, are improved by it, and it is an admirable regulator and tonic for the bowels and kidneys. Use it for rheumatism before retiring.

Four Lives Saved.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup relieved four of my children of a most alarming attack of whooping cough, from which their throats and necks became so swollen as to prevent them from swallowing. Nothing would give them even temporary relief until this syrup was tried. One bottle, in one night, saved their lives. I verily believe. Geo. W. Earhart, Captain of Police, Baltimore, Md.

Purify Your Blood.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs many impurities, which, if not expelled, are liable to break out in scrofula or other disease. The best spring medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

Dora Steinburier, aged four years, of Fairfield, Conn.; May Lynch, aged six, of Danbury, Conn.; and Miss Mary Holmes of East Fairhaven, Mass., all died on the 12th inst. from burns received through their clothes taking fire from brush fires.

In 1430

Your grocer or druggist will supply you and cheerfully indorse its excellence.

The southern mackeral fleet has not done much this season, so far; the schooner Alice C. Johnson arrived at Philadelphia, on the 12th inst., with a small fare, and the Helen M. The Eleazer Boynton, which arrived at New York on the 13th with seventy-five barrels, sold them at ten cents apiece.

Belligerent Fishermen.

A despatch from Halifax says that telegrams from Shelburne county report that American fishing schooners are arriving on the coast almost daily, and that their captains are making use of rather loud and defiant talk on the present state of the fisheries question, some declaring that they will call for and purchase bait whenever they please, and saying that they will risk seizure as they have been instructed by the owners of their vessels to do so.

News And Notes.

James Brown, master of the well known fishing schooner Northern Eagle, of Gloucester, Mass., was arrested in Gloucester by a United States deputy marshal on the 13th inst., charged with stealing fishing gear on the high seas, and was taken to Boston for examination.

Edward E. Floyd of Brookline, Mass., has paid Henry Little of Exeter $1,000 in settlement of a suit for $10,000 damages on account of Little, a baker, who was driving by Floyd's boarding house in Exeter on April 9th, 1884, being accidentally shot by Floyd, then a student at Phillips academy. Little laid at the point of death many weeks.

In the national house of representatives bills have been passed for the establishment of light houses on Crab Tree ledge, Frenchman's bay, and at Lubec narrows, both on the Maine coast. A provision has also been adopted repealing any law which prohibits the employment of persons over forty-five years of age in the lighthouse service.

The earl of Shaftesbury shot himself dead in a cab in London on the 13th inst., leaving a widow, son and five daughters.

It was announced on Wednesday, the 14th inst., that nearly all the shares of stock in a steamer to run between this city and Pocahontas point, touching at Kittery Point and Newcastle, had been subscribed for, and that the putting of the boat on the route at an early date was an assured fact. The boat which it is proposed to purchase is several feet longer than the James Sampson, and is valued at $4,000, divided into thirty-two shares at $125 each. The intention is to run her the year around, and Mr. Jennison, proprietor of Hotel Pocahontas and the adjacent eligible property, will build a pier at the point at which landing can be made at any stage of the tide and in any reasonable kind of weather. It is reported that Mr. Jacob Remick of Kittery will construct the pier, which will extend out about 200 feet.

An entertainment for the benefit of the pastor, Rev. H. F. Paterson, was given at the Methodist Episcopal church in South Eliot on Monday evening, 12th inst., by the choir of the church, assisted by Miss Martha Ames of Brockton, Mass., Miss Nellie Paul of Kittery, Col. C. R. Littlefield of Kennebunk, "Little Sammy Green" of Germantown, Penn., and others. The programme comprised a choice collection of vocal music, readings and recitations, which were finely rendered and very interesting. A quartette entitled "Leaf by leaf the roses fall," introducing a soprano solo by Mrs. W. H. Staples, a bass solo (with chorus) entitled "Let me dream while life shall linger," by Col. Littlefield, were particularly fine. The occasion was deserving of a more liberal patronage than it received, and entitled the three young ladies who planned and perfected the arrangements so much credit.

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. PHELPS, Rochester, N. Y.

MUSIC HALL.

"Leah, the Forsaken," is not a play that we like; in fact we cordially dislike it; but it affords opportunity for the display of real talent, the title role being especially difficult to fill, demanding in the actress the utmost dramatic vigor joined to the keenest discrimination,—a power to portray trusting love and happiness, mental agony and the bitterest hate, with like truthfulness. These hard conditions appeared to be filled by Miss Akerstrom on Tuesday evening, her Leah being, to our fancy, far superior to Miss Margaret Mather's assumption of the same character.

There were large audiences at the performances on Wednesday, afternoon and evening, "Camille" being played at the matinee, and "A Little Rebel" and "Naramattah" in the evening, the latter play being a very creditable dramatization by Miss Akerstrom of Cooper's "Wept of the Wish-ton-wish."

This (Thursday) evening Miss Akerstrom's new drama in five acts, "Viola, the Street Singer," will have its first public performance. Tickets at Goodrich's.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, April 13th.

On Thursday evening, the 8th, there was a quiet wedding at Munroe Holmes' residence, the bride, one of the belles of Hampton, Miss Stella Holmes, being united to Mr. Ward Mason, one of the four sons of Joseph Mason, Esq. The Mason brothers are very energetic young men, and we wish there were more such in this vicinity.

Our popular and most genial expressman, Mr. Warren Batchelder, is adding fresh paint to his buildings, which are the finest in that locality.

Saturday evening all mail matter was moved to the new post-office, which is the best fourth-class office in New England, fitted in black walnut and whitewood, and has 250 boxes; the postmaster is the most genial, whole-souled fellow who has come into office since '85, and we trust business will be done in a satisfactory manner.

Monday evening Rev. J. W. Adams of Exeter delivered his lecture on "Old Maids" in the town hall, in district No. 5. There are nine living within a half mile.

ANON.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., April 13th.

Mr. John E. Lawry, formerly keeper of the United States quarantine hospital at Wood island, has bought out a provision store in the thriving village of Clinton, Mass., and left town on Saturday last to take charge of his new business.

Mr. Joseph Langton was elected agent of school district No. 1 at the annual meeting held on Saturday evening the 10th inst.

The examination of candidates for admission to the free high school was held in Armory hall on Thursday, the 8th inst. Master Walter Hobbs, son of Cyrus Hobbs, Esq., and Miss Edna Parrott, both aged nine years, passed a very credible examination, and gained 94 per cent.

Mr. Edward K. Smith of Ashland, N. H., has been engaged to teach the grammar school in district No. 9. Miss Emma H. Gerry, who formerly taught it, will have charge of the intermediate school. The position as teacher in the primary school has been offered to Miss Nellie F. Todd of North Kittery, which she will probably accept.

"Roll Caller Hill of the Kittery navy yard," is what the Biddeford Times calls D. A. Hill, Esq., chief clerk in the dept. of steam engineering at the navy yard, as it speaks of the arrival of himself and son at the Saco River house one day last week.

Mrs. Sarah E. Sanborn, wife of the late Joshua H. Sanborn of North Kittery, died at her home in East Boston on Monday, the 5th inst., after a brief illness with pneumonia. She was a kind and and affectionate wife and mother, an exemplary Christian, and for many years an active member of the 1st Methodist church. Her children, and many friends in this and other towns, deeply mourn their loss. SUB ROSA.

POLICE COURT--BATCHELDER J.

WEDNESDAY, April 14th.

Edward P. Philbrook, for drunkenness, was sent to the county farm for thirty days, and ordered to pay $6 90 costs. He came down from a sojourn at Brentwood on the 12th, was taken in by the police on the 13th, and ordered back to the country on the 14th. A few years ago he had the reputation of being a skillful apothecary, but in a long conflict with rum he has been beaten, as usual.

HE REJOICETH.

Our neighbor of the Times indulges in a little jubilation over the probable failure of the courts to punish the participants in the famous Sunday morning prize fight on Leach's island, through all the parties summoned before the grand jury refusing to testify on the ground that they would criminate themselves if they did so. He intimates that the chief offenders in the matter have been the newspapers that persisted in denouncing the affair, and the county officials who have endeavored to punish the sluggers and their abettors—at the serious risk, if successful, of damaging the local democratic party! He closes as follows:

To circulate sensational stories of such affairs is, we consider, catering to the interests of depravity. It is better in cases of this kind to make as little talk as possible. How much more need then was there of saying nothing of an affair which has amounted to nothing, as has the Leach's island affair.

We humbly bow to the rebuke. The next time the city government gets up a Sunday morning "mill" we won't say a word about it, unless there should happen to be some republican in the crowd, in which case we shall rebuke him.

A CARD.

The Woman's Temperance League and W. C. T. U. of this city wish to extend a vote of thanks to the Pearl street Free-will Baptist society for the use of their vestry for the W. C. T. U. county convention which convened April 7th.

PER ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

A GREAT STORE.

We invite the attention of our readers, especially the ladies, to the advertisement of Messrs. Ayers & Locke in another column, in which extra bargains in gloves of all kinds are announced. The firm have lately made great additions to their stock of dry goods and small wares, and are showing one of the largest and best-selected stocks to be found in New England outside of Boston. If purchasers would take the trouble to call and examine their goods and learn their prices before sending to New York or Boston, they would be satisfied that it would be for their interest to buy here, rather than run the risk of receiving inferior goods which they have been unable to inspect before purchasing.

COFFEE PARTY.

The festival to be given by the ladies of the South Parish at Congress hall, this evening, will doubtless be heartily enjoyed by all who attend. The excellence of the supper to be served from six o'clock will be as in times past, especially inviting. At half-past eight o'clock dancing will be in order; music by Harlow.

These social gatherings, participation in which is by no means confined to members of the parish, but includes friends in goodly numbers from other denominations, have always done much to bring together people who otherwise might be unacquainted, while the recreative character of the entertainment affords an agreeable satisfaction to attendants of all ages, convincing every one that there is a "time to dance," and fully illustrating the ancient axiom that "Religion never was designed to make our pleasures less."

AROUND HOME.

The boats loaded down to the gunwale with seaweed are again seen going up river to the riverside farms.

It is reported that Rev. Wm. P. Israel will continue to supply the pulpit of the Christian church at Beech Ridge, York, during the coming season. Mr. Israel has been largely instrumental in building up the Sunday school at the ridge.

George A. French, Esq., of Manchester, was in town on Wednesday, the 14th. Col. W. A. Cromwell of Maine also appeared on the scene, and told the democrats of his native city how much more he esteemed the administration than some of its Maine appointees.

The salvation army propose to keep up the war on Satan until he is driven from this city. If the old buffer has any ear for music we should think he would scoot for Agamenticus at once on hearing some of the cornet playing they sometimes indulge in.

Mr. George R. Brown of Christian Shore has been engaged by Oliver W. Ham to drive one of his express wagons. Mr. Brown is a veteran teamster, and we wish him success in his new employ.

Capt. Samuel Goodwin, lately in command of the schooner Gulnare, of York, has taken charge of the schooner Emily A. Staples, formerly commanded by Capt. Frank P. Coleman of Newington. The Emily A. Staples will go on the marine railway at Kittery, where she will be overhauled by Warren Keen.

The funeral of the late Capt. Albert Dow, of Rye, was largely attended by his friends in that town and from this city on Thursday.

Cole's salt-fish store in the stone building at the north end of Market street has been re-opened — another indication of the approach of warm weather.

The old-time boatman, "Nattie" Yeaton, came down the river this week from Durham,—his first trip for the season.

The brickers D. K. Ham, G. W. Raitt, Hattie Lewis and Ocean Eagle sailed for Boston on Wednesday of this week, loaded. The Satellite and Triton, having both completed their repairs, were up the river loading on that date.

Forty-four linear feet of the big sewer were laid between the 8th and 14th insts.

Two large elms in front of the Haven mansion on Islington street have been removed, in consequence of injuries received during the ice-storm, so called. One of the trees was a very large one, nearly four feet in diameter.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when he had, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. The sores after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child in the first stage of the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one INHALER, all carefully wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

Attorney-General Garland is not the only politician at Washington who is afraid his constituents would not tolerate his wearing a dress suit. Senator George of Mississippi told his constituents two years ago, it is said, that he wouldn't wear a dress coat or ride in a carriage in Washington, and he has kept his vow. Senator Joe Brown of Georgia, after long hesitation, "compromised," says a correspondent of the Cleveland Leader, "by having a swallow-tail made out of chinchilla beaver, and wearing a red flannel chest-protector under the bosom of his shirt. Ex-Secretary Kirkwood would not wear a dress suit while he was in Washington. The Democratic United States Minister to Brazil had no dress coat, and the American residents took up a subscription to buy him one.

A Washington letter to the Philadelphia Record says: "I am glad to announce that Senator William Maxwell Evarts has a new silk hat. Everybody remembers the shocking bad hat which he wore when he was Secretary of State. It could not very well be forgotten, for he has worn it almost ever since. But at last through the favor of an admirer, takes it into his seat on the floor of the Senate. Not that he puts that precious hat on the floor of the Senate. O no! He puts his gold-rimmed eye-glasses on, and, lovingly caressing it, places the hat carefully on his own desk or in the vacant chair of an absent neighbor.

A wagon road and railroad track run side by side for a quarter of a mile near Adairsville, Ga., and then the road crosses the track. Walter Curtis' horse took fright at an express train there the other day and ran away. The engineer put on steam and tried to beat the horse to the crossing, but the animal got there first, just in time to be knocked sixty feet, by measurement, and instantly killed. Curtis was found thirty-five feet from the point of collision. A three-inch iron-ring which he had in his pocket was bent almost double, but his gold watch was going all right in his pocket while the chain was found in a field.

WHISKEY REVOLUTIONIZED.

A Great Discovery.

[From the New York Times.]

What bids fair to revolutionize the liquor business in this country is a recent claim of a Baltimore concern, to have discovered a secret process of eliminating fusel oil from whiskey. There is probably nothing in the last century that has been the source of more investigation and experiment, among scientists and chemists, than the search after this secret, and if the firm in Baltimore possesses it—as they evidently do, judging from the statements of our most eminent men of science, and the fact that they openly submit their product to the analysis of any intelligent chemist, and challenge the finding of any trace of fusel oil or other poisonous ingredients, therein—they will indeed, not only revolutionize this trade, but will reform, in a great measure, the practice of medicine. Already, owing to the alacrity with which physicians take hold of it, it has begun to be the recognized stimulant in the treatment of diseases, such as consumption, dyspepsia, malaria and recovery from all wasting maladies. It is likely, therefore, not only to supercede all other whiskies, but brandies, wines and the like, will have to succumb. The only difference between these latter and whiskey being the percentage of alcohol they contain, this new whiskey, which is said to be absolutely free from fusel oil, will only have to be diluted, in order to make it correspond in strength with any desired stimulant. The absence in it, of this active poison fusel oil, will also make it the only stimulant, not followed by after effects, most undesirable in their character and so notable in the use of all other stimulants. The proprietors are distilling their new whiskey from malt, and combining, as it does a food and stimulant quality, it will no doubt have a tendency on account of its medicinal virtues, to wean over many of the present devotees of rye, corn and other decoctions, in which the fatal fusel oil is ever present. This whiskey is said to be very agreeable to the taste, and has become very popular with invalids and others, to whom most stimulants are objectionable.

A Wonderful STRENGTHENER

A LETTER-CARRIER'S STORY.

"A letter-carrier has his ups and downs as every one else has, I suppose," said one of these messengers of Uncle Sam the other day, in speaking of his experiences, "but take it all in all I would rather be a carrier at $1,000 a year than a clerk at $1,200. In the first place our position is assured as long as we are honest and attentive to our duties, and then we have our little perquisites that net us more than people generally think. I used to have a route along Beacon street near the Public Gardens, and it was a very cold Christmas indeed when the rich nobs didn't remember me to the extent of $300 or $400. For letters that brought good news I have often been given crisp $5 notes from the pleased recipients. And then the little romances, and sometimes deep disappointments and heart-burning that we know of! I shall never forget the pale, anxious face with which an old millionaire used to greet me every morning for a long time, as he opened the door himself in answer to my whistle, and nervously reach for his letters. His hands would tremble as he tore open the envelopes, and then would come a long sigh of relief when he found there was no bad news. At last there came a letter that blanched his face whiter than the paper on which it was written, and he fell down senseless all in a heap at my feet. I helped to carry him up to his room, but never saw him again. Pretty soon a new family moved into the house. It was some financial trouble, I suppose, and the letter had brought ruin to the old gentleman, who had a big family to support."

Letter-Carrier W. B. Goodale, of Hartford, Conn., tells a not less interesting story, though happily its ending is not so tragic. Mr. Goodale is well known in Hartford, and his many friends to whom he had often as a carrier brought tidings of sorrow and of joy, were much pleased to receive his present message:

"For three months," he says, "I was confined to my house with inflammatory rheumatism. So severe, indeed, was my affliction that the doctors took such heroic measures as to prescribe forty grains of morphine a day, beside steaming me five hours and dosing me with all sorts of medicine. I had three doctors, but their combined skill failed to give me any relief. Finally I became discouraged and determined to let the disease do its work. I had a pair of crutches made and was nervously awaiting the worst, when a friend came to see me and advised me to try Athlophoros. After much persuasion I consented. I took the first dose at six o'clock in the evening and two more during the night. The next morning, for the first time in three months, I was able to go to work, greatly to the astonishment of my friends, who all thought I would never get around again. As Athlophoros cured me I believe it will cure anybody suffering with rheumatism. It has many friends in Hartford since the people have seen that it will do all that is claimed for it."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

ONE OF THE FAMILY.

Farmer Kimball was in his strawberry-patch, pulling up the weeds, when Lucy Keene came down the road that beautiful July morning, and he was just about to throw an armful of them over the fence as she came round the corner.

The sun-bonnet she wore was exactly like one he remembered to have seen her mother wear twenty-five years ago; and he remembered, too, as he looked at this one, and the fresh, rosy face under it, how that one had made his heart flutter the first time he saw it, and how he was so bewitched by it, or the face under it, that he had walked home with Hester Mason, and had had hard work to keep from proposing to her.

He wondered now, and he had wondered many times in the twenty-five years that had gone by since, why he never did propose to her.

He had meant to marry her sometime, and he was sure she liked him in the old days, but something had come between them, and she had married Robert Keene and he had married his cousin Mary.

As he had looked at Hester's daughter this summer morning the old fire stirred under the dust and ashes of twenty-five years, and he felt a little flame spring up in his heart.

"Good morning, Lucy," he said, leaning over the fence.

"O," exclaimed Lucy, with a little jump, "I didn't see you, and you came near scaring me. Isn't it pleasant?"

"Yes, it is pleasant," answered the farmer, looking straight at her pretty face. "How's your mother?"

"Pretty well," answered Lucy. "Your strawberries are doing splendidly, aren't they? We're so provoked about ours. The hens got into the garden, and mother says she don't think we'll have a pailful of berries in all."

"I want to know!" exclaimed the farmer, "Now tell your mother that she's welcome to all she wants out of my patch. She can have 'em just as well as not. There's going to be a sight more'n we'll want, and I'd rather have 'em used than wasted."

"I will tell her," answered Lucy; "I know she'll be delighted at the chance. You know what a hand she is to make strawberry preserves."

"Yes, I do," answered the farmer, thinking of old times. "I remember she beat all the old housekeepers at that. They used to say that she had a knack of making strawberry jam that nobody else could get hold of."

"She hasn't lost it yet," said Lucy. "She'll be pleased to have you come to tea some time and try some she made last year. She had unusually good luck.

"I'll do it," he replied. "Let me see, to-day's Wednesday. Tell her I'll come over on Saturday, if it's agreeable, and I reckon the berries'll be ripe, so I can pick a pailful by that time. If they be, I'll bring some over."

"Thank you," said Lucy. "If you do we'll have a short-cake. I'll tell her to expect you to tea on Saturday, then."

"Yes," answered the farmer; "I'll be round if nothing happens. Oh, I heard from Charley yesterday. He'll be home in a day or two, to stay."

"That'll be pleasant for you," said Lucy, stooping down to pick up a daisy.

He could not see how rosy the face under the bewitching sun-bonnet grew all at once. If he had it might have set him to thinking.

"Yes, it will," said the farmer. "Charley's a good boy."

"I think I'll have to be going," said Lucy. "We shall expect you to tea Saturday, remember."

"I won't disappoint you," said the farmer, and then Lucy went on, and he went back to pulling weeds.

"I s'pose it's foolish to think of such a thing," he said to himself, "but I don't know as it's anybody's business but ours. If I see fit to marry Lucy and she's willin', I'm going to do it."

From which you will see that the farmer's old fancy for the mother had suddenly been transferred to the daughter.

Charley came home the next day.

"I s'pose I'll have to tell him what I've been thinking about," thought the farmer. "I'd 'bout as soon take a horse-whipping, I declare. But there ain't no use in dreading it and puttin' it off as I know of."

Accordingly, when they were sitting in the porch, after supper, the farmer began:

"I've been thinking of getting a new housekeeper," he announced.

"Won't Aunt Sarah stay?" asked Charley.

"I—I mean a housekeeper of another kind," he said, wiping his face vigorously.

Charley gave a whistle of surprise and stared hard at his father.

"Who is it to be, if I may ask such a question?" he said.

"Down the road," said the farmer, jerking his thumb over his shoulder in the direction of the Widow Keene's.

He couldn't muster up courage to say it was Lucy.

"Ah! that's the way the wind blows, is it?" laughed Charley. "I'm glad to hear it. You couldn't do better."

"I'm glad to hear you say so," said Mr. Kimball, much relieved. "I felt sure you'd like to have Lucy as—a member of the family."

"I haven't any objection, if she hasn't."

"So that's over," said the farmer, as Charley strolled down the road in the early evening. "I wonder he never took a fancy to her. I s'pose folks'll say I'm an old fool, but I don't care."

While he sat there Charley was telling Lucy that his father had keener eyes than he had given him credit for, for he seemed to understand how matters stand perfectly. And what he told her after that is none of your business or mine, though I will say that I feel

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. HUBINGER & BRO., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

The Root of all Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured of scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood-purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

The Great Railroad Strike.

The great strike on the Gould system of railroads in the southwest is still very much alive, although Mr. Gould some days ago announced it to be a thing of the past. Affairs at East St. Louis are quiet, under the supervision of the state troops, and large quantities of freight are being moved. There have been nine deaths in consequence of the shooting affray there on the 9th. On the 11th, Grand Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, addressed a letter to Jay Gould saying he (Powderly) had done all in his power to end the strike, and charging upon Gould the responsibility for its longer continuance. Gould replied on the 14th in a letter which gives little hope of his yielding in the least to the demands of the Knights of Labor.

He Had the Autographs.

They tell a good story of Col. Brad-B. Smalley, the leader of the compact but vivacious democracy of Vermont. Brad has been for many years clerk of the United States courts in Vermont, but after Cleveland's election as president, concluded that the collectorship of Burlington was a better office than his clerkship. Recently he went to Washington to see how far Senator Evarts could exert an influence to prevent his confirmation as collector, and carried with him the petition of a democratic friend to be appointed postmaster in a little country town. As the secretary of the democratic national committee, Col. Smalley went directly to Postmaster-General Vilas, expecting to get his man's commission at once. The Wisconsin statesman has a notion that he is a civil service reformer on a high plane, and when he glanced at the petition and found only three names on it, he said: "Why, Smalley, really this won't do, you know. I can't do this thing on three names. You must have a more general representation of the democrats of the appointer's own town. I am willing enough to appoint your man, but you must get more democratic backing for him." Smalley's reply was: "Well, Vilas, I know Vermont from A to Izzard. I know that town particularly well. It polls just five democratic votes, and two of them can't write their names. What more do you want?" He got the appointment.

Too Much Was Asked.

In the house of representatives, on the 14th inst., a vote was taken on the contested election case of Hurd vs. Romeis. Romeis, the sitting member, is a strongly protectionist republican; Hurd is the noted free-trade democrat of Ohio, and that was the only shadow of a claim he had to the seat, Romeis having clearly been elected. The first vote was on the motion that Jacob Romeis is not entitled to his seat, which was negatived, 168 to 105, no less than forty-nine democrats voting with the republicans. The majority resolutions, confirming Mr. Romeis right to his seat, were then adopted without a division, and Mr. Hurd can now go home.

Disastrous Cyclone.

St. Cloud, Minn., was struck on the afternoon of the 14th inst. by a cyclone, which plowed a path 600 yards wide through the town, leveling over 200 buildings, killing over 100 persons and wounding many others. At Sauk Rapids, southeast of St. Cloud, many houses were destroyed and thirty or forty persons killed. Aid was telegraphed for to Minneapolis, and promptly sent. Mr. M. H. Clark, a lumber merchant of St. Cloud, reported the number killed there to be over 200. Among those killed at Sauk Rapids were the county auditor, county treasurer, judge of probate, and the president of the German-American national bank.

New Hampshire Patents.

The following list of patents, granted April 13th, to citizens of New Hampshire, is specially reported by Franklin H. Hough, solicitor of American and foreign patents, No. 925 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C.:

A. S. Clough, Meredith, combined table, blackboard, etc.

E. L. Farnham, Milton Mills, bevel.

G. W. Griffin, Franklin Falls, machine for making saws, etc.

J. W. Jackson, Haverhill, car-coupling.

G. W. Sanborn, Gilmanton, automatic brake.

The whole number of patents granted to citizens of the United States for the week ending April 13th was 452.

At Newmarket a few evenings since some persons broke into the Granite fire-engine house, cut the linen hose into sections of about three feet in length, slashed and cut the suction hose and nozzles, cut off the capes to the firemen's caps, broke up the ballot-box, stove in the company's prize silver torches, and wrecked things generally. The selectmen offer $50 reward for the detection of the parties.

Mr. Charles Gray, of Four Tree island, has been blowing to pieces some of the larger rocks on the shores of his island between high and low water mark, thereby making the landing better for boats, and at the same time procuring stone for a new sea-wall. "Bell's stone," the big boulder against which many a sail and row boat has brought up at low stages of the tide, has escaped him so far.

Mr. William T. Frye, the veteran democrat, cooper and alewive merchant of ward two, arrived home on the 14th inst. from Boston, where he has passed the winter. Mr. Frye is greatly disappointed with the outcome of the democratic victory at the late national election, and makes no secret of declaring that he is not in sympathy with the administration. After a stay of a few days at home, Mr. Frye will go down in Maine on a visit to his daughter.

The Sunday school of the Christian society held a very successful concert in the church on Court street on Thursday evening.

At a recent meeting of the voters in school district No. 7, of Eliot, Mr. Samuel Dixon was chosen agent by one majority over the republican candidate.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Should be kept constantly at hand, for use in emergencies of the household. Many a mother, startled in the night by the ominous sounds of Croup, finds the little sufferer, with red and swollen face, gasping for air. In such cases Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. Emma Gedney, 159 West 123 st., New York, writes: "While in the country, last winter, my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with Croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was tried in small and frequent doses, and, in less than half an hour, the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the Pectoral saved my darling's life." Mrs. Chas. B. Landon, Guilford, Conn., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and also the life of my little son. As he is troubled with Croup, I dare not be without this remedy in the house." Mrs. J. Gregg, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My children have repeatedly taken Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for Coughs and Croup. It gives immediate relief, followed by cure." Mrs. Mary E. Evans, Scranton, Pa., writes: "I have two little boys, both of whom have been, from infancy, subject to violent attacks of Croup. About six months ago we began using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it acts like a charm. In a few minutes after the child takes it, he breathes easily and rests well. Every mother ought to know what a blessing I have found in Ayer's Cherry Pectoral." Mrs. Wm. C. Reid, Freehold, N. J., writes: "In our family, Ayer's medicines have been blessings for many years. In cases of Colds and Coughs, we take and the inconvenience is soon forgotten."

Saved My Life,

Spring Medicine

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." E. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLER, Boston, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. EFFELRE, Rochester, N.Y.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, April 15th, Mayor Eldredge in the chair:

Present the full board, except Alderman Coffin.

The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

George A. Jackson was granted leave to encumber Penhallow street, and Wm. Ward to encumber Deer street, for building purposes.

D. E. Leavitt's request for sidewalk on Middle street was referred, as was Dr. Parsons' request for sidewalk on Warren street, widening of walk on Chestnut street, and crosswalk.

Petition for light on Deer street, between Vaughan and Bridge streets, was referred to committee on street lights, with power.

Petition for fire-alarm box near the junction of Bow and Daniel streets, was granted.

City marshal's quarterly report was received.

Resignation of John Hennessy as police officer was accepted.

The mayor suggested the feasibility of selling city's stock in the Dover railroad, to pay bonds falling due within three years. Referred to a special committee consisting of the mayor and Aldermen Littlefield and Williams, to report.

Matter of purchasing a new stone crusher and a steam roller was referred to committee on streets, with mayor added.

Adjourned for two weeks.

THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The treasurer of the cottage hospital very gratefully acknowledges the receipt of $31.35 from the managers of the charity concert given at Music hall a few weeks ago.

Any person who will give labor, either by the day or hour, in the hospital garden, will render valuable assistance to the directors.

Bulbs, plants, and cuttings of all kinds will be most acceptable.

WANTS AN EVIL IN OUR STREETS PREVENTED.

Would it not be well, Mr. Editor, for our police officers, now that the streets are free from mud, to endeavor to compel the boys who trundle swill in leaky barrows and small carts, to draw them in the streets and not over the sidewalks, dripping part of their disagreeable contents by leakage, and spilling when they hit a curb? The evil ought to be remedied by an ordinance prohibiting the carriage of swill and house refuse in the mode now permitted. It should be properly transported in covered boxes or carts, and not sent through the streets in charge of the small boy, who frequently stops in the middle of the sidewalk with his unsavory load, to the great annoyance of pedestrians. S. G.

SILVER WEDDING.

A large party assembled at the home of Mr. Edwin Randall and wife in Gardner street on the evening of the 14th inst., to assist them in celebrating the 25th anniversary of their marriage. The host was equal to the occasion and entertained his guests with generous hospitality, while the hostess appeared with countenance radiant with smiles. The ice cream and cake were excellent and disappeared rapidly. The best wishes of their numerous friends attend the happy couple. COM.

A GENEROUS OFFER.

Hon. Marcellus Eldredge has offered in case others will contribute $2,000 toward a soldiers' monument, to add a sum sufficient to complete the structure to a height of twenty-seven feet, and surmount it with a bronze statue of a soldier at parade rest.

THE LANCASTER PRINT.

We have received from Mr. W. J. McCarthy, ship's printer of the U. S. S. Lancaster, the first number of the Lancaster Print, published on board that ship at Cape Town, Africa, February 21st. In the salutatory the editor says: "All must acknowledge that a journal of this kind has long been needed," showing that the paper is established to fill a long-felt want, just the same as is done on shore. Under the head of "Personals" the editor says: "We do not hold ourselves responsible for any opinion expressed under this head," and then adds, with a slight degree of ambiguity, "although satisfaction is guaranteed!" From the news columns we learn that shortly after the arrival of the Lancaster at Cape Town a gentleman on shore sent to one of the officers of the ship a challenge for a base ball nine of the crew to play a game with a shore nine for the championship of South Africa, the shore nine being made up of expert cricketers, who of course would be good fielders and batters, though not accustomed to base ball. A nine was formed from the crew, and after four days' practice on land they met the shore nine, and defeated them in a three hours' game by a score of thirty-three to thirty-one.

AROUND HOME.

Dr. Berry has removed to his new location on Vaughan street.

The treasurer of Faith Home for Old Ladies acknowledges with thanks the receipt (through C. S. Franklin, president,) of thirty-one dollars and thirty-five cents ($31.35) from Jerome C. Butler, Esq., manager of the charity concert.

Lewis E. Staples has kid skins on exhibition in his show windows, and for sale in the store kid gloves of the new tan shades at forty-seven cents per pair. See his advertisement.

One of the witnesses who went before the grand jury to give evidence (?) as to the recent prize fight, being asked to state where he was at a very early hour on the Sunday morning when this breach of the law was transmitted, replied with great naivete that "he never began to write his diary at so early an hour in the day, and he could not tell." It is perhaps as well for the fair fame of our region that there was not the slightest evidence secured to prove that any such desecration of the Sabbath as has been glowingly described ever occurred, and now we are asked to infer that the graphic description written for a local paper was simply doctored for the purpose of pandering to a depraved taste.

The Times refers to Hon. Marcellus Eldredge as "Our present mayor, who has never until now filled any political or municipal office." The office of state senator, which Mr. Eldredge once held, may not be a political one, but he certainly held a municipal office when he was an alderman.

The old brick building on Penhallow street purchased a few months ago by Mr. George Scott from the Edmund M. Brown estate, is being repaired and fitted for a business stand by a gang of masons under direction of Mr. A. B. Trefethen.

Prospects of African Civilization.

The prospects of African civilization are aptly summed up in the elder Prince Gortschakoff's terse definition of the equally undeveloped vastness of Siberia as "a good bill payable at a long date." Vast as are the results achieved during the last few years, they are as nothing to the work which still remains to be done; but the outer world is at all events beginning to learn for the first time what Africa really is, and what she really needs. As lately as 1830, civilization hailed as a great discovery the announcement that "John and Richard Lander, having voyaged down the Niger from Yauri to the sea, have satisfactorily ascertained that it is not the Congo!" Even after this amazing revelation, and, indeed, almost up to the date of Stanley's famous "finding of Livingstone," the few Europeans who thought of Africa at all, thought of it as a vast sandy desert, with a floating population consisting chiefly of hungry lions and robbers more ferocious still, the latter being in the habit of "careering over the waste" on swift horses, without any obvious cause for their hurry, living comfortably where there was nothing to eat, and amassing stores of ill-gotten wealth where there was no one to rob.

But the great tidal wave of civilization which is now bursting into the Dark Continent has swept away these delusions at once and forever. The supposed "desert" proves to contain wide tracts of alluvial soil as fertile as the Cashmere Valley, forests vast enough to swallow up all the woods of northern Russia, lakes to which Ladoga and Onega would be mere pools, mountains as high as the stateliest peaks of the Alps or the Caucasus, and rivers forming a series of watery high-roads as magnificent as those of Siberia itself, with the additional advantage of having no winter to impede them. Indeed, the future history of Africa will be written along the lines traced by the Nile, the Niger, and the Congo, as certainly as that of Central Asia has followed the course of the Syr-Darya and the Oxus; and with these three great natural highways any survey of Africa's development must necessarily begin.—David Ker, in Harper's Magazine for March.

The Dover Democrat says that "Suspicion points very strongly now towards Chas. Armstrong, ex-chief of police of Farmington, not only as the party who stole the gold watches from Safford's jewelry store, Farmington, and burglarized the safe at the railroad depot at Wolfeboro, but also as the murderous assailant of John D. Parshley of Rochester, and the party who robbed Sanderson's drug store in the same town. It is said a stolen gun taken from a Farmington house has been traced to Great Falls, where it was sold by Armstrong."

Mr. James Janvrin is putting up a house on Charles street, near Puddle Dock, for Mrs. George Pickering.

At Clark's Harbor, N. S., on the 11th, it is alleged that a boat's crew from the Gloucester schooner Josie M. Calderwood cut and ruined a number of lobster traps set in the bay and which belonged to native fishermen. They were noticed at work by people on the shore, but were not suspected of being engaged in wanton destruction, and were not interfered with. Their schooner was anchored at the mouth of the harbor and early next morning she set sail and left the neighborhood. The fact that the outrage had been perpetrated was only discovered when men from the shore went out to attend to the trawls, when they were found to have been almost entirely destroyed.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. Sores came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him. His mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bony formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, as strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

MRS. E S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

[Concluded from 1st page]

sure it had nothing to do with Lucy's becoming "one of the family."

About 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon Mr. Kimball, in his best coat and with a pail of strawberries, knocked at Mrs. Keene's door.

"Good afternoon," said the widow, as she let him in, with a charming suspicion of a blush in her face.

"Here's some berries," said he, awkwardly presenting his offering. "Lucy said the hens had played the mischief with yours, and as I have plenty why you may just as well as not have as many of 'em as you need."

"I'm a thousand times obliged to you."

By this time the farmer had got to the sitting-room door. Who should he see there but Charley, seemingly very much at home, as he held worsted for Lucy to wind.

"I managed to get an invitation to tea, too," laughed Charley. "You kept it very sly, but I wasn't to be cheated out of my share of strawberry preserves."

Then Charley and Lucy looked at each other and laughed, and the farmer felt his face grow red.

"Just see what he's brought us," said the widow displaying the berries. "If you'll help pick 'em, Lucy, we'll have a short-cake for tea. I remember how fond you used to be of strawberry short-cake years ago," and the widow, smiled at the farmer till there was a dimple in each cheek. Her words brought vividly back to him his happiest experiences of a quarter of a century previous.

"I remember, too," he responded.

Then Lucy and her mother went out.

"I've spoken to her about being one of the family, and she's willing," said Charley.

"I don't understand," said the farmer, in great bewilderment, growing hot, then cold.

"Why, you know what you said the other night, when you told me you thought of getting her mother for housekeeper," explained Charley. "I supposed you understood, from what you said, that Lucy and I intended to be married. It's all settled.

Mr. Kimball sat speechless. What he thought of in the next five minutes could not be described. His brain worked with a speed and intensity to which it was quite unaccustomed.

"I—I think you'll be happy," he stammered, at last, feeling that something was expected of him, and amiably desirous of maintaining, as far as he could, the genial and happy spirit of the occasion.

"I'm sure we will," said Charley. "I hope you will, too."

Pretty soon the widow came in.

"The short-cake's baking," she said. "Lucy said she'd pick the berries and set the table, and sent me in to play lady and entertain the company."

Charley watched his opportunity and slipped into the kitchen. The two more than middle-aged people were thus left to entertain each other. The sly boy Cupid never had a better opportunity given him!

The farmer had made up his mind again. If he couldn't have Lucy he'd have her mother, if he could get her.

"Come to think it all over," he told himself, "that was the best plan, by all odds."

He wondered how he could have been foolish enough to think of having a girl of twenty-one or two. The idea was ridiculous.

"What's the use of waiting?" thought he. "It might as well be settled now as any time."

"Hester," he began, getting red again, "Charley and Lucy are going to get married. Why shouldn't we?"

Mr. Kimball blurted out the question with startling emphasis.

"Why, Mr. Kimball!" cried the widow, blushing so rosily that he thought she was prettier than her daughter.

"I came over on purpose to ask you," he said, telling a most outrageous fib. "I hope you haven't any objections."

When Lucy came in, half an hour later, to say tea was ready, the farmer rose up, blushing like a girl, and jerked his thumb toward the widow; then said, in a voice that shook a little:

"That's your mother, Lucy—I mean she's Mrs. Kimball, or going to be. It's all settled."

"I s'pose I may kiss my father, then," said Lucy, and plumped a kiss on the father's lips, and he said she might give him another for her father-in-law while she was about it, if she'd no objections. "One will answer for both," said Lucy.

Then the farmer gave his arm to the woman he had meant to marry five and twenty years ago, and led her out to tea. He has never regretted that matters turned out as they did.

"Lucy can't be best for a daughter," he tells himself; "but I don't want any better wife than her mother makes."

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Great Rock Island Route

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road bed, smooth tracks of continuous steel rail, substantially built iron and steel bridges, rolling stock so near perfection as human skill can make it, the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes and that exacting discipline which governs the personal operation of all its trains. Other points of merit this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and Peoria, Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten. Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison there also runs the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, sportsmen's resorts, fishing and shooting grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

Catarrh, when chronic, becomes very offensive. It is impossible to be otherwise healthy, and, at the same time, afflicted with catarrh. This disagreeable disease, in its most obstinate and dangerous forms, can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Nine persons were killed at Ajacci, France, April 15th, by the fall of a mansion.

I have had catarrh for years in its worst form. Before I had used one bottle of Ely's Cream Balm droppings into my throat had ceased, pain and soreness in my head was removed, as well as deafness. It gives me immediate relief for cold in the head.—Mrs. J. D. Hagardorn, Union, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

The democratic state convention of Maine will be held in Bangor on the 2d of June.

If you have a cough, bronchitis, or any form of throat or lung disease, do not neglect it. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, if promptly taken, will speedily relieve and cure all ailments of this character.

There is talk of the Knights of Labor boycotting Harrington & Co. of Salem, Mass.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills they are very small and no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

How to laundry linen as it is done in Troy, N. Y., has been kept a secret long enough; it can and should be done in every family. The Elastic Starch is the only starch in the United States that is put up by men who have a practical knowledge of the laundry profession. It requires no cooking, keeps the iron from sticking and linen from blistering while ironing, and gives shirts, cuffs and collars that stiffness and beautiful polish they have when new, which, everybody knows keeps them clean twice as long. Beware of imitations. See that the name J. C. Hubinger & Bro., New Haven, Conn., is on every package.

BETTER THAN PROMISES

Is positive proof.

What has been done in many cases can still be done in others. Sufferers from rheumatism and neuralgia can find relief if they wish. In proof of this statement the following letters are submitted:—

East Somerville, Mass., Jan. 26, 1886.

I have been asked to give my testimony as to what good there is in Athlophoros as a cure for rheumatism, and I simply say to those who are suffering from it try it, and if it does not give relief or a permanent cure it will be a most extraordinary case. In my own case it is a well-known fact among many of my acquaintances it knocked the rheumatism out of me.

Geo. C. Boerum, U. S. N.
44 Franklin street.

East Douglass, Mass., Jan. 25, 1886.

One-third of a bottle of Athlophoros cured me of inflammatory rheumatism. Being a cattle dealer my business compels me to be around in all kinds of weather and by constant exposure I contracted a severe and painful attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the hips and arms, which defied the supposed healing virtues of most every known remedy. Hearing that Athlophoros was doing wonders I tried it with the above gratifying results. Although the rheumatism has not troubled me for nearly a year, I always keep Athlophoros where I can lay my hands on it, and now instead of the disease defying the medicine matters are reversed. I feel perfectly safe for I know Athlophoros will cure rheumatism.

E. P. Heath.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

Yes, sir; Athlophoros will cure rheumatism and so far as my experience goes it is the only medicine that will make a complete cure, for I have tried most every thing with no effect. Certainly there was no good effect from my long use of the many so-called rheumatic cures, for all proved worthless; but when I saw with my own eyes what Athlophoros had done for a friend of mine—cured him of rheumatism—I tried it, and two doses of it relieved me so much as to permit me to put my feet on the ground, and in twenty-four hours I was standing on my feet, after which I steadily improved and soon was entirely rid of the rheumatism. So I truthfully say to anybody suffering with rheumatism take Athlophoros and you will be cured.

Gustaf Nelson, 216 Harrison Av.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 8, 1886.

I was suffering terribly with inflammatory rheumatism and thought I would just try Athlophoros. I did so, receiving immediate relief after taking three or four doses without any deleterious effects from it. I can honestly recommend it to any one suffering from muscular or inflammatory rheumatism.

E. S. Richards.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19, 1886.

I desire to express my feeling of gratitude for the benefit I received from the use of Athlophoros, a medicine of genuine worth; being afflicted with that common but painful disease, inflammatory rheumatism, and being laid up because my feet were so swollen I could not stand up, I commenced using Athlophoros. Before half of the first bottle was used I was able to walk to my store. I continued to use it until in a short while my rheumatism disappeared entirely, the cure complete. I recommend Athlophoros because I know it to be an article of merit.

NOBLY DONE.

"Poor creature!" said Amy Wright, to two of her school companions, as the three girls stepped from a cabin on the outskirts of the town of Westville, "to be deaf and dumb, and with a little baby, and not able to tell where she came from, and where she was going, when the train met with that accident! Its dreadful!"

A week before this a southern-bound train collided with freight-cars, and was hurled down a steep embankment. Some of the passengers were killed, and but few of them escaped without injury. The woman mentioned had her right arm severely hurt, and was otherwise injured, and the fright seemed to have affected her mind, for, clasping her infant in her arms, she walked rapidly down the railroad track, and did not stop until she reached Westville, two miles distant from the place of the accident. There she staggered to a bench under some trees, and fainted away.

Fortunately, two men were near, who came to her relief, and as she seemed to have no money, and was thus thrown a pauper upon the town, the authorities of Westville placed her in the cabin of a poor family, and charitable people provided for her immediate wants.

But she was a mystery to the Westville folk. Her outlandish dress, the short woollen skirt, with the queer bodice, the strange head-gear, between a cap and a bonnet, showed that she was a foreigner. The injury to her right arm prevented her from making any signs. Even had she been able to express her thoughts by her fingers, there was no one in Westville who understood the language of mutes. If any persons on the train knew about the poor woman, they were among the killed or wounded, for no inquiry revealed anything concerning her.

The three girls—the eldest was only thirteen years old—had been sent by their parents with food to the woman, and their hearts were full of pity for her.

"How dreadful it must be to be so poor!" Nuna Halpin said, with a sigh. "And then to be thrown among strangers, and deaf and dumb besides!"

"Isn't it pitiable to see her trying to make us understand what she wishes to say?" Alice exclaimed. "Did you see how she pointed south with her left hand, and looked getting so wild? And then, when she found we didn't understand her, how she hugged the baby, and cried as if her heart would break? Oh, if we could only help her in some way!"

"I'm sure she wants money," Amy said, solemnly. "Everybody could get along if they had money. I heard pa say that if she had some she could buy a railroad ticket and go to her friends. He can't give her any now, but he says by the time her arm is well, he hopes he will be able to help her."

"My father is too poor himself to help anybody," Alice said, sadly. "But, girls, do you know I think if she can't get away from here, she will die. She does not eat, and she cries all the time. Oh, I do so wish we could do something for her!"

The girls walked on silently. Suddenly Amy cried out in an excited manner, "Listen, girls! I've thought of a way of making money. Do you know pecans are selling in Colchester for twelve dollars a barrel? You know Mr. Mills allows everybody to gather the nuts from his pecan grove, and if we can get ahead of the boys and of the colored people, we have as much right to the pecans as anybody else. Only we shall be obliged to go afternoons and Saturdays. No play for us until the nuts are gathered."

"And there are walnuts in the woods, besides!" Nuna Halpin cried. "I shouldn't be surprised if we make ever so much money."

"And I'm sure papa would ship them for us, and attend to all the business," Amy said. "To-morrow's Saturday, and if you say so, we will begin right off."

So the next day the girls began their work of charity. The colored children in the neighborhood were at the trees before they were, but Amy, who was very earnest and persuasive, talked to them, and told the story of the poor deaf mute with such effect as to enlist their sympathies to the extent of half the nuts they gathered that day.

The work went bravely on. As soon as its object was known, other children volunteered to help the girls. Amy, who took the lead and understood something of the division of labor, assigned different parts to her band of workers. The large boys thrashed the trees, and then other children picked up the nuts and carried them to the hullers, whose business was to remove the hull of the nuts.

None of the young philanthropists cared for stained fingers, or anything else, and for the first time they felt the pleasure that working for the benefit of the needy always brings with it. They chatted and laughed and told stories to their hearts' content.

"When did you come back from Alvord, Eddie?" asked one of the girls. Alvord was a town near which the railroad accident had occurred. "What did you see or hear there?"

"I didn't see anything that would interest you," Eddie Ross answered. "Well, yes, I do remember something queer. A tall, strange-looking man came to the train before we started, but he spoke such bad English that no one seemed to understand him. But there was a passenger on the train who, after a while, made out that he wanted to know about the railroad accident. He had expected some relatives who had come from Europe. The conductor told him that three foreigners, one woman and two men, were killed, and he thought they must be his friends. You ought to have seen how the poor fellow Unnecessary Violence.

For which outraged nature exacts heavy penalties, is done to the bowels by persons who with drastic, drenching purgatives make war on those organs in order to relieve their constriction. Constipation is not one of those desperate diseases that require desperate remedies. In fact, it is not a disease at all, but the incomplete discharge of a function, to the healthful renewal of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is far better adapted than drugs, whose action is excessive, and consequently debilitating and injurious. Disorder of the liver, contamination of the blood with bile, sick headaches and dyspeptic symptoms are the attendants of costiveness, and are likewise remedied by the Bitters. Its action is not limited to relieving the bowels naturally and without pain. Used with persistence, and as directed, it perpetuates regularity in the habit of body, and in the operations of the digestive organs and liver. Fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles are prevented and cured by it.
